Celebration Planned For 50th Anniversary

Centenary's fiftieth year in Shreveport will be celebrated by a week full of events next month, which will include appearances by nationally prominent guests, space and art exhibits and a homecoming celebration, college officials have announced.

Guests of the college during the anniversary will be Charles E. Wilson, former Secretary of Defense and president of General Motors; Miss Eurlayne Howell, Centenary coed who was named "Miss U. S. A." this summer; J. Paul Walsh, deputy director of the Navy's Vanguard project, and Dr. Henry Heald, president of the Ford Foundation.

The program will begin on Sunday, Sept. 28, when Centenary students will discuss the college's 50 years of progress from the pulpits of the major churches in the city.

A rededication ceremony on Thursday, Oct. 2, will open the anniversary week.

The two exhibits will be displayed beginning Sunday, Oct. 5. Space exploration equipment, missiles and satellites from the U. S. military services will be featured in the space show, which will be held in the gym.

The Smithsonian Institute art exhibit, which will be held in the student center, will include 120 works by untrained American artists, entitled "American Primitives."

Beginning Monday, college students will begin daily programs before civic clubs and students from area high schools will be guests of the college.

October 7 has been designated "Freshman Day," when all first-year students must dress in attire suitable for the year 2008. Competition will be held for the most original costume, and a time capsule, to be opened on the school's 100th anniversary, will be sealed and buried in front of the chapel by representatives of the Chamber of Commerce. A campus marker and sun dial will be presented to the college by the organization at this time and a musical festival in the amphitheatre will conclude the day's events.

Mr. Walsh will address the students Thursday morning and will speak before members of the Shreveport and Bossier City Kiwanis Clubs at noon. The Shreveport Symphony will present a concert that night in the amphitheatre, featuring an outstanding pianist as guest artist.

Guests of the college on Homecoming Day, Oct. 10, will be Mr. Wilson and Miss Howell. The General Motors president will address the Rotary club and special guests at a luncheon, following a morning press conference and reception.

Miss Howell will be crowned "Centenary's Golden Anniversary in Shreveport" Queen at a student-alumni dance that evening which will feature Charlie Spivak and his band.

Spivak has been billed as "the man who plays the sweetest trumpet in the world."

The closing event of the week's activities will be Dr. Heald's appearance on Sunday, Oct. 12, before students, faculty and friends of the college in the amphitheatre. His topic will be "Academic Progression."

Voran Announces Choir Members

Twenty-two new members have been added to the Centenary Choir, giving the singers a total strength of 55, Director A. C. Voran has announced.

Final selection of the new members was made following auditions conducted on the campus and at the annual summer camp held in late August.

The choir is normally billed as a 49-voice troupe, but a number of alternates were selected to fill in when illness and the demands of campus schedules necessitate absences of regular members, Voran stated.

The following six students have been added to the soprano section: Dalna Worley, Shreveport; Ruth Velotta, Shreveport; Kay Cooper, Sulphur; Zollene Bennett, Texarkana, Ark.; Diane Holloway, Magnolia, Ark., and Martha Dollar, Jonesboro. Jim Valentine of Shreveport, Michael Brooks of De Ridder and Austin Temple of Leesville are the three new bass members.

The seven new members of the alto section are Ann McMillen, Gladewater, Tex.; Mollie Herbert, Bossier City; Judy Hughes, Benton; Janet McClelland, Little Rock; Shirley Cook, Shreveport; Janet Gholson, Atlanta, Tex., and Virginia Bobbitt, Coushatta.

New tenor members named are Barry Nelson, Shreveport; Paul McMahan, Paris, Tex.; Noble Dickerson, Carthage, Tex.; John Goolsby, Gilmer, Tex.; Fred Schwendiman, Gilmer, Tex.; Fredrell Rourk, Berwick.

Accompanists for the singers are Linda Walters of Shreveport and Abbie Terry of El Dorado, Ark.

"Howdy Dance" Ends Activities For First Week

Centenary College's 134th year and its 50th year in Shreveport were officially begun Monday, September 8, when the freshmen gathered for their first orientation period.

Approximately 230 students gathered in Brown Memorial Chapel where they were welcomed by Dr. Joe J. Mickle and Charles Wilder, presidents of the College and student body, respectively.

The would-be scholars were then thrust into the mad rush of placement tests, counseling periods, and class-scheduling, intermingled with dips in the fountain, waiter service in the cafeteria, and song sessions whenever and wherever requested.

In an atmosphere of excitement, they went through the registration lines on Wednesday, leaving Thursday for the upperclassmen to enroll as befitted experienced matriculants. On Friday, students were seen strolling or hastily walking to the first classes of the semester.

The first week of activity was climaxed by the annual "Howdy Dance," which is held so that new students may become acquainted and the old students may renew friendships. The dance was held in Moore Student Center Saturday night from 8-11, with "Three Guys and a Gal," a Shreveport combo, providing the music for dancing.

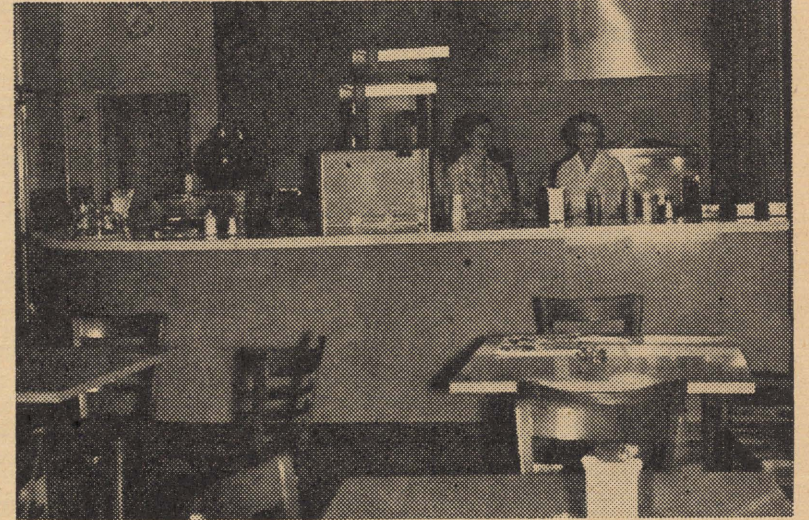

Fred Willis, vice-president of the student body, acted as master of ceremonies for the event. Entertainment was provided by Kay Cooper, a freshman Chi Omega pledge from Sulphur who sang "We Kiss in a Shadow," and Bob Consillo, a sophomore, who sang and played a medley of tunes.

9 New Teachers Added to Faculty

The beginning of the 1958-59 school year has brought Centenary College nine new faculty members. One has been away on leave and the others are new.

Working for the past two years on his doctorate at Tulane University is Dr. Wilfred Guerin, assistant professor of English.

Other new faculty members are: Rule Beasley, instructor in music; Vlada Dimac, instructor in speech and dramatics and technical director of the Marjorie Lyons Playhouse; Dr. Leo G. Raub, professor and head of the department of physics and industrial technology; Miss Ruth Joy Alexander, assistant professor of speech; Willard Cooper, assistant professor of art and head of the Centenary art department; Orvis Sigler, basketball coach; Joseph M. Running, professor of piano and head of the music school, and Miss Mary Frances Estes, instructor in physical education.

Moore Student Center Has Unique Snack Bar

By Joan Templeton

The only completely automatic snack bar existing in this part of the country and the only one of its kind in any college or university in the United States opened last Monday, September 15, in our Moore Student Center. The new completely automatic hamburger machine is capable of turning out a hamburger on toasted bun every eight seconds. The fountain soft drink machine is also automatic. The menu of the snack bar includes, besides hamburgers and soft drinks: hot dogs, milk shakes, coffee, donuts, ice cream, and ice cream bars.

Mrs. Maxine Leigh is the manager of the snack bar and she is assisted by Mrs. Ruth Hall and Tommy Carter, a Centenary student who will operate the bar at night. The snack bar will be open for all school functions. Definite opening and closing hours during the day and night will be announced later.

The interior of the room in which the snack bar is located is done in a decor of pale green floor and walls, with beige tables, chairs, and snack counter. Enlarged photos of campus activities line the walls and the room also sports a beautiful new modern juke box for the enjoyment of the students.

A contest to pick an appropriate name for the new snack bar is being sponsored by the Student Senate. Anyone wishing to submit an

ODK Chooses 1958-59 Officers

The Centenary College chapter of Omicron Delta Kappa, national honorary leadership fraternity, met immediately after initiation ceremonies last May for the first formal business meeting and election of officers.

Officers elected for the year 1958-59 were: president, John Graham; vice-president, Francis Keller; and treasurer, Sammy Maxey. Also elected as sponsor and recording secretary for the year was Dean of Men Charles Hickcox, a former member of ODK.

Plans were also formed for activities to be carried out during the school year which included helping with freshman orientation and publishing the student directory for 1958-59.

entry please fill in the blank on page two and turn it in to any member of the Student Senate by Tuesday, September 30. A committee of student judges has been selected by the Student Senate and Dr. Mickle has chosen four faculty members to aid them in the selection of the winning name.

AED Open House Held For Premeds

The Louisiana Gamma Chapter of Alpha Epsilon Delta, national premedical honor society, held an open house for students interested in the field of medicine last week.

Textbooks for the majority of the premedical science courses were placed on tables for the new students to browse through. The members also explained the functions of the society on the campus and related some of the year's activities to the visitors.

Requirements for consideration of admission state that the student must have at least three semesters of college work, or the equivalent to that; a 1.8 over all average; a 1.8 average in science; and an interest in the field of medicine. After passing these requirements, the student's name is brought up for discussion before the entire organization. Here the society decides if the student will be admitted. Acceptance ceremonies occur at least twice a year, once in the spring and once in the fall.

All visitors were invited to attend the annual open meeting to be held in the early part of October. The exact date will appear in a later Conglomerate.

STUDENT SENATE RULES

Student Senate Rules as authorized by Article IV, Section I, of the Constitution of the Student Body of Centenary College of Louisiana:

Rule I. The time for meetings of the Student Senate will be decided upon by a majority vote of the Senate at the beginning of the school year. Meetings will be held in the Student Senate Room in the Moore Student Center.

Rule II. Faculty members of the Student Senate are considered ex-officio members and are not allowed to vote.

Rule III. Voting in Student Senate meetings will be done by secret ballot at the request of any member.

Rule IV. Any member of the Student Senate who is absent from a meeting of the Senate must file a written excuse for his absence with the secretary by the next regular session of the Senate. Failure to submit a written reason for absence judged valid by the President of the Senate will automatically make the absence unexcused. Any member absent from two regular meetings unexcused will be automatically dropped from the Senate roll.

Rule V. At the end of each school year the secretary's records will be filed in the Senate Room in the Moore Student Center.

Rule VI. During the month of September the secretary of the Student Senate shall request that the president of the college appoint a faculty representative and that the faculty select a representative to the Senate. The third faculty representative shall be chosen by the newly-elected Senate.

Rule VII. Nominations for student members of the Joint Committees will be made by the Student Senate in September of each year and the names presented to the President of the college for his appointment.

Rule VIII. Student activities governed, regulated and controlled by the Student Senate, within the framework of the college administrative policy, shall include the following:

- All social or competitive functions concerning the entire student body.
- Kangaroo Kourt.
- Gentleman's Holiday, or any similar celebration.
- Founder's day.
- Campus elections, except beauty elections.

Social functions shall be regulated according to the Faculty Rules on Social Functions as listed in the Student Handbook.

Rule IX. Campus elections, except beauty elections, shall be conducted as follows:

- Polls will be set up in the Student Center from 8 a. m. to 2 p. m. on election day.
- The polls will be kept only by members of the Student Senate who are not running in the election.
- No campaigning, verbal or otherwise, may be done within 10, ten, feet of the polls.
- No student, except Student Senate members keeping the polls, will be allowed to remain at the polls after casting his vote.
- Absentee ballots shall be accepted only in writing, before the day of election in the office of the Dean of Students.
- There should be at least four (4) Senate members for counting votes and additional help shall be appointed by the President.

Rule X. Campus publicity shall be regulated as follows:

- Student activities (dances, lectures, banquets, club meetings) may be publicized in the Conglomerate, by student announcement in chapel and by posters and handbills. No publicity of any sort may be placed within classrooms. All publicity must be removed within 48 hours after the termination of the publicized activity.
- Election publicity shall be regulated as follows:
 - Word of mouth campaigning shall be the only type of publicity allowed in all elections except cheerleader and Student Senate elections.
 - Publicity for cheerleader and Student Senate elections shall be unlimited except that no publicity may be placed in or on the Moore Student Center, or within classrooms or on the roofs or eaves of any college building.
 - All publicity must be removed within 48 hours after the closing of the polls in the said two elections.
 - Stunts, loudspeakers, costumes, and similar publicity involved in campaigning for Student Senate elections may be used only on Founder's Day.
- Loudspeakers are not to begin until after dismissal of classes and be so turned as not to be a public nuisance. However, written publicity (such as posters, and handbills) and verbal campaigning may continue in use on election day, election day.

Rule XI. The class losing the annual tug-of-war shall be responsible for filling the pit dug for the occasion.

Rule XII. Decorations or other objects used for a student activity in any campus facility (such as the Student Center) must be removed within 24 hours after the termination of the activity.

51 Coeds Pledge In Sorority Rush

Fifty-one coeds became pledges of the three campus sororities at the close of rush week Saturday.

The Chi Omega and Zeta Tau Alpha chapters pledged 21 girls each and Alpha Xi Delta pledged nine.

Zeta pledges include the following Shreveport girls: Martha Sue Brown, Carolyn Cody, Mignon Eubanks, Jane Hanks, Marilyn Hendrick, Sally Herring, Noni Miller, Anne Moreneaux, Jane Rhodes, Judy Rhodes and Dalna Worley.

The following out-of-town students were also pledged by Zeta: Janet Gholson, Atlanta, Tex.; Lyssa Grogan, Atlanta, Tex.; Glenda Johnson, Asp, Tex.; Janet McClelland, Little Rock; Elizabeth Maxwell, Dallas; Laura Lee Miles, Vivian; Elizabeth Orman, Pueblo, Colo.; Beverly Ann Paul, El Dorado; Margetta Spears, Vivian, and Gail Stimpert, Dallas.

Local pledges of Chi Omega are Virginia Emerson, Winifred Fair, Ann Hardtner, Sara Hitchcock, Betty Schmitt, Patsy Stamps and Nancy White.

Out-of-town students pledged by Chi Omega are Pat Burns, Marshall, Tex.; Catherine Chesney, Benton; Sallie Mat Clingman, Keithville; Sandra Connell, Giliam; Kay Cooper, Sulphur; Nancy Dixon, Camden, Ark.; Lorita Donaho, Bryan, Tex.; Judy Hughes, Benton; Judy Meredith, Atlanta, Tex.; Joyce Price, Pueblo, Colo.; Elizabeth Reeves, Triumph; Margaret Reeves, Triumph; Carol Reichelt, Beaumont, Tex., and Judy Thurmon, Ringgold.

New pledges of Alpha Xi are Shreveporters Elizabeth Carruth, Carolyn Giles and Linda Morris; Beverly Ann Bedsole, Longview; Kay France, Lake Charles; Sara Grout, Iowa; Judy Hebert, Rayne; Rebecca Stockstill, New Iberia, and Sharon Taylor, Springhill.

Frosh React

By George Acton

As school begins, attention is focused on the freshman class. The campus buzzes with talk of hazing, rush and Kangaroo Kourt. Most of all, everyone looks forward to the ending of silence, when the new sorority pledges can talk again. This week we interviewed some of the freshmen to get their reactions to the new experience of college life.

Kay Cooper was surprised at the friendliness of Centenary. "People were much more considerate of freshmen than I expected," she said, "but it was still confusing for four or five days."

Fred Schwendimann has enjoyed his experiences at Centenary "so far, but I haven't been to English yet." He wishes sorority rush could be postponed a week "so we could get acquainted, anyway."

"I wish we could at least talk to some of the upperclassmen" says Janet McClelland, "but I realize the reasons for silence." She, too, likes Centenary's friendly atmosphere.

"I think hazing should be distributed over more of the whole freshman class," Tim Temple remarked, as he removed his cap to reveal his red padre cut. "And this business of freshmen keeping their heads lower than upperclassmen is silly" said Tim, who just happens to be 6' 1".

SENATE MEMO

- HELP WANTED! . . . a person to sell Senior class rings and a person to handle invitations. (Balfour offers a ring and commission for each sale to person handling the rings.)
- HELP WANTED! . . . persons interested in working on Senate committees for Gentleman's Holiday and the proposed Student Fair to be held in the Spring. Write name and interest on a piece of paper and give to Mary Lou Gassen.
- Fifty Years in Shreveport Celebration"—October 5-12.
 - ATTENTION, FRESHMEN! . . . October 7 will be considered "Freshmen Day" and all freshmen will be expected to dress as persons in the year 2008! (There will be an opportunity to compete for the most original costume.) This assembly will be held in connection with the sealing of the Time Capsule to be buried in front of the Chapel by the Shreveport Chamber of Commerce that morning. The capsule is to be opened in the year 2008!
 - October 9—Chapel Speaker—J. Paul Walsh, Deputy Director of U. S. Navy Project VANGUARD.
 - NAME-BRAND DANCE—October 10 (Homecoming Day. There will be a dance for alumni and students held in the Moore Student Center from 8-12—featuring the band of Charlie Spivak.
- CONTEST! . . . How would you like 33½ free hamburgers from our new Snack Bar? A $10 certificate (for purchases made in the Snack Bar) will be awarded to the person submitting the most original name.

The deadline for suggestions is September 25.

A committee composed of faculty members and students will select the five most original names for the student body to vote upon.

Fill in the form and give to Marcella Flynt or Connie Gathright.

Gents to Ask Admission To University Division

Orvis Sigler, Centenary's new head basketball coach, has stated that the Gents have applied for admission into the university division of the National Collegiate Athletic Association. Acceptance into this rigid division will be granted only after having played under a major schedule of NCAA teams for a period of two years. Eight of the twelve home games to be played this year will be played against schools in the university division of the NCAA.

Included on the 1958-59 lineup are such cage powers as Texas A. & M., Tulane, Loyola, Oklahoma City University, and Kentucky Wesleyan.

Highlighting the season will be the Gulf South Classic during the Christmas holidays. This tournament is sponsored by the Gents and The Shreveport Times and is to be held this year in the Hirsch Memorial Youth Building at the State Fair Grounds.

Teams competing in the Dec. 29-31 affair are Louisiana Tech, Northwestern of Louisiana, Spring Hill, Murray of Kentucky, William and Mary, Virginia Tech, North Texas State, and Centenary College.

The Gents will open this season on Dec. 2 at the Youth Center when they meet East Texas Baptist College from Marshall Texas. Coach Sigler stated that this year the Gents are out to prove themselves as a basketball power and thereby win acceptance into the NCAA while improving last year's record of 14 won and 10 loss.

Hubert Gets Lead In Current Play

"Visit to a Small Planet," by Gore Vidal, is the second play of the 1958-59 Shreveport Summer Theatre season. This is another first for Director Joseph Gifford, for this is the first time the play has been produced other than on the Broadway stage.

Wayne Adams, a former Centenary student, plays the leading role of a visitor from another world whose hobby is the small planet called Earth. He is capable of traveling in time and had intended to visit Earth at the Battle of Bull Run. However, due to a slight miscalculation of one hundred years, he arrives today. Since his main objective was to see a war, he decides he will start one himself. Ellen, the ingenue lead played by Robin Hubert, by learning to use mental telepathy, summons another spaceman, Delton Four, played by John O. Williams, to bring the Visitor back to his planet. Ellen has now saved the day by averting a world war.

Our leading lady, Miss Hubert, has been attending Centenary since her junior year and is one of the most popular coeds on the campus. She has been very active in dramatics, playing before Summer Theatre audiences in "The Lark" and "The Boy Friend." This is her first lead at the Playhouse and everyone is looking forward to her performance with much excitement.

The short run of "Visit" opens on the twenty-fifth of September.

Fun-Filled Camp Enjoyed by Choir

By Don Tyler and Kay Cooper

The Centenary College Choir Camp of 1958 carried with it the nostalgic feeling that suits every phrase of the camp theme, "Magic Moments." "Magic Moments, memories we've been sharing. Magic Moments, when two hearts are caring. Time can't erase the memory of these magic moments—"

Moments of joy, moments of laughter, moments of seriousness, and hard work all combine to make Choir Camp a wonderful experience for the fifty-six Centenary students who attended.

Seven to eight hours of the choir's working day were spent in singing and studying music theory. In their free time, most of the members could be found enjoying the Gardens or swimming from the raft and two inboard craft for skiing so graciously provided by Mr. Hodges.

Climaxing the ten days was the concert given by the Choir at the beautiful island home of the Hodges to a group of friends. It was an exciting time for all involved—the very first concert for the freshman members—a revival of "old times" for the others—and a special preview for the guests.

ON CAMPUS

By Peggy Longino

Classes have settled into a regular schedule once again but many students have exciting summer experiences to remember. Touring Europe this year were Ann Hardtner, Norma Strother, and Dottie Slider. Ann bicycled throughout Europe with a group of students, although she does admit that they took trains to avoid some of the rougher mountain paths. Norma toured in more luxurious surroundings with another student group and Dottie traveled the continent and British Isles as a participant in a work camp sponsored by the World Council of Churches.

Helen Gulley enjoyed a thrilling stay in Nassau, a trip presented to her by the Shreveport Chamber of Commerce upon receiving the "Miss Shreveport" title.

The sororities were well represented at various conventions. Chi Omegas Mary Lou Gassen and Peggy Longino attended the Chi O Convention at the Greenbriar Resort in White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia. Judy Parker, Patty Owen and Wilma Jo Walters traveled to Zeta Tau Alpha Convention at the Antler Hotel in Colorado Springs, Colorado, and Emma Lou Stewart attended Alpha Xi Delta Officers' Training School in Alliance, Ohio.

Kappa Sigmas threw an informal get-together Saturday night before school started. Getting acquainted and looking as if they thoroughly enjoyed themselves were Carol Reichelt, Martha Stapp, Jim Daigle, Sonny Sharp, Jerry Jouett, Boo Maxwell and Warren West, among many others.

Minden was the scene of a Surprise Birthday Party last Sunday for Gaynelle Morgan, celebrating her "coming of age" birthday. Some of those enjoying the party with her were Jann Stanley, Windy Nicklaus, Jill Landis, Marcella Flynt, Kathy Mack and Tanne McDade.

Another birthday surprise was in store Saturday night, when Bill Sanders was presented a birthday cake at the Howdy Dance.

The Howdy Dance was a great success, thanks to the efforts of the Dance Committee. Leon Bain was chairman, and Connie Gathright was in charge of refreshments. Fred Willis selected the entertainment for the evening.

Turning out in force Saturday night after the dance to serenade at the sorority houses were the Kappa Sigmas. Voices standing out above the many were those of Bobby Holtzclaw, Sammy Kilman, James Goins, Jay Lang and Tommy Hickcox. Sweetheart T. Tom Wilkinson received a special salute from all the Sigs . . . a kiss all the way in line from President

Methodists Hold Student Events

Methodist students have been entertained this week at a series of events sponsored by Methodist Church groups.

On Tuesday from 2 to 5 p. m. the students were entertained at a formal tea given by Dr. and Mrs. D. L. Dykes. The tea was given in the church parsonage and church officials were on hand to greet the students and introduce them to the church program.

The Older Youth group of the Broadmoor Methodist Church entertained the Methodist students on Wednesday at 5:30 p. m. with a dinner party at The Westerner restaurant.

Francis Kelker down to the newest pledge.

Ann DeShazo and Dave Herndon have recently become pinned, as have Truly Ann Drake and Jim Bean. Joan Daily and Sue Howell are sporting particularly bright stars in their eyes. We've been told that the engagement rings presented to them this summer by Dick Johnson and John Rasmussen account for those stars.

New Zeta Tau Alphas who were initiated Sunday are Sara Tiner, Sharon Solomon, Vicki Grigsby, Lynn Knotts, Sandra Boddie, Mary Charleville, and Janis Cook.

Freshman-sophomore honor society fraternity, Alpha Sigma Pi, elected officers at their meeting Monday night. Officers are George Acton, President; Alwynelle Self, Vice President, and Kathy Mack, Secretary-Treasurer.

Jane Ilgenfritz, Gene LaCaze, Barbara Hyde and Jeri Cassady were a few of those helping with Yoncopin pictures on registration days.

Chi Omega pledges elected pledge class officers Monday night. They are: Winifred Fair, President; Ginny Emerson, Vice President; Elizabeth Reeves, Secretary; Patsy Stamps, Treasurer; and Sara Hitchcock, Chaplain.

Many congratulations to the fifty-one girls wearing new pledge pins and to their sororities.

The Ballad of Second Chance Belle

There's a story bold that should be told about a gal named Belle, Whose only trouble seemed to be that no one knew her well. Her story started on the day she came to a certain college; In fact, it was the very same at which you're gaining knowledge. Now it seems that Belle knew very well the goal that she was after; To be an actress, "tread the boards," fill audiences with laughter Or make them cry and blot an eye, such as the case might be, And to this aim she played the game—to her regret, you'll see. For Belle by nature was quite reserved and, though she lacked no beauty, The art of how to win a friend was unknown to this cutie. So she worked on the stage for night after night with vigor and propriety, But she never crashed the magic ring that's known as school society. And when there came the time to name the campus beauty queen, One of the strangest things took place that the school had ever seen. For although Belle was leading from the time the race began, When everything was over she was just an also-ran. The next event in the life of Belle was something really great, For she was picked by the powers-that-be to represent her state As its fairest maid and to perform the duties of the crown, So she left the school and traveled far, from town to town to town. But all good things come to an end and so did this as well, And where to return to campus life was the choice left to Belle. And feeling now that time allowed that she could win a friend, She chose her former hallowed halls, which leads us to the end Of the sorrowful story of Second Chance Belle. By now you may have guessed

That in spite of the fact she did her best, her hopes were soon depressed And she never got her second chance to be liked by one and all, For it take all sizes to make a world and some are very small. So she packed her gear and with a tear she moved to another clime, Where the folks that she met didn't have to forget the events of another time.

This ends the story of Second Chance Belle; I hope that you could bear it. And if a moral there must be, I would say "If the shoe fits, wear it." And let us well remember Belle, and should another be, Let's not fawn on things bygone, but judge by what we see.

Smoker Begins Fraternity Rush

Formal Men's Rush was officially opened on Wednesday, September 17, 1958, at 6:00 P. M., when the Inter-Fraternity Council Smoker was held to orientate the rushees on the rules and purposes of rush. Mr. LeRoy Scott, a Centenary faculty member and local business man, addressed the group on the importance of fraternity activity in a well-rounded college participation program.

A brief explanation was made of the opportunities available to the fraternity man on the Centenary campus and in the social world after graduation from college. The two fraternities on the Centenary campus, Kappa Alpha and Kappa Sigma, extended invitations to the rushees to attend the first compulsory rush parties this weekend.

The Kappa Alpha party will be held at their house on Friday evening, September 19, 1958, from 7:30 to 11:30 P. M. The boys down at 106 E. Washington have been making big plans for the party and all rushees will be expected to attend unless a written excuse is presented before the party.

The Kappa Sigma party will be held at their house, 144 E. Washington, on Saturday evening, September 20, 1958, from 8:00 to 11:30 P. M. The party will be an informal dance with a well-known local band furnishing the music.

The second parties of each fraternity, which will be by invitation, will be held on Friday and Saturday nights of next week with the Kappa Sigmas holding the Friday night position and the Kappa Alphas holding the Saturday night position.

Silence will begin at midnight, Saturday, September 27, and will continue until 1:00 P. M. Monday, September 29. At that time bids will be issued to those who have signed preference cards in the Dean's office between the hours of 8:00 A. M. and 1:00 P. M. on that day.

"ME AND ANNIE"

By Sammy Kilman

Well sir, hit all started a good while ago—One Sunday afternoon as a matter of fact. I went up to the Margey Lions Playhouse to tryout fer a part in the play they wuz a'doin. The name of th' play wuz "Anney Git Your Gun." Hit wuz a museycal. Th' feller thar called my name out so I run up on th' stage to read a little. I wuz as nervous as a frog on a freeway with his hopper busted. I read bout like a two yar old. Well, anyway, th' fellar thar asked me if I could sang. Like a fool I said yes. Right thar 'mind ye', he said sang. I felt like a chicken with sand in his craw. And I sang like one too. I wuz sorta barrased. But enny way, I actually got a sangin' part in th' chorus.

Well sir, everybody got together ever night thar fer rehearsals. Oh thar wuz some fine peoples thar. Romoney Nails played the part of Anney. You talk about a good ole heffer—thar's one fer ye. Roger Franklin had the man lead. He's a good ole sonufagun, too. Thar wuz a rehearsal eerday of some kind. Hit got tirin alright, but th' product wuz great. Yes sir, hit wuz smashin'.

Th' story starts as everbody is out in front of th' Wilson House just a' talkin. All of a sudden like, hyar come two injuns a' car-rin' on like they got ants in their pants, and right behind them is a parade like thank. Course now, all these town folks is scairt slap dab silly. They ain't got no idee whut its all about. Well, now, the leader starts a sangin'. "Who's got th' stuff that makes th' wild west wild?" Course now all we can say is "Who". See, we may have read the script, but nobodys supposed to know that. So we go rite along with th' feller. We say "Who?", "No we haven't", and such stuff as that. After we finish that song thar, he tells us to run on down to th' ticket office and get a ticket. Course we just runn off stake. Ever body out front thanks we really went to git tickets. We never did tell 'em different.

Ya see, these fellers wants to set up fer a shootin match. Ever thang goes fine until the owner of the hotel comes out. Right then he comminces to throw a hissey. Well, they had it out right thar, him an ole Frank Butler. After everbody leaves, ole F. B. starts sangin "I'm a Bad Bad Man!"

All of a sudden like, hyar comes Anney bout like a skeeter hawk on a skeeter. After Mr. Wilson meets Anney, they commenced tuh talk then they sank "Doin Whut Comes Natcherally." After the song, she shows him whut a good shot she is, and he just goes berzerk. He puts her up against Ole Frank. Buot this time, Frank comes on out. Now Anney don't know who he is, and carries on sumthin awful about the feller she's going to shoot aginst. After a while they commence to sang. Then, all of a sudden, mind ye, everbody comes a rushin' on stage hollerin "Hyar comes Puffalo Bills a commin." Well everybody gets shook right thar. Ole Puffalo comes a stompin on like a elefant with a knot in his trunk. Then, commences th' shootin match. Course Anney wins. Ole Frank gets madder than a chicken with sand in his craw. No matter whut ole Frank said, his managers want Anney to join the show. Well right thar ole Anneys eyes bugged out like a stomped on toad frog. She's happier than a June bug in July.

She finally got on his good side. He wuz actually goin to marry her. Then she dont it. Yessir. She went an showed him up. Rite thar he just up and told her if she didn't like his apples, don't shake his trees. He quit th show, and left fer Pawnee Bills Show. Well sir, ole squattin caff adopted Anney into the Sue Injun tribe. I reckon ever injun from the whole territory wuz thar. They had a dance that wuld've shook th' walls of Jerico. Then she got th' news that Frank left her. That thar ended the first act.

In th' secont act, Anney and Puffalo Bill had just returned from across th' ocean. Well sir, Ole Pawnee Bill invited them to a big ole dance at the Hotel Bervort. He wuz a good ole boy. Yesser . . . Annyway, they had a hot band, and dranks, and gals, and just about ever thang. Ever body wuz havvin a blast. Just carrin on like idjits. Then it happened. Yes sir, Anney and Frank blew up. He got mad cause she had more pins than he did. They wuz goin to shoot it out. Well, they did. Anney lost because her friends fixed up her guns. Ya know. One of these fixed matches. Well sir, at th' end, Anney and Frank got together. It wuz a happy endin. From then on, they stuck together like two peas in a pod.

Pastor Speaks At MSM Meet

"What Is MSM?" was the topic of a speech by the Rev. Tracy Arnold at the first formal meeting of the Methodist Student Movement of the current year recently.

Pastor of St. Luke's Methodist Church, the Rev. Arnold is a graduate of Centenary and former pastor of the Trinity Methodist Church here. St. Luke's is the newest Methodist Church in the city and is presently meeting in the Broadmoor Theater, pending the start of the building program.

Surveying Team To Visit Campus

At the request of the Centenary Board of Trustees, the Centenary campus will be visited by members of the survey team of the University Senate of the Methodist Board of Education, next Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 29 and 30, to make their inspection.

The current survey is the third such study of the college made since Dr. Joe J. Mickle assumed the presidency in 1945. The findings of the survey will affect much of the college's planning for the next ten to twenty years.

The survey team will meet with all department heads at 4:00 p.m. Monday in the faculty lounge and will spend the remainder of the day touring the campus and meeting with various members of the administrative staff.

At 9:30 a.m. Tuesday, they will meet with all junior and senior students in the Brown Memorial Chapel, and at 1 p.m., a meeting will be held with selected students of the various classes. An informal faculty reception will be held for the survey team at 4:00 p.m. in the faculty lounge.

Those who will visit the campus as members of the survey team are the following: Hugh C. Gregg, vice president and treasurer of Syracuse University; Dr. T. R. McConnell, head of the education department at the University of California in Berkeley; Dr. Myron Wicke, dean of Southwestern University, Georgetown, Texas.

Also, Dr. David A. Lockmiller, president of the University of Chattanooga, Tenn.; Dr. Richard N. Bender, director of religion in higher education, Methodist Board of Education; Dr. Everett L. Walker, also with the Methodist Board of Education, and Birney Gross, assistant to the president of Florida Southern in Lakeland, Florida.

Charlie Spivak To Play For Homecoming Dance

By Fran Littrell

Charlie Spivak, who lives up to his billing as "The Man Who Plays the Sweetest Trumpet in the World," brings his top-flight orchestra to Centenary on Oct. 11, as part of the 50th Anniversary celebration.

Born in New Haven, Connecticut, Spivak got his first trumpet while in grade school: a tiny instrument with the first valve practically on top of Charlie's nose. He went to Hill House School in New Haven, studying the trumpet on his own time with George Hyer, who is a member of the New Haven Symphony Orchestra. Spivak's family had charted out a medical career for him; then one of the nered and soft-spoken. He is five feet, eight inches tall, has brown hair, blue eyes, and still blushes at a compliment.

Spivak is the musician whose fresh and original idiom in trumpet playing is described as "honey in the horn." With the current vogue for sweet music gaining favor each day, Charlie Spivak and his band are more popular than ever.

country's outstanding band leaders offered him a job, and he signed and remained with the outfit. His next stop was the Dorsey Brothers Orchestra, where he played alongside such musicians as Glenn Miller, Skeets Herfat, and Bob Crosby. When Ray Noble came to America, he asked Glenn to help him organize a band, and the first musician to be signed was Spivak.

When Spivak left to try his musical wings on his own, he became the highest paid freelance trumpeter in radio, playing on the Ford Symphony Hour, Kate Smith and Fred Allen broadcasts. When he felt ready to organize his own band, a lot of encouragement came from Glenn Miller, who told him he had all the ingredients necessary for a winning combination. Spivak got his first big engagement at the Glen Island Casino, jumping off place for more than a dozen of the nation's top flight bandleaders. He was so successful that the Casino, traditionally a summer spot, broke precedent by keeping the doors open for winter seasons to accommodate Spivak's drawing power. Spivak came to the Cafe Rouge of the Hotel Statler shortly thereafter, and broke Glenn Miller's records; then went on to do the same thing at the Commodore.

A highlight was his award by Downbeat Magazine as the top sweet band. Spivak is mild-man-

Editors Announce Yoncopin Staff

Miss Margie Dukes and Bobby Holtzclaw, Co-Editors for the 1959 Yoncopin have announced their staff for the year's book. The staff will consist of Bill Bryant, photographer; Warren West and Coan Knight, military co-ordinators; Spanky McCoy, sports co-ordinator; Leon Bain, photographer's assistant; Sammy Kilman, theatrical co-ordinator; Bessier Ruth Risinger, organizations co-ordinator; Helen Gulley and Mary Beth Bomar, favorites co-ordinators; Buddy Daily and Wilma Jo Walters, Greek co-ordinators; Mary Lou Jones and Lynda Beauvais, class co-ordinators.

The staff has already been hard at work taking class pictures on registration day and getting the proofs ready for distribution to the students. Several pages of the book have already been prepared and sent to the publishers, The Taylor Publishing Company of Dallas. Mr. George Shorter, the class photographer, has done an excellent job with the class pictures and has rushed tirelessly to return the proofs in the shortest possible time.

Proofs may be picked up in the Yoncopin office, Room 204, in the Moore Student Center today and Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday of next week. The exact time schedule is listed elsewhere in the paper.

All correspondence concerning ideas and comments about the book may be addressed to either of the co-editors, Box 420, Centenary College. Comments and suggestions will be greatly appreciated. The editors and staff members urge the complete cooperation of each student at Centenary in getting pictures made of all phases of campus activity for use in the 1959 Yoncopin, the yearbook that they hope will be the best one ever published for the Centenary student body.

AN EXPERIENCE IN SPIRIT

Next Tuesday Centenary freshmen will become part of a long tradition of campus initiation when this year's Kangaroo Kourt will be held.

In the past, Kangaroo Kourt has often ended in bad feelings for the upperclassmen and freshmen alike. Perhaps this has been true because of an ignorance of the true meaning behind this annual event.

Kangaroo Kourt is meant to increase school spirit on a small campus where it is possible to conduct gatherings of the entire student body. This possibility of uniting the whole student body in any action should be greatly appreciated.

Kangaroo Kourt is a determined effort on the part of a very efficient Student Senate to give the freshmen a feeling of friendship and to develop unity among the class and entire student body.

Kangaroo Kourt is meant to be a very real way in which the freshman may become mature in his college life by the acceptance of the responsibility of acting as a gentleman or lady at all times.

Kangaroo Kourt is an event which takes much time and planning on the part of the Student Senate and requires a great deal of originality and a true love of the college. The freshmen and upperclassmen alike owe to the Senate and Jackie Carpenter, who is in charge this year, the courtesy of giving them the chance to make the Kourt a success.

Kangaroo Kourt can be a truly enjoyable and long remembered experience if it is approached with a feeling and understanding of the aims to be accomplished.

Kangaroo Kourt is the official end of all freshmen hazing and the initiation of the frosh into the unity of the upperclassmen.

If the freshman class will approach Kangaroo Kourt with an earnest desire to fulfill the aims of the Senate, Tuesday will be a day long remembered as an experience at Centenary in positive school spirit.

THE STAFF

FROSH'S VIEW OF KOURT

The time is rapidly approaching when, through the Kangaroo Kourt, the Student Senate metes out all due and undue punishment to the poor, underprivileged freshmen. What do the lowly freshmen think? Well, here are some opinions of the few freshmen brave enough to express themselves:

Rosemary Watkins states, "I think Kangaroo Kourt is strictly for Kangaroos;" while Judy Hughes says, "My freshman year wouldn't be complete without Kangaroo Kourt, but I hope I'm not the Kangaroo."

Kathy Musson, a freshman from Missouri, comments: "I just can't wait!" (For next year's, that is.) Anita Thomasson, who is a sophomore this year, says that she can't wait to see it this year; but Lorita Donaho and Sarah Liberto aren't so anxious.

"I'm looking forward to seeing the girl's hair messed up," says Dick Johns, "because they laughed at my bald top."

Johnny Johnson also had a few choice words: "I haven't heard enough about it yet to make a statement, but I'll probably have a lot to say after it's all over."

Billie Thompson's reaction is perhaps the most typical. He says, "Who me? I'm innocent!" Nearly all freshmen are busy proclaiming their innocence and polishing apples. It's too late now.

One of the most unusual replies was that of Harry Boyd: "I think I have done the most damage, and I'm looking forward to my punishment." Harry is about the only freshman who is honestly looking forward to any kind of punishment.

Nearly all of the freshmen are worried by the things that they have heard about last year's Kangaroo Kourt. The girls were most concerned about what might happen to their hair, while the boys were just plain worried. However, there was one boy who didn't know what Kangaroo Kourt is. All Sonny Sharpe had to say was, "What's that?" Maybe he didn't really mean it.

Tuesday is the day of doom when the freshmen will find out what the Kangaroo Kourt is really like. Until then, all they can do is wait. At least, the freshmen have one consolation, because after Tuesday all hazing will be officially over. No more fishpond or carrying trays! (Officially, that is.)

Monk to Coach '59 Rifle Team

M/Sgt. David Monk has been assigned to the ROTC department to act in the capacity of rifle team coach for the current year. He replaces Sergeant Walter H. Murphree, who has been reassigned by the Department of the Army.

The new coach announced today that an organizational meeting of the rifle team will be held shortly. All interested ROTC cadets are encouraged to attend.

The team is scheduled to compete in the intra-city small bore league this year and will also fire against teams from Northwestern, La. Tech, LSU, Loyola and Ouachita Baptist College. In addition, the riflemen will compete in numerous army matches.

Returning members Sidney Gras, James Parker, Edward Pledger and John Goodwin will form the nucleus of the 1959 team.

ROTC TO ELECT SPONSORS

The photograph of the girl above will soon be filled by the faces of five of Centenary's charming Misses.

The Centenary ROTC battle group will choose these sponsors for the four companies from among the co-ed populace on Sept. 29.

The cadets of Companies A, B, C, and Hdq. will each elect individual unit sponsors. All cadets will participate in the election of the battle group sponsor.

The corps sponsor must be a senior girl, although other sponsors may be from any class. The only requirements for the honorary positions are registration at the college and an academic standard acceptable to the dean.

Last year, Mary Joe Robinson Cook served as battle group sponsor. Also elected sponsors were Sue Howell, Company A; Anita Thomasson, Company B; Lynda Beauvais, Company C; and Ramona Nail, Headquarters Company.

Three other honors may be bestowed upon selected co-eds—The Rifle Team sponsor, who last year was Ramona Nail; the Pershing Rifles sponsor, last year she was Martha Turner; and the Queen of the Military Ball, last year Anita Thomasson.

"KOLLEGE DAZES"

Dear Folks:

I know you'll be proud to know that you won't have to worry none at all about your son down at dear old Centenary. Everything is just fine and dandy. Yessir, I really think old—High School would be proud if they could see me now.

I was put in a very special English section, along with 96 others, because that guy with the French name, LeMorgan, said I was definitely in a class by myself. And I told him that I gave all the credit to hard work and—High School.

They sure got plenty of social activity here. It must be kindly of an athletic contest, cause one boy said it was called social climbing. He said I could join one them there clubs if I was a good guy and could meet the rigid qualifications, and had $20.

My buddy Boomer joined up with one of them clubs, AA or KA or something like that. They must be real baseball fans because they was always talking about the CUBs.

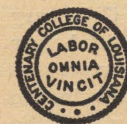

The other day I showed Mr. Voran my arrangement of Hank Snow's Shotgun Boogie for choirs. He said he appreciated it, but he guessed he'd just try to struggle along with that same old Fred Waring stuff. I guess he figured they're just not ready for anything like that yet.

The girls here is powerful friendly. One girl I dated complained about the queer smell in my car, but when I explained it was oil offin Daddy's well, she acted right nice about it.

My roommate is writing a book about Centenary called Animal Farm. Guess you read his last one, The Finger of Suspicion Points at You, or, I was a librarian for the Honour Court.

Forgot to mention they gave me an ROTC aptitude test. It's as easy as fallin off a log. Infact that is the test. If you can fall off a log, the ROTC figures you got aptitude. However, if you aren't able to fall off a log, you go into a special category and they make you an instructor. So, Ma, just don't fret about those communist no more, We got this here secret weapon ROTC to spring on 'em.

Luv,
Your son

SPORTS DOWNBEAT

By DON TYLER

With the college football season at hand, the clash of helmets, bruising tackles, and the crack of a football being kicked is resounding throughout schools across the nation.

But not at Centenary!

Why doesn't Centenary have a football team like other colleges and universities? Well, there are many so-called reasons given by those who oppose a football team for this school. Some say it would cost too much to field a team—others say there wouldn't be enough backing. Still others try to point out that it would take too long to field a capable team that would be strong enough to face similar collegiate competition.

With our school getting larger each year there seems to be no reason why a Gent football team couldn't be formed. Sure, it would cost a pretty penny to outfit a team, but I feel that it would be great for football to return to Centenary—the sooner the better.

As for backing, Centenary has a large enough student body and school backing to actively support a football team. Shreveport is surely large enough and is football-minded enough. Shreveport would appreciate being a college football town.

There's a lot of material for college football walking on this campus today and North Louisiana furnishes schools far and wide with the best material in the nation. Why not utilize that material here at Centenary?

Don't count on an all-American team for two or three years, but with help and support a coach and boys could field a team we could be proud to have.

Methodists Hold First Activities

The Centenary Methodist Student Movement began its 1958-59 activities with a welcome party on Thursday, Sept. 18. The group, made up of returning members and Methodist freshmen, traveled to Camp Margaret. There they enjoyed a hot-dog supper prepared by Chef Spray Peoples, in the rustic surroundings.

Following supper, Bertie Jackson conducted various forms of recreation, including get-acquainted games and skits.

Following recreation, President Dottie Slider introduced the officers for the coming year, who commented on plans for progress during the term.

'Mural Activities Will Begin Soon

Men's intramurals will get underway in a matter of two or three weeks. The team representatives to the Intramural Council have been selected and are posed and ready for this year's work.

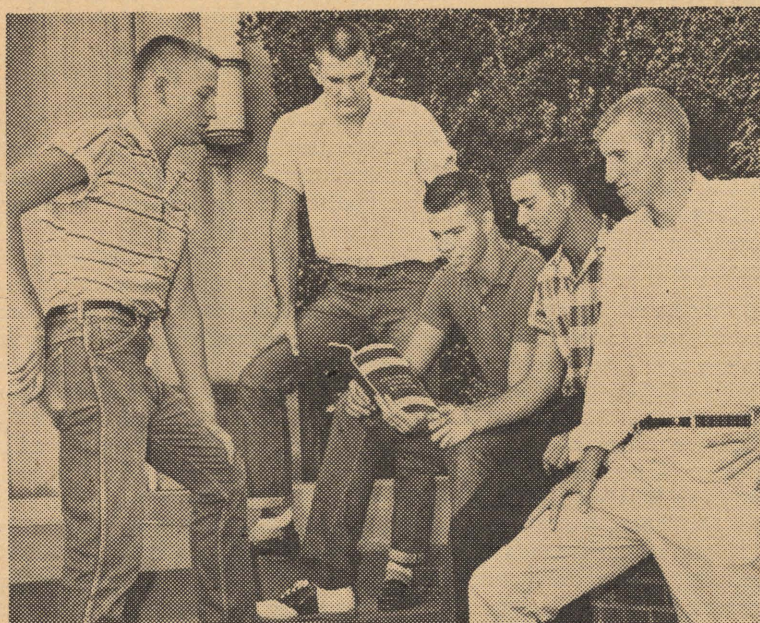

Constituting the 1958-59 council are from BSU, Steve Victory; MSM, Brad Mayo; Kappa Alpha, Buddy Daily; Sigma Gamma, Austin Sartin; ROTC, Bill McKnight; Kappa Sigma I, Warren West; Kappa Sigma II, Billy Pat Tipton; Kappa Sigma III, Don Tyler.

The Intramural Council held its first meeting at 6:00 p. m., September 16, at which time Austin Sartin, Brad Mayo, Billy Pat Tipton, Don Tyler, and Warren West were present along with intramural advisor Fred Bedelle.

During the meeting football intramurals were discussed and the following rules approved:

1. Oct. 1—All team rosters must be in the office by 4:00 p. m.
2. Team rosters must consist of fifteen maximum or ten, minimum members.
3. Oct. 6—Games will begin at 5:00 p. m.
4. A season of fifty-six games will be played with teams playing on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday afternoons. Should a game be rained out it will be played on Monday.
5. There will be three games played at night—two at the ROTC fields and one beside Hardin Hall.
6. The flag system of touch-football will be used.
7. Two fifteen minute halves will be regulation.
8. Five minute half time will be observed.
9. Forfeit time is 5:05 p. m.
10. Each team must furnish two officials.

Bedelle announced that for the first time swimming will be included in the intramural program. Details of the meet will be announced at a later date.

Five freshmen who plan to play basketball for Centenary are Ford King (6-3), of Big Sandy, Texas; Jerry Callen (6-0), of Pleasant Hill, Louisiana; Dale Vanbibber (6-5), of Dexter, Missouri; Larry Saucier (5-10), of Fenton, Louisiana, and Mike Ramming (6-5), of St. Louis, Missouri.

TIPTON, MORGAN HEAD 1958-59 MURAL PROGRAM

Intramural councils met this week for election of officers for the year 1958-59 and further planning for the coming intramural program.

Billy Pat Tipton, Kappa Sigma I, was elected president of this year's Men's Intramural Council. Also elected as officers are Paul Hoge, BSU, vice-president, and Don Tyler, Kappa Sigma III, secretary and Conglomerate reporter.

Women's Intramural Council officers for the year were elected

Teague Reports On Organ Meet

Presiding over the first meeting held on September 20, of the Centenary Chapter of the American Organist Guild was president Edith Elliot. A report was given on the national convention held in Houston, Texas, where Mr. William C. Teague gave a recital. Mr. Norman Z. Fisher and Mr. W. C. Teague are the two sponsors.

During the business meeting projects were discussed that will be undertaken this year. Three new members were present; Beale Thomas, Jackie Dyer, and Zolleen Bennett.

Freshman Gents Tower on Court

Seven new Gentlemen basketballers will join the Gents on the hardwood this winter—as members of the freshmen squad.

Coach Orvis Sigler has stated the freshmen team members will not be allowed to participate in varsity basketball this year. Sigler inferred this was necessary as one requirement for admission into NCAA University Division.

The freshmen hoopsters will be human towers on the court as they average out together better than six feet, three inches.

The frosh team members hail from all parts of the nation. Three are from Missouri, two from Louisiana, and one each from Texas and New York.

The boys from Missouri include Mike Ramming, 6-5, from St. Louis; Jimmy Jarrett, 6-5, from Marshall; and Dale Van Bibber, 6-6, from Dexter.

From the home state of Louisiana are Larry Saucier, 5-10, from Fenton, and Jerry Callens, 6-1, from Pleasant Hill.

Ford King, Jr., 6-3, is the tall boy representing the state of Texas and his home town of Big Sandy, while the lone yankee of the bunch from Albany, New York, is Cal Kirby, 6-3.

ON CAMPUS

By Peggy Longino

In addition to the new freshman students, there are many transfer students calling the Centenary Campus home. Among these are Nancy White, transfer from the University of Missouri; Jack Green, Texas A. & M.; Mary Murphree, Southwestern at Memphis; Donna Peral, Stetson University in Florida, and also Billy Pat Tipton, back from East Texas Baptist College.

Spearheading plans for Fraternity Rush are the members of the Interfraternity Council. Officers elected at the first meeting of this year are Warren Goss, president; Warren West, vice president; Keith Simmons, secretary, and Jim Daigle, student senate representative.

Kappa Alpha started the individual Rush Parties off Friday night with an informal dance at their house. Enjoying themselves there were Brenda Baily, Howard Collins, Bob Shaw, Ken Hayes, Dan Herndon, Jon Oliver, Jim Hamric, Emma Lou Stewart, and Glenda Johnson.

Kappa Sigs entertained at their house Saturday night. A few of those seen on the dance floor were Lorita Donaho, Joan Templeton, Ramona Nail, Pat Burns, Rod Yeager, Leonard Ellis, Rennie Culver, Roger Williams and Charles Yarbrough. The Kappa Sigmas invited the girls rushing for them to a lovely tea Saturday afternoon. Helping with plans for Rush Week were Judy Meredith, Judy Hughes, Mignon Eubanks, Dorothy Starns, Cornelia Agurs and Judy Thurman.

Spanky McCoy, Leon Bain, Steve Victory, Warren West and Buddy Graham are still talking about the hike they took up in the Tennessee mountains this summer. The most outstanding hiker seemed to be a big bear that took a liking to Spanky's shirt. The boys promise that they saw that bear going down the trail the next day wearing Spanky's shirt.

The women's Intramural Council met Monday night to make plans for this year's activities. Elected to serve as officers were Gaynelle Morgan, president; Mary Charleville, vice president, and Pherieb Monroe, secretary.

Among certain quarters, the talk all seems to be of the "three R's" as related to Practice Teaching. Looking very wise lately, and also very stern, are seniors and stu-

SNEA to Hold Supper Tonight

The Student National Educational Association is sponsoring a chicken and spaghetti supper Friday, September 26, at 5:30 p. m. in the basement of the Science Building.

Roberta Jackson, president of the organization, says that the purpose of the supper is to introduce NEA to the student body and to initiate the annual membership drive.

The Student NEA is the professional association for college or university students preparing to teach. This organization provides members with opportunities for developing personal growth and professional competences; for gaining an understanding of the history, ethics, and program of the organized teaching profession; for participating in cooperative work on the problems of the profession and the community; and for active professional membership on the local, state, national, and world levels.

Dr. A. J. Middlebrooks is the faculty sponsor.

dent teachers Genie Valentine, Joan Phares, Ann Harp, Windy Nicklaus and Jann Stanley.

Congratulations to the new pledge class officers. Zeta Tau Alpha pledges elected Dalna Worley, president; Jane Hanks, vice president; Sally Herring, secretary, and Janet McClellan, treasurer. Alpha Xi Deltas selected Linda Morris, president; Becky Stockstill, vice president; Sharon Taylor, secretary; Judy Hebert, treasurer, and Beverly Bledsoe, chaplain.

Wearing an engagement ring exactly one week old is Jeannine Mobley. Jeannine and James Rea Love have more definite plans for sometime in the near future.

Congratulations to new Chi Omega initiates Sue Howell, Jill Landis, Lynda Gayle Fairley, Kathy Mack, Penny Hawkins and Frankie Stokes.

Lucky Rushees! Kappa Sigmas will entertain Friday night at The Embers, and Kappa Alpha will be at The Shreveporter on Saturday night.

Two men wearing big smiles this week are Sammy Kilman and George LeRay as they were both initiated into the Kappa Sigma Fraternity last Monday night. Congratulations!

Critics Preview Current Comedy

By GEORGE ACTON

Wednesday night a small audience of critics, would-be critics, and well-wishers previewed the first production of Centenary Playhouse's fall season, "Visit to a Small Planet." What they saw is probably the best comedy produced in the Playhouse since it opened.

Director Joseph Gifford has picked a winner in Gore Vidal's script about a man from a distant and civilized planet who visits his "hobby," the Earth. He (and dress) aims for the Civil War, but by a slight miscalculation arrives a century late in 1959.

Vidal's writing (and Gifford's directing) have made a penetrating satire out of this situation. The play spoofs many things: science-fiction, advertisements, the army, national policy, young love, and the unbelievably subtle humor should produce many a delayed laugh during Visit's short run.

The casting could hardly be improved. Wayne Adams has a proper air of other-worldly eeriness as the visitor from space. Robin Hubert's version of a muddle-headed college girl should get more than its share of laughs. Other fine performances are turned in by Lester Haas, Gertrude Spencer, Charlton Lyons, Jr., Jerry Bloomer, Al Smith, and John O. Williams.

Clever lighting effects point up the action, and the Outer Space sound effects (in stereophonic sound, yet) are hilarious.

Congratulations to Director Gifford, the cast, and production staff of "Visit to a Small Planet" for getting the Playhouse season off to a good start.

Banquets To End Fraternity Rush

The first round of Rush Parties got underway last weekend with the Kappa Alpha party Friday night and the Kappa Sigma party Saturday night.

The Kappa Alpha party was held at their house. Despite the rainy weather, the attendance was good and everyone enjoyed the music furnished by a local band. The Kappa Sigma party, held at their house, was provided with music by the Jerry Dennis combo. Entertainment during intermission was provided by Elizabeth and Margaret Reeves, Helen Gully, and Kay Cooper. The Kappa Sigma Sweetheart, Miss Mary Tom Wilkinson, was presented a silver sweetheart bracelet by President Francis Kelker.

Another round of parties is scheduled for this weekend with the Kappa Sigmas giving a banquet at The Embers at 7:30 p.m. this evening and the Kappa Alphas giving a banquet at the Shreveport Progressive Men's Club tomorrow evening. Both of these parties are by invitation only. Silence begins at midnight, Saturday, September 27, 1958, and bids will be issued next Monday immediately after 1:00 p.m.

The thirty-eight men going through rush are Odie Reynolds, Jay Koonce, Austin Sartin, Johnny Johnson, Roger Williams, Terrell Rourke, Fred Schwendimann, Butch Franklin, Jimmy Hughes, Jim Rivers, Lon McAnally, Bob Shaw, Ron Radzikowski, Charles Yarbrough, Dan Herndon, Howard Collins, Leonard Ellis, Jerry Mitchell, Bobby Sorenson, Jimmy Hamric, Jon Oliver, Walter Goldstein, Dick Johns, Roy Chambers, Rennie Culver, Jolly Gilliam, Lawrence Waschka, Buddy Elkins, Tommy Hadley, Pete Mangum, Sidney Evans, Rod Yeager, Fuller Bazer, Ken Hayes, Billy Thompson, Jerry Jouett, Jack Green and Tim Temple.

"Art of Packing" Chapel Subject

The Rev. Jolly B. Harper spoke yesterday at a general assembly, held in Brown Memorial Chapel, on the topic "The Art of Packing."

A former pastor of the Trinity Methodist Church of Ruston, the Rev. Mr. Harper is now district superintendent of the Shreveport district of the Methodist Church. L. W. Fletcher introduced Rev. Harper as well as giving the invocation.

The scripture reading was by Lawrence Falk, and Joy Lambert gave the benediction. Special music was under Dr. A. C. Voran's direction, and William C. Teague was at the organ.

4 Campus Personalities Interested In Sports

By LINDA FRANK

(Editor's Note: These personality sketches are the first in a series of articles which are designed to introduce a member of each class to the Student Body.)

Becky Stockstill, freshman personality from New Iberia, was initiated to college life with a big splash. As she walked to the cafeteria, she passed a hearty crew of basketball players who surprised her with a quick dip before dinner.

This summer Becky modeled in New Iberia, but found time for swimming and tennis.

"Centenary has such friendly people, and rush was great!" commented Becky when asked about her new role as a college student. Here at Centenary she plans to major in secretarial science.

Having studied piano for eleven years, she enjoys good music.

Becky was recently elected vice-president of her pledge class in Alpha Xi Delta.

The upper-classmen really made an impression on Becky as they have so kindly "re-arranged" her room and salted her bed! Oh, the woes of a freshman. . .

Jay Lang, a sophomore pre-dental student, is a charter member of the "Car Displacement Service" whose effects have been recognized around the campus lately.

A member of the Epsilon Chapter of Kappa Sigma Fraternity, Jay is active playing football, basketball, and soft ball in men's intramurals.

This summer Jay worked for Dr. R. K. Spears and really made a "hit" when he side-swiped his boss' truck. When not working this summer, Jay spent most of his free time water-skiing at Lake Bistineau or Caddo Lake.

In the field of entertainment, this sophomore enjoys "adult" westerners such as "Maverick," actresses such as Bardot, and music such as by Stan Kenton.

Jay is often seen whizzing around campus in his foreign sports car, which is a Consul, or British Ford. It seems that the British forgot to put in all the necessary equipment, for when Jay had his first flat, he found that there was no jack.

After finishing his pre-dental studies here at Centenary, Jay plans to study at Ohio State University, where he says he has "relatives."

Active Church Worker

President of the older Youth Group at Broadmoor Methodist Church is this week's junior personality, Linda Fisher. (This group recently sponsored a hayride for the Centenary students.)

Linda is a transfer student from Southern Methodist University, but this is her third semester here at Centenary. She feels that students here are really friendly and down-to-earth.

An active member of the Methodist Student Movement, Linda enjoys swimming, playing tennis, and (in private) exercising with a hula hoop.

The highlight of her summer vacation was a big trip to the big metropolis of Logansport, where she spent the fourth of July with Harold Price and his parents.

Last semester Linda lived at home in Shreveport, but in order to get to know the students better, she is now residing in James Dormitory.

Hole-In-One Expert(?)

Senior personality John Bird is Number I of the Alpha Iota Chapter of the Kappa Alpha Order.

John has been a member of the Centenary golf team for four years and has been captain of the team for the past two years. Withholding his score, John says the last time he shot a hole-in-one was eight years ago.

This summer he attended fraternity school, a training period for officers held in Memphis, Tennessee, and also spent two weeks at Fort Hood.

Here at Centenary he is majoring in history, government, and commerce. He plans to attend law school at LSU.

When asked about his extra-curricular activities, John says that he is a member of the Shreve Landing Club, Inc. He is also president of the Southern Comfort Organization which is a non-profit organization.

"Papa John" and "Big Daddy" are a few nick-names which John has acquired from his buddies.

Seen often in Murrell's drinking coffee, John is a strong advocate of the NAACB, the National Association for the Advancement of Coffee Breaks.

Cadets Name New ROTC Sponsors

Miss Cecile Plummer, a senior from Waco, Tex., has been named ROTC Battle Group Sponsor for the coming year, it was announced earlier this week.

The honorary rank of Major was conferred on Miss Plummer, who is a member of the Maroon Jack-ets, vice-president of the junior class and a member of Zeta Tau Alpha. She was chosen for Who's Who last year.

Headquarters Company sponsor is Miss Kay Cooper, a freshman coed from Sulphur. The talented Chi Omega pledge has sung at the Howdy Dance and Kappa Sigma rush party. A member of the Centenary choir, she will hold the rank of 1st Lieutenant.

Miss Jane Darnell, 1st Lieutenant sponsor of "A" Company, is a sophomore from nearby Vivian. She is a member of the Women's Rifle Team.

A Shreveport sophomore, Miss Gail DeLanney, was named Company "B" sponsor. Also awarded the rank of 1st Lieutenant, Miss DeLanney is magazine chairman of her sorority, Zeta Tau Alpha.

Miss Wilma Jo Walters, '58 Yoncopin beauty, was chosen 1st Lieutenant sponsor of "C" Company. A senior from Leesville, Miss Walters was vice-president of the sophomore class and is president of Zeta Tau Alpha and a member of the Yoncopin staff.

The five sponsors were elected on the basis of cadet nominations.

Eleven Initiated Into Alpha Chi

Alpha Chi, national honorary scholastic fraternity for juniors and seniors who have an overall 2.5 grade average, will hold its annual initiation of new members on Saturday, October 4, at 5:00 p. m. at the home of Dr. E. L. Ford, sponsor of the organization. As a part of the initiation, Dr. Ford will quiz each of the initiates on his or her major field. For example if one's major field were English, he might say, "Whom do you consider to be the greatest English poet of all time and why?" or, if a person's major were biology, or one of its related fields, he might ask, "What are different phyla of animals, and how are they divided?"

MARY BETH BOMAR

CECILE PLUMMER

MARY TOM WILKINSON

Student Body to Choose Anniversary Court Today

Heavy voting is predicted today for the Queen who is to reign over next week's anniversary celebration. The polls will be manned by Senate members from eight to two. Ballots will include the names of three girls, nominated last Thursday in chapel by the student body, and also representatives for each class. Vying for the title of "Queen" are Mary Beth Bomar, Cecile Plummer and Mary Tom Wilkinson. One of these girls will be selected to reign as Queen and the other two will automatically be included in the court as princesses.

Director of Vanguard To Address Students

J. Paul Walsh, Deputy Director of the Navy Project Vanguard, will address the student body during the regular chapel period on October 9. Chapel will be held in the gymnasium from 9:30 to 10:30. The topic of Walsh's address has not been announced.

A press conference, an address to the combined Kiwanis Clubs of Shreveport and Bossier City, and a reception at the Faculty Club are other activities planned for the scientist.

Walsh holds degrees from Stevens Institute of Technology and the University of Maryland. In 1958 his Alma Mater, Stevens Institute, conferred upon him the honorary degree of Doctor of Engineering, in recognition of distinguished achievement in his field and "of his qualities of leadership in the service of his country and in the new field of space exploration." He is the youngest man ever to receive this honor at Stevens.

In January, 1943, he began his career at the Naval Research Laboratories in Washington, D. C., as an Engineer on the staff of the mechanics division. His work in the laboratory, largely in the field of applied mechanics with heavy emphasis on the dynamics of ship structures, earned him a reputation as a top-flight engineer.

In Operation Crossroads, the first atomic bomb tests in 1946, Walsh played an important role as a Project Officer on the measurement of shock in ships. Walsh has also worked with the British in this same field, investigating the effects of depth charges on submarines. As a result he was called upon to direct the work connected with the designing of the reactor compartment for the Nautilus, the first nuclear-powered submarine.

For his work in this field, Walsh has been awarded the Meritorious Civilian Service Award.

In 1955, Walsh transferred to Project Vanguard as a consultant. In less than a year, Project Director Dr. John P. Hagen announced his appointment as Deputy Director of the project.

Walsh is a member of the Washington Philosophical Society and the National Society of Professional Engineers. He is the author of a number of technological papers in the field of structural dynamics.

AED Initiates Senior Student

Eleanor Lewis, senior medical technology major, was initiated last Thursday night into Alpha Epsilon Delta, national premedical honor society, according to Larry McKinstry, president of the society.

Entrance requirements for this honorary society are a 1.8 average in all premedical courses taken, a 1.8 over-all average, and a definite interest in premedicine or related medical fields.

Miss Bomar, a junior from Bossier City, has been active on campus as a cheerleader, both her freshman and sophomore years. She was selected to appear in the feature section of the Yoncopin as a Beauty for her freshman year and was named first runner-up to Miss Centenary last year. Her class selected her to appear in the Gentleman's Holiday Court last year. Miss Plummer, a senior, was selected as scholastically outstanding freshman and also freshman favorite her first year at Centenary. Elected to the vice presidency of her junior class, she also serves the school as a Maroon Jacket.

Miss Wilkinson holds the singular honor of having represented her class in the Gentleman's Holiday Court both years of its existence. An active member of the Student Affairs Committee, she was also chosen as sophomore and junior class favorite.

These three nominees for Queen appear on today's ballot with class nominations for the Court Maids.

Nominated at Wednesday's chapel program to represent the freshman class as maid are Jane McCain, Martha Stapp, Becky Stockstill, Gail Stimpert, Ruth Velotta, and Judy Thurmon.

Helen Gulley and Ramona Nail were chosen to serve as candidates for sophomore class maid, while the junior class nominated Cornelia Agurs, Jeri Cassidy, Connie Gathright, and Patsy Miller.

32 Men Pledged By Fraternities

Formal Fraternity Rush ended at 1:00 p. m. Monday when the final preference cards were signed and bids were turned into the office of Dean of Men. There was great rejoicing as the Kappa Alphas received eleven rushees into the pledge class and the Kappa Sigmas received twenty-one into their pledge class. The boys were all pledged on Monday evening.

All of this furor and excitement was the final episode for his formal rush season. The preceding events were a Kappa Sigma banquet held at the Embers Friday evening with Dean Charles Hickcox as the speaker, and a Kappa Alpha banquet held at the Shreveporter and the home of Keith Simmons on Saturday evening with Mr. Leroy Scott as the speaker. Silence was observed from midnight Saturday until 1:00 p. m. Monday, when the rushees received their bids.

The new Kappa Alpha pledges are: Howard Collins, Shreveport; Tom Hadley, Shreveport; Jimmie Hamric, Shreveport; Ken Hayes, Jr., Shreveport; Dan Herndon, Shreveport; John Hoffman, Shreveport; Jimmy Hughes, Shreveport; Jon Oliver, Shreveport; Bob Shaw, Shreveport; Bob Sorenson, Shreveport; and Lawrence Waschka, Shreveport.

The new Kappa Sigma pledges are: Fuller Bazer, Shreveport; Roy Chambers, Texarkana; Rennie Culver, Texarkana; Robert (Buddy) Elkins, Shreveport; Leonard Ellis, Waskom, Texas; Michael (Butch) Franklin, DeRidder; Giles (Jolly) Gilliam, Shreveport; Walter Goldstein, Shreveport; Dick Johns, Mansfield; Jerry Jouett, Shreveport; Jay Koonce, Sulphur; Ron Radzikowski, Ringgold; Jim Rivers, Puerto Rico; Terrell Rourke, Berwick; Austin Sartin, Shreveport; Fred Schwendimann, Coushatta; Tim Temple, Leesville; Billy Thompson, Blanchard; Roger Williams, Natchitoches; Charles Yarbrough, Prescott, Ark.; and Rod Yeager, Shreveport.

Under the present Interfraternity Council Regulations, open rush will begin in one month.

YONCOPIN RE-TAKES

Those who have not had their Yoncopin pictures taken and those who wish to have re-takes made may do so at the following times:

IN THE STUDENT CENTER:
10:00 A. M. to 2:00 P. M.,
Wednesday, October 9, 1958

IN MR. SHORTER'S STUDIO:
12 Noon to 2:00 P. M.,
Thursday, October 10, 1958

There will be a charge of $1.50 for all re-takes. THIS IS YOUR LAST CHANCE! Pictures not taken on the above dates will only be made by studio appointment at $3.50 per sitting.

Letters to the Editor . . .

Have we become so selfish that we can consider no interests outside our own cliques and organizations? Have we reached the point that consideration of the other person, the other group, or even the larger group (of which we are a part) is unthinkable, especially if it is in contrast with our own narrow and limited view?

I suppose I am as incapable as anyone could possibly be on such a subject as this, because I have been and probably will continue to be a prejudiced person. However, even I can see the damage that is being done and which will continue to be done unless the students of Centenary College realize that they are a part of a larger and more important group than the smaller organizations and cliques to which they have become so devoted.

I am not advocating that the interests toward any particular group or organization be neglected or even slighted. In fact some of these interests could be augmented. I am only hoping that the groups and organizations and the individuals which compose these groups be broad-minded enough to realize that in order to obtain unity and the type of cooperation which is necessary to develop a school spirit which will last and which emphasizes cooperation and unity, even in competition, we must become objective in our thinking and seek to promote understanding not only of our own group, but of others also.

Too often we tend to criticize the whole group for something which one individual does who is a member of that group. Is our group perfect? Is our group without contemptible individuals? The point I am trying to make is that one individual does not necessarily compose the consensus for the whole group. Surely he is a part of that opinion, and I am not advocating anonymity in a group. However, an entire group should not be condemned because of the actions of one individual.

I only wish that we could realize our narrow-mindedness and see that understanding is the key to cooperation and unity. Perhaps we can become objective and overcome the prejudice which is a natural inclination with our many devotions and interests.

Dub Fletcher.

STUDENT SENATE REPORT

September 16, 1958

The Student Senate was called to order September 16, 1958, by the vice-president, Fred Willis. Those present were: Leon Bain, Jackie Carpenter, Marcella Flynt, Mary Lou Gassen, Connie Gathright, and Fred Willis.

The letter announcing the selection of the Senate's faculty representative was read and approved. It is to be sent to President Mickel as soon as possible.

The following committees for Kangaroo Kourt were made: Fred Willis, penalties for the boys; Marcella Flynt, penalties for the girls; and Leon Bain, props.

The possibility of a zoning law was discussed. It was the consensus of opinion that this should be brought before the Student Affairs' Committee.

The meeting was closed in regular order.

September 26, 1958

The Student Senate was called to order by President Charles Wilder. Since this was a call meeting, the roll was not taken.

Marcella Flynt moved that Kangaroo Kourt be moved to October 2, 1958, because of the conflict with the Survey Team meetings. The motion was seconded and approved.

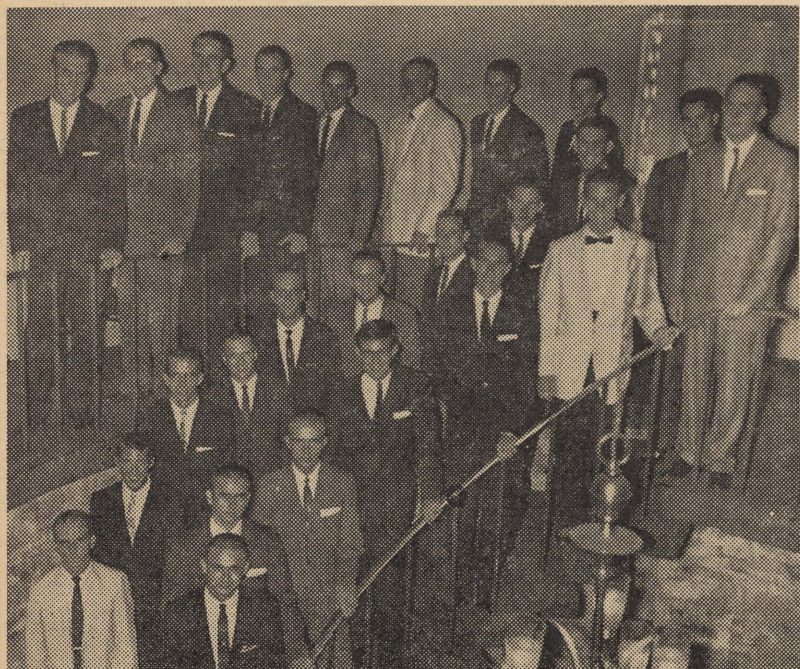

Because of the confusion of the nominations for the maids of the "Fifty Years in Shreveport Celebration" Court, the motion was made and seconded that only the nominations for Queen be accepted. The motion was passed. Nominations for the maids will be made in class meetings after Chapel Wednesday, October 1, 1958.

The following people were appointed to assist in class meetings: Fred Willis, freshman Class; Jim Daigle, sophomore Class; Mary Lou Gassen, junior Class, and Leon Bain, senior Class.

The list of those who are running for Queen of the Celebrations Court is to be posted in the Student Center.

There being no other business, the meeting was closed in regular order.

Respectfully submitted,
MARY LOU GASSEN,
Secretary

Preparing to enter The Embers banquet room are 25 of the 32 men who pledged Centenary's two national fraternities after a two-week rush period which ended last Monday night.

Holly Winters, featured artist of the Charlie Spivak Band, will entertain students, faculty, and alumni at the Homecoming dance to be held Friday, Oct. 10.

Current Comedy In Second Week

By George Acton

"Visit to a Small Planet," the current attraction at the Marjorie Lyons Playhouse, is playing to large and fascinated audiences as it goes into the second week of its (we hope) long run. As "The Lark" is the best dramatic play yet presented at the playhouse, "Visit" is the best comedy the playhouse has seen. It would be regrettable if Centenary students display the same lack of interest they showed during The Lark's run, for a better combination of script, casting, direction, and acting would be hard to find.

As Director Gifford observed to the dress rehearsal audience, it is doubtful that "Visit" is even a play. Such an atmosphere of unreality hovers over this tale of an outer space visitor to earth that it seems more like a variety show. The visitor, played by Wayne Adams, reads minds and makes objects rise. There is even an animal act when he converses with a cat. But play or not, "Visit" is an entertaining evening of good theater.

The slyness of the dialogue makes excellent humor for college students. One of the most subtle lines comes when a Pentagon General tells the visitor that he is considered a weapon. "You've been classified as a weapon," he explains. "Later on we'll probably be able to figure out some peacetime uses for you, but right now . . ."

The muddle-headed college girl, played by Robin Hubert, is another hilarious performance. Robin, whose unusual theatrical name has been commented on by even Pericles Alexander, has a "gooky" boy friend complains that her newscaster father hates him, "No, darling doesn't like anybody very much; that's why he's such a wonderful news analyst."

Perhaps the best point of the whole show is the way a "heavy" subject is handled so lightly. "Visit" deals with serious matters of national weakness and international policy, but it has no self-conscious message. It is most fun when its subject is most serious. And whatever real "point" it may have, the point for Centenary students is that when the playhouse decides to visit a small planet, this small college should take notice.

. . . In Appreciation

During the past week Centenary was visited by members of the survey team of the University Senate of the Methodist Board of Education at the request of the board of Trustees.

The current survey was the third such study of the college made since Dr. Joe J. Mickel assumed the presidency in 1945. Dr. Mickel is to be commended for his action in seeing that Centenary will continue in its growth in the coming years.

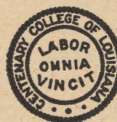

By inspecting every phase of college endeavor, the survey team has made a definite effort to obtain something that will be of real value to the board of Trustees. The findings of the survey will affect much of the college's planning for the next ten to twenty years.

The survey will not give its findings for several months yet. Much thought and consideration will be given by the members of the survey before any conclusions will be made.

But to the student probably the most important immediate effect has already been made . . . knowing that this college has an alert administration which is constantly striving to give him the most out of his college career.

Listening to one of the selections found on the new hi-fi phonograph in the snack bar are personalities Joyce Price, Leon Bain, Spanky McCoy, and Sara Tiner.

Personalities Reveal Future Plans, Desires

By Linda Frank

Pert Joyce Price, freshman personality from Pueblo, Colorado, cannot seem to understand the southern dish of rice and gravy. "Why at home I eat rice with cream and sugar for breakfast!"

Joyce has always been fascinated with the dream of being an airline hostess, but the dream has never materialized because she is afraid of height.

New York, Canada, California, and Mexico are a few of the places this personality has visited. With a dreamy look in her eyes, she expressed a desire to travel abroad to Rome, Paris, but most of all to the Swiss Alps.

"The country-side here is so green and colorful as compared to the snow-capped mountains and endless prairies of Colorado," stated Joyce.

This freshman psychology major recently pledged Chi Omega.

When asked why she chose Centenary, she said she had planned to come for about three years, for she had heard so much about the college from her friend, Elizabeth Orman.

Trapeze Advocate

Sara Tiner, sophomore personality, plans to major in medical technology and then to intern a year. Afterwards, she intends to work in a large hospital either in Shreveport or New Orleans.

Sara was recently initiated into the Beta Iota Chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha. She loves to dance, swim, eat spaghetti and pizza, and play cards.

Head-ache bands and the trapeze and chemise styles are high on her list of favorites as she likes the latest things, because they are so different.

Sara frowns heavily upon "cutting" labs, as she once had the unique plan of slipping out of lab while the instructor was out. She slipped out of the room and ran to the elevator thinking how horrible it would be if she should get caught. When the elevator door opened, who should step out but the instructor, and there stood Sara speechless with her books ready to leave. Let this be a warning to all—Don't use the elevator!

Planning to major in physical therapy and work with retarded children is Spanky McCoy, junior personality.

"Sprout," so dubbed by his friends, is sports editor of the Yoncopin and a member of the Baptist Student Union.

When asked how he acquired his name, Spanky said his mother used to watch the "Dead End Kids." In this group there was a short fat funny boy named Spanky, and his mother said she wished some day she would have a little boy like that, so . . .

Spanky says you cannot always trust your good friends, as the other day he became the victim of his friends' prank. They decided to throw him in the fish pond, but he challenged them saying they weren't big enough. Then Bob Robinson stepped forward and—well without further detail, in went Spanky with the fish.

Hill-Billy Rachmaninoff Fan

Interested in hill-billy music by Red Sovine and classical numbers by Rachmaninoff is senior personality Leon Bain.

"Bear-Bain," a nickname he acquired from a trip this summer, is an active student on campus. He is a member of the Yoncopin staff, Student Senate Independent representative, and a participant in Men's intramurals.

He began his college days at Vanderbilt in Nashville, Tennessee. Leon also has the dream to go to Europe, especially to the Swiss Alps where he would live on cheese, milk, and beer. I'm sure he would learn to yodel!

This flashy senior lad is someone to watch in men's intramural football games. From a very reliable source, "Leon has gained enormous speed during the summer, and he plans to play end this fall, so he can star!"

SPORTS DOWNBEAT

By DON TYLER

Why doesn't Centenary have a football team like other colleges and universities? Have you heard that somewhere before? Sure you have!

But whether you know it or not Centenary did have a football team at one time during its history. Quite a team at that.

A few years before most of us were born our Alma Mater had one of the finest teams to be found anywhere in these United States. During the late 1920's and early 1930's, Centenary was the object of much of the football talk around the nation. We were a threat to any team, and we dethroned quite a few of the big powers of the pigskin world.

In 1927 Centenary was the only major team in the country that played ten games, allowing no ties or defeats. They played four members of the strong Southwestern Conference: Baylor, Rice, S. M. U., and T. C. U.; five members of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association: Southern, Birmingham-Southern, Millsaps, Louisiana Tech, and the University of Louisville; one non-conference team, Sam Houston State Teachers. The Gents compiled a total score of 261 points and allowed only 37 points to be scored on them. Such scores as—27-0, 26-0, 21-12, 20-7, 33-7, 33-0, and 59-2.

Lenwood Bowman, Associated Press writer, in 1933 wrote, "Centenary College of Shreveport, La., with about 400 students and hardly enough players to make two football teams, has the little 'wonder team' of the South this season. . . ." That same year Centenary got its first and only football all-American. Collier's all-American team listed Paul Geisler, Centenary end, as one of the nation's tops.

Many a year has it been since a Shreveport gridiron has been overrun by a city collegiate football team. In fact, it has been eleven years. After a war-time recess the grid sport was resumed at Centenary in the fall of 1947. However, at the end of the season, the college, which lost some $30,000 that season, announced that lack of financial support for subsidized football made it necessary to discontinue the sport on that basis. In that last year, 1947, the football team posted a season record of one win, nine losses and one tie. One of the worst defeats in Centenary's history came that year at the hands of Louisiana Tech, 51-14. The opposition scored 238 points that season to Centenary's 100.

Now you see why Centenary discontinued its football team. Yet now in more prosperous times it seems rather foolish for a school this size to have no football team to support. There are many disadvantages, however, as you have seen. I think Centenary should have a football team, but of course, it is only a matter of opinion.

Will Centenary ever have a football team again? Who knows! A team like the 1927 team surely would be great. Don't you agree?

Alpha Sigma Pi Initiates Three

Alpha Sigma Pi, honorary scholastic fraternity for freshmen and sophomores, held a meeting Tuesday night at the home of Dr. E. M. Clark, faculty sponsor of the group. Mr. Lothar Kleinhans, an instructor in German, spoke to the meeting on the meaning and rewards of scholarship.

Mr. Kleinhans pointed out the practical, social and mental health benefits of sound scholarship in the life of the scholar.

Later three new members were initiated into the group by president George Acton. The new initiates are Carol Ann Soloman, Marie Maranto, and John O. Williams. A short business meeting was held to discuss plans for an invitational meeting for freshmen to be held later in the fall.

'Mural Activities Begin Tuesday

Men's Intramurals will begin this coming Tuesday when the first games will be played in touch football, according to Billy Pat Tipton, president of this year's Intramural Council.

A schedule of games to be played will be posted Monday in the Gymnasium, along with a roster of teams entered in competition this year. Deadline for team rosters for intramural football was set for last Wednesday, Oct. 1.

Fred Bedelle, intramural advisor, stated that probably seven or eight teams would be entered in this year's competition for the football trophy. Among those entering are BSU, MSM, Sigma Gamma, ROTC, Kappa Alpha, Kappa Sigma I, Kappa Sigma II, and Kappa Sigma III.

Changes made in rules for this year include awarding of a touchdown if a person is tackled while in possession of the ball and a fifteen-yard penalty for holding while attempting to remove the flag. Also, officials will be instructed to look closely for illegal blocks on defensive teams.

ON CAMPUS

By Peggy Longino

The campus was considerably brightened Tuesday morning by the sight of thirty-two broad smiles. Congratulations to the thirty-two boys showing off brand new pledge pins.

We caught several Kappa Chis running around putting stickers on cars last Friday. A few of those guilty were Lynette Davis, Richard Herrmann, Bonnie Langley, Carol Anne Solomon and Deen Thompson. These stickers were made to help publicize Centenary's Golden Anniversary in Shreveport celebration.

Other students helping to get next week's celebration rolling were those who announced Centenary's plans from the pulpits of various local churches. Among these were Judy Hughes, Melinda McLeod and Ralph Mason. Other students will attend churches this Sunday to make the announcement.

Added to the ranks of those soon to receive their MRS degrees are Sara Del Stevens and Margo Holden. Sara Del declares that all those letters that she has sent up University of Arkansas way have not been wasted, while Margo is directing all her smiles toward Jimmy Rocca.

Proudly wearing the Phi Mu Alpha pin of Dub Fletcher is Abbie Terry, while Judy Downs sports Kappa Sigma drop letters given to her by Wayne Stoddard.

Enthusiastically viewing Robin Hubert's performance in the current play after ushering one night this week were Jen Houchin and Jeanne Kelso. The girls tell us this is a fabulous way to save the pocketbook.

Several students were asked to help the Survey Team which was on our campus this week by meeting with its members in conferences. Some of the students who contributed their time for this event were Helen Gulley, Buddy Daily, John Bird, Bill Bryant and Charles Wilder.

From all reports, the Student NEA supper was a great success. A few of those enjoying the chicken and spaghetti were Margie Dukes, Zina Henry, Joy Lambert, Bessie Ruth Risinger, Betty Snellgrove, and Dave Limebrook.

Buddy Graham, Francis Kelker, Bobby Holtzclaw, Warren West and Jerry Winterrowd will journey to LSU this weekend for the meeting of Kappa Sigma officers throughout the Louisiana District.

Freshmen who claim not to have felt the sweet sensation of goldfish swimming around their ankles are Carolyn Giles, Joyce Price, Carol Tyler, and Rosemary Watkins. Need we say more?

Through the grapevine we hear that Billy Pat Tipton is back in the saddle again. He has just purchased a new white horse and leather whip. It appears that Bo Roberson is trying to compensate for being shot out by a fellow hustler.

Congratulations to "Graboon" Watson, who was recently initiated into Alpha Phi Omega.

Kappa Sigma pledges have elected the following officers: Austin

Corporate Communion

On Wednesday, October 15 at 7:00 A. M. in the small chapel of the Brown Chapel, Centenary College Campus, there will be observed the first national Corporate Communion for all Episcopalians in the academic community. The celebrant will be the Rev. Frank Hipwell, Chaplain of the Episcopal students on the campus. All Episcopalians are invited to participate.

Sartin, president; Jerry Jouett, vice-president; Jay Koonce, secretary; Rod Yeager, treasurer and Tim Temple, sergeant-at-arms.

We didn't realize the campus social situation was so low until we heard that Linda Byrd, Sondra Brink, Sue Howell and Gretchen Stivison had taken up knitting. (That ain't Mickey Mouse, hear?)

KEEL's Collegiate Salute recently went to Jay Lang. We are wondering what price he paid for the honor.

Gay McRee and Becky Buckner are new pledges of Alpha Xi Delta, as of Tuesday evening.

Swedish Lass Enjoys Drive-ins, Hamburgers

By Theo Klemann

This year we have a cosmopolitan lass walking on the campus. Her name is Helena Spanberg and she hails all the way from Sweden. Helena is this year's recipient of the Rotary-Bath scholarship.

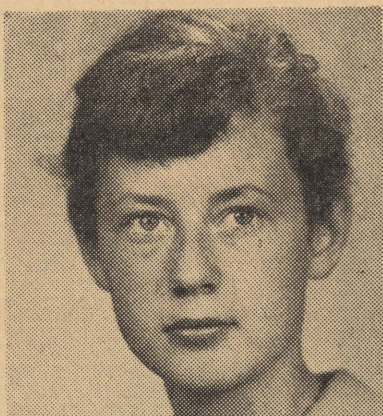

Before coming to Centenary, she visited Grenoble University for a year, so she is not exactly a freshman.

Asked about her first impressions of Centenary, she replied "very impressive indeed—the cafeteria for instance, the food is wonderful, and it looks like Hollywood, especially after Grenoble!" In Grenoble Helena had already met a few Americans, so she was not too surprised about our way of doing things.

Getting to know the American way of the girl, but later on, if they keep dating, she will pay for herself.

Helena is rather philosophical about this matter and says, like Wilhelm II, late king of Germany, "Let everybody be happy his way." One thing that Helena and we Americans have in common is, like she says, "I just love drive-ins and hamburgers."

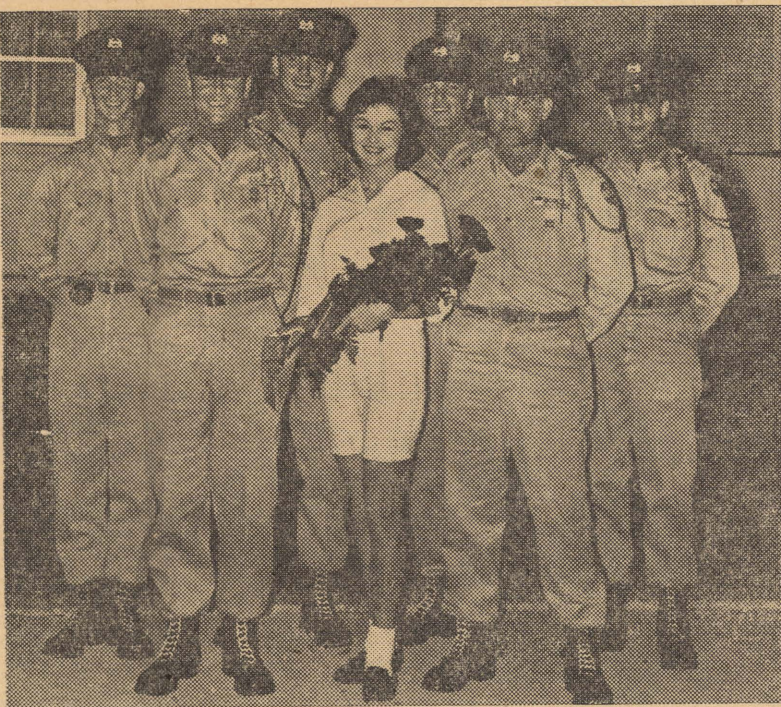

girl and boy better is certainly an experience. "The American girls are pretty, well-dressed and exhaustingly perfect," she says. Her impression of the boy is not so favorable. "A boy of 18 here is still a boy, in Europe he is almost a man."

Helena was also struck by the strict dormitory rules at Centenary. In Europe, she says, the students live in hotels or boarding houses.

Of the boy-girl relationship at Centenary she cannot speak from experience. "It appears to me that the girls try awfully hard to have dates on the week-end," she says, "because they are afraid not to be considered normal."

"It seems like the more boys you date, the better you are," she complains. In Sweden, however, quality goes before quantity.

Helena can of course tell you a lot about the ways and customs in Sweden. She told that on a date the boy in the beginning will pay the Officers of the Pershing Rifle Team surround their newly elected sponsor, Ramona Nail, as they present her with a bouquet of red roses.

Drill Team Elects Nail '59 Sponsor

Last Friday evening at 6:00 p. m. in front of James Dorm the National Military Society of Pershing Rifles presented Miss Ramona Nail as their 1958-1959 honorary sponsor. Cadet 2/Lt. Ralph Akin published the order of Cadet Capt. James Durham announcing Miss Nail's appointment.

Other presentations included a bouquet of red roses by Cadet 2/Lt. Charles Clifford, a Pershing Rifle shoulder cord from Cadet 2/Lt. Winston Miller, a blue Pershing Rifle scarf from 2/nd Lt. David Calhoun, and from Cadet Capt. James Durham, the rank of honorary Pershing Rifle Captain. In conclusion, the members of the honorary rifle team came forward, introduced themselves to Miss Nail, and presented her with the traditional Pershing Rifle kiss.

Ramona is a sophomore student at Centenary majoring in speech and drama. Last year she served as sponsor of Headquarters Company of ROTC and the Rifle Team, was third runner-up in the "Miss Centenary" contest sponsored by the Yoncopin, the freshman representative in Gentleman's Holiday Court, "Miss Cotton Maid" in a contest at Texas A. & M., and a member of the court of Holiday in Dixie.

She played the lead in the Marjorie Lyons Playhouse production of "The Reluctant Debutante" last fall. This summer she did a wonderful job of playing the tousled-haired backwoods Annie in "Annie, Get Your Gun" at the Playhouse. Ramona is a member of Zeta Tau Alpha social sorority.

Martin Speaks At Chapel Program

In a special ceremony conducted as a prelude to the week-long "Fifty Years in Shreveport" celebration, Bishop Paul M. Martin spoke last Wednesday, Oct. 1, concerning a rededication "to the cause of Christ in the field of higher education."

Bishop Martin, resident bishop of the Arkansas-Louisiana area of the Methodist church, conducted the service at 9:30 a. m. in the Brown Memorial Chapel.

The Rev. Jim McLean, director of religious activities, gave the prayer of invocation, and the Rev. Leonard Cooke, vice president of the college, gave the responsive reading.

Bishop Martin gave the call to worship and called upon all affiliated with the college to be cognizant of their responsibilities toward youth, toward themselves and toward the Christian ideals upon which Centenary was founded.

Dr. Joe J. Mickle, president of Centenary, reminded everyone that "we are debtors to those who have builded before us," and said:

"As they have passed on to us an institution of integrity, may we with firm resolve continue the task of Christian education."

Dr. Webb Pomeroy, acting head of the Bible department, spoke on behalf of the Centenary College faculty. Dr. Pomeroy stated, "Ours is a precious heritage of learning."

Paul M. Brown, a Methodist layman and active member of the Noel Memorial Methodist Church, represented the Board of Trustees, and Miss Marcella Flynt of Baton Rouge represented the Centenary students.

Golden Anniversary Highlights Space Exhibits, Art Show, Music

Centenary College has celebrated its "Golden Anniversary in Shreveport" during this week in a grand style. A space-age exhibit, an exhibition of primitive art, and the long strides that have been taken since the college's early days, visitors have viewed the combined Armed Forces Space-Age Exhibit in the Haynes Memorial Gym, and the collection of primitive paintings from the Smithsonian Institute, on display in the Moore Student Center. Such prominent speakers as Mr. J. Paul Walsh, Deputy Director of U. S. Navy Project Vanguard; Mr. Charles E. Wilson, former Secretary of Defense; and Dr. Henry Heald, President of the Ford Foundation graced the events. Culture not to be forgotten, a Music Festival was held on Tuesday night in the amphitheater, which featured the Centenary College Band and choir and the Shreveport Civic Opera Workshop.

On Monday, when the exhibits are packed away and the speakers have gone home, life will go on as usual on the campus. But the effects of the celebration will continue to take the pride of the school, as Centenary begins another 50 years in Shreveport. The hopes are high and well-supported that they will be as successful as the 50 just passed.

Before the Civil War, the college became one of the leading institutions of the South. The war interrupted its services from 1861 to 1866, but in the difficult years of reconstruction, the college struggled valiantly and contributed much to the leadership of its territory.

In the early 1900's, the Atkins Company, of Shreveport, offered 40 acres to the trustees to serve as a campus for the college in the city. Shreveport citizens contributed funds for buildings and equipment and Centenary College of Louisiana was opened in 1908 in the building now known as Jackson Hall.

The school struggled hard during its early years in Shreveport, and only because of the sacrifices of devoted administrators, faculty and benefactors was it able to survive those lean years. Since the current building program, started in 1945, has been underway, eight modern buildings have been erected, and several campus beautification programs have been completed. Today Centenary is one of the finest small liberal arts colleges in the South.

To celebrate the accomplishments of the past 50 years, Centenary and the City of Shreveport co-operated in preparing a full week of activities. Throughout the seven

Sun Dial Given By CC Tuesday

The Shreveport Chamber of Commerce presented a sun dial to Centenary College last Tuesday, October 7, during a special ceremony held on the lawn of the Brown Memorial Chapel.

The capsule planted in the sun dial will be opened fifty years from last Tuesday at which time the people of 2008 A.D. may be quite surprised at the findings.

Tuesday was Freshman Day and all the Freshmen were supposed to dress as they thought students will in the year 2008. Pictures of their attire will be placed in the capsule.

Designs of dress ranged from fishbowl hats, which had to be lifted if the frosh wanted to hear or say anything, to a plastic air-conditioned uniform.

The coeds got to wear their leotards, the skintight latest thing in skinny slacks, under very short skirts that stuck straight out the way the girl of tomorrow's indubitably will. This probably will be the only chance they will have to wear their leotards to class.

The boys uniforms ranged from the fully dressed futuristic cowboy to one freshman boy sporting the extremely simple, functional lines of a white union suit.

Placed Near Science Building

The sun dial was implanted in what formerly was the rosebush circle near the Science Building, the area toward which Centenary is expected to expand in the next 50 years.

Actually the capsule wasn't sealed Tuesday because a record of the rest of the week's events are to be included.

The capsule will contain a microfilm of the Shreveport Time Centenary Section, Oct. 5 and Journal, Oct. 6; The Shreveport Magazine, September issue, a 1958 student handbook, a city map, a brochure of this year's State Fair, city church directory, current Methodist literature, and a program of the Centennial observation.

Mickle Receives Gift

The sundial gift was presented by Chamber of Commerce President Travis White to Centenary President Dr. Joe J. Mickle.

The symbolic placing of the capsule was performed by three charter Chamber members; Justin Gras, Hugo Hoyer and H. H. Bain, and student body president Charles Wilder.

Dr. Mickle said in a brief speech of thanks that the sun dial will be a lasting symbol of two prized possessions of the college: The city's interest in her welfare, and the time the student spend there will probably be the most decisive time of their lives.

Rolle R. Rand, executive vice president of the Chamber, acted as master ceremonies and Dr. Leonard Cook, vice president of the college read the invocation and benediction. Architect W. S. Evans,

Mary Tom Wilkinson To Reign At Dance Tonight

Reigning as Queen of the Golden Anniversary in Shreveport will be Mary Tom Wilkinson, senior from Coushatta.

Crowning of the queen and presentation of her court will take place tonight at the student-alumni Homecoming dance which is to be held in the Moore Student Center at 8:00 p. m.

Mary Beth Bomar, junior from Bossier City and Cecile Plummer, senior from Lake Charles, were chosen princesses for the Anniversary program. Maids in the queen's court are to be Peggy Longino, senior maid from Shreveport; Jerri Cassidy, junior maid from Lake Charles; Helen Gulley, sophomore maid from Shreveport; and Judy Thurmon, freshman maid from Ringgold.

The queen and her court were selected by a vote of the student body last Friday, October 3, under the supervision of the Student Senate and faculty representatives.

The student-alumni dance will bring to a close many of the activities for the Anniversary program and will bring on campus for the first time the famed Charlie Spivak band. Appearing with the nationally known band will be the very popular and beautiful singing artist, Holly Winters.

APO To Hold Open Meeting

Alpha Phi Omega, national scouting fraternity, will hold its annual open meeting next Tuesday at 9:30 a.m. in room 114 of the Science Building according to John McGrede president of the group.

The purpose of the meeting is to explain the purposes and plans of the organization to interested men, and to see who might be interested in affiliating with the chapter.

Requirements for membership are that the person must have had previous experience in scouting, and must have an earnest desire to give service to the campus.

Refreshments will be served immediately following the meeting and time will be allowed for students to become better acquainted with the speakers and active members.

President of the college, Dr. Joe J. Mickle, has extended the invitation to attend the presentation to all students, faculty, and alumni.

Scott Announces ROTC Officers

Col. Robert S. Scott, P.M.S.&T. of Centenary College has announced the ROTC cadet officers and non-commissioned officers for the 1958-59 year.

The Battle Group Commander is James Durham, and Bill McKnight is the Battle Group Exec., both of whom are from Shreveport.

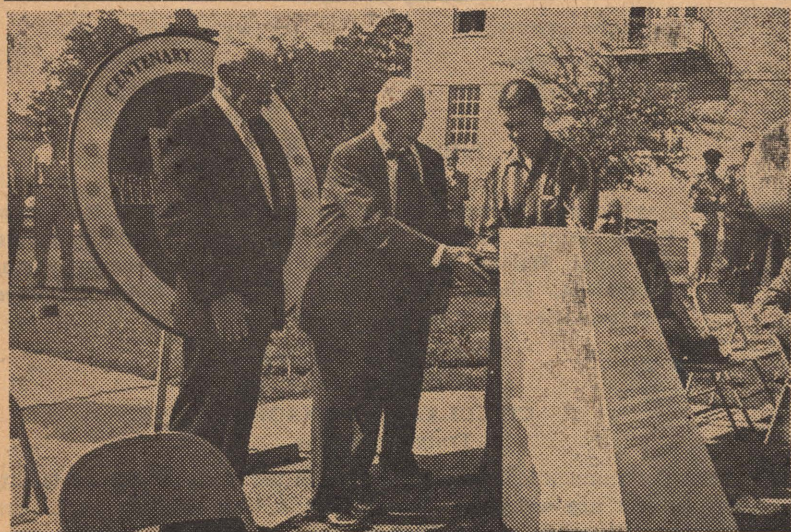

The Battle Group Staff all of whom are from Shreveport consists of Carry Davis, S1, Jerry Winterrowd, S2, John Kotarski, S3, and David Herndon, S4.

The four Company Commanders are Bill Bryant, John Goodwin, and Bill Gains from Shreveport; and Charles Clifford from Dallas.

Other cadet officers from Shreveport are 2nd Lt. Perry Winterrowd, Bill Halliburton, Ralph Akin, Charles Walker, David Forte, and Fuller Bazer. The remaining 2nd Lieutenants are Tom Hubble, Illinois; Bobby Schulman, Alabama; Henry Pye, Vivian; Winston Miller, Marshall; Bobby Bellar, Plain Dealing; and Fred Willis, Coushatta.

The non-commissioned officers are Sgt. Maj. Sidney Gras, Shreveport; SFC. David Calhoun, Winsboro; S.F.C. Edward Monk, Minden; and S.F.C. Marc Covington, Shreveport.

The cadet staff sergeants are Coan Knight, Leesville; Tommy Hadley, Shreveport; Jerry Guin, Shreveport; Mike Eiser, Shreveport; Frank Looney, Shreveport; Dee Akins and Dug Duggan, of Shreveport; James Schamerhorn of Leesville; and Bob Shaw, Shreveport.

Charles Wilder, president of the student body, helps members of the Chamber of Commerce place a time capsule into sundial, given by the Chamber, and begin Centenary on its second Fifty Years In Shreveport.

An Opportunity to Serve

An article in Thursday's Shreveport Times sent a large number of Shreveport citizens to the aid of a dying child.

The little girl, Linda Gatheright, 8, was stricken blind at the age of 2 because of a brain tumor. She is at present under an oxygen tent in the Confederate Memorial Hospital in a coma.

Mrs. W. T. Sedberry discovered the child while doing church work at the hospital and has since then taken over the project of seeing that someone is with the child at all hours of the day and night. Before Mrs. Sedberry began her work Mrs. A. B. Milam, the girl's grandmother, had stayed with Linda day and night.

Interested people have volunteered their services, and at last notice Mrs. Sedberry had filled both day and night shifts through October 19. She has divided these shifts into the following hours:

12 midnight to 6 a.m.

1:30 or 2 p.m. to 5:30 or 6 p.m.

6 p.m. to midnight

This seems to be a wonderful opportunity for doing good for others. Mrs. Sedberry has given her guarantee that anyone coming away from Linda will think more deeply of the blessings of life and movement.

If there are any generous Centenary students willing to sacrifice a few hours of pleasure for a little girl who can have none, please contact Paula Martin at 7-5904.

Letters to The Editor . . .

The Editor

October 2, 1958

Dear Sir, we appreciate your newspaper's articles regarding the celebration of Centenary College's fifty years in Shreveport. Centenary was founded in 1825, and it gave its all in the Lost Cause of the Civil War, and even its campus knew the physical scars at its old Jackson site. The student body became cannon fodder according to the Union plan, and the senior class of 1861 died almost to the man. Centenary was offered a new site before 1908, and since 1908 we find that people all over the country identify Centenary and Shreveport synonymously. And because of Eurlyne Howell's achievement at Long Beach, California Centenary now enjoys the national respect and popularity that it really deserved long before my time.

I was certainly glad when the freshman year ended, but it was fortunate for my educational career that I survived it at Centenary among the most patient professors imaginable. They sent me off to other colleges well-prepared for the degree and advanced work, and if I had not began the freshman year at Centenary, the college career may well have ended in the first semester. Because of the Centenary faculty's traditional patience and concern for individual differences, it is the ideal liberal arts college for surviving the freshman and sophomore years at least.

And notice that campus — you can see that Centenary College and the Shreveport Beautification Foundation have worked well together to develop a masterpiece of plantings for paints. Centenary's choice collection of trees, flowers and other ornamental plants makes the college an inspiring example of what the rest of the City may resemble with the help of the Beautification Foundation.

Student Senate Report

The Student Senate would like to thank the Student Body for its cooperation in the activities sponsored by the Senate so far this year.

As a new organization, we realize our fallibility and we want you to feel free to come to us at any time with ideas, comments and criticism.

We cannot function without your support, without your constructive suggestions, and without the attitude of cooperation which you have already demonstrated in Kangaroo Kourt, Freshman Day and the "Golden Anniversary" Court election.

With this beginning, we anticipate a good year.

Sincerely,
STUDENT SENATE

Kangaroo Kourt Receives Upperclassmen Approval

By Joan Templeton

Thanks to a well-planned and efficiently organized program by the Student Senate, and cooperation from the student body, Kangaroo Kourt was a big success. Held in the amphitheatre on Thursday, October 2, during the free period, the hilarious event, which had as its theme a Western motif, was witnessed by a large group of Centenary students and faculty.

Jackie Carpenter, Senate member, was the chairman for the planning of the Kourt, and acted as its prosecutor. The rest of the Senate members made up the jury. Marcella Flynt and Jim Daigle were in charge of girls' and boys' stunts. All were attired in full Western regalia, and all proceedings evolved around this Western theme.

The hula hoop was the main attraction of the day. Margaret and Elizabeth Reeves, Roger Williams, and Judy and Jane Rhodes, were all asked to exhibit their skill.

Sue Brown got a free egg shampoo, and Kay Cooper was privileged to tell the spectators how much she admired Zorro, the TV hero. Gail Stimpert modeled a very becoming chemise dress (size 20) and hair ribbon to match.

Perhaps the best display of sportsmanship was shown by Johnny Johnson, who was asked, blindfolded, which of three "prizes" he wanted. Not being able to see, he chose all three, whereupon he immediately was doused by a tubful of ice water, a bucket of some un-and other activities of the group will be discussed at successive meetings.

known liquid substance, and had the unfortunate experience of having a pie splashed in his face.

Rod Yeager and Jerry Jouett played a game of Battle, with the understanding that the winner gained the right to hit the loser in the face with a pie. Jerry lost.

Upperclassman Conrad Wooley became involved in the fracas when girlfriend Janet McClelland was told to ride a stick horse around the gathering and each time she passed the rostrum to yell, "Stick 'em up, Conrad!"

Fran Littrell, model freshman, was chosen "Queen of Kangaroo Kourt" and received a bucket placed on her head as her crown. Because of his constant borrowing of cigarettes from upperclassmen, Tim Temple was sentenced to chew a plug of tobacco, while Pete Mangum smoked a cigar.

Johnny Goolsby, tenor in the choir, sang a tearful rendition of

AED Open Meeting Set For Thursday

Alpha Epsilon Delta, national premedical honor society, will hold its annual fall open meeting in Room 202 of the Science building Thursday, Oct. 16, at 7:30 p.m. The subject for the night will be "The Importance of Premedical and Predental Education as Part of the Study of Medicine and Dentistry."

After introductory remarks by the president, Larry McKinstry, Dr. Claude Kinnebrew, M. D. will speak on "The Importance of Premedical Education as Part of the Study of Medicine."

Dr. Ned Prothro, Dentist, will then speak on "The Importance of Preprofessional Education in the Study of Dentistry," and will be followed by AED faculty adviser Dr. Mary Warters who will speak on "The program of Preprofessional Training for the medical fields at Centenary College."

The talks will cover topics such as the advisory program for pre-medical and predental students, the facilities of the Premedical Office, and the educational program available at the college.

Also, to be mentioned will be procedure for making applications to medical and dental schools, procedure for handling recommendations, the Medical College Admission Test, and the Dental College Aptitude Test.

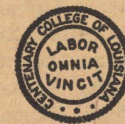

Larry McKinstry will close the meeting with a talk concerning the role of Alpha Epsilon Delta in the Premedical and Predental Program.

Refreshments will be served immediately following this informal discussion and time will be allowed for students to raise any personal questions they might have with the speaker, faculty, or members of AED.

All students and faculty interested in premedical and related medical fields are urged to attend this annual meeting of AED.

the Alma Mater, while Jerry Collins kept the beat by tapping on the bucket atop Johnny's head.

These and other numerous stunts were the result of careful and detailed planning by the Student Senate. All the students surely owe our Senate a vote of thanks for this very successful Kangaroo Kourt.

MSM To Hold Annual Retreat

Plans are under way in the MSM group for their annual retreat, to be held this year on the weekend of October 31, at the Caney Lake encampment, according to Dottie Slider, president of the group.

To stimulate interest in a timely topic, Reverend Edward Hard, of Marshall, Texas, will speak to the group on the subject "Religion in a World of Science." Also included in the weekends' program will be the newly formed drama group, under the direction of Larry Faulk. The theme of Hallowe'en will be carried out in a party to be held on the 31st.

These and other plans were discussed at the meeting of October 2. It was at this meeting that Dr. John Willingham reviewed the Methodist student publication, "Motive" magazine, to the delight and interest of the audience.

SPORTS DOWNBEAT

By DON TYLER

Centenary is just beginning its intramural program, yet most of the participating teams have turned in their rosters with one major flaw. This flaw is that no team turned in the names of officials along with its roster. Kappa Sigma I, Alpha Epsilon Chi, the Royal Knight, M S M, K A I, the Generals (K A II), B S U, R O T C, Cossa's Robbers (Kappa Sig II), and the Blackhawks (Kappa Sig III) have turned in rosters. That flaw, however, is holding up intramural activity until these teams have turned in the names of officials to be at the games.

Last year's football runner-up and sweepstakes champion, Kappa Sig, looks like a sure thing to walk away with the grid title this year. A few new recruits have helped quite a bit. Three of last year's winning team, BSU, are now on the Sig roster. These three are Spanky McCoy, Francis Kelker and Austin Sartin. Kappa Sig also has its last year's team returning minus Dan Morse and Dean Busboom. With the likes of Billy Pat Tipton, Fred Willis, Jim Daigle, Warren West, and Frosh pledge, All-State end Roger Williams along with Spanky, Austin, and Francis it looks like smooth sailing.

BSU and MSM should be the next contenders for one of the top berths. Steve Victory and Paul Hoag lead the BSU attack while Brad Mayo and his predominately freshman and sophomore team go the grid lanes for MSM.

KAI could be the sleeper of the crowd and make me wish I had never made these predictions. They seem to be rather quiet over on Frat Row and we think there might be something cooking for them this year.

The Cossa's Robbers and the Royal Knights come next on the list. More than likely with the Royal Knights moving up a few notches after the season starts.

The new teams this year (AEX, ROTC, and the KA Generals) will have to fight it out with the Blackhawks for the last few positions. I'll not attempt to predict such unpredictable circumstances.

One word to the wise—you're not playing a little kid's game. There aren't too many guys who'll be playing on any team that weigh less than 155 pounds and believe it or not you can get hurt—just ask Fred Schwendimann or Dick Johns who each broke their hands in practice last week. So don't think it's a sissy's game to be playing touch football with flags, rather be thankful its that way. We wouldn't want any of you to have to miss school.

Good luck to all the teams and let's hope the best team wins in what should be the best football intramural program in many a year.

—NOTICE—

Orvis Sigler, head basketball coach has stated that positions are still open for men interested in playing on the freshman basketball team this year. Interested freshmen are asked to see coach Sigler or Moody immediately.

Also, anyone interested in a position as manager of the basketball team should apply to coach Sigler this week.

Sigler Gives Plans, Hopes For Gent's Future Ahead

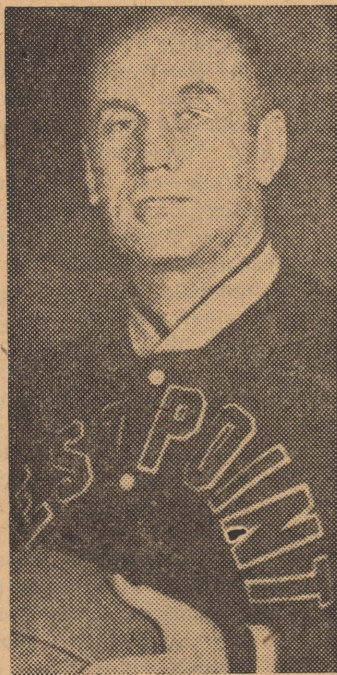

By Jay Lang

Centenary's new basketball coach, Orvis Sigler, has had a very interesting life before coming here to begin molding the Gents into a big name basketball squad.

Sigler served at Southwestern Missouri State as assistant coach and one year at Missouri Valley College before accepting appointment as head coach at the famed military academy of West Point.

Several factors in particular were involved in discouraging his remaining at West Point; the team at West Point required an extensive building proposition, and there was a height restriction of 6' 4" which placed his team at a disadvantage.

Sigler stated however, that the climax of his season at The Point was Army's win over their consistent rival Navy.

In deciding to come to Centenary, Sigler stated he felt that the Gents definitely have a great future ahead in big time basketball. He also felt that the Youth Center, where the games are to be played, is a great drawing card for large

Coach Sigler said he felt that it would probably take three to five years of building in order to have the ball club he desires. Pleased with his present freshmen squad, Sigler stated that, "boys from high school would rather come to a small school like Centenary which plays a major schedule than go to a larger university."

Sigler inferred that the Gents have been offered a chance to appear in Madison Square Garden within the next two or three years if they progress as is expected. This would spread Centenary's name in basketball to all parts of the nation.

At the present time there is a drive in progress to enlarge the Gents Club of Businessmen. Already more season tickets have been purchased than ever before, and with the students' help much will be gained from a major schedule of basketball at Centenary.

Coach Sigler has an earnest desire for development of basketball here at Centenary.

Two Sergeants Added To Staff

Lt. Colonel Robert S. Scott announced today the departure of two ROTC staff members and the subsequent addition of two. In an interview with Conglomerate reporters, Col. Scott reported that M/Sgt. Jerald W. Walker and Sgt. Walter H. Murphree were reassigned effective in August of this year. M/Sgt. Walker is being reassigned to the Guided Missile School at Fort Bliss, Texas, while Sgt. Murphree has been assigned to the Meteorological school at Fort Monmouth, New Jersey.

Colonel Scott said that M/Sgt. David Monk has been assigned to replace Sgt. Murphree as weapons instructor and as the rifle team coach. M/Sgt. Monk spent the last three years at Fair Park High School as Commandant of cadets. He and his wife and three children reside at 4214 Greenwood Lane.

M/Sgt. Karl G. Miller has been added to the ROTC staff to assume duties previously preformed by M/Sgt. Walker. M/Sgt. Miller's last assignment was at Fort Hood, Texas, where he was a member of the 1st Armored Rifle Battalion, of the 51st Infantry. He and his wife and three children reside at 503 Olive Street.

Women's Murals .. To Begin Tuesday

Women's intramurals will begin this coming Tuesday, October 14, as announced by President of the council Gaynelle Morgan.

The schedule for the coming week:

Tuesday, October 14

Iota Gamma vs. Alpha Xi

Zeta Grey vs. Chi Omega

Wednesday, October 15

Owlettes vs. Zeta Blue

Independent I vs. Independent II

All games will begin promptly at 5:45. Only ten minutes is allowed before forfeiture.

When students of the year 2008 open the time capsule they may be quite surprised to find pictures such as these within—or will they? At freshman day Tuesday all freshmen were supposed to dress as they thought students of the year 2008 would.

Personalities Enjoy Golf, Collections, Cards

By Linda Frank

Have you ever received a "fire plug" as a gift? Well, Diane Camp, freshman personality from Nashville, Tennessee, did. Diane was influenced by "friends" to attend Centenary. At the present time she plans to major in secretarial science, but as she changes her mind as often as her shoes, she is still undecided.

Football, basketball, and swimming are her favorite sports. She not only enjoys playing basketball, but she finds time to watch others at the sport.

On her first day at school, she was well orientated to freshman hazing, when the basketball players made her make a speech about herself in the cafeteria.

Collecting picture post cards and stuffed animals, watching TV western and quiz shows, and playing gin rummy and rook, are several of her past-times.

While attending a relative's wedding in Kentucky, Diane was accused of being a hill-billy because she removed her heels. Sounds as if she has been to Arkansas.

Pre-Med Enjoys Golf

Jimmy Hughes, sophomore, pre-med student, has been playing golf for eleven years and has yet to make a "hole in one," but in defense, he claims it is all a "matter of luck."

This summer he attended a tournament in Dofin, Alabama, where he placed twelfth out of 128 entrants. When this sophomore was eight, his father gave him some miniature clubs, and he has been playing ever since. Jimmy says he rarely gets upset on the golf course, as he had only to lose his temper once to learn a lesson. One day when his game was not up-to-par, he threw his golf club in a tree, and as a consequence, he has never recovered it.

A typical Jimmy Hughes stunt occurred when Jimmy realized about fifteen minutes before the Kappa Alpha formal that he had never even thought about a corsage for his date. After many frantic phone calls, Jimmy arrived out of breath twenty minutes late for his date with corsage in hand. This sophomore had recently pledged Alpha Iota Chapter of the Kappa Alpha Order.

Speeding Junior Soprano

Hailing from Magnolia, Arkansas, is Martha Dickens, junior music major. This soprano sings for the Shreveport Civic Opera, and last year took the part of "Latitia" in "The Old Maid and the Thief." This production was presented to the surrounding high schools.

Often seen running around the campus selling Shreveport Symphony tickets, Martha is a member of Alpha Sigma Pi and Phi Beta, which is the professional honorary musical organization.

Martha, often referred to by her friends as "Marcy," took a trip via car to Washington, D. C., and Baltimore, Maryland. She returned home with quite a record of traffic violations, some of which included, "speeding through a grave yard area" in Tennessee. In November she intends to go with a group to hear Maria Callas in Dallas. Heed a warning, and don't let her drive!

Rock Hunter

"Security regulations prevent us from divulging the true nature of our work," was the explanatory sign that was placed in the basement of the Science building this summer where Austin Sartin worked for Dean Charles A. Hickcox. Austin, the recently elected president of Kappa Sigma pledge class, felt the sign was necessary to answer the inquiries of the many visitors on conventions who wandered into the music-filled basement and wondered what was going on. In this pleasant atmosphere, he worked cutting samples for the Shreveport Co-Operative Sample Co.

Sigma Gamma Epsilon, honorary geology fraternity, Alpha, Chi, and the Intramural Council are a few of the activities this senior works with.

All sports interest Austin, especially softball, as he played for the First Baptist Church this summer and came in second in the Texas Church league. Besides working and playing sports, Austin spent several days down in Mexico. Reynosa, Neuva Laredo, and "Hilda's" are a few of his choices of places to return. Since he collects minerals, surely he found some interesting rocks.

Students View Music Festival

One of the most outstanding programs ever to be presented on the Centenary campus, and one which definitely high-lighted the Fifty-Year Celebration was the presentation of the music department Tuesday night, October 7, featuring the Centenary College Choir, Centenary Band, and the Shreveport Civic Opera Association. The program was presented in three segments.

The Centenary College Choir began the evening's entertainment with the following selections: "Every Night When the Sun Goes In," a folk melody; "The Last Words of David" by Randall Thompson; "Someday" by Rudolf Friml; "O King All Glorious" by Willan; and a medley from Jerome Kern's "Roberta" including "I Long for the Touch of Your Hand," "Lovely to Look At," "I Won't Dance," "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes," and "Yesterdays."

Following the choir was the Centenary College Band which played "The American Overture for Band" by Willcox Jenkins, a modern overture written to effectively display the instruments used in the symphonic band of today with the French horn section predominate throughout the composition; Suite from Water Music "Allegro" by Handel, arranged by Hamilton Hart; "Spiritual from Symphony No. 5 1/2" by Don Gillis, arranged for band by Bainum; "Antiphony for Winds" by Gerald Kechley, featuring an antiphonal interchange between woodwinds and brass which uses both as independent choirs and in various combinations as well; and Concert March, "Coat of Arms" by Kenny.

Concluding the program for the evening was a presentation of Act II of the opera "Die Fledermaus" by Johann Strauss, sponsored by the Shreveport Civic Opera Association Workshop. Appearing in the production were: Rosalinda: Mrs. B. J. Harshbarger; Adele: Linda Fields; Sally: Isobel Rosenbloom; Olofshi: Nita Faye Payne; Eisenstein: Frank Bailey; Falke: Randall Harriman; Franke: John Lennie; and members of the chorus: Josephine Comedy, Martha Campbell, Gail Hawkins, Nancy Rhodes, Dolores Jones, Ruth Vellotti, John Goolsby, Ray Spruell, H. C. Alford, Don Tyler, and Beale Thomas. Other officials included Helen Ruffin Marshall, musical director; Max Pugh, assistant musical director and chorus master; and Val Dimac, stage director.

ON CAMPUS

By Peggy Longino

Women's Intramurals will get off to a good start with volleyball games to be played Tuesday night. Jackie Ott, new Council representative, tells us the competition will be stiff this year and anyone wanting to see a good game may come at about 5:45 Tuesday.

The Chi Omega House was the scene of a bridal shower given for Martha Dillon last Saturday. Gabbng right along and glowing green with envy were Joan Phares, Sara Hitchcock, Connie Gathright, Genie Valentine and Margie Dukes.

Texas A & M welcomed Centenary cuties Winifred Fair, Ramona Nail and Sandra Connell for a gala weekend last Friday.

Also over in Texas, to see the Rice-Purdue game, were Paul Hoge, Linda Frank, Bill Sanders and Francis Kelker. Gail Martin, now working on her Masters Degree, joined them there. We heard that Francis was the only person sitting on the Rice side that yelled for Purdue. Also, "three may be a crowd, but five's a mob."

Strutting their stuff at a fashion show given by Selber Brothers at The Embers last Saturday were Helen Gulley and Mignon Eubanks. Since the fashion show is to be a regular occurrence, we will look forward to seeing more of Helen and Mignon.

Several Naryites will be driving to Dallas for the Texas-O.U. game this weekend. Leonard Ellis, Martha Stapp, Paula Martin, Diane Holloway and Rosie Dubuisson are among those planning to go. The Fair will be another big temptation while they are there.

Partying at the Kappa Sigma House at LSU Saturday night were the Kappa Sigma officers of Centenary Chapter and pledge Jerry Jouett. Anita Thomasson was also at the party, while spending the weekend at LSU. The boys report that National Dairy Princess Judy Cook was also much in evidence that weekend.

T. Tom Wilkinson hurried home to Coushatta Friday night to crown Coushatta High's Homecoming Queen. The news that she had been elected Queen reached her here at school just before game time.

Betty Snellgrove served as Maid of Honor to her sister, Lois in her wedding Saturday night. Centenary was well represented by Eileen Laird, Pat Watts, Bev Wingo, Joy Lambert and Larry Elliott.

Braving wicked rag wielders Ginny Emerson and Pat Burns at the Chi Omega Car Wash Saturday were Jay Lang, Fuller Bazer, and The Little Man In The Nash Rambler. Stout hearts!

Congratulations to new Kappa Alpha pledge class officers. The boys elected Howard Collins, president; Ken Hayes, vice-president; and Bobby Shaw, secretary-treasurer.

Freshmen of the future, 2008 to be exact, who looked fetching Tuesday morning were Fran Littrell, Betty Rosenbloom, and Jerry Jouett. Boo Maxwell's eyelashes were the talk of the day, with Carolyn Precht's combination of hula hoop and something striped giving the appearance of a flying saucer.

Dance tonight at 8 o'clock!

Looks as if the Kappa Sigs had better quit having football practice if they wish to have a team this year. Fred Schwendimann, Dick Johns and George LeRay received injuries from the first practice.

Linda Frank was honored Wednesday night with a birthday party given at the Kappa Sig house by Bill Sanders. Among those attending were Patsy Stamps, Buddy Daily, Brenda Bailey, Warren West, Mary Beth Bomar, Jay Lang, Penny Hawkins, Wayne Stoddard, and Tanne McDade.

The Zeta Tau Alpha pledge class will present a style show—of Centenary men Tuesday night at 7:00 in the Student Center. It should be a lot of fun. Cost will be thirty-five cents for admission.

Student Body to Elect Class Officers Monday

Monday morning election polls will open for selection of the class officers for the year. Nominations for officers were made Thursday in class meetings which followed the regular chapel program. The polls will be controlled by members of the Student Senate and representatives of the faculty.

Those nominated to run for President of the Senior class are Francis Kelker, John Bird, and Earl Cantrelle; Vice-president nominations are Terry Freeman, Windene Nicholas, and Cecile Plummer; Secretary candidates are Gaynelle Morgan and Ann Deshazo; while Buddy Graham and Dave Herndon were nominated for Treasurer.

Flynt Receives 'Motive' Position

Marcella Flynt has been appointed to the campus editorial board of Motive Magazine, a monthly publication for college students and professors.

As one of the 26 board members representing colleges and universities throughout the United States, she will send campus news material and opinions to Motive and will aid in the magazine's editorial policies during the school year 1958-59.

Editorial board members for Motive are chosen after a screening by the Motive staff, professional student workers, and college faculty in both major universities and small colleges. The magazine, which endeavors to represent an intelligent Christian point of view on the college scene, features modern art, poetry, and prose, as well as articles designed to stimulate the college intellectual.

Motive is published during the school year by the Board of Education of The Methodist Church, Nashville, Tennessee.

Premeds Attend Annual Meeting

"The Importance of Premedical and Predental Education as Part of the Study of Medicine and Dentistry" was the subject last night at the annual fall open meeting of Alpha Epsilon Delta. AED is the national premedical honor society at Centenary.

President of the society Larry McKinstry began the meeting with introductory remarks and was followed by Dr. C. A. Kinnebrew who spoke on "The Importance of Premedical Education as Part of the Study of Medicine."

Dr. Ned Prothro, Dentist, spoke on the importance of predental study. Dr. Mary Warters, AED faculty adviser, spoke on "The Program of Professional Training for the Medical Fields at Centenary College."

The talks covered topics such as the advisory program for premedical and predental students, the facilities of the Premedical office, and the educational program available at the college.

Refreshments were served afterwards and time allowed for students to become better acquainted with the speakers, faculty, and members of AED.

Fuller Bazer and Dub Fletcher were nominated for president of the junior class. For Vice-president, Linda Frank and Judy Parker were nominated; while Abbey Terry, Margaret Ann Cowan, and Donna Pearl will vie for the secretary post. For Treasurer, Charles Byrd and Carl Mayhew were nominated.

The sophomore class chose as their nominees Jay Koonce and Ralph Mason for the presidency. Kathy Mack and Carol Ann Solomon will vie for the Vice-Presidency slot, while Anne McLaurin and Barbara Ann Hyde were nominated for the secretary position. Nominated for Treasurer were Don Tyler, Buddy Dailey, and Richard Hermann.

Fred Schwendimann, Paul McMahan, and Lawrence Waschka were nominated for president of the freshman class. For vice-president, Sally Clingman, Angeline DeFatta, Mignon Eubanks, Fran Littrell, and Becky Stockstill were nominated, while Carolyn Giles, Boo Maxwell, Carol Reichelt, and Anna Clark Whitaker received secretary nominations. Bo Oliver Stayton and Roger Williams will be the candidates for the treasurer's position.

The student body is urged to vote Monday and Wednesday on run-offs in order that the officers elected will be their desired representatives.

ELECTION NOTICE

Students nominated for Cheerleaders for the year 1958-59 are:

For male cheerleader:

Jerry Jouett, Jay Lang, Wayne Stoddard, Bobby Sorensen, Keith Simmons, and Lawrence Waschka.

For female cheerleader:

Lynda Beauvis, Mary Beth Bomar, Jen Houchin, Glenda Johnson, Jeanne Kelso, Lynn Knotts, Gay McRee, Becky Stockstill, and Sharon Taylor.

Balloting for cheerleader will be made Wednesday, October 22, in the Student Center. Tryouts will be made in the Gym on Tuesday at 9:15 a. m.

Ceremony Ends Anniversary Week

In closing the college's observance of "Fifty Years in Shreveport" last Sunday night, Dr. Henry T. Heald, president of the Ford Foundation, spoke to Centenary faculty, students and public.

Included on the program ending the week-long observance was the awarding of an honorary degree of Doctor of Humanities to Mrs. D. P. Hamilton, daughter of the late J. B. Atkins, who donated the 40-acre tract for Centenary.

Mrs. Hamilton, a member of the graduating class of 1912, first to be graduated from Centenary in Shreveport, has been a member of the Methodist School's board of trustees for the past 10 years.

She and her husband established a scholarship fund for needy students wishing to major in science several years ago.

Dr. Heald, speaking on "Higher Education and Spiritual Values," said that church-related schools like Centenary can make a contribution out of all proportion to their resources if they can educate for the spirit as well as for the mind.

"Our educational system has burdens determined by society, and these include such things as a higher birth rate and lower infant mortality rate which means more young people seeking education, more complex and expensive educational processes," stated the former chancellor of New York University.

ROTC Groups In Competition

Bravo Company of the Centenary ROTC Battle Group was chosen as best company of the week, at drill Monday. The Bravo Company Guidon proudly displayed the purple and white streamer for the best company.

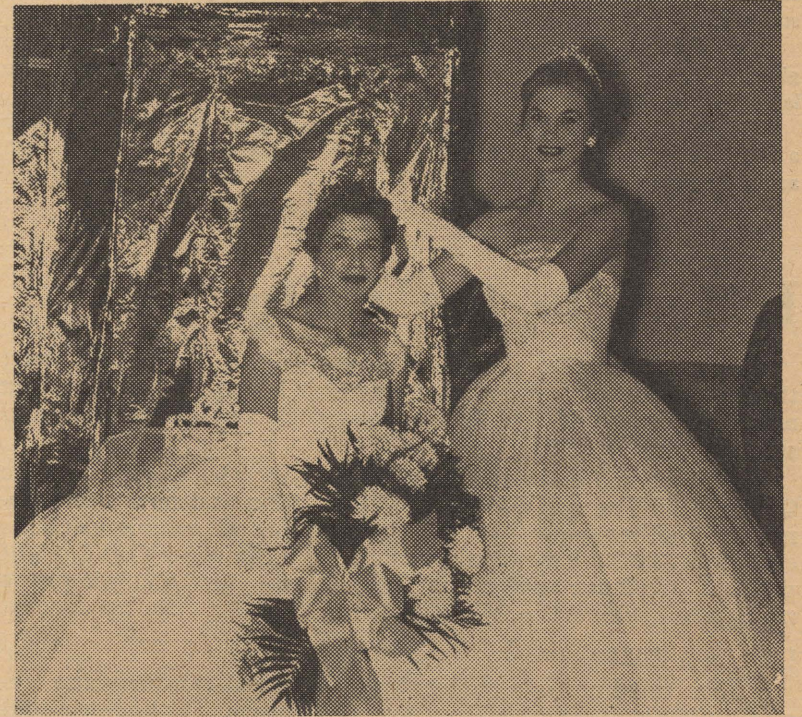

The companies finished in this order: Bravo in first place; Alpha, second; Headquarters, third, and Charley, fourth.

The competition is divided into three main categories: firing on the range, intramural participation and conduct on the drill field.

Each week the companies send two representatives to fire in competition with the other companies. Twenty-five per cent of the company grade comes from this competition.

The companies are also graded in how well they participate on the ROTC entry in intramural activity. Another twenty-five per cent of their grades comes from this participation.

The larger portion of the grading is taken from the conduct of the companies on the drill field. This represents fifty per cent of their grades. Drill performance, wearing of the uniform, and the quality of drill instruction are all taken into consideration here.

Mary Tom Wilkinson, Queen of the Golden Anniversary in Shreveport, is crowned by "Miss United States," Eurlene Howell at the homecoming dance held last Friday night. Eurlene arrived in Shreveport by airplane to make the presentation.

Mary Tom Wilkinson Crowned By "Miss USA"

The Moore Student Center was the scene of last Friday night's gala 50 Years in Shreveport Dance, where faculty, students and alumni gathered to dance to the music of Charlie Spivak and his orchestra.

The presentation of the court, elected by popular vote of the student body, was held at 9 o'clock. Queen Mary Tom Wilkinson was crowned by special guest Eurlene Howell who flew to Shreveport from Hollywood especially for the occasion. Miss Howell, a Centenary student of last year, recently won the title of Miss U. S. A. Escorted by Dr. Joe J. Mickle, she placed the crown on the head of Mary Tom, who was surrounded by the following members of her court: Princesses Mary Beth Bomar and Cecile Plummer, escorted by Student Senate Vice President Fred Willis and Jackie Carpenter, Treasurer of the Student Body. Senior Maid Peggy Longino was escorted by Francis Kelker, Honor Court Chief Justice, and Junior Maid Jeri Cassidy's escort was Leon Bain, Student Senate Representative. Helen Gulley was escorted by Jim Daigle, IFC Representative, and Freshman Maid Judy Thurman had as her escort, Larry McKinstry, past Student Senate member.

Underlying Centenary's 50 years in Shreveport observance has been the fact that Centenary has made such remarkable progress since it has been a part of the city. This theme of progress was evident in the decorations of the Student Center, in which motif of space travel was used. The queen's throne was seated in a gold metallic space rocket which pointed upwards as if ready for launching, and the stage on which the orchestra was placed was decorated accordingly.

Choir to Journey To Bastrop, Camp

As usual, the Centenary College Choir is busy with a full first-semester schedule. Events highlighting the month of October are the Choir's first date out-of-town and a return visit to Hodges Gardens, their summer camp home.

On Tuesday afternoon, October 21, the group will make their first trip of the term to Bastrop, Louisiana. After dinner there, they will present a concert to the public for the benefit of the Bastrop High School Music Department. The concert, to be held at the high school, will consist of both sacred and secular compositions, said director, "Cheesy" Voran.

Dedication Lodge, the Choir's Hodges Gardens home, will be destination of the group on Friday, October 24. It is the Choir's intent to spend several hours in concentrated effort on their music, before returning to the college Saturday afternoon.

WEEKLY CALENDAR

Friday, Oct. 17—Chi Omega Party for Independent Men.

(Others cancelled)

Monday, Oct. 20—Class Officer elections, 8-2 p. m.

Tuesday, October 21—Cheerleader tryouts, 9:15 in gym.

Wednesday, October 22—Cheerleader elections and class officer run-offs, 8-2 p. m.

Committee Asks Students' Aid

Centenary is very fortunate to have the Moore Student Center in which the student body may gather for any occasion whether it be some formal dance or an informal lounging party. Few schools of its size can boast such a magnificent and useful building which is used almost solely for the students' and faculty's pleasure.

To achieve the full usefulness of the Student Center, the Student Affairs Committee has met and made suggestions that they feel may be good.

However, the only way for anyone to know definitely what the student wishes to have in the way of programs is to receive their views on the matter, after having given serious thought to what really will be a success.

The Student Affairs Committee requests that these suggestions be given to them by writing in care of Campus Mail to Jay Koonce, who is in charge of this particular matter.

Organizations are also asked for cooperation by offering to sponsor a night out of the week at which time games should be planned as well as other forms of entertainment.

Letters to the Editor...

Last spring I was elected Vice President of the student body; the main point of my platform was that I would provide voting machines for student body elections such as, cheerleaders and student body officers.

I failed in obtaining the machines for the election of the Queen of 50 Years in Shreveport Celebration and now after submitting another request for the machines for the coming elections on October 20-22, I was again unsuccessful. In order that I might produce evidence defending my efforts for obtaining the machines, I submit the following letter:

Dear Mr. Willis:

Your telegram of October 9 was received this morning, requesting four voting machines for the Centenary College student body election on October 20 and 22.

We have a general election on November 4 throughout the State of Louisiana which takes considerable effort on our part to prepare for it properly, and it is with regret that I inform you that our machines will not be available until after November 10 for outside use. As you understand, we are presently in the process of preparing our machines for this election, which election deals with some thirty constitutional amendments.

If you could arrange your election to come after November 10, we would be in a position to take care of it and would be most happy to do so.

With kind regards, I am,

Very truly yours,
Drayton R. Boucher
State Custodian

I hope that if there is ill-feeling, criticism, etc., concerning the methods for handling the elections to come, you will please submit them to me.

Thanks for your cooperation in the past election.

Sincerely,
Fred S. Willis
Vice President of Student Body

Ladies and Gentlemen of Centenary College:

I would like to say something good about you, but I can't think of anything—that is, anything that hasn't already been said before. As you all know, this is Centenary's fiftieth year in Shreveport, and we have just completed a week of celebration from October 5 through October 12 in honor of the most Honorable College of Centenary and its great contributions to the fair city of Shreveport. I would commence to tell you of some of the great deeds which it has done (like helping old ladies across the street and always "being prepared"), but I can't think of any at the moment—that is, any that haven't already been worn out from over-use in the past.

Let us recall the memorable words of an honorable Commanding Officer of the United States Armed Forces: "Men, (that is how he always began, as though to build the morale by giving out propaganda) we may easily remember many grand works of our past, but we cannot continue to rest on our past laurels. We must continue to face the situation at hand by asking ourselves the questions: 'What are we doing today?' and 'What can we do tomorrow?'"

What are we doing today but recalling that which we did yesterday. Are we facing the situation at hand? What is the situation at hand? Would it be:—Segregation or Integration;—War or Pacifism;—or Monotheism or Polytheism?

As Chaucer said of one of his pilgrims to Canterbury, it might be said of us:

"Though there was none so busy as was he
He was less busy than he seemed to be."

We might very easily put on an "air of looking busy," but we are only lying to ourselves. If we are to be truthful, then we must take a stand on each situation that arises; we cannot sit on the fence.

Name Withheld By Request

AED to Sponsor Film Presentation

"Gateways to the Mind" will be the title of the Warner Brothers color film to be shown this Thursday, October 23, at 7:00 p. m. in room 114 of the Science Building.

This one-hour color film program will be sponsored by Alpha Epsilon Delta, premedical honor society, in connection with the Bell System Science Series, according to Larry McKinstry, president of the society.

The program will show how we receive stimulations through our senses, transmit them as electrical impulses to the brain for possible action, and store them in our memory for future reference.

The presentation describes, by animation, how we see, hear, taste, smell, and feel. Also, included in the program is an actual experiment that shows what happens when we are cut off from sensory stimulations, and how past experiences condition the interpretation of new sensory impressions.

"Gateways to the Mind" is the first Science Series program produced for the Bell System by Warner Brothers. Previous Science Series programs include "Hemo the Magnificent," "Our Mr. Sun," and "The Strange Case of the Cosmic Rays."

All interested students and faculty are urged to attend this film presentation as it should be one of the finest programs of its kind to be offered this year.

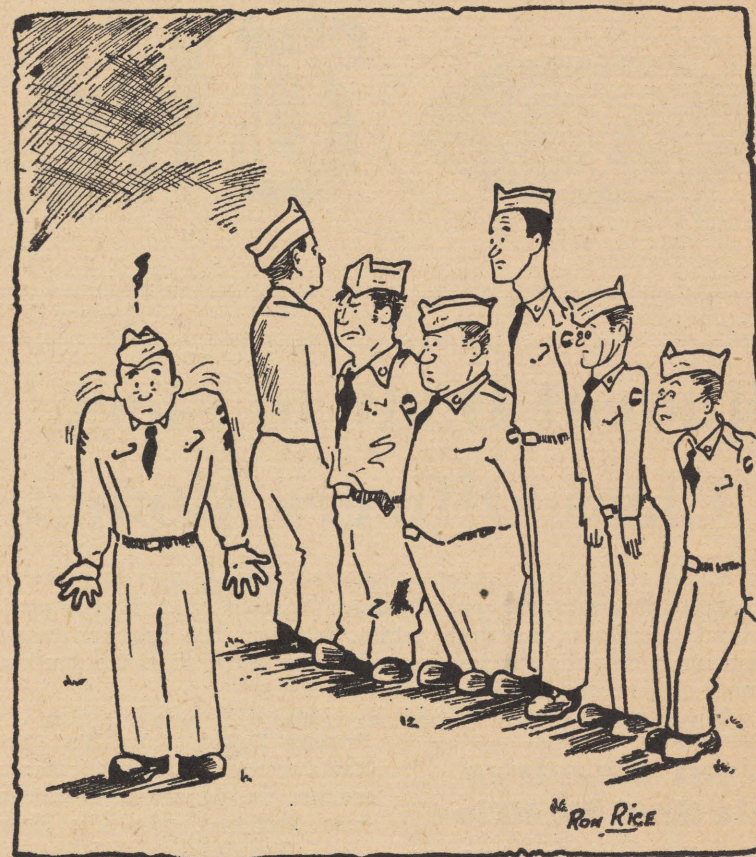

Council Restricts Sorority Houses

COLLEGE PARK, MD.—(I. P.)—AWS Sorority Council on the campus of the University of Maryland has approved a program of standardized judicial board sentences which will be effective in all sorority houses. The sentences for infractions of University regulations were drawn up by an Associated Women Students committee and approved by a representative of each sorority on campus.

The purpose of these regulations is to assure conformity of sentences in the sorority houses and to save time of the individual house judicial boards. The sentence for lateness in excess of ten minutes, without excuse, is: one to two minutes—Saturday night immediately following the sentence; three to five minutes—Saturday campus plus one night the next week; and six to ten minutes—Friday and Saturday immediately following the sentence.

Also, girls who are late 11 to 15 minutes will be campused Friday, Saturday, and one night the following week, immediately following the sentence. Sixteen to 20 minutes in excess of the 10 minutes allotted each co-ed will be punishable by campus of Friday, Saturday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday immediately following the sentence.

The sentence for lateness of 21 to 25 minutes is campusing for Friday and Saturday, for two weekends immediately following the sentence, and 26 to 30 minutes—Friday and Saturday plus Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday immediately following the sentence. All lateness over thirty minutes is to be referred to Campus Judicial Board.

Student Body Enjoys ZTA Male Peep Show

By LYNDA BEAUVAIS

Last Tuesday night in the Moore Student Center the pledge class of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority sponsored a "Peep Show" of some of the male students on Centenary campus. The fashions were the very latest and the models were some of the most graceful and loveliest????

"Jacquelyn" Carpenter did a beautiful job of narrating the show. J. wore a beautiful powder blue cocktail dress, complemented by rhinestone earrings and bracelet which set off J.'s red hair beautifully. The dress was of the latest style, "The Sack" with blue span-gles and ruffles around the bottom, a bow of the same hue adorned the hair.

The dormitory scene was depicted by the tailored pajamas, night cap, house slippers worn by "Charlie" Wilder, who carried a stuffed animal to make the outfit complete. Another scene from the dorm was the attire of "Bobbette" Moore and "Georgia" Hamilton, who wore night shirts, bermuda socks and slippers. They had also just received the nightly beauty treatment with their hair in pin curls and hair nets. "Lorita" McKinstry made a lovely nitey-nite picture in a candy striped flannel night gown with matching night cap on the curls.

"Jamie" Daigle was a classroom cutie in a tweed straight skirt with sweater to match and a scarf to keep the wind from messing the curls. Another campus favorite was the sweater and skirt worn by "Warrene" Goss with the loafers and socks and purse to match. "Roberta" Scott made a lovely picture off to class in a black skirt and yellow sweater carrying an armload of books.

The after class scene of leisure activity brought on "Tina" Kle-mann in red bermuda shorts, socks to match, white sweater and a novelty Gondola hat with blue ribbon and scarf attached to the hat. "Donna" Tyler made a cute picture in black capri pants with a black and red sweater to match red socks and a scarf to cover the hair on the way across the campus. A black purse completed this outfit. Another cute ensemble was the tennis skirt and sweater that was worn by "Cecila" Rhodes carrying a tennis racquet on the way to the court.

"Billie" Eubanks wore a cute

pair of bermuda shorts with matching socks, a co-ordinate sweater and black flats. A novelty Capri hat completed this ensemble. The blue pedal pusher outfit worn by "Geri" Woods completed this section of casual campus clothes.

All set for a big evening in town was "Georgina" Acton in a chemise dress with complementing beads. The long pony tail was set in a very attractive way. Carrying a long stem flower the picture of "Georgina" was complete. An evening of fun was anticipated by "Toolene" Martello attired in a black crepe cocktail dress trimmed in black satin. A velvet purse and hat completed this ensemble that did accent to her beautiful pony tail and lovely eyelashes. "Dav-arino" Mills looked striking in a beige dress. A pink feather hat and earrings made lovely accessories to this and a white jeweled sweater thrown across the shoulders for the cool of the evening. Another beige dress on the scene was the one worn by "Leona" Shaw of the sack style. A hat of the same color was worn with pink shoes, beads and purse.

For those very special occasions on campus "Larrie" Green was dressed in the perfect outfit. This was a beautiful green formal with pink shoes and jewelry used for color and a gray mouton coat completed it. "Gennie" Cage also looked very lovely in a blue formal with pink accessories and carrying a white satin purse for that very special occasion.

The talent which is so plentiful around our campus concluded this show. "Ralphina" Mason and "Keitha" Simmons did a lovely rendition of their latest ballet numbers. They wore cute costumes of blue and red net. A touch of the South Seas was depicted by the hula dance complete with grass skirts done by "Davina" Herndon and "Ralphette" Akin.

Kappa Sigs Take 'Mural Win, 26-0

The Kappa Sigs chalked up their second win in as many outings by defeating the KA's 26-0 Tuesday afternoon before a cheering crowd of bi-partisan viewers. This loss gives the KA's a 1-1 record for the season thus far.

After a few moments of the game had passed, Spanky McCoy took off on an end run for some 65 yards for a TD, only to have it called back because of an illegal block. On the following play McCoy stepped back into his own end zone to pass, and broke out on an 85-yard touchdown run. Fred Willis scored the point after and Kappa Sig led 7-0.

The KA's never could get a sustained drive started, while the Kappa Sigma men were on a rampage. Billy Pat Tipton scored late in the first half on an end run making the score 13-0. The extra-point attempt failed.

Roger Williams received a McCoy pass and lateraled to Fred Willis, setting up the first score in the second half, on what was perhaps the finest play of the game.

Late in the last half Williams again passed to Warren West in the end zone for the final TD of the game. Williams scored the PAT and Kappa Sig led 26-0, as time ran out.

The sparks for the KA team were Sonny Jacobs, the stocky built passer; Bob Sorensen, a stalwart on the front wall, and Howard Collins, a demon on defense.

This was the first major victory for the Kappa Sigs and revealed them to have a great deal of reserve power.

The Kappa Sigma record at the present is 2 wins and 0 losses.

Chi Omega Wins As 'Murals Begin

The Women's Intramurals began Tuesday night, October 14, when volleyball games started. In Tuesday's games, the Iota Gammas of Chi Omega won two out of three over Alpha Xi Delta. The Chi Omegas won two out of three over the Zeta Greys.

On Wednesday night's schedule, the Owlets of Chi Omega played the Zeta Blues, and Independent I played Independent II.

The Chi Omega Owlets was the winner over the Zeta Blue team as they won two games out of three. The Independent I team finally outlasted the Independent II challengers to chalk up their first win of the season against no losses.

SPORTS DOWNBEAT

By DON TYLER

Intramural activity around the campus is still limited, yet some games are being played. The first game of the year pitted the Kappa Sigma team against their second team, the Cossa's Robbers. It was a rough game all the way with the inevitable coming to glory in the end—Kappa Sig 18, Cossa's Robbers 12. The Robbers set the number one team back on its heels when they scored first. After the kick-off the second team held their opponents four downs, whereupon the Kappa Sigs punted. Don Tyler took the kick and by sheer luck evaded his pursuers long enough to cross the goal line. The extra point try failed.

Then Spanky McCoy and his lumbering grid monsters took over and the Cossas seemed helpless at the hands of their superiors. The Kappa Sigs scored three times before the CRs could awake to start an aggression of their own and score on a 10-yard run by Bill Sanders. Spanky scored twice for the Sigs and Roger Williams scored the third. All PATs failed. Spanky's superior running and passing ability and the fancy criss-cross patterns of Fred Willis and Roger Williams was too much for the surprising Cossa's Robbers team.

In another scheduled game last week the KA Generals forfeited a game to their brothers, the KA first team.

Activity this week saw Kappa Sigma vs. Kappa Alpha in a traditional rivalry between the two campus fraternities. The winner was Kappa Sigma by a margin of 26-0. Kappa Sig was led by a large aggregation and it seemed the whole team was clicking.

Spanky McCoy opened the scoring on an 85-yard touchdown run after stepping back into his own end zone; from then on Kappa Sigma coasted to victory. Sonny Jacobs led the KA squad on offense while Howard Collins, a red-headed whiz, led the defense.

The current standings as of Tuesday night are:

	Won	Lost
1—Kappa Sigma	2	0
2—Kappa Alpha	1	1
3—Shafters	0	0
4—MSM	0	0
8—Blackhawks	0	0

Windene Nicklaus displays the "Rhapsody In View" poster found on the bulletin board to Wayne Brasseaux, Donna Howell, and Ed Kennon.

Music, TV, Piazza, Cards Tops With Personalities

By Linda Frank

"How long have you been in the United States?" was a question Pat Burns asked freshman personality from Church Point, Louisiana, Wayne Brasseaux. A member of MSM, Wayne plans to major in history and then attend S. M. U. or Emory to do ministerial work.

This summer Wayne worked giving out surplus supplies to farmers for damage caused by hurricane "Audrey."

"The food in the cafeteria is great, except there just isn't enough rice." Musically inclined, Wayne sang bass in two quartets in high school and also directed the choir for his minister in a little country church.

Fifty dollars is a big incentive to anyone, but sounds more like a bribe in this "koonie's" case. Wayne's uncle promised him fifty dollars if he could wait until Thanksgiving to come home.

The only vacations Wayne took this summer were frequent trips to Eunice, Louisiana, which is just eight miles from Church Point.

This 6-foot, 4½-inch freshman enjoys speaking "cajun" French to confuse the "northern" speaking Southerners here at Centenary.

Roaming Southerner

Treasurer of the Beta Gamma Chapter of Alpha Xi Delta is sophomore personality Donna Howell. Originally from Memphis, Tennessee, this commerce major has also lived in Mississippi, Louisiana, and is now residing in Lewisville, Texas. She is truly a Southerner.

Donna enjoys playing canasta and relates that once her suite had a game that lasted from 10 p. m. until 4 a. m. the next morning. Needless to say, she had trouble getting to her classes the next morning.

Clint Walker, the star of the TV show Cheyenne, and Elvis Presley starring in King Creole, are top on her list of entertainers.

"The dormitories at Centenary are really an attraction to prospective students," stated Donna when asked for some of the reasons why she chose Centenary.

Playing the piano, reading novels, watching football games, and swimming are enjoyed by this sophomore in her leisure time. She plans to attend some of the football games at LSU where she has friends.

In the future Donna plans to visit Eurlene Howell, her former roommate, in California.

"I am interested in myself and the ramification thereof," was the reply given by Ed Kennon, junior social studies major, when asked the nature of his interests. When asked how he occupied his spare time he replied, "I just like to blab."

Ed states that if he can ever get through undergraduate work, he would like to attend graduate school and become a college professor. For the time being though, his only goal is to graduate.

At the present time, Ed sells real estate in the "Puritan Paradise" of Minden, Louisiana. He buys a piece of land, builds a house on it, and then sells the houses. This summer Ed completed the sale of his twentieth house.

"Tobacco Road," "Sacrilege of Allen Kent," and "Trouble in July," by Erskine Caldwell, and "Ape and Essence," by Aldous Huxley, are a few of the books which this junior personality has just completed.

Although Ed is "not much on clubbing," he finds time to affiliate with the MSM.

Semi-classical music, David, Niven, all foods with the exception of onions, and objective teachers such as Mr. Bryant Davidson, are a few of this junior's preferences.

His pet peeve is "exercise in serial rote learning," translated means exercises which require one to memorize material that is completely irrelevant to one's existence. Some vocabulary!

"Maroon Harpoon"

Truly love comes early to some. Windene Nicklaus, senior education major from Amarillo, Texas, is currently doing her practice teaching in the sixth grade at South Highlands School. Tommy, one of her favorite students, in great confidence, told his football coach that he was in love with Windy.

Windy serves as secretary of the Centenary College Choir, and was one of the lucky co-eds who trav-

Slider Shares European Tour

Sharing her visit to a London work camp and to various European countries, Dottie Slider showed her slides to the Methodist Student Movement, Thursday, Oct. 9. Though she traveled with other Americans to Europe and met with the entire group attending work camps in Europe at Geneva, Switzerland, for a week; she and her traveling companion were put on their own to tour Europe at will by any available means.

Somewhat later she ended up in London where she and her international integrated co-workers set to work painting a forty-foot ceiling of the auditorium of a church, built a room onto the vicarage (parsonage), and refinished the interior of a ten-room clubhouse. Such was their part in a two-year project.

Dottie pointed out that although they were there to work, they also became acquainted with the community and entertained the people and were themselves entertained in return. An important aspect was that her co-workers represented the various fields of medicine, science, mathematics, physics, architecture, sculpturing, education, and religion.

Organists Make Plans for Year

The Centenary Chapter of the American Guild of Organists held its monthly meeting on Saturday, October 11, 1958, at 3:30 p. m. in the chapel, according to Edith Elliott, President of the group. Sponsors, Mr. Teague and Mr. Fisher, also were present.

Beale Thomas read a tentative outline of the programs for the year. The program for November will be a discussion of wedding music by Mr. Teague and a visit to the Broadmoor Methodist Church to examine the organ.

Beale Thomas played a very amusing tape by Mr. Robert Cobb on the playing of a church service.

She also serves as secretary of the Iota Gamma Chapter of Chi Omega sorority. SNEA, Cencoe, and Intramurals are a few of the organizations Windy works with.

"Wonderful Windy," so dubbed by her friends, nearly scared her roommate to death when she was discovered drumming her fingers against the wall and laughing in the middle of the night. Some roommate!

Bridge is this senior's favorite pastime. Once on a Pan Hellenic retreat she participated in a bridge marathon that lasted for ten straight hours, but a "stupid goat ate the cards."

Pizza and "any kind of music but western and rock-and-roll" are enjoyed by this personality.

The owner of the "maroon harpoon car," when awakened early one morning by the shrieking fire drill whistles made the astounding statement, "Get up, T-Tom, it's a stupid fire drill!"

ON CAMPUS

By Peggy Longino

Plaudits to the decoration committee for the "Golden Anniversary" Dance last Friday night. We heard more than a few students say that it was the best dance Centenary has seen in years. Decorating and toiling away Friday afternoon were Elizabeth and Margaret Reeves, Windy Nicklaus, Margaret Powell, Dona Peral, Butch Franklin, Deen Thompson, Janet Gholson, Jay Koonce, Charles Wilder and Jackie Ott.

Judy Meredith was one of those cheering at the Texas-OU game Saturday. Judy went to another Homecoming, where many of her friends gathered for a "reunion." Congratulations to new Kappa Sigma Active Bill Sanders, who was initiated last Sunday.

Jim Daigle spent a pleasant interlude on an island in the middle of Cross Lake this weekend. He says it was great to "get away from it all." Larry McKinstry was dropped in his old haunt—Bossier—by Kappa Sig pledges, while Tim Temple was shanghaied almost all the way to Caspiana. Rod Yeager almost managed to throw Don Tyler off the Ockley Drive Bridge, but Don overpowered him and hiked back to town.

Marcella Flynt and Emma Lou Stewart came to classes Monday literally glowing. Could be those visits from BMOC's (Big Men OFF Campus) this weekend had something to do with it.

Mary Lou Gassen was applauded over by the air by KEEL this week as being an outstanding collegiate student. Jim Daigle was selected last week because...

Seen practicing cheers behind the barn last week were Jay Lang, Lawrence Waschka, Jeanne Kelso, Lynn Knotts, Jen Houchin and Lynda Beauvais. Does this have any significance?

The Zeta Tau Alpha pledges presented a hilarious style show Tuesday night. Mistress of Ceremonies was Jackie Carpenter (courtesy of Gassen). Alice Acton stole the show with his green chemise, while David Herndon and Ralph Akin demonstrated their skill with the hula. Baby doll pajamas displayed the charms of Charlene Wilder and Cecile Rhodes was charming in the latest tennis outfit.

Editor Graham is taking the weekend off to see the Tech-Northwestern game, and joining him are Fred Willis, Billy Pat Tipton, Mary

KAPPA CHI

Kappa Chi will again sponsor the Christmas Pageant this year, and is in need of materials for costumes. Students are asked to bring old drapes, clothes, cloth, long robes, evening dresses, bed spreads, etc., to Mrs. Fannie Nichols in the Student Center.

Hearnes

Beth Bomar, Patsy Stamps and Fuller Bazer.

Chi Omega pledges will entertain Independent Men on campus at their lodge from 7-8:30 tonight. The pledges promise to present a "great" party and especially urge all Independents to come.

This is definitely the weekend for traveling, and Texas seems to be the destination of most of the roaming members of the student body. Windy Nicklaus will journey to Houston, while Terry Freeman's destination is Texas University.

David Forte, Ann DeShazo, David Herndon, Curt McClure, Gail Stimper, Marilyn Hendricks, Vicki Grigsby, Dave Mills, Ralph Akin, Gail DeLaney, George Hamilton, Noni Miller and Bob Moore are a "few" of the group which will visit the Dallas Fair, "Music Man" and other events in "Big D" this weekend. What about you, Leimbrook?

Much luck to Ramona Nail, who will vie for honors in the Rice Festival, and to the Pershing Rifle Team, which will represent Centenary in the Tyler Rose Festival.

Elizabeth Patterson, former Centenary student, will be a welcome visitor to the campus as Tanne McDade's weekend guest. Must be pretty important or Tanne wouldn't have been "driving" all week.

James Durham left Wednesday to attend the Pershing Rifle National Assembly in Boulder, Colo.

Due to a football mishap, Warren West spent most of the week in traction at a local hospital. We hear that Janie didn't help his condition any.

Who is using the Conglomerate Office for "Room Rendezvous"?

Fifteen Co-eds Pledge Phi Beta

Phi Beta, co-ed music society, pledged fifteen girls at the home of their honorary patroness, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth McCrocklin, last Tuesday evening.

Pledged were Carolyn Blue, Zolleen Bennett, Barbara Snider, Virginia Bobbitt, Judy Elliott, Janet Gholson, Mari Nelson, Dottie Slider, Ruth Velotta, and Edith Elliott.

Also, Angelina De Fatta, Betty Jo Towery, Gloria Gaffney, Robin Hubert, and Linda Cunningham were so honored.

Present at the pledging were Mr. Rule Beasley, new faculty advisor, and alumnus advisor, Mrs. Donald Malarcher, national director of extension for Phi Beta.

A tea will be given in honor of the new pledges Sunday, October 19, at the home of Mrs. John W. Olvey, 1111 Erie Street. The time for the tea has been set at 3:00 p. m.

Schwendimann, Koonce, Fletcher, Bird Chosen As Class Presidents

Class officers were elected by the student body Monday, October 20, with run-offs being held Wednesday. The election was held in the Student Center under the administration of the Student Senate and faculty representatives.

Fred Schwendiman, Coushatta, was elected president of the freshman class. Elected also to serve with Fred are Sally Mat Clingman, Shreveport, vice-president; Carol Reichelt, Beaumont, secretary; and Roger Williams, Natchitoches, treasurer. Others in the race were Paul McMahan and Lawrence Waschka for president; Angeline DeFatta, Mignon Eubanks, Fran Littrell and Becky Stockstill for vice-president; Carolyn Giles, Boo Maxwell, and Anna Clark Whitaker for secretary; and Bo Oliver Stayton, treasurer.

Religious Life Week Begins Next Tuesday

"Christian Progression—Present, Past, and Future" is the theme of Religious Life Week, October 28-30. The Rev. Voigt O. Taylor, pastor of the Main Street Methodist Church of Columbia, S. C., will be the guest speaker at the annual observance. Topics of daily addresses at 9:30 a.m. will be: Tuesday, "Past: Turn From Evil"; Wednesday, "Present: Enlist With Christ," and Thursday, "Future: Hold to God."

The Rev. Mr. Taylor graduated from Newberry College in 1929 and then served as principal and athletic coach at Lakeland, Ashburn, and Ocilla High Schools in Georgia. After spending several summers taking graduate studies at Columbia University, he was licensed to preach in 1935. After attending the divinity school at Duke University, he served as minister of churches in Southern Pines, N. C.; Leesville, N. C.; Landrum, S. C., and Augusta, N. C. Since 1957 Rev. Taylor has been at Main Street Methodist Church.

During the week the Rev. Mr. Taylor will conduct dormitory discussion groups and be available for personal counselling and for classroom visitations during the evenings of his three-day stay. Each morning daily devotionals will be given in the small chapel at 6:45 a. m. by the following students: Charles Wilder, Don Peral, L. W. Fletcher and Sara Del Stevens. Marie Wilson will be the organist. Friday morning the service of holy communion will be served.

Heading committees for the week are: program, Margie Dukes; publicity, Mimi Lingenfelter; physical equipment, George Acton; group discussions, Larry McKinstry; and morning devotionals, Larry Elliot. Organists for the week are Linda Walters, Judith Elliot, and Beale Thomas.

Eight Professors To Attend Meet

Dr. Wilfred Guerin, assistant professor of English at Centenary College, will present a paper at the meeting of the Modern Language Association, South-Central section, to be held in Tulsa, Okla., Nov. 7 and 8.

The meetings will be held in the Mayo Hotel and on the campus of the University of Tulsa, host institution. Dr. Guerin's paper is entitled, "Malory As An Artist and Storyteller; His Sources and Originality in 'The Death of Arthur'."

Dr. Guerin holds the B.A., M.A., and Ph.D. degrees from Tulane University in New Orleans and returned to the local campus in September after a two-year leave of absence granted him to complete requirements for his doctorate.

Other Centenary faculty members planning to attend the meeting are Dr. E. M. Clark, head of the English department; Dr. E. L. Ford, head of the department of modern languages; Dr. Ralph White, professor of Spanish, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Burris, Dr. I. Lee Morgan, Dr. Jack Teagarden and Dr. John R. Willingham, all members of the English department.

Canterbury Club To Hold Dinner

Sunday, October 26, is the date set by the Canterbury Club for the dinner meeting with the Westminster Club at The Religious Center at 5:30 o'clock. The Rev. Wm. A. Benefield, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Shreveport, is the speaker for the occasion.

Last weekend the group held a retreat at Camp Hartner where an English priest, Father Hornby, met with them. Those attending were Jerry Winterrowd, Perry Winterrowd, Sondra Brink, Gary Reaves, and Bill Sanders.

Jay Koonce, Sulfur, will serve as president of the sophomore class, along with Kathy Mack, Port Arthur, vice-president; Anne McLaurin, Mansfield, secretary; and Buddy Daily, Shreveport, treasurer. Others running were Ralph Mason for president; Carol Ann Solomon for vice-president; Barbara Ann Hyde for secretary; and Richard Herrmann and Don Tyler for treasurer.

Elected as president of the junior class is Dub Fletcher, DeRidder. Linda Frank, Shreveport, will be the class vice-president with Abbey Terry, El Dorado, secretary; and Charles Byrd, Many, treasurer. Others nominated were Judy Parker, vice-president; Margaret Ann Cowan and Donna Pearl for secretary; and Carl Mayhew for treasurer.

Serving as president of the senior class will be John Bird, Shreveport, with Cecile Plummer, Lake Charles, vice-president; Gaynelle Morgan, Minden, secretary; and David Herndon, Shreveport, Treasurer. Others nominated were Francis Kelker, president; Windene Nicholas, vice-president; Ann Deshaze, secretary; and Buddy Graham, treasurer.

Choir To Present "Rhapsody In View"

The Centenary College Choir, under the direction of A. C. "Cheesy" Voran will present its "Rhapsody In View" concert on November 10 and 11. This event has been looked forward to each year as the formal opener and highlight of the Choir's fall season.

This year, in addition to a wide variety of sacred and secular numbers by the Choir, there will be a guest soloist presented each night. The head of Centenary College's music department, Joseph M. Running will perform on Monday night. Arrangements for Tuesday night's soloist have not yet been completed, said Dr. Voran.

The program, which will be held in the Byrd High School auditorium at 8:00 PM, is sponsored by the Shreveport Lions' Club to benefit its sight conservation program in Shreveport. Tickets are available from any member of the Lions' Club; any member of the Choir; or at downtown box offices in Levy's, Selber Bros., J and S music store or Harbuck's sporting goods store.

Demonstrating their ability as a cheerleader Tuesday in try-outs were candidates for this year's position. Balloting took place Wednesday.

Students Elect Cheerleaders To Lead '58-'59 Gent Spirit

Cheerleaders elected in Wednesday's elections are Mary Beth Bomar, Jen Houchin, Jeanne Kelso, Jerry Jouett, Jay Lang, and Wayne Stoddard.

Voting took place in the Student Center Wednesday under the direction of the Student Senate and faculty members. The results were announced by president of the student body Charles Wilder.

AED Presents Technical Film

Alpha Epsilon Delta, national premedical honor society, sponsored a one-hour color film presentation Thursday night. The title of the Warner Brothers film was "Gateways to the Mind," and was a production of the Bell System Science Series.

The program showed how we receive stimulations through our senses, transmit them as electrical impulses to the brain for possible action, and store them in our memory for future reference.

By animation, the presentation described how we see, hear, taste, smell and feel. Also, included in the program was an actual experiment showing what happens when we are cut off from sensory stimulations, and how past experiences condition the interpretation of new sensory impressions.

"Gateways to the Mind" is the first Science Series program produced for the Bell System by Warner Brothers. Other programs include "Hemo the Magnificent," "Our Mr. Sun," and "The Strange Case of the Cosmic Rays."

Students, faculty, and members attended the AED presentation.

SLC Students To Hear Mickle

Dr. Joe J. Mickle, president of Centenary College, will be guest speaker at the annual Honors Convocation at Southeastern Louisiana College in Hammond next Wednesday.

The program will begin at 8 p. m. and will pay tribute to students who have achieved high scholastic standing at SLC. Dr. L. H. Dyson, president of the Hammond institution, will introduce Dr. Mickle and will preside at the program.

Candidates for Cheerleader presented their cheers to the student body Tuesday at 9:30 a.m. in the Gymnasium.

Other candidates for the honor were Lynda Beauvais, Glenda Johnson, Lynn Knotts, Gay McRee, Becky Stockstill, Sharon Taylor, Bobby Sorensen, and Lawrence Waschka.

Mary Beth, Jen and Jeanne will begin their second year as cheerleaders, while the three boys will lead the Gent spirit for the first time this year. They will be presented at the Centenary-East Texas Baptist College game which is to be held December 2, at the Youth Center.

Plans are being formulated for a cheering section which will be under the leadership of the cheerleaders. The cheering section is to perform at each home game.

MSM Retreat At Caney Lake Site

Caney Lake will be the site of the MSM retreat October 31-Nov. 1. Students will leave at various hours Friday afternoon to attend. In charge of food is cook, Spray Peoples, and Halloween festivities will be directed by Bertie Jackson. "Religion in a World of Science" is the subject of the speaker Rev. Edward Hard, from the First Methodist Church in Marshall, Texas.

After a brief meeting in the Religious Center Building, on Thursday, October 23, the MSM group attended the film "Gateways to the Mind," sponsored by Alpha Epsilon Delta. Planned for the October 30th meeting a work party to clean the MSM room in the Religious Center, so that it may be furnished by the WSCS groups of the various Methodist churches in the city.

Letters to the Editor . . .

Centenary Students and Faculty:

It is only a little over five weeks since the school year began, and I myself have spent little more than 50 days in the city of Shreveport. These have been exciting and busy days, however, in the School of Music. One of the busiest things we have done was to send groups of students to perform for most of the Service Clubs in the city. One group performed in the cold light of an early dawn, but most of them were luncheon meetings. 36 students in all performed for these groups.

Another exciting experience we are having is the weekly student recitals in the School of Music. We started with a short, but creditable program the first Wednesday in the school year, and we have had a recital of some proportions each week since then. The recitals present a good cross section of the school. Last week, for example, we had three singers, two pianists, a string quartet and a woodwind trio. Attendance is required at these recitals, but we feel that that requirement is mere formality since we recognize the value of appearing in public. The recitals, therefore, become essentially a laboratory in public performance. We would like the rest of the students at Centenary to feel that we have issued them a personal invitation to attend these programs. They are held each Wednesday at 3:00 P.M. in the Music Building, with one exception, the program of November 5, will be a recital of organ music and will be held in Brown Memorial Chapel.

We are off to a busy start in other areas too. The Shreveport Symphony, which claims in its membership many of our instrumental students, has its first subscription concerts this week. They got off to a good start in their outdoor concert during the Fifty Year Festivities, with Marjorie Lawrence and our two new faculty members, Mr. Running and Mr. Beasley as soloists. The Centenary Choir and the Band made appearances during that week, and the Choir has already had several other concert engagements both in and out of town. Other singers are deeply involved in rehearsals with the opera groups.

Fifty days in Shreveport! These have been busy and exciting days for me, and we look forward to a full year of music making in this 51st year of Centenary College in Shreveport.

Joseph M. Running
Director, School of Music

"Church college" is a title that applies to Centenary, but is Centenary simply a "church-supported" college. By "church college" one would think that Centenary offers every advantage in educated religion. Take a look at the religious organizations and activities on campus. Are they really educational, religiously speaking, and do they fulfill the needs of the student? These questions as they apply to programs are impossible to generalize, but rather their application to method is to be stressed.

The Baptist Student Union, The Canterbury Club, The Methodist Student Movement, The Newman Club, and The Westminster Club are the religious groups on campus, a choice selection, yet the majority of their membership is limited to dormitory students. There is need to judge an organization by its number of members, but what about the outreach of the groups. Easier said than done? Should such organizations promote or sponsor activities on campus for the religious education of the student body or should they confine themselves to group meetings? Evidences of cooperative action are seen in Religious Life Week and in are the results of such activity lacking in personalness?

Compulsory chapel is a common gripe around the campus. Does it affect to give the student a sense of religious responsibility to himself and to his college and allow him the right to worship? Or rather does it take advantage of administrative power to set what is through best for the individual instead of giving the free choice to the educated person.

Are these the sole advantages of a church campus? Can they be effective in themselves without expanding their activities? Are religious organizations a farce on our campus or do they offer varied possibilities for the interested individual? Is Quest a real search? Do Bible courses teach ethics at the sacrifice of education? Is holy communion a meaningful ritual or a Friday morning habit? Do retreats give a backward glance or a foggy satisfaction of pleasure? Here is the question; Is Centenary campus educational in the field of religions? Answer it, if you can!

October 9, 1958

The Student Senate meeting was called to order by President Charles Wilder. Those present were: Leon Bain, Miss Carlton, Jackie Carpenter, Mr. Cooper, Marcella Flynt, Mary Lou Gassen, Connie Gathright, Charles Wilder, Dr. Willingham, Fred Willis, Sharon Victory, and Jim Daigle.

The minutes were read and corrected.

Decorations for the Charlie Spivack Dance were discussed. The theme of the week, The Space Age, is to be carried out in the throne for the Queen.

The motion was made and seconded that Alpha Chi and Alpha Sigma Pi be in charge of the Gentleman's Holiday Dance. The motion carried.

December 2, 1958, was announced as the first home game and therefore the day for the Gentleman's Holiday celebrations.

The suggestion was made that bulletin boards be placed on the campus. Charles Wilder agreed to speak to Dr. Mickle as to their location.

The meeting was closed in regular order.

Monday election—Number of people who voted: Freshmen, 135; Sophomores, 118; Juniors, 96; Seniors, 69. Total number voting: 418.

Respectfully submitted,
Mary Lou Gassen, Secretary

Gassen Announces Dance Committees

Mary Lou Gassen, secretary of the Student Senate, has announced the committees for the forthcoming Gentlemen's Holiday celebration. Working on the parade will be Patty Owen, Anne Bostick, Margaret Anne Cowan, Kathy Mack, Linda Frank, Tanne McDade, and Gail DeLaney.

Decorating for the dance are Sue Brown, Kay Cooper, Angelina DeFatta, David Malcolm Graham, Marilyn Hendrick, Sara Hitchcock, Dayle Rose John, Jay Lang, Paula Martin, Lon McInally, Anne McLaurin, Charles Patterson, James R. Rivers, Jr., and Dalna Worley.

Those in charge of the coronation ceremonies are Georgina Lechuga, Windy Nicklaus, Elizabeth Reeves, and Margaret Reeves. Offering "unique ideas" will be Jane Hanks and Zena Hengy.

Truly Ann Drake, Lyssa Grogan, Penny Hawkins, Zena Hengy, and Carole Ann Solomon will work in cooperation with Alpha Chi and Alpha Sigma Pi.

Hamlet To Be At Texas Fair

On Saturday and Sunday of this week, October 25 and 26, several Centenary students will journey to Dallas where the tragedy, "Hamlet," will be presented by the Old Vic players of London, world renowned Shakespearean troupe. The performances are part of Neiman Marcus' "Fortnight in Britain" celebration, and are under the auspices of the Texas State Fair, where the play will be presented.

The production of "Hamlet" is the third in a series of three plays presented this week. "Twelfth Night" was given Monday and Tuesday, "Henry V" on Wednesday and Thursday, and "Hamlet" will run at special matinee performances at 2:30 p.m. on both Saturday and Sunday, and a Saturday night performance at 8:30 p.m.

John Neville, popular English actor, will play the part of Hamlet. As many Centenary students of English Literature are now studying the play and there are also many students who are interested in dramatics, Centenary should be well represented. Plans are being made for transportation to Dallas for the play, but as yet they are not complete.

Geology Frat Takes Expedition

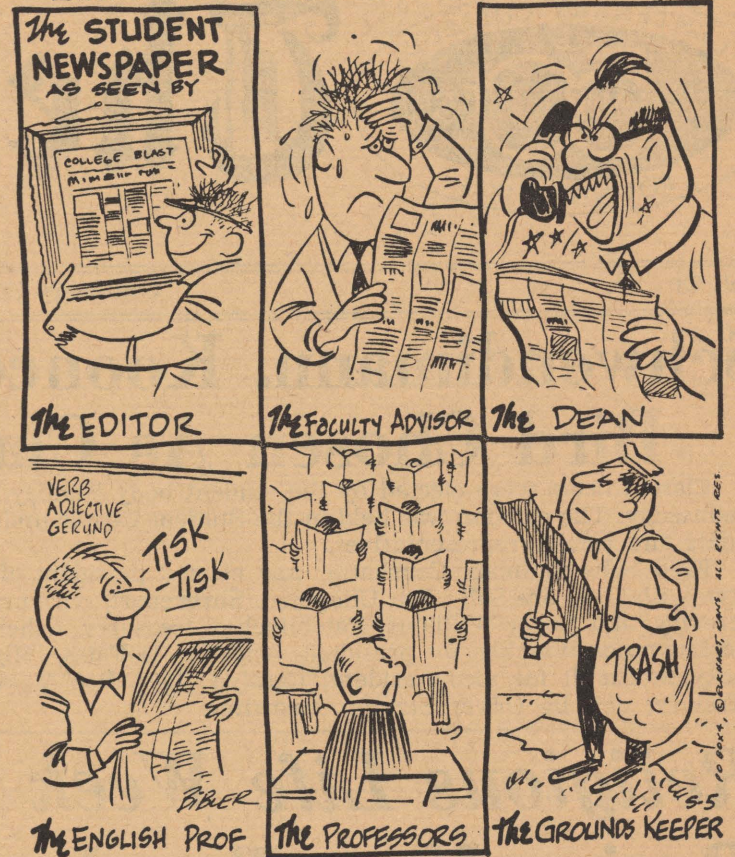

Montgomery's Landing, eighty-five miles south of Shreveport, was the site of two expeditions of Sigma Gamma Epsilon, the geology majors club. Monday, October 13, Mr. Nolan Shaw, Evan Davis, and Austin Sartin flew there to pick out the different facies changes. Then Monday, October 20, the club as a whole worked up its stratigraphy.

Mr. Shaw is the faculty advisor, and Dean Hickcox is the national grand historian. David Metts and Alex Vogt are the two newest initiates of the organization.

The group's coffee pot is available in Room 116 for general use by the student body.

The group meets Tuesdays at 9:15 in Room 116. The requirements for membership is a 1.5 over-all average and a 2.0 in geology.

Larry Greene, Gent Guard, Shows High Season Spirit

By Kathy Mack

"Player with experience" is the term that might be applied to Larry Greene, a Gent guard. His first experience in a varsity game was in the eighth grade, which began a lettering season lasting five years. Such talent as his was fully recognized when he played on the All-Star basketball team of Louisiana in 1955 and on the All-State team three years and culminated in the honor of his being the only boy to play four years in a row on the All-Parish team.

He started off at Tulane University on the freshman team, and stayed there one and a half years. Then he switched to Centenary, giving as his reason the experience of playing the All-Star game here and liking the friendly atmosphere of a small college.

LARRY GREENE,
Gent Guard

Of the coming season Larry remarks: "This year I don't think that we are individually as good as last year, but as a team I think we are stronger and will have a better season. Also, we have a real desire to win that we didn't have last year."

To be a basketball coach is Larry's aim. You might say he wants to follow the ideal of his father, one-time coach and now principal in Fenton, Louisiana, a former All-Stater, too.

"Of all the year's I've played," said Larry, "the thing I most cherish is the year I was a junior in high school and 'Chief' Williams, a senior. At the Jaycee tournament in Nacogdoches, Texas, (one of the biggest in Texas) I was picked most valuable player over 'Chief.' To me it was not as big an honor then as it is now, since 'Chief' is now an All-American."

Penn Dean Feels Frats Need Changes

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—(I. P.)—

The fundamental need for fraternities at the University of Pennsylvania is "to re-examine what their basic purpose is and take immediate and constructive steps to achieve these," according to Dean of Men George B. Peters. He cited several deficiencies in the present system. While not all the defects are found in each house, Dean Peters emphasized, they are significant enough for study.

He said that the failure of some houses to follow sound business practices and to maintain their properties needed study. Also, the insufficient attention paid to scholarship and the failure to recognize that culture goes with education were cited. Dean Peters said that the latter point was "a problem not restricted to fraternities but quite common throughout the undergraduate body."

In the field of activities, he said that some fraternities tend to demand loyalty first to the fraternity and then to the University. Such practices frequently discourage members from participating in activities and other phases of student life.

Dean Peters stated his opposition to any scholarship rule that would require the fraternities to maintain averages equal to the all-men's average. Calling such a proposal "too rigid," he said, however, that it would be well to re-examine the present 3.0 requirement to ascertain if that average is too low.

Concerning the 3.0 average, he said that since its establishment several years ago, there have been definite signs of scholarship improvement. In the field of scholarship, Dean Peters also took the opportunity to commend the action of the Intrafraternity Council which has passed the 2.5 scholarship-rushing requirement.

Dean Peters also expressed the hope that more houses would voluntarily accept the resident-advisor plan. The four fraternities that are currently using graduate or professional school students as advisors report excellent results and several houses have expressed interest in it. Certainly, for the Pennsylvania campus, the resident-advisor is a preferable solution to the house-mother plan at other universities, he said.

tess for the event, on Thursday, October 23, at 7:30. Attending the meeting were actives, sophomore pledges, and members of the English department. "A descriptive problem is the topic for the manuscripts to be submitted for discussion by each member at the November meeting, with the choice of form left to the individual.

SPORTS DOWNBEAT

By DON TYLER

It looks like the Kappa Sig's have quite a powerhouse in intramural football this year. They lead the league at present with three victories, no defeats.

If Spanky and crew can keep up the scoring end and maintain the support the rest of the team has been giving them, they should take the championship.

Don't count out the rest of the teams, though. They aren't very far behind and they too, have some outstanding players. It's far from over and anything can happen between now and the end of the season.

BSU Roars, 19-6

BSU invaded MSM's territory last Wednesday and steamrolled over the Methodist boys, 19-6 in BSU's first victory of the season.

BSU was led by Steve Victory who did most of the passing but also scored once. Paul Hogue and Tom Bailey added a touchdown apiece. Jess Hoffpauir scored a PAT on a pass from Victory to conclude BSU's scoring. Leon Bain, a good defensive blocker and Monroe Smith were other standouts for the Baptist crew.

Gene Bennett led the MSM team and passed to Dub Fletcher for a 60 yard touchdown play. Tally Pledger and John McGrede were both big helps to the losing cause of MSM.

Royal Knights Lose on Forfeit.

Although the Royal Knights won their encounter with ROTC last Thursday, 24-7, they had to forfeit the game because they used an illegal player on their team. This was the season's first game for both teams.

Kappa Sigma Wins, 20-0.

The Kappa Sigma first team rolled to their 3rd straight win of the season on Wednesday by stomping the KA Generals, 20-0. Roger Williams scored 13 points to lead the Kappa Sig team to victory. Spanky McCoy, the intramural scoring leader with 18 points, did not play much and therefore did not score in the game.

Shafter Topple Cossa's Robbers

The Alpha Sigma Chi Shafter's outlasted the Kappa Sigma Cossa's Robbers, 12-6, in a rather closely contested game. The first half ended in a 6-6 deadlock after Joe Mosher scored for the Shafter's and Jim Rivers for the Cossa's.

The Shafter's clinched the game after an interception on the 10 yard line, despite a desperate last minute drive by the Cossa team which ended with the ball on the Shafter 15 yard line.

KA Romps, 28-0

The KA's sprung one of the season's largest scores by beating the Kappa Sigma third team, the Blackhawks, 28-0. This gives the Confederacy boys a 2-1 season record.

The KA's, an in and out ball club, sent Sonny Jacobs over for two scores while Howard Collins and Ken Bond accounted for one each. They also showed that extra points can be made by scoring after every touchdown. They sent Bob Robinson, Charles Clifford, Pete Boggs and Ken Bond over for PAT's to stomp the Blackhawks 28-0.

Durham Attends National PR Meet

Cadet Major James M. Durham, Commanding Officer of Company O-6, Centenary Chapter of Pershing Rifles, National Honorary College Military Society, and commanding officers of the Centenary College Army ROTC Cadet Battle Group, departed from the Centenary campus last Wednesday, October 15, to attend the National Convention of Pershing Rifles. The National Convention is being held on the campus of the University of Colorado, at Boulder, Colorado, this year.

Cadet Durham boarded train at Shreveport to join with Pershing Rifles delegates from 6th Regiment Headquarters at Louisiana State University and other colleges located in south Louisiana in making the trip.

The Pershing Rifles Company O-6 of Centenary College of Louisiana performed in the Rose Festival in Tyler, Texas, before an estimated 15,000 spectators on Saturday, October 18, under the command of Cadet Lieutenant Winston Miller, in the absence of Cadet Major James Durham.

Tennis, Basketball, Cheering Fill Personalities Busy Day

Vice-president of the Kappa Sigma pledge class is freshman Jerry Jouett. An active tennis player, Jerry will serve Centenary on the tennis team. Last year when the professional tennis matches came to Shreveport, Jerry came over to Centenary to watch them warm up. When he arrived, the trainer asked him to hit a few balls with him. They played for a while, and when the pros came in, they began to warm up with Jerry. He will be one of the few that will be able to tell his grandchildren that he has played with the greatest: Lew Hoad, Tony Trabert, Pancho Gonzales and Pancho Segura.

Luck seemed to be with him as he climaxed the event by choosing the right number and winning the tennis racket given to one of the ball boys.

In the summer production of "Annie Get Your Gun," this freshman added the "young love touch" in the role of Tom Keeler.

"I enjoy all music, from the worst hillbilly to the longest long hair," stated this versatile freshman.

Jerry holds previous city and state singles titles, and taught tennis lessons this summer.

TV Personality

Appearing weekly on Channel 3's Refreshment Time is Jeanne Kelso, sophomore personality. Jeanne sings and pantomimes on the show which can be seen every Saturday at 4:30 p.m.

Serving Centenary last year as cheerleader, Jeanne tells that one of her unhappiest times occurred when she developed a crick in her neck at the last basketball game of the season and couldn't yell.

A native of Shreveport, Jeanne participates in womens' intramurals and is an active member of Chi Omega sorority.

An admirer of Perry Como and his relaxed appearance on TV, Jeanne relates that she once got so nervous on her show, that she forgot the words to "Santa Claus Is Coming to Town." She claims that she must have had a tremendous accompanist to have finished the song with her singing "heaven knows what!"

After majoring in speech, Jeanne has no other future plans.

All American

Hailing from Duncan, Oklahoma, is junior physical education major, Leon Shaw. "Gabby" transferred from Murray State Junior college in Tishomingo, Oklahoma where he played guard and made the All American basketball team.

Leon plays guard for the Centenary Gents. One of his friends told the story about the time the team went to the NCAA meet in Springfield, and Leon forgot his uniform and had to borrow some gym trunks.

Basketball is not the only sport in which this junior excels. This summer he played second base for Tri-State in Bossier City. The team came out first in the Red River-Sabine League. His batting average was .437.

After completing his physical education courses, Leon plans to coach. He is a member of the Letterman's Club or "C" club which has not met this year. Two of his favorite crooners are Nat "King" Cole and Frank Sinatra.

KA Rose

Joan Daily, senior commerce major, claims to have a neurotic and near-sighted dog, Snuffy. The dog developed pneumonia when he was young and learned that he would be let in when he coughed, so he still coughs until one of the Dailys have pity.

Joan is active in sorority life as she served as president of Zeta Tau Alpha last year and began this year as vice-president until a senior commerce night class made it necessary for her to give up her office. Originally from Many, Louisiana, Joan was chosen as KA Rose for 1958.

This summer her family took a trip to Eureka Springs, Arkansas, where they caught sixteen fish with their hands! She claims they were all over seven inches long. How's that for a fish story?

Last year Joan was shopping in a local store, and when she signed the ticket, the clerk told her that there was another clerk in the store with the same name. Joan brushed the incident off, but remembered it later when she received a long distance call from some man that she had never heard of. After a few more calls, Joan realized that the other "Joan Daily" must have the same trouble.

ON CAMPUS

The two big drawing cards Saturday night were the Tech-Northwestern game and the State Fair. David Graham, Wayne Stoddard, Jerry Jouett, Fred Schwendemann, Sallie Mat Clingman and Marie Nelson were among the big game crowd, while Martha Stapp, Keith Simmons, Gretchen Stivison, Bobby Holtzclaw, Jill Landis, Miss Estes and Mr. Cates took in the fair. Mr. Cates really gave everyone a hard time riding around in his little electric car.

Coeds taking time off Monday night for the treat of Fred Waring's music were Dottie Slider, Margaret Powell, Martha Howell, Sara Liberto and Virginia Bobbitt. The girls said it was quite a let-down to come back to a dorm meeting.

Camille Brocato, Margie Dukes, Connie Gathright, Diane Holloway, Norma Strother, Jackie Ott and Gaynelle Morgan were among those journeying to Belcher last Saturday afternoon for a tea given by Tanne McDade and Mary Lou Gassen in honor of former Centenary student Elizabeth Patterson. For a special treat, Tanne showed some of the girls through her father's cotton mill after the tea.

Things are pretty bad all over . . . Mary Lou Gassen hasn't yet learned to spell the name of her college. When cheering, she confuses things a little by shortening the name to CENTARY.

The Student Center was the scene of a dance Friday night which Jay Lang, Sara Hitchcock, Dave White, Nancy White, and Helen Gulley enjoyed. There will be an informal dance held in the Student Center every Tuesday night from 6:45 until 8:30.

The Confederate Memorial Hospital is a scene of activity in which Mary Lou Jones participates. Mary Lou visits the hospital weekly in the capacity of a social worker. Will anyone seeing Mary Lou please remind her that trolley fare is fifteen cents in Shreveport.

Sigma Gamma Epsilon promises that the coffee they are selling for a very low fee is exceptionally good. Just follow the smell on the first floor of the Science Building for a hot cup of coffee.

Bob Concilio is almost walking again after his emergency appendectomy. Some people will go to any lengths to avoid class.

Another one off the sick list is Warren West, back after a neck injury which necessitated his stay in the hospital. Moral: Never let your girl study Judo!

Phi Mu Alpha Elects Officers

Phi Mu Alpha Symphonia, men's musical fraternity, recently selected their leaders for the coming scholastic year. At a meeting held Monday, October 13, in the small chapel Willie Andress was elected president; Jackie Carpenter, vice president; L. W. Fletcher, secretary; Jim Riley, treasurer; Charles Wilder, historian; and H. C. Alford, warden. The group plans to pledge new members at a meeting in the near future.

Qualifications for membership are interest in music and a high scholastic average and achievements.

Nicklaus Chosen To Head Cencoe

Miss Windene Nicklaus, senior from Amarillo, was chosen president of Cencoe at a meeting of the organization last Thursday evening.

She replaces Miss Patsy Goff, who transferred to Northwestern, as president of the organization, whose membership is made up of outstanding representatives of the three campus sororities.

Miss Nicklaus is secretary of Chi Omega and the Centenary College Choir and is active in the women's intramural program.

MSM to Show Movie Tonight

A color film version of Herman Melville's classic, "Moby Dick," will be presented at 7:30 p. m. tonight by "Kulture Korner" at Centenary College under sponsorship of the Methodist Student Movement.

The program, open to the public without charge, will be held in the Religious Center building on the local campus. It will be the initial program of the current academic year. L. W. Fletcher of DeRidder is general chairman, and the Rev. James A. McLean, director of religious activities at Centenary, is faculty sponsor.

Kulture Korner presents programs at 7:30 p. m. each Friday throughout the school year. The series, inaugurated last year, brought many local residents to the local campus.

The film version of "Moby Dick," narrated by Thomas Mitchell and directed and produced by Jerry Winters, has been praised by critics of The Saturday Review and other publications.

Bryant Davidson Chapel Speaker

Centenary College observed United Nations Day yesterday with a special program in the Brown Memorial Chapel.

Bryant Davidson, head of the department of history and government at Centenary, was the guest speaker. He discussed the aims, functions and progress of the United Nations organization. Although the official observation of United Nations Day is slated today, Centenary observed the occasion one day earlier because of conflicting schedules.

Those participating in the program were Cornelia Agurs, Diane Holloway, Anne McLaurin, and Jay Koonce. Nita Payne was special soloist, and H. C. Alford was the accompanist.

Dr. Ford Shows Slides Of African Tour To STD

On Thursday, October 23, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. E. M. Clark, members of Sigma Tau Delta were privileged to view the slides of Africa and Egypt made during Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Ford's past summer tour.

The beautiful color slides picture many scenes of different parts of the countries they visited and cover every phase of the trip. Their visits in Cairo and Memphis are shown by close-up shots of the ancient Egyptian pyramids and the world famous Sphinx. Camels were used as transportation by the tourists on the desert.

From Egypt, the group went into Africa where they visited the Sudan, Kenya, Masai, and Nairopi, the capital city. Their slides showed the primitive Zulu and Swazi natives, native tribes of Africa, names so often encountered in the reading of stories with African settings.

Victoria Falls at Livingston, twice the height of Niagara, was also on their agenda, and they took several beautiful shots of this phenomenon of nature. The trip through South Africa was via Johannesburg, Durban, Port Elizabeth, East London, Capetown, and back to Johannesburg, where the representative of the 12 native tribes of Africa were photographed in their native tribal dances. Leopoldville, in the Belgian Congo, was the next stop, where scenes from the colorful street markets were taken. From Leopoldville, the tour crossed into French Equatorial Africa, and then into Europe.

Besides the fact that the population of Africa is 20 negroes to every white person, the most outstanding idea made evident by these slides is that Africa is truly a country of contrast—both primitive and modern. Especially the cities Durban, Johannesburg, and Capetown are examples of this contrast. The twentieth century architecture of the city buildings contrasting with the native street markets which remain as they were thousands of years ago; the old sections of the cities teeming with people as opposed to the spacious new modern sections; the guides in shiny new autos taking tourists to view huts of native villages; all these and many more contrasts, make Africa such an exciting and wonderful place to visit.

NOTICE

Charles Alben will show his colored slides of a spring trip through many countries of Europe Friday night, October 31, at 8 o'clock in Room 114 of the Science Building. Slides will include a bull fight in Spain, the Brussels Fair and tulip time in Holland. During the three months he was over there, he hitchhiked whenever possible. You are invited to come.

Kappa Sigs Name Nail 'Pajama Girl'

Ramona Nail was chosen last Saturday night by the members of the Kappa Sigma fraternity as the first girl to receive the title of the "Kappa Sigma Pajama Girl." The choice was made by a vote of the entire active membership and used beauty as the main criteria for the honor.

Presentation of the "Pajama Girl" was made by president of the Kappa Sigs, Francis Kelker, who presented Ramona with an embroidered pale blue pillow. Decorations for the night included an elaborate throne on which Ramona was honored with a dream-land theme.

Faculty members present were Miss Betty McKnight, Miss Mary Estes, Mrs. Nicklaus, and Dean and Mrs. Hickcox. "The Tunes", a band from La. Tech, played for the occasion which inaugurated open rush for the Kappa Sigs.

Opera 'Rigoletto' To Begin Sunday

A rare treat is in store for students and faculty members who attend the Shreveport Civic Opera Association's production of "Rigoletto" Sunday afternoon at 3:00. Tickets can be purchased from members of Phi Beta for only seventy-five cents. Walter Hebert, well-known conductor, will make his second appearance as artistic director for the association.

The 1958 production, which will be the opening production of the current season, will feature Richard Torigi as the hunch-backed court jester, Richard Verreau as the Duke of Mantua, and Katherine Barlow Fitzpatrick as the ill-fated Gilda, along with a number of Centenary College music students and other singers.

The opera was presented in 1952 under the direction of Walter Hebert and was praised for its top-flight production then. It was the 101st production of the opera and the first major production of the century-old "Rigoletto" in the Ark-La-Tex.

This season's "Rigoletto", with Vlada Dimac, technical director of the Marjorie Lyons Playhouse, in charge of staging and lighting and Mrs. Helen Ruffin Marshall of the Centenary school of music faculty as musical director, promises to be an even more successful production. Other performances are on Monday, Tuesday and Friday.

All-Faith Retreat To Be Nov. 14-16

The Interdenominational Retreat to be held on the Centenary campus November 14-16 promises to be an outstanding opportunity for religious education, something that will be much appreciated by many students. Leader for the weekend is Father Beadle from Brenham, Texas, who will begin the retreat Friday night at 8:00 p.m. with the theme, "The Thankful Life," at evening prayer.

Beginning with the Episcopalian holy communion at 7:00 a.m. Saturday morning, the day's activities include breakfast, morning prayer, directed meditations, personal meditations, group meditation, noonday prayers, opportunity for reading and discussing, and evening prayer. At 7:30 in the evening a hayride and informal dance will be held. Sunday's session follows much the same schedule of activities, though dismissing at 12:45.

Directed meditations will be: "Creation", "Covenant", "Crucifixion and Resurrection", "Ascension", and "The Spirit-Faith Community". Students will be leaders of the group meditations. Meetings will be held in the Chapel and in the science lecture room. Persons attending will be charged fifty cents.

Spearheading the retreat is The Canterbury Club, headed by Jerry Winterrowd and sponsored by Dr. John Willingham. Aiding this group is the Methodist Student Movement, headed by Dottie Slider and sponsored by Jim McLean; the Westminster Fellowship, headed by James Durham and sponsored by Dr. Morgan; and Kappa Chi, headed by Jerry Woods and sponsored by Dr. Webb Pomeroy.

Frosh Pep Squad Elects Officers

The Freshman Pep Squad composed of 50 girls had their first meeting on Tuesday, October 28th. The officers elected were: President, Sara Hitchcock; Vice President, Rose Mary Watkins; Secretary, Gail Stimpert; Treasurer, Beverly Bedsole. These girls represent the three sororities and the Independents.

Mrs. Nichols, Miss Estes and Coach Sigler are in charge of the squad. The Coach gave a pep talk to the girls emphasizing the expected results of the cheering squad. He also stated that the Athletic Department would furnish the girls' sweaters.

Mary Beth Bomar and Jen Houchin, two of this year's cheerleaders, led the girls in a yell. It was decided that Thursday at 5 p.m. would be the regular meeting date.

Pat Burns, Laura Lee Miles, Virginia Bobbitt and Carolyn Giles were chosen as members of a committee to decide on the type of skirts and shoes to be worn by the squad.

Centenary Choir Prepares For Coming "Rhapsody In View"

By Kay Cooper

After a weekend at Hodges Gardens of combined relaxation and hard work on their music, the members of the Centenary College Choir are one step further toward their concert goal, "Rhapsody In View."

In addition to being a unique name for a Choir presentation, "Rhapsody In View" has decided meaning for those participating and for those to whom it is presented. The name was suggested four years ago by Mrs. Julius C. Dupruy, Jr., who was then secretary to Graydon Smart, publisher of the "Shreveport" magazine.

She interpreted the Choir's intent to be the creation of a lovely image during the program. As the Choir attempts to do this using beautiful music and attractive appearance, both the audio (Rhapsody) and the visual (In View) aspects of the title are woven into the program. Thus, the name, "Rhapsody In View" has been put to the program that opens the fall season, which concentrates the Choir's best efforts in both fields.

In creating a visual foundation to complement the music they will present on November 10 and 11, the members of the Choir will be outfitted in three changes of their wardrobe. The delicate white lace gowns worn by the feminine members of the Choir are distinctive in their complete simplicity; while there is Grecian beauty in the flowing chiffon of the sky rose dresses. Antebellum charm is captured in the powder blue brocade gowns the girls will also wear.

To complement the white gowns, the men will be formally dressed in black cutaway coats and striped trousers. Maroon jackets will be worn by the men when the ladies wear the brocade dresses and summer tuxedos set off the ladies' pastel gowns.

The Choir will appear on the Byrd High School auditorium stage in a setting designed by James Hall Miller, prominent Shreveport Thespian. His contributions to the "visual rhapsody" will be in the especially designed risers on which the Choir will stand and in the interesting effects achieved by lighting.

'Cyrano' Production Next At Playhouse

"Cyrano de Bergerac", forthcoming Marjorie Lyons playhouse production will probably be one of the biggest and most elaborate productions staged at the Playhouse. One of the greatest romantic dramas ever written, the cast includes forty persons. Unlike other classical dramas where extras stand around to add color, every part is a speaking role, from the lackey to the porter to the guard. These small parts offer a wonderful opportunity because of their characterization.

The play itself is set in the seventeenth century in Paris and is founded upon fictional and historical material, the main character having once lived in Paris. Roxanne, the leading feminine role, was once played by the great Sarah Bernhardt. The first production of this classic was in 1897 in Paris.

It is presented in three acts and five scenes: the theatre, the bakery shop, the garden of Roxanne's home, the battlefield, and the convent.

Students interested in trying out should be present at the Playhouse tonight at 7:30 p.m., the final night of tryouts. Those interested but unable to attend regular tryouts should contact Mr. Gifford for special arrangements.

SNEA Students Hear Stringfellow

The Student National Education Association met at the home of Dr. Andy J. Middlebrooks last Friday evening for an informal meeting. Speaker for the event was Dr. Stringfellow, feminine supervisor of the program in Caddo Parish for exceptional children.

She spoke on the different members of the program, how it was set up, the three teachers involved with it in Caddo Parish, examples of the programs carried out, the testing program, the restriction of an IQ of 120, its success, and its comparison with other programs.

Publicize Your Group

The Conglomerate staff wishes to give the widest possible publicity to every organization on campus. In order to achieve this with the most possible benefit to the various organizations we would like to give the following suggestions.

It is one of the facts of life that someone has to tell us about events sometime in order for us to report them. Of course, our reporters fill a great part of that function, but the final answer lies with the organizations themselves.

Each needs to have a person responsible for releasing news to the college press. It does not matter whether the secretary or corresponding secretary does the job, or whether the office is the separate one of publicity chairman, so long as a member is selected to release the stories.

Also, it helps for that person to follow a few simple rules, like these below:

1. Have your releases legible, typewritten if possible.
2. Spell all names correctly.
3. Include the correct home town of every student mentioned in the story
4. Have the story in the Conglomerate office no later than the deadline, Tuesday noon.
5. Remember the limitations of the newspaper. If makeup problems force us to withhold some story from one week's issue, please be patient with us and look for it the next week. When the situation comes up, such a measure is completely unavoidable.

Following these procedures is not difficult for any organization, and it helps us work with your group to give ample publicity to its activities.

Letters to the Editor...

Ladies and Gentlemen of Centenary College,

Since it is impossible for us to extend our personal thanks to each of you, we take this opportunity to extend our appreciation to those of you who spoke and acted on our behalf in the elections Wednesday.

We shall do our best to deserve your confidence and to perform our duties to the best of our ability in the dignity and tradition of Centenary College.

Sincerely yours,
 Mary Beth Bomar Jerry Jouett
 Jen Houchin Jay Lang

Medical Students Take Exams

Applicants to the coming 1959 term of Medical schools took the last Tuesday, October 28 from 8:00 until 12:45 p.m. Administration of the national exam was under the direction of a representative of the Educational Testing Service.

Included on the exam were questions involving English, Science, Economics, History and Government, and Comprehension studies.

Among the 30 students taking the exam here at Centenary were Sammy Maxey, Larry McKinstry, Gil Snider, John Haynes, Charles Glover, Warren West, Francis Kelker, and Buddy Graham.

The Medical College Admission Test is one requirement necessary before application can be made to medical school. Individual scores are compared with national and score is sent to the medical school at which the applicant is applying. Scores are kept confidential to the medical school and the Educational Testing Service and are not revealed to the student.

Canterbury Club Hears Dr. Clark

"Myth does not mean something not true, but rather something that cannot be satisfactorily explained. Words are not completely adequate to express it, though it is certain that people are aware of it. It is a combination of a nucleus of history, symbolism and allegory, and heightened imagination."

With this definition of myth Dr. Edward Murray Clark discussed the Apostles' Creed with the Canterbury Club Sunday evening at a dinner meeting. Describing the Creed as one of the most compact statements of Christian myth, he pointed out, line by line, that each portion was not a complete historical truth, yet it still showed important experience and awareness of man and his relation to God and the world around him.

Advanced Cadets To Hold Luncheon

Cadet Major James Durham has announced that the advanced cadet students will hold a monthly luncheon meeting on the first Friday of every month in the college cafeteria. This luncheon meeting will take place during the alternate drill period on Friday from 12:00 to 1:00 p.m. The first of these meetings will be held on November 7.

Each month an outstanding speaker will be chosen from the local area to address the advance students. It is believed that these meetings will supply the advanced students with some valuable information concerning some aspect of military service. It is also hoped that the students will utilize this meeting as a means of fellowship among advanced ROTC students.

Geologists Add Two Members

Sigma Gamma Epsilon, geology honorary fraternity, initiated two new members last Sunday, according to Austin Sartin, reporter.

Those initiated were David Metts, Senior, and Alex Vaught, Junior. Requirements for admission to the group are a 2.0 average in geology, a 1.5 over-all, and 14 hours taken in geology.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

Student Senate Report

October 16, 1958

The Student Senate meeting was called to order by the President, Charles Wilder. Those present were: Leon Bain, Jackie Carpenter, Marcella Flynt, Mary Lou Gassen, Connie Gathright, Charles Wilder, Sharon Victory, Jim Daigle, Miss Carlton, Mr. Cooper.

The minutes were read and approved.

It was moved and seconded that the meeting time be moved from 5:30 to 5:00 p. m. The motion was passed.

The annual Tug-of-War was postponed until November 4, 1958, due to a conflict in dates. This date is to be placed on the calendar in the office.

The voting area for the Cheerleader and Class Officer elections is to be marked by a line of tables and the ballot box placed at the end of the tables. Marcella Flynt is to make a sign reminding the voters that no politicking is to be carried on within 10 feet of the polls.

Marcella Flynt, Mary Lou Gassen, Connie Gathright, and Miss Carlton are to make stencils of the individual classes so that the Senate can use a separate voting list for each election.

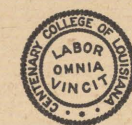

The Student Affair's Dance is to be held this Friday night, October 17, 1958. The possibility of each class sponsoring a dance was discussed.

The date for the Gentleman's Holiday Dance was set for December 1, 1958. The parade will be December 2, the day of the first home basketball game.

The meeting was closed in regular order.

Dates to remember:

Tug-of-War: November 4, 1958.

SPORTS DOWNBEAT

By DON TYLER

Kappa Sigma, BSU, and the Shalters are the only three teams that are still undefeated, untied in intramural football thus far. All three are moving toward the championship and should win their games Wednesday and Thursday.

BSU plays ROTC, while Kappa Sigma plays the Royal Knights on Wednesday. Thursday, the Shalters play the KA Generals and BSU plays the Blackhawks. These games should leave the leaders in for at least another week.

Now to last weeks intramural games:

MSM Squeezes by, 2-0

Gene Bennett and the Methodist Student Movement had to play on the Cossa's Robbers mistakes to win the closest defensive game of the year, 2-0.

Both teams tried desperately to cross the goal line but neither was able. Practically the whole game was played in the middle of the field, except for a MSM punt which put the ball dead deep in Cossa's Robbers territory. A few plays later on fourth down, Jim Rivers stepped back into his own end zone to kick. A bad pass from center caused him to drop the ball for an automatic safety and the only points of the game.

It was a heartbreaker for the Cossa's and a squeeze through for MSM.

Shalters Outlast KA's, 8-6

Wednesday was a day for rather close games as evidenced by the MSM win over Cossa's Robbers, 2-0, and the Alpha Sigma Chi Shalters over KA's, 8-6.

The KA's scored first in the early part of the game but failed to make the PAT. Howard Collins caught a pass from Sonny Jacobs for the score. Late in the game the Shalters began to drive and scored on a pass from Conrad Woolley to Tom Paine. With only a few minutes to go, Sonny Jacobs, the KA's stocky passer, was downed behind his own goal to cinch the win for the Shalters.

Royal Knights Win

The Royal Knights led by Johnny Trigg won a 19-0 verdict over the Kappa Sigma third team, the Blackhawks.

Don Bennett scored in the first half on a pass from Bobby Gouthier and then added his own extra point. In the second half Johnny Trigg scored twice on short runs.

The Blackhawks were helpless and never could get a scoring drive started.

Kappa Sigma Over ROTC

The Kappa Sig's showed again this week their power and versatility by lamenting the cadets of ROTC, 32-7. The Sig team took the opening kick-off and marched for a touchdown under George LeRay's aid. Billy Pat Tipton also scored again as the half ended.

Under James Durham's leadership the ROTC team were able to score by a pass from Druham to C. W. Clark. Durham scored the PAT as the half ended 13-7.

The second half was all Kappa Sigs. Among those scoring were Spanky McCoy, Fuller Bazer, and Roger Williams. This brought McCoy's total to 25 points scored so far this season—to lead the league.

KA's Shine In Win

The Kappa Alpha team demonstrated that the South can "rise again" by beating the Royal Knights, 19-7. David Jones, Lawrence Waschka, and Howard Collins were among the scorers for the Dixie frat. Charles Clifford scored a PAT to run the score to 19 points.

Sonny Sharp scored in the first half for the only Royal Knights score. Bobby Gouthiere made the PAT and ended their scoring for the day as KA went on to win, 19-7.

BSU Clobbers Generals

The Baptist Students romped and stomped their way to a 39-0 verdict over the weak KA Generals.

Monroe Smith and Paul Hogue scored twice each for the BSU while Jess Hoffpaur and Henry Nicholson managed to score once each. Craig Duran accounted for two PAT's and Jim Potter for one.

Despite the hard work of David Forte, Bob Moore and Buddy Daily, the KA Generals were not able to get their team rolling as the BSU men rolled to the highest scoring game of the season, 39-0.

Shreveport Gulf South Classic Pairs Teams for Fourth Meet

Shreveport's Gulf South Classic has announced pairings for the fourth annual renewal of this major basketball meet to begin here on December 29.

Virginia Tech's Gobblers will tangle with the Spring Hill Badgers in the first round opener at 2:30 p. m., December 29. At 4 p. m. that afternoon the Northwestern State Demons will meet the Eagles of North Texas State College to conclude the afternoon session.

The first-round evening session will begin at 7:30, and will feature the defending champion Louisiana Tech against the College of William and Mary Indians, who will be making their local debut. The evening's final scrape will pit Centenary against the Thoroughbreds of Murray, Ky., State College.

Pairings were announced after the teams' names were drawn out of a hat by Centenary coed Miss Helen Guley at a meeting held at the college to make plans for the giant cage tournament.

It will be the first time the meet will go under the name of "Gulf South Classic". It was formerly called the Louisiana Invitational Tournament, but the name was changed last spring to bring it more into line with the scope and

A group of happy men are the Kappa Sigmas who now lead the intramural football league with 5 wins and no losses. Quarterback Spanky McCoy leads individual scoring with 37 points followed by teammate Roger Williams with 25.

Kappa Sigma Smashes MSM To Gain Swimming Trophy

Swimming made its debut last Tuesday night for the first time as a major sport in the Men's Intramural Program. Under the administration of Fred Beadle, intramural advisor, two teams battled to a close finish.

Kappa Sigma was a decisive victor over the Methodist Student Movement by accumulating six first place wins of eight possible. Superior depth of the Kappa Sigma team left the MSM boys ragged by the final relays.

Warren West was the high point scorer for the night by placing first in the 40 yard breaststroke and the 60 yard breaststroke. West also was a key figure in the winning Kappa Sig medley relay.

The closest race of the night was the opening 40 yard freestyle event which resulted in a three-way tie. After final rematches, the winning time was 22.0 with Tally Pledger, MSM, the victor. Second place went to Wayne Stoddard, Kappa Sig, with 22.3, and third to Billy Pat Tipton, Kappa Sig, with 22.4.

Roger Williams, Kappa Sigma, was a decisive winner in the 40 yard backstroke with a time of 29.6. Second place in the event went to "Dub" Fletcher, MSM, with a time of 32.0. Billy Thompson, Kappa Sigma, placed third with a time of 32.3.

First place in the 40 yard breaststroke went to the Kappa Sig workhorse, Warren West, with a time of 26.2. Pete Mangum, MSM, gained a second place with a time of 27.2, while Fuller Bazer, Kappa Sig, was third with 33.3.

Kappa Sigma gained their first real lead by placing both first and second in the 80 yard freestyle event which found Fred Willis out front with a time of 54.0. Roger Williams, Kappa Sig, gained second place with a time of 56.8, while Tally Pledger, MSM, was third with a time of 58.2.

Warren West, Kappa Sig, with a time of 45.8 was the winner in the 60 yard breaststroke; following in second place was Fletcher with

Independents Win

Last week's victors in the girl's intramural volleyball tournament were Independent I over Chi Omega, Zeta Grey over Independent II, and Owlettes over Alpha Xi Delta. Zeta Blue forfeited to Iota Gamma.

The games put in first place the Independent I, Iota Gamma, and Owlettes; in second place, Chi Omega and Independent II; and in third place, Zeta Blue, Zeta Grey and Alpha Xi Delta.

This week Iota Gamma triumphed over Independent I and the Owlettes over Zeta Grey.

a time of 51.2 for MSM. Bob Murray, Kappa Sigma, followed in third place with a time of 53.5.

Gary Walters, MSM, chalked up a win in the 80 yard backstroke with a time of 1:23, while Billy Thompson, Kappa Sigma, placed second with 1:25.2.

The 120 yard relay freestyle found the Kappa Sigma team keyed up for a remarkable time of 1:10. Representing the winning team were Billy Pat Tipton, Wayne Stoddard, and Fred Willis. The MSM team followed with a time of 1:30.

In the 120 yard medley relay Kappa Sigma again was a decisive victor posting a time of 1:23 with Roger Williams, Warren West and Wayne Stoddard earning the honor. MSM followed with a time of 1:44.

Personalities Have Trouble With Everyday Experiences

By Linda Frank

Linda Walters, junior music major, is the only girl at Centenary that has ever gotten stuck on the bottom of the lake at Hodges Gardens. Linda was attending choir camp and was skin diving when she got scared at the bottom of the lake. A friend of hers found the bubbles and rescued her.

Among the various activities on campus, Linda has served in BSU as music chairman, American Guild of Organists as president and secretary, Alpha Sigma Pi as secretary and is a member of Alpha Chi.

She also is the accompanist for the Centenary choir and plays clarinet for the Centenary Band. Linda is the church pianist at Ingleside Baptist Church.

"Junior 'Byrd' Watcher" and "airplane rider" are two nicknames this junior has acquired from choir. The latter occurred when "Cheesy" was telling plans for the mid-semester tour. He said they were going on an "air ride" and Linda exclaimed that she had never been in an airplane. "Cheesy" was referring to an "air ride" bus.

In her busy schedule, Linda finds time to give private piano lessons twenty-two students ranging in ages from 7 to 16.

She recalls a "scorching" performance the choir gave, as her dress caught fire in the footlights. How's that for a hot foot?

IT'S 'A-BEAR'

Planning to major in medical technology "if I can make the grades," is freshman personality Judy Hebert. (This is pronounced "a bear".) Judy hails from way down south, Rayne, Louisiana.

An Alpha Xi Delta pledge, this freshman serves on the Junior Panhellenic Council, Intramurals Council, and attends MSM.

Since June, Judy has been corresponding with a French pen pal, Francois Duboisier, who lives in Belgium. She received this pen pal's name from her high school French teacher. Francois wanted Judy to come to Belgium this past summer for the World's Fair, but she had to inform him that "all Americans weren't made of money."

This summer she attended summer school at Southwestern in Lafayette, Louisiana.

The comfortable dorms, the well-known Centenary choir, and the beautiful campus, were three factors Judy took into consideration when she attended a MYF conference and chose Centenary as her college.

SAE CARD FAN

Senior personality Dave Limebrook plans to major in commerce. A transfer student, Dave has also attended LSU and Tulane where he was affiliated with Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

This summer he attended Centenary summer school and then in August worked in South Texas.

Guns are a special hobby with this senior. He spends a great deal of his free time shooting out in the country. Dave enjoys the out-of-doors and hunts duck, deer, and dove.

This personality follows all sports closely, but he likes to play baseball or a few rounds of golf. A frequent visitor in the Student Union building, Dave likes to play poker. When asked if he was a bridge fan, he replied that he liked bridge, but just didn't "play very well."

At present, this senior is working part-time at King Hardware. He is also an active member of Westminster Fellowship.

'DEAR' HUNTER

Having served two years in the U. S. Navy on board a destroyer ported in San Diego, California, is sophomore commerce major Ken Hayes. Ken has traveled to Japan, Hong Kong, Singapore and the Philippines, but never seemed to get well-adjusted to the motion of the sea, for as soon as he got "sea legs", the destroyer would port and then he had to start all over getting used to the motion again. Crossing the equator for the first time was an experience for Ken as he was initiated and had to have his head shaved by the crew.

In his spare time, this sophomore raises beef cattle down on a farm in Keatchie, Louisiana.

"Women and 'dear' hunting" are two of Ken's outside interests, as he killed his first deer when he was fourteen. Deer hunting is an annual occasion as Ken camps out for a week near Lake Village, Arkansas, each year.

Vice-president of the KA pledge class, this sophomore plans to open a general insurance business after graduation. At present Ken is working part-time for Mr. W. F. Johnson Insurance Company so he can learn about the business.

ON CAMPUS

By Peggy Longino

Memories of the Fair still linger on even though the company has pulled up stakes and moved on . . . Billy Pat Tipton's exciting wild rides . . . Charles Byrd and Linda Walters as they climb the fence to avoid the gate fare . . . Jeanne Kelso singing away for one of the local radio stations at the exhibits . . . the great prize Dub Fletcher won for Abbie Terry—a balloon.

Lucky Wayne Stoddard . . . last week he had two honors accorded him. In addition to the honor of Cheerleader, Judy Downs accepted his Kappa Sigma pin. The Sigs serenaded Judy at the Chi O house Monday night and also congratulated Joyce Price and Tim Temple, who are now going steady.

Congratulations to Spanky McCoy—newest Kappa Sigma pledge.

Representing Chi Omega at Amarillo, Texas, this weekend will be Windy Nicklaus, Gaynelle Morgan, Peggy Longino and Margie Dukes. The girls plan to be present for the installation of a new alumnae chapter.

Local belles representing Centenary at LSU last weekend and enjoying Homecoming festivities were Camille Brocato, Gretchen Stivison and Faye Cox.

Sensations of the evening at the Kappa Sigma Pajama Party Saturday night were Roger Williams and Marie Nelson in their matching pajamas. Demonstrating her skill with the needle, Kathy Mack made matching Kappa Sig nightshirts in red for her and date Perry Winterrowd. Mary Beth astounded Fred Willis with her polka dot creations. Black and white were much in vogue with Margaret and Elizabeth Reeves and dates Jerry Jouett and Bobby Holtzelaw. Ramona Nail was thrilled to be selected as Kappa Sig "Pajama Girl." Another exciting feature of the evening was the ride Tanne McDade took with Paul Hoge in his red Corvette.

Freshmen girls present at the first pep squad meeting say that Coach Sigler's enthusiasm carried over to the girls and that they are planning big "Spirit" activities this year. Officers elected Tuesday are Sara Hitchcock, President; Rosemary Watkins, Vice President; Gail Stimpert, Secretary and Beverly Bedsole, Treasurer.

Westminster Club Studies Religions

Sunday, November 2, the Westminster Club, the student Presbyterian fellowship, inaugurates a five week series of study of "Great Religions of the United States" with Father Cornelius O'Brien of Saint Joseph's Catholic Church as speaker. This program was announced by Ralph Mason, vice-president and program chairman. Anita Thomason serves this group as secretary, while Jim Durham, Larry Johnson, and Warren Goss serve as Tri-Presidents.

Meetings are weekly at 4:45 Sundays in the Westminster Room of the Religious Education Building. Doctor Lee Morgan, faculty advisor, invites all interested persons to attend.

Chemist Group Holds Supper

Dr. John B. Entriiken's home was the meeting place for Alpha Sigma Chi, honorary chemistry fraternity, Monday night. After an outdoor supper prepared by Mrs. Entriiken and Mrs. Emerich, Bryan Sparks, vice president of the organization, explained the purposes of the group and answered questions raised by those attending.

Members and prospective members present were Bessie Ruth Risinger, Carlton Chambers, Margie Dukes, Evelyn Vairin, Alwynelle Self, Marie Maranto, Mrs. Ann Montgomery, Suzanne McCallum, John Haynes, Carl Mayhew, George Acton, Bill Gaines, Katherine Jackson, and faculty members, Dr. Emerich and Mr. Cates.

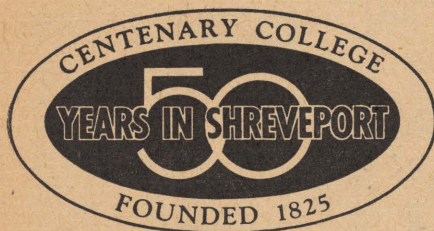

Safe Deposit

John always did take things too seriously . . . like that habit of locking his Coke up in a safe! Sure everybody likes Coca-Cola . . . sure there's nothing more welcome than the good taste of Coca-Cola. But really—a safe just for Coke! Incidentally—know the combination, anyone?

Weeks of preparation have been made by the choir for their annual "Rhapsody In View" concert which will highlight the season. The presentation will be given next Monday and Tuesday nights at Byrd High, 8:00 p.m.

'Rhapsody In View' Concert Highlight Of Choir Season

At 8:00 November 10 and 11, the curtain will go up on the 1958 "Rhapsody In View" concert, to be held at Byrd High School. On each of these nights the Centenary College Choir will host a guest artist. Joseph M. Running, head of the Centenary Music department, will appear at the piano on Monday night to play several selections. On Tuesday night, the Choir's guest will be Samuel Terranova, violinist. Mr. Terranova is concert master of the Shreveport Symphony Orchestra.

NEA Observes Education Week

A special meeting of Student NEA will be held Tuesday, November 11, at 9:15 in observance of American National Education Week. This will be the thirty-eighth National Educational Week to be observed; the first one was held in 1912.

The purpose of National Educational Week is to inform the public of the accomplishments and needs of public schools and secure the cooperation and support of the public in meeting these needs. The speaker at the meeting Tuesday will be a local educator speaking on the topic, "Improving Public Schools."

United Fund Drive To Close Monday

The United organizations, American Red Cross, U. S. O., Caddo Foundation for Exceptional Children, and through the Community Chest's 29 other agencies, are now holding their annual fund drive in Shreveport. It is the only campaign made by these agencies this year; they will not hold separate drives.

The quota for Centenary College has been set at $1200 for faculty, staff, and students. The student goal is $200.

The organization of the United Fund here on the campus is headed by Dr. S. W. Rice. Each of the buildings has either a student or a faculty chairman as follows:

Rotary Hall, Charles Souter; Hardin Hall, Mary Lou Low and Jean Stephens; James Dorm, Wilene Graythen; Newman Club, Theresa Moscata; Science Building, Dr. W. W. Pate; Jackson Hall, Dr. George Davis; Administration Building, Mrs. Penny Claudis; Music Building, Mr. Joseph Running; Moore Student Center, Mrs. R. M. Nichols. The presidents of the Greek-letter organizations are acting as chairmen for their respective organizations.

The United Fund campaign will continue through Monday, November 10, with all reports due November 11. If you have not been contacted and wish to contribute, see any of the student solicitors.

To set the theme of the evening's program, the Choir will open with "Dedication," featuring soloist Windene Nicklaus. Of the sacred selections to be heard, one of the most outstanding is the "Sanctus," from Verdi's "Requiem." It calls for a double choir, requiring a division of the Choir personnel. They will also present the first chorus for Bach's "Christ Lay in Death's Dark Prison." Soprano Ruth Velotta will sing Mozart's "Alleluia," with choral background. The program will also include many secular selections.

Choir accompanists Linda Walters and Abbie Terry will perform at twin pianos to highlight the program. The two girls, both Juniors and in their second year of accompanying the Choir, will render an Arensky waltz and "Scaramouche" by Milhaud. This will mark the first time in many years that a duo piano presentation has been included on the Rhapsody program.

Tickets to the "Rhapsody in View" performances may still be obtained from any Choir member, Shreveport Lions Club member, or at downtown box offices at Selber Brothers, Levy's and Harbuck's sporting goods store.

Rev. Beadle To Be Speaker For First All-Faith Retreat

The Reverend Herbert Beadle, Jr., rector of St. Peter's Episcopal Church in Brenham, Texas, will be the director of the inter-faith retreat to be held Nov. 14-16 for Centenary students. The retreat is being sponsored by the Canterbury Club with the cooperation and support of the Westminster Fellowship and the Methodist Student Movement organizations.

The conference will begin at 7:30 p.m., Friday, November 14, with Evening Prayer and the opening address by Father Beadle. The theme of the conference is "The Thankful Life." Students, faculty sponsors, and representatives of local churches will participate in the lectures and discussion periods which will take place in the Brown Memorial Chapel and the Religious Life Building.

Father Beadle, a native of New Haven, Conn., attended high school in Del Rio, Texas. He graduated from the University of Texas in 1947, and received his divinity degree at the General Theological Seminary in New York in 1950. He has served the parishes of St. James' in Conroe, St. Stephen's in Huntsville, and the Brenham Church, all in the Episcopal Diocese of Texas. He is a member of Lambda Chi Alpha, Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, and the Commission on Alcoholism for the Diocese of Texas.

Father Beadle has led retreats for his own diocese, including a parish retreat at St. Bartholomew's at Hempstead, and a seminary retreat for the Episcopal Theological Seminary of the Southwest in Austin.

The arrangements for the retreat have been made under the general direction of Jerry Winterrowd, president of the Canterbury Club. Assisting him have been the presidents of the cooperating religious organizations: Jim Durham, Westminster Fellowship, and Dottye Slider, Methodist Student Movement.

The conference will include an informal dance Saturday night, and will conclude with a summation of the conference and luncheon Sunday.

Students Enjoy Opera 'Rigoletto'

Students and faculty members of Centenary College, who witnessed the dress rehearsal of "Rigoletto" Sunday afternoon, enjoyed the fine performance. Particularly entertaining with his antics and his tragicallness was Richard Torigi in the role of Rigoletto, the court jester. Mr. Torigi did a superb job with the singing. It was evident to close observers that Mr. Torigi has had much experience, and indeed he has. This is his fourteenth time to play the same role, though it is his first time in English. Also, he has played in the Broadway play, "Most Happy Fella."

Another outstanding performance was that of Katherine Barlow Fitzpatrick as Gilda, the ill-fated heroine. Her aria of the second act was particularly enjoyed by those familiar with the opera. Thoroughly disarming in her charming and gracious portrayal, Mrs. Fitzpatrick possessed and commanded sympathy from her audience.

The fine tenor of Richard Verreau gave to "La Donna Es Mobile" that particular sparkle it requires. Centenary students Martha Dickens, John Goolsby, Al Hart, Don Tyler, John Williams, and Ruth Velotta fulfilled their part in the chorus, while Dottye Slider sang well the part of the sly Giovanna, Gilda's nurse, and Ann DeShazo, that of the page. Backing all was the music conducted by Walter Herbert.

To those who enjoy opera the performance was welcomed with much acclaim. Those who have not seen it have their last chance tonight, with the final curtain rising at 8:15.

Mascot Chosen By Pep Squad

The third meeting of the Freshman Pep Squad was called to order by the President, Sara Hitchcock, on the evening of November 4 at 6:30 p.m.

Mr. Larry Shirley, representative of the Harbuck Sporting Goods Company, displayed several types of sweaters. A vote was taken and a white "V"-neck light-weight sweater was chosen.

The possibility of a girl mascot was brought to the attention of the squad. It was accepted by the squad and the girl chosen is Miss Sigler, daughter of Coach and Mrs. Sigler of Shreveport.

The losing Sophomore Class had to act as freshmen for a day, submitting to the freshmen commands.

Students Enter Writing Contest

Professor George Williams of The Rice Institute, Texas, has written a critical commentary on high education in America; "Some of My Best Friends Are Professors," published October 24. In this book, Dr. Williams makes a penetrating appraisal of our institutions of higher learning . . . and teaching, and has coordinated his own provocative findings with other collegiate studies, resulting in some highly provocative judgments.

As a method of uncovering undergraduate opinions on the views held by the author of this book, the publishers are sponsoring a contest open to all upper classmen (freshmen, though welcome to read this book, are ineligible because of their insufficient time experience in college), inviting an appraisal of "Some of My Best Friends Are Professors."

There will be a prize of $500 given for the best essay; all manuscripts to be no fewer than 3,000 words and no more than 10,000 words; manuscripts are to be received in the publisher's office by February 1, 1959; the prize-winner will be announced on March 15, 1959.

Write for entry blanks to Professor Contest, Abelard-Schuman Limited, 404 Fourth Avenue, New York 16, N. Y.

Co-ed Aufaits To Reorganize

Aufait, a non-Greek organization for women, is being reorganized on the Centenary campus. It was founded here in 1939, but for the past two years has not been actively organized.

Helping in the reorganization are Mary Lou Lowe and Mrs. Penny Claudis, president of Aufait in 1955-56. At the first meeting, officers will be elected, a meeting place discussed, and some future plans made.

Those who want more information concerning Aufait or are interested in becoming a member are urged to contact Mrs. Nichols, Student Activities Counselor, in her office in the Student Center.

Fair Made Head Of Newman Club

Miss Winifred Fair, Shreveport sophomore, was elected president of the Newman Club for the current year at a meeting October 29.

Other officers are Paula Martin, vice-president; Penny Hawkins, secretary, and Theo Klemann, treasurer.

All Catholic students are urged to attend the monthly meetings of the organization. Those interested may contact one of the officers for further information concerning the club or watch the Conglomerate for a notice of the next meeting.

Cook Lectures On Chemistry

Dr. William B. Cook, head of the chemistry department at Montana State College in Bozeman, Montana, is a guest of Centenary College's own Chemistry Department this week. Sent here through the efforts of the American Chemical Society, Dr. Cook will hold a demonstration lecture on "Molecular Orbitals" at 2:00 this afternoon in Room 310 of the science building. Anyone who is interested may attend.

Dr. Cook did post-graduate work at California Tech and then taught at Baylor University before taking his present position at Montana State College. Thursday and Friday he taught the regularly scheduled chemistry classes. Thursday evening at 7:30 he addressed an assembly of students and faculty on the subject, "Helium."

The purpose of this program, made possible also by the National Science Foundation and by the Chemistry Department of Centenary College, is to aid the college chemistry department by letting an expert come in to discuss problems with the staff, to give demonstration lectures, and to inspire the chemistry faculty and students.

Three years ago Centenary College's chemistry department invited Dr. Robert C. Brasted of the University of Minnesota (through the American Chemical Society) to present a similar program here. Once a speaker has gone to a certain college, it is rare that the same college has the privilege of hearing another; so Centenary is indeed honored to have Dr. Cook these two days.

Phi Mu Alpha Issues 15 Bids

Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, honorary music fraternity, issued bids to the following 15 men, according to Willie Andress, president of the group. Those accepting the bids were: Don Tyler, Don Smith, John Goolsby, Freddy Peters, Jimmy Perkins, Jackie Scaf, Fred Schwendimann, Lanny Bilyeu, Bill Bryant, Rule Beasley, Beal Thomas, Sam Terranova, Al Pagnato, Adrian Geoffrey, and Al Sherman.

These men will be pledged in a ceremony held on Monday, November 24, 1958. Initiation will be made after fall semester grades are received. Last semester the grade average for the fraternity was 2.6 over-all.

Student Senate Report

October 23, 1958

The Student Senate meeting was called to order by the President, Charles Wilder. Those present were: Leon Bain, Jackie, Carpenter, Marcella Flynt, Mary Lou Gassen, Connie Gathright, Charles Wilder, Fred Willis, Sharon Victory, John Bird, L. W. Fletcher, Jay Koonce, Fred Schwendimann, Mr. Cooper, Dr. Willingham.

The minutes were read and approved.

A welcome was extended to the newly elected Class Presidents:

Senior: John Bird
Sophomore: Jay Koonce
Freshmen: Fred Schwendimann

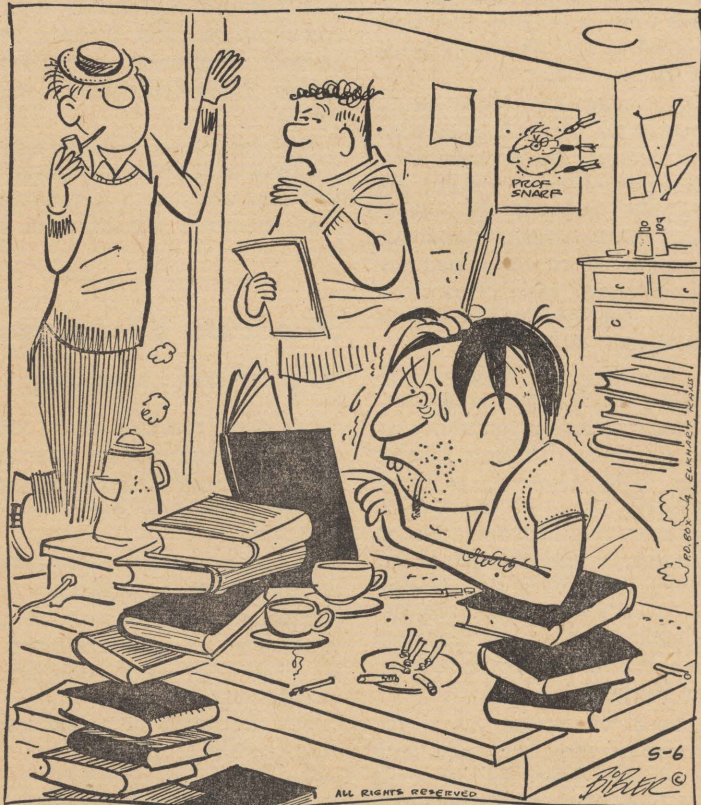

Truly Drake, the representative from Alpha Chi, asked for permission to discuss Gentleman's Holiday. It was decided that the dance would be on December 2, 1958, after the basketball game.

It was moved and seconded that the ballot box be placed in the Student Center to give the Student Body another chance to name the Snack Bar. The motion was passed.

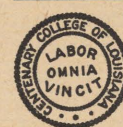

The meeting was closed in regular order.

Respectfully submitted,
Mary Lou Gassen, Secretary

SPORTS DOWNBEAT

By DON TYLER

Louisiana State, the top power in the nation according to the experts, has been causing a lot of talk around the campus these last few weeks. Many Centenary students journey to the capital city each week to see LSU win another football contest. With the Bayou Bengals running strong for the national championship, the SEC title, and a Sugar Bowl bid, the interest is almost at peak proportions around Shreveport and the college.

Shafters Squeeze by MSM

James Crosslin scored the only touchdown either Alpha Sigma Chi or MSM mustered on Wednesday as the Shafters won, 6-0.

Gene Bennett, Dub Fletcher and the rest of the MSM crew couldn't get a sustained drive started long enough to score. It is opinioned that this game, however, was the best defensive showing of the year on the part of MSM.

KA's Over Cossa's, 13-6

Ken Bond scored in the first quarter and Howard Collins converted to give the KAs' a seven-point lead, which held to the end of the game.

The only Cossa's Robbers score was made when Don Tyler intercepted a KA pass deep in his own territory and was tackled—giving an automatic touchdown.

Later, the same thing happened with the KA's scoring the last touchdown. A beautiful pass received by Larry McKinstry for Cossa's, which would have tied the game, was called back for illegal formation.

Kappa Sigma Over Blackhawks

The Blackhawks played their best game of the year against their superiors Wednesday, but could not hold off the Kappa Sig offense long enough.

Sammy Kilman scored six points for the Blackhawks after a long run by Bo Worley setting them into scoring position. McCoy scored 12, Fuller Bazer 6, and Jim Daigle a PAT for the Kappa Sig team.

The final score: Kappa Sigma, 19; Blackhawks, 6.

BSU Beats ROTC

Monroe Smith and James McMahan led the way with 6 points each to a BSU victory over the Cadets of ROTC. The score at the end of the first half was tied 6-6 after Jim Durham scored for ROTC.

The second half proved fatal to ROTC, however, as the Baptist boys scored again and held on to the margin. BSU won, 12-6.

Kappa Sigma Roars, 26-0

Spanky McCoy led the way for the Kappa Sig's as they beat the Royal Knights, 26-0. McCoy intercepted a pass in the first half to score and then passed for three other scores and two extra points. Roger Williams, Fred Willis, and Jim Daigle were on the receiving end of the McCoy passes.

MSM Over KA's, 12-7

Gene Bennett scored both MSM touchdowns on Thursday to stave off the KA's, 12-7. However, it was a hard-fought game, for the KA led MSM 7-6 at the half marker.

Sonny Jacobs passed to Ken Bond for the KA touchdown and to Reaves Grogan for the PAT.

BSU Stomps Blackhawks

Every member of the BSU team got at least one point to their credit as the Baptists routed the Kappa Sig third team, 34-0.

Steve Victory, Jess Hoffpauir, Monroe Smith, and Craig Duran scored 6 points apiece, while James Potter scored seven, Paul Hoge 2 and Tom Bailey 1.

Other Games Forfeits

Other games played this Monday consisted of two forfeits. ROTC forfeited to Cossa's Robbers and the KA Generals forfeited to Alpha Sigma Chi.

Girls' Intramural First Place Tied

This week first place holders in girls' intramurals are the Owlettes and the Iota Gammas; second place holders, Chi Omegas and Independent II; and third place holders, Zeta Blue, Zeta Grey, and Alpha Xi Delta.

Wednesday night, October 29, Chi Omegas won over Independent II and Zeta Blue forfeited to Alpha Xi.

Tuesday night Independent II won over Alpha Xi Delta and Zeta Blue forfeited to Zeta Grey.

Revised schedule for future games is that Independent II games scheduled for Wednesday nights will be changed to Tuesday nights, and Independent II games scheduled for Tuesday nights will be changed to Wednesday.

Positions Open On Frosh Squad

Orvis Sigler, head basketball coach, has stated that many positions are still available for Freshmen who wish to play on the Gent frosh basketball squad. Freshmen need not have been granted a scholarship in order to play on the team.

Chances for advancement are great since, according to the NCAA University division ruling, freshmen are not allowed to play Varsity ball. Anyone going out for the team thereby has an excellent chance to play ball along with the men who will compose the future Gent varsity.

The frosh squad also is an excellent place for a freshman to develop and possibly make himself into future varsity material.

The frosh squad will play an excellent 22-game schedule this year which will begin on December 1.

Any freshmen interested in going out for the team should see either Coach Sigler or Doug Mooty, who is in charge of the squad, immediately.

MSM Sponsors Caney Retreat

M. S. M. retreaters began activities with a Halloween party Friday night at Caney Lake. Activities included apple bobbing, a "spook trail," and folk games. Ghost stories were told around a blazing campfire. The evening was closed with a devotional by Jim McLean.

Saturday morning the group gathered by the lake for communion. Then the Rev. John Wesley Hardt, pastor of the Methodist Church in Marshall, Texas, spoke on "Science Versus Religion." Afterwards skits were presented by members of the drama group. Dennis Gibson, Carole Ann Solomon, Larry Elliot, and Dick John gave a light comedy. A choral reading was given by Charles Wilder, Paul McMahan, Fred Schwendimann, Lyssa Grogan, Janet Gholson, Virginia Bobbitt, Janice Johnson, and Carol Riechelt. A skit, "After Death, What?," was given by Dub Fletcher and Diane Holloway.

After a talk on "Ethics," the retreat was dismissed.

SEASON PREVIEW

Bobby Schulman, Gent Guard, Relates Ideas of Teammates

BY JAY LANG

"A team with the will to win" is the manner in which Bobby Schulman, Gent guard, describes this year's basketball cagers.

Bobby, now a senior, has had much past experience in basketball. While in high school at Dothan, Alabama, he lettered three years and was selected for the all-state team in his junior year. Also, he was on the all-district team for two years.

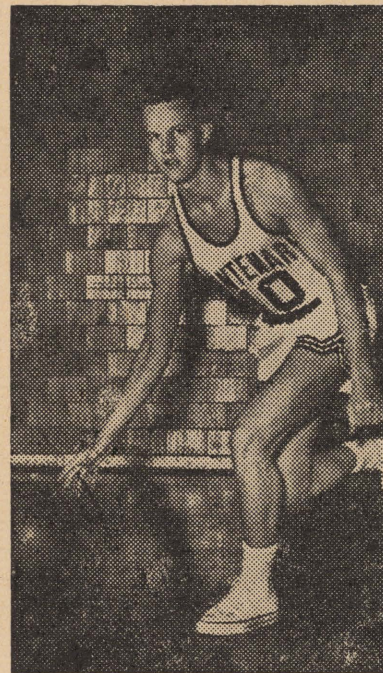

Book of Basketball as All-American. Only ten Alabamians were so honored that year.

Perhaps the main reason Bobby came to play ball at Centenary was the fact that Harold Mooty received the coaching job for the Gent ball club.

When asked about his views concerning Coach Orvis Sigler's building program, Bobby stated that he thought Coach Sigler has a tremendous desire to see Centenary as a big-time basketball team. "If the students are behind us, we have the desire to make this a great year," mentioned Schulman after contemplating the rough 22-game schedule for the Gents this year.

Bobby commented on the fact that there is no individuality on the team, but rather it is composed of boys who play like a team. "We are more aggressive and a more hustling ball club than last year's squad," Schulman further related.

When Centenary cagers begin their first game on December 2, one thing is for sure—one man who will really be seen on the floor is that blonde-headed senior from Alabama, Bobby Schulman.

Another honor received by this talented man of the court was to be chosen to appear in the Dell

Buying a mid-afternoon snack in the Student Center are this week's personalities Steve Victory, Jane Ilgenfritz, Joan Phares, and Tim Temple.

Personalities Like Sports, Have Funny Experiences

BY LINDA FRANK

Influenced by her brother who is studying to be a doctor, Jane Ilgenfritz, sophomore personality, plans to major in biology and become a medical technologist.

This past summer Jane went to Florida with her family and was disappointed because all she found along the shore was seaweed. "It was really terrible."

Another event this summer occurred when Jane became a "hollow head" because she had eight teeth extracted.

"Very dull but happy" was the phrase this sophomore used to describe herself, but who calls scraping her toe-nail off as she was leaving the science building dull?

"Little One," so dubbed because of her petite size, is a member of the Intramurals Council, Canterbury Club, and Chi Omega sorority. She enjoys reading about English history, playing volleyball and other sports, and playing and listening to music.

One of the big events in her life was watching Julie Andrews and Rex Harrison in "My Fair Lady" on the New York stage.

Once Jane cut lab and her professor came by the tennis courts where she was playing, and made it a point to let her know he had seen her. He still to this day asks her how her tennis game is. Next time she won't play on the Centenary courts!

Frosh Egg Hater

Often seen playing bridge in the SUB, is freshman Tim Temple, who serves as sergeant-at-arms for the Kappa Sigma pledge class.

Hailing from Leesville, Louisiana, Tim plans to major in math and then "go into industry."

Before coming to Centenary, he used to play in a dance band, the "King Lynn Combo." This freshman plays the trombone and a jazz piano. He is a fan of progressive jazz and enjoys artists such as Chet Baker, Chico Hamilton, and the Blue Stars of France.

Tim is a member of the Centenary Choir, the Kappa Sigma pledge class, S. N. E. A., and plays Intramural sports. Basketball, tennis, and ping-pong are a few of the sports he plays.

A traditional project for the Kappa Sigma pledges is to have an uncooked egg signed by all the active members. Tim was so proud of his accomplishment and protected the signed egg so well, but when he sat down in meeting, much to his dismay, the egg tumbled from his lap and splashed on the floor. A very dry-witted person, Tim said, "I live an awfully dull life, don't I?"

'Heavy' Sleeper

Have you ever had a bed fall on you? Well, Steve Victory, junior geology major, experienced this incident when he was on a baseball trip last year.

Basketball, football, ping-pong, hand ball, and swimming are sports in which Steve also participates. He plays short-stop for the Centenary baseball team, and last year his batting average was .348. This past summer, besides taking the famous trip to North Carolina, Steve played semi-pro baseball in El Dorado, Arkansas.

"Vic" likes to walk, play hearts and poker, and listen to semi-classical music "like KBCL plays."

While he was playing ball in El Dorado this summer, he said jobs were pretty scarce. He recalls the time that he worked ten hours on a job and made only $2.84, "and that was good!"

After graduation, this junior plans to study petroleum engineering at the University of Texas.

He is also a member of BSU and the "C" Club.

The Three R's and . . .

"The day I received my contact lens was one of the most exciting events of my life," stated Joan Phares, graduating senior in January. She's had them for three weeks, but has waited patiently three years for this dream to materialize. Joan is receiving a divisional major in sociology, history, and education.

In her spare time Joan says, "I read anything I can get my hands on." Anything from "God's Little Acre" to "The Republic" and "everything in between" are some selections this senior reads.

A stamp collector, this personality thinks "stamps are really pretty," and they also "have many historical facts associated with them." She collects stamps any way she can get them, but she has been known to deliver packages to girls in the dorm in order to get the stamps on the packages for her collection.

At the present time, this active senior is a member of the Centenary Choir, Zeta Tau Alpha, Student NEA, SMS, and is practice-teaching at Hamilton Terrace.

Last Monday Joan heard two young voices calling "Miss Phares" over the intercom. It was two of her students, Jean and Gale, who had come calling for a tardy "trick or treat." Youth!

Recommendations Given Students

A board composed of Lt. Colonel Robert S. Scott, Captain Paul J. Kay, and Dean Charles A. Hickcox convened Wednesday, October 22, to recommend the basic branch assignments for ROTC cadets who anticipate graduation within the next fiscal year.

The advanced cadets were recommended in terms of their own desires as well as the qualifications which the board felt they possessed. The students are given an opportunity to state their preference in terms of their first through fifth choices. Three of their five choices must be combat branches: Infantry, Armor, and Artillery. The board recommendations as well as the current needs of the army are the deciding factors in the appointments.

Five students were recommended for Artillery as their first choice. They are Charles Clifford, Carry Davis, James Durham, Bill Gaines, and John Goodwin.

Jerry Winterrowd, Perry Winterrowd, and David Mills were recommended for the Signal Corps. Bobby Schulman, A. J. McGrede, and Tom Hubble, Military Police. Bill McKnight, Joe Gray, and John Appleby, Infantry.

Wayne Stoddard, Chemical Corps. Bill Halliburton, Corps of Engineers. David Herndon, Adjutant General's Corps, and Bill Gryant, Medical Service Corps.

Latin American Frosh Relates Experiences As American Gent

BY THEO KLEMAN

Carlos Villamarin, better known around the Centenary campus as just "Charles," has found American life quite different from that in his home country, Colombia. Carlos, who arrived by plane in Miami in the beginning of September and from there on traveled by bus to Shreveport, is the recipient of a Rotary Club scholarship to Centenary College.

Carlos tells us, how he really felt bad when he got home-sick the first week of school. He didn't have any friends and nobody seemed to have time to talk to him. But once he met a couple of people who were in his classes, everything changed and now Carlos knows almost everybody, and certainly everybody knows him.

It was also very hard for Charles to meet people, because when he first arrived here his knowledge of the English language was not too broad. But he certainly has caught on fast!

It had always been his wish to come to the United States, Charles explained to us. When still in high school he met Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Tesar, a Shreveport family, in Bogota. Mr. Tesar helped Carlos get the scholarship and he is now living with them here in town.

Asked about his opinion on the American boys, Carlos replied that he already had discovered some really good friends and that after he had mastered the language a little bit better, he very much would like to become a member of various campus organizations. His opinion of American girls is very favorable. He already knew some in Bogota, but meeting some Centenary coeds certainly was a great experience.

While telling us about the dating in Colombia, Charles startled us by telling that a chaperone always accompanies the couple, even to night clubs, etc!

ON CAMPUS

By Peggy Longino

Congratulations to new fraternity and sorority pledges . . . Alpha Xi Delta pledged Willene Graythene . . . Chi Omegas pinned the colors on Margaret Powell and Carol Ann Winning . . . Joan Templeton is wearing the Zeta Tau Alpha pledge pin.

Kappa Alphas welcomed Larry Madden and Jerry Smith while Kappa Sigma issued bids to Jim Darby and Gary Reeves. Busy and profitable weekend.

Austin, Texas, and a special Kappa Alpha from the University of Texas will be the happy objects of Paula Martin's attention this weekend.

Linda Frank, Bill Sanders and Jay Lang cheered LSU on to victory over Ole Miss last weekend. Planning to see the Tigers play Duke this weekend are Jim Daigle, Tommy Hickcox, Armand Daigle, Gene LaCaze, Bo Roberson, Judy Downs, Wayne Stoddard and Fuller Bazer.

Jill Landis felt young again the other day . . . a refreshing dip in the fish pond brought back freshman memories.

Homecoming at La. Tech next weekend will be the scene of a busy weekend for Jerry Jouett, Jay Lang and Sara Hitchcock.

Students participating in the opera "Rigoletto" were Dottie Slider, Don Tyler, Johnny Goolsby, Ruth Velotta and Nita Payne. Some of these students will also be appearing in the choir's performances of "Rhapsody" Monday and Tuesday nights.

appearing in the choir's performances of "Rhapsody" Monday and Tuesday nights.

"Auntie Mame" was enjoyed Thursday night by Bobby Holtzclaw, Jerry Jouett, Jim Daigle, Gene LaCaze, Sammy Kilman and Coan Knight.

Larry, you are very lucky. Larry McKinstry and Emma Lou Stewart copped the prizes at the Mad Hatter supper in the cafeteria the night before Halloween. Emma Lou's hat depicted different scenes of Centenary College, including Josephine's house. Larry had an original creation composed of an alligator sent to him by a friend in the South Louisiana swamps.

Some of the MSMers retreating to Caney Lake last weekend for programs, and Halloween fun, were Lyssa Grogan, Virginia Bobbitt, Janice Johnson and Paul McMahan.

Windy Nicklaus, president of Cencoe, especially urges all sorority members to attend the Cencoe party tomorrow afternoon in the Student Center. The party will be informal . . . bermudas, etc.

The latest news out is that soon Leaving for Louisiana Tech this weekend will be Jay Lang, Sara Hitchcock, Jerry Jouett, Frankie Stokes, May Joe Ellington, and Judy Downs.

Its getting to be pretty dangerous to live in the Men's dormitory as as evidenced last week by Tommy Bergeron, who woke up to find his room half filled with water. Boy, was he shocked!

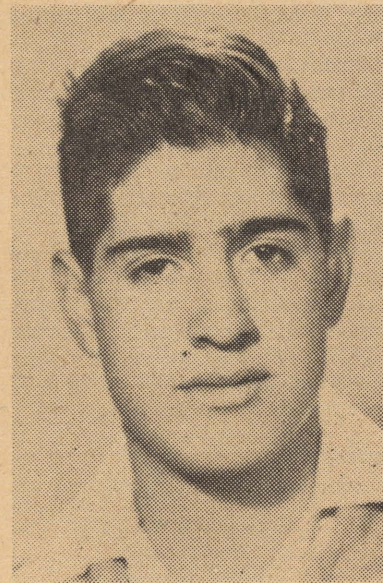

Jim Daigle put up a good fight for the lead in the new playhouse production "Cyrano," but finally lost to Al Hart by a nose.

Frat parties tonight include entertainment at the Alpha Xi House for the Independents, Chi Omegas will entertain the Kappa Sigs and Zetas will play hostess to the KA's.

American universities there is not made such a big fuss about being a freshman. "The studying comes in the first place," he says.

Carlos can tell you a whole lot about the different ways and customs in South America. One of the most astonishing is the fact that almost all the traffic in Colombia has to go via airplane because of the bad conditions or lack of roads.

Carlos finished by telling how last year he demonstrated with other students against the regime of dictator Rojas Pinilla, who was overthrown. He said, however, that he didn't count on having to do a thing like that over here!

had formed a club, "Chivo's Club," that went on hiking trips in the mountains almost every weekend. Carlos explained a Chivo is an animal that lives in the mountains.

"Being a freshman here, is quite an experience," Carlos said, and went on telling us that in the South

Pershing Rifle Team to Begin Annual 'Bed-Bug' Week Monday

The Pershing Rifles annual Bedbug Week begins Monday, November 17, and ends with initiation Saturday, November 22. The lucky "bedbugs" will wear their uniforms Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday. Monday through Friday they will march everywhere carrying blue rifles and placards with the crest and shield to be signed by every active member of the Pershing Rifles and all ROTC instructors. Also during the week they will be required to learn certain definitions, of such things as a bedbug and as leather.

Monday noon each "bedbug" will eat a "square" meal sitting on the first three inches of his chair and cutting the corners with his eating utensils as he raises them to his mouth. Wednesday the flagpole will be continuously guarded.

Each day at a noon ceremony they will present a pie to the Pershing Rifle Sponsor, Ramona Nail. After initiation Saturday afternoon the new members will attend the initiation banquet at which they will be addressed by Dr. Mickle.

Kappa Chi to Hold Christmas Pageant

Plans for the forthcoming Christmas Pageant were discussed in the meeting of Kappa Chi's officers last Saturday. Committees for the pageant, which is to be held December 15-18, were set up with Jerry Woods as overall chairman; lighting, Larry Elliot; music, Richard Herrmann; costumes, Carole Ann Solomon; and make-up, Janice Johnson. Following the pageant will be a party for the student body on Thursday, December 18.

Fellowship teams to work with the youth groups of various churches were established, headed by Tommy Bergeron. Last Sunday night members of one team led recreation at St. Matthias Episcopal Church. Participating were Sara Del Stevens, Deen Thompson Marcella Flynn, and Terrell Rourk.

Also discussed during the meeting was the spring series of programs which will be on different religious sects, with youth groups from the various sects meeting with Kappa Chi whenever possible. A retreat to be held in the spring was decided upon.

Tuesday the group met during the free period and Genie Valentine discussed "Rural America" from a background of work camp experience in Kentucky, where she worked with people from the hill country.

APO Discusses Future Projects

Plans for initiation and future projects were discussed at the meeting of Alpha Phi Omega Tuesday, November 11, at 9:15. One project will be to furnish the tower room of the Chapel as the permanent meeting place of the organization. The Group plans to visit the neural patients of the tenth floor of Confederate Memorial hospital on Sundays as their other project.

The new officers of the club are president, Jim Turnage; vice-president, William Ambrose; and secretary-treasurer, Dub Fletcher.

Pan-Hellenic To Sponsor Dance

The Centenary Pan-Hellenic is sponsoring a "Flame Dance" December 12 in the Youth Center. Committees are currently making arrangements for the dance, though the decorations constitute the only definite decisions so far.

These decorations will center around a large red Christmas tree with silver ornaments. A Christmas mural will be used on the windows of the Snack Bar. Couples at the dance may have their pictures taken sitting in a sleigh packed with Christmas packages. In keeping with the flame theme, all members of Pan-Hellenic will wear red dresses.

Judy Parker is the chairman of the committee. Helping her are Becky Buckner, Jeanette DeSadier, Pheribie Monroe, and Donna Puel—Alpha Xi Delta; Nancy Dixon, Judy Meredith, Margaret Powell, and Nancy White—Chi Omega; and Jane Hanks, Zina Henjy, Boo Maxwell, and Mary Murphee—Zeta Tau Alpha.

'Rhapsody In View' Delights Students

The 1958 edition of "Rhapsody in View" met with general approval with all phases of musical taste included in the program. The concert was presented Monday and Tuesday nights at the Byrd high school auditorium, drawing large crowds for both performances.

Miss Windy Nicklaus and Jack Carpenter waltzed as the choir sang "Lover" by Rogers-Ringwald.

Miss Abbie Terry and Miss Linda Walters were featured in duopiano numbers: "Waltz" by Arensky and "Scaramouche" by Milhaud. A long round of applause brought the talented pianists back with the encore "Jamaican Rumba."

A novel selection, "Lazybones," was thoroughly enjoyed by all. Acting the part of Lazybones was Paul McMahan, with Phoebe Valentine making life hard for him. Soloist was Willie Andress.

Miss Ruth Velotta, freshman soloist for the choir, beautifully sang "Alleluia" by Mozart. Her solo demonstrated the lovely range of her voice.

The entire choir opened their show with "It's a Big Wide Wonderful World," and continued to include "Christ Lay in Death's Dark Prison" by Bach; "Far Away Places" by Whitney-Kramer-Gearhart; and selected songs from the score of "Kismet" by Wright-Forrest.

Past choir members were invited to the stage to join in singing "Tenebrae Factae Sunt" by Palestrina and the concert ended with a division of the choir personnel singing "Sanctus" from Verdi's "Requiem."

Guest artist for the opening night was pianist Joseph M. Running, head of the Centenary Music department. Tuesday night's guest was Mr. Samuel Terranova, violinist and concert master of the Shreveport Symphony Orchestra.

Jr. Pan-Hellenic Elects Officers

Junior Pan-Hellenic, an organization designed to promote better relationships among sorority pledge classes, is again functioning after a year of inactivity on the campus. Officers elected for this year are Janet McClellan, President; Pat Burns, Vice-President; and Carolyn Giles, Secretary-Treasurer. Wilma Jo Walters is the Pan-Hellenic advisor for the group.

The club is planning to sponsor a party for the pledge classes at which each of the groups will present the skit they gave at the fraternity parties. Another future activity of the group is taking charge of the publicity for the Pan-Hellenic "Flame Dance" on December 12.

Many Positions Available For Graduating Seniors

By KATHY MACK

Where to apply for a job is a question that confronts everyone who graduates from college. It is not a question that can be easily answered, but a possible solution on the Centenary campus is found in the office of Mrs. Nichols, student activities counsellor. Here there are files of folders from different companies giving information on all types of positions and how to apply for them.

Thomas to Speak To Biology Group

Mr. Truman Thomas, head of the Anti-Pest agency in Shreveport, will speak on November 25 at the next meeting of Gamma Beta Gamma. This organization is the biology club on campus and is directed by Pete Boggs, president.

The group's future project is to study the flora and fauna of a flood water pond in Bossier City a year after its formation. The pond was formed in 1957.

Phi Beta Elects '58-'59 Officers

Phi Beta, the music fraternity for women, which was established in 1953, elected as officers of the group: president, Abbie Terry; vice president, Ann DeShazo; secretary, Joy Lambert; treasurer, Dalna Worley; and historian, Pat Tucker. The faculty advisor is Rule Beasley; and chapter advisor is Mrs. Don Malarcher, who is a national officer also.

During the year the group presents programs to the Veterans' Hospital and to the Old Folks' Home. They were recently given a tea by Mrs. John Olvey, which was attended by actives, pledges, patrons, and guests. They have just initiated thirteen pledges.

Future plans include a dance in the spring in conjunction with Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, the men's musical fraternity, and a program presented by Iris Lorch, a Phi Beta who studied in Germany last year. In the far distant future they plan to purchase a grand piano for the music hall.

NOTICE TO ALL STUDENTS

Notice to all students on procedure for obtaining Student Activity Tickets. Student Activity Tickets will be issued at the Athletic Office window in the lobby of Haynes Gymnasium. Tickets may be obtained only on the following schedule:

Freshmen: Nov. 17, 18, 19, 2-5 p. m.; Sophomores, Nov. 20, 21, 2-5 p. m.; Juniors and Seniors, Nov. 24, 25, 2-5 p. m.

Students are urged to pick their tickets up as they can not be issued other than at this time. There is no charge as all full time students are eligible.

For instance, one bulletin on Immigration Patrol Inspection gives a description of the work, the training needed, promotional opportunities, requirements, salary, hours, and how to apply.

Scattered on a small table in her office are various other pamphlets from such companies as the Vick Chemical Company, the Prince Matchabelli Company, the Alfred D. McKelvy Company, Dow Chemical Company, the National Geophysical Company, the Shell Oil Company, the Republic Steel Corporation, the Eastman Kodak Company, and the Department of Agriculture.

Included among these is information on Civil Service jobs, Foreign Service opportunities, Red Cross possibilities, Military jobs, Air Lines openings, and Federal careers; some of which include examinations. Besides these there is material on graduate fellowships and further training after college, such as Katharine Gibbs' course for college graduates in New York.

Annual Farm Derby Next Friday

The annual Farm Derby sponsored by the Alpha Xi Delta sorority will be held next Friday, November 21, on the Centenary College campus.

The actual derby will begin at 2:00 p. m., but costumes, representing farm life are to be worn throughout the entire day. All students and faculty members will participate.

Among the games, which will be in progress after 2:00, there will be a turkey shoot. The boys who maintain the highest rifle shooting averages throughout the day will be awarded a turkey. Other activities will include a pie eating contest, a corn shucking contest and a hog calling contest. Any student or faculty member may enter these contests. Prizes will be awarded. The cafeteria will serve a farm menu at lunch.

To conclude the evening, Dr. Sidney Rice will call a square dance in the Moore Student Center. The square dancing will be followed by regular ballroom dancing.

Student Senate Report

October 30, 1958

The Senate meeting was called to order by President Charles Wilder. Those present were: Leon Bain, Jackie Carpenter, Marcella Flynt, Mary Lou Gassen, Connie Gathright, Charles Wilder, Fred Willis, Sharon Victory, Jim Daigle, John Bird, L. W. Fletcher, Jay Koonce, Fred Schwendimann, Miss Carlton, Mr. Cooper, Dr. Willingham.

The motion was made and seconded that the Pep Squad be asked to publicize all home basketball games. The motion was passed.

The Tug-of-War was discussed. Since the sophomore president cannot get his head shaved in the event that the sophomores lose the contest, the sophomore class will be made "Freshman for a Day."

The President suggested that the Student Senate rules be read next meeting for the benefit of the new Senate members.

The motion was made and seconded that the Senate sponsor a showing of the film taken by Dr. Ford this summer. The motion was passed.

The motion was made and seconded that for the next two weeks the Senate meetings will start at 5:45 p. m. The motion was passed.

The meeting was closed in regular order.

Respectfully submitted,
Mary Lou Gassen, Secretary

Ohio State To Offer Study Scholarships

COLUMBUS, O. — (I. P.) — Ohio State University will offer 27 scholarships and fellowships totaling $60,000 for study and research during 1958-59 in fields related to national security policy.

The newly established grants, awarded on a national basis, represent part of a "Marshon Program for National Security" under way here. The Defense Studies Committee, which administers the program, points out that while most applicants specialize in history, political science or economics, persons in medicine, law, physics or chemistry, geography, or other areas bearing on defense, also qualify.

The program is supported by income from a $7¼ million bequest to the university from the late Col. Ralph D. Marshon. Colonel Marshon, an 1890 graduate, died in 1952. Terms of his bequest specified that not less than half the income be used "to promote, encourage and carry on civilian military training in the United States and its territories."

The first years awards include 20 undergraduate scholarships, each valued at $1,500, for juniors or seniors; five $3,000 graduate fellowships; and two $7,500 post-doctoral fellowships.

In addition to the $60,000 for scholarships and fellowships, Ohio State has set aside $90,000 for other phases of the 1958-59 national security program. The sum of $60,000 will provide for continuation and development of a National Security Policy Seminar, which opened on the campus last year, and $30,000 will be devoted to conferences, symposia and special research projects.

Pep Squad To Decide on Name

The selection of letters for uniforms, the seating arrangement for games, and the decision of a name constituted the business for the Pep Squad this week. A meeting was held on November 11 in the gym followed by a short cheering session led by the cheerleaders.

The squad decided upon a single block C to decorate the front of the sweaters and thereby complete the uniform ensemble of maroon skirts and white v-necked sweaters.

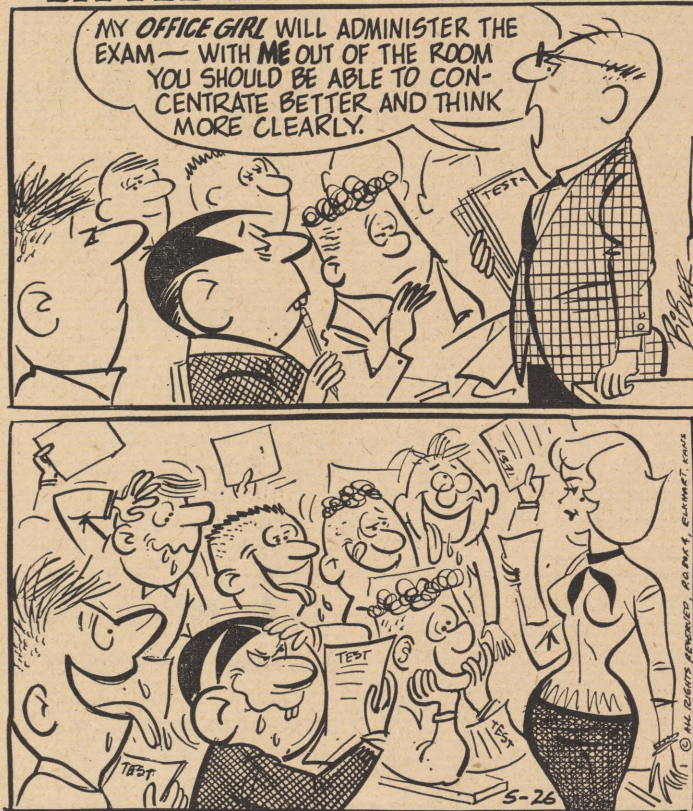

The girls will sit on ten bleacher rows, five girls across, at the games. Permanent positions were selected at the meeting.

Rose Mary Watkins, vice-president, presented several name choices to the group for consideration: Maroonettes, Pepers, Gentettes, and C Shouters. Pepers and C Shouters were voted out, leaving Maroonettes and Gentettes as possible name choices. No decision was made, thus allowing for further thought, discussion, and suggestions.

COMMERCE MAJORS MEETING

Delta Tau Omicron, honorary Commerce Fraternity, cordially invites all commerce majors to a reception Sunday, Nov. 16, from 4:30 until 5:30 in the Moore Student Center.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

Letters to the Editor . . .

I want to take this opportunity to personally invite all students to participate in the Interdenominational Retreat to be held this week-end. I feel that this retreat can be one of the outstanding religious activities on campus. It is an opportunity for the students of Centenary to expand the maturity of their religious thinking.

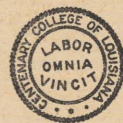

There are two main factors that can make this retreat a success. First of all, it must be supported by the students with their attendance and secondly, their attitudes must reflect a desire for spiritual enrichment.

This retreat is an interdenominational effort. It is believed that all Christian students can work together and gain spiritual benefits from their efforts. We believe that this retreat can add a new element to the religious life on campus.

This retreat is quite diversified and will represent every sort of religious life. The students will come together in denominational celebrations of the sacrament of Holy Communion. The students will pray together for guidance during the retreat. They will exchange ideas in group meditation. Finally, the students will participate in fellowship with a hayride.

If we are to confine our religious lives to church attendance we are limiting the possibilities of Christian experience. This retreat can be a means of gaining diversity in Christian living. We have come to college to learn; let us come together and learn about God.

Mooty Coached Frosh Squad Gives Schedule For '58-59

In accordance with the planned advance to University Division status in the NCAA, and thus become eligible under South-eastern Conference rules for major college play, the first official Centenary College Freshman schedule was released today by Athletic Director and Head Basketball Coach Orvis Sigler.

Under some small college eligibility rules, as have been used in the past by the Gents, a promising yearling with excellent potential, could immediately jump to the varsity roster as have many Centenary stars in former years. Such is not the case with major colleges and universities, and in order to schedule them, a bonafide first-year team and schedule must exist with players qualifying both athletically and scholastically.

Heading the youthful Gent squad will be Coach Doug Mooty, the middle-man in Centenary's popular trio of coaching brothers. A graduate of the Kings Highway institution in 1951, Mooty returned to his alma mater in 1956 as an instructor of Physical Education and Assistant Varsity Coach, taking over very ably on many occasions.

Working out daily is a talented band of freshmen, led by two high school All-American mentions, Dale Van Bibber of Dexter, Missouri, and Jerry Don Callens, hailing from Pleasant Hill, Louisiana. The group also includes Michael Ramming, an All-Stater from the St. Louis area of Missouri, and Ford King, Jr., a Texas prep All-Star and son of Coach Ford King, the well known tutor of Milt "The Chief" Williams in his pre-Centenary days.

The 20-game schedule includes games with the Pine Cone duo of Northwestern and Louisiana Tech, plus the always powerful Kilgore, Texarkana and Tyler Junior College outfits. All but one of the home encounters will be played as a preliminary to the Gents varsity games at Hirsch Memorial Youth Center.

The schedule is as follows:

CENTENARY COLLEGE FRESHMAN SCHEDULE

December:

- 1—East Texas Baptist College Haynes Gym—7:30
- 8—Tyler at Tyler—7:30
- 13—Kilgore Youth Arena—6:00

Gents, Frosh Men To Tangle Tuesday

The Centenary student body will get a preview of this year's Gent squad Tuesday, Nov. 18, at 6:15 p. m., when the Varsity team will compete against the junior varsity cagers.

Coach Sigler has stated that the varsity starting line-up is still undecided but probably will include Gerald Martello, 6'2" forward; Billy Eubanks, 5'11" guard; and Jackie Crawford, 6'3" center.

Other positions still undecided on the starting line-up will be between Leon Shaw, 5'10" guard; Bobby Schulman, 5'11" guard; Tom Hubble, 6'3" forward; Robert Scott, 6'3" forward; Larry Greene, 5'10" guard; Ralph Mason, 6'4" center, and Cecil Rhodes, 6'4" forward.

Starting line-up for the freshmen junior varsity team as given by Coach Doug Mooty will include Dale VanBibber, James Saucier, Michael Ramming, Ford King, and Jerry Callens.

The varsity squad will begin their regular season's schedule on December 2 when they clash with the East Texas Baptist College cagers in the Youth Building at the State Fair Grounds. Student tickets for the coming season will be issued to the various classes within the next two weeks.

The familiar faces of these six old Gents will see plenty of action on December 2, as the Gents meet East Texas Baptist College in the Youth Arena. They are: Bobby Schulman and Leon Shaw up front, Tulley Martello, Cecil Rhodes, Tom Hubble, and Larry Greene.

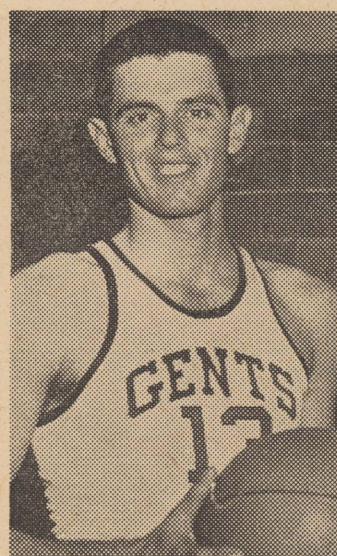

Cecil Rhodes, Gent Forward, Anticipates A Great Season

By THEO KLEMAN

"Tech's our favorite, but we like to beat them all," says Cecil Rhodes about this season's opponents. Cecil, a 6' 4", 190 pound senior is a member of the Centenary basketball team playing in the forward slot.

Cecil graduated from Fair Park High School where he lettered in both basketball and football. In basketball, he was selected for the All-State team two years in a row and also was on the All-City and All-District football squads.

He describes this year's team as a "good ball club" and comments how he and the other players like the idea of the new Pep Squad.

Cecil proves to be a real athlete, because in his freshman year at Centenary he earned a baseball letter. From then on, however, he decided to concentrate on basketball.

Cecil goes along all the way with Coach Orvis Sigler's building program and considers this year's freshman players the best bunch of young prospects he has seen in a long time. Cecil rooms with Jerry Callens, a freshman of Pleasant Hill, who made the All-American high school basketball team.

Coach Sigler considers Cecil as one of the players with the most experience on his team and says: "If Cecil comes through, he will be one of the big wheels on our team this year!"

Cecil is liked by his teammates because of his good spirit and the fact that he is hard-working. They all think that he is the man with the best hook-shot and the best screen-work on the team.

Besides playing ball, Cecil also enjoys the outdoor life of hunting and fishing.

On December 2, we know there will be one man ready to go and give every effort to win and this is tall 6'4" Cecil Rhodes in the forward slot.

SPORTS DOWNBEAT

By DON TYLER

Intramural football activity is over at the present with the exception of the All-Star game which will be played in the coming week. At press time, two teams were tied for first position in the league: BSU and Kappa Sigma.

Last week, in what may be considered the "game of the year," Kappa Sigma and BSU played to a deadlock, 12-12. After this game, Alpha Sigma Chi was the league leader until they played Kappa Sigma Tuesday of this week when they lost 13-0. To decide the championship, Kappa Sigma and BSU must have a play-off game.

Spanky McCoy still holds the unofficial intramural scoring lead with a total of over 50 points to his credit. Trailing are Roger Williams, Kappa Sigma; Steve Victory, BSU; Fred Willis, Kappa Sigma and Billy Pat Tipton, Kappa Sigma.

The scores of last week's games were: Shalters 14, ROTC 7; MSM over Generals (forfeit); BSU 19, Royal Knights 0; Kappa Sigma 12, BSU 12 (tie); Cossa's Robbers 8, Blackhawks 0; BSU 16, Cossa's Robbers 0; Kappa Sigma 13, Shalters 0; MSM 26, Royal Knights 0.

In the three games on Monday, two of which could have been important should the underdogs have won, the Blackhawks forfeited to MSM; the BSU beat Cossa's Robbers, 16-0; and the Shalters beat the Royal Knights, 29-6.

The BSU-Cossa's game was really closer than the score indicates for a few slips early in the game for the Cossa team enabled BSU to coast to victory. Early in the first half Steve Victory connected with Paul Hoge for a beautiful touchdown play. A safety and one other touchdown late in the game, gave BSU the victory, 16-0.

It seemed very possible before the game that the Royal Knights might upset the Shalters but these Shalters weren't to be denied and came away with a 29-6 win. Don Bennett scored the lone Royal Knight score while a host of Shalters scored for their team.

Tuesday, Kappa Sigma regained the leadership of intramural standing, along with BSU by defeating the Shalters 13-0. Spanky McCoy scored first on a long typical McCoy run, while Billy Pat Tipton received a pass to score the final touchdown. Only one PAT was successful as the Kappa Sigs made their seventh mural win.

MSM made another win Tuesday as they managed to account for 26 points while Royal Knights only obtained 6. Dub Fletcher had a scoring spree as he received three passes from Gene Bennett for a total of 19 of the MSM points. John Trigg scored the only 6 points for the Royal Knights on a pass from Bobby Gouthier.

A NEW STUDIO FOR THE COLLEGE SET

Enjoying a relief from the tension of mid-term exams along with the rest of the student body are personalities Francis Kelker, Marjorie Brothers, Melinda Harrison, and Buddy Daily.

Personalities Like Campus Life, Make Plans for Future Years

By LINDA FRANK

Originally from Newport News, Virginia, Melinda Harrison, freshman English major, when asked about unusual experiences replied, "Well, I'm one of five children, and that is enough!" Melinda plans to minor in languages so that she will be prepared to teach in some foreign country.

This past summer this freshman worked in Rosenfield's, "the best department store in Baton Rouge," where she did some modeling. Her home is now in Baton Rouge, Louisiana. Once when Melinda was at work, an elderly lady walked up to her and seemed to be all upset. She, in great confidence, told Melinda, "Lady, you've got something on your nose!" The elderly woman was much relieved when she found that Melinda had a beauty mark on her nose.

Dr. Joe J. Mickle interested Melinda in attending Centenary when he heard her speak at a Christian Youth Movement in Tennessee and later told her about Centenary.

It's No Fish-Tale

Chairman of the Kappa Alpha Social committee is Buddy Daily, sophomore pre-med student. Buddy has recently been elected treasurer of the sophomore class and is active in school activities. He is a member of the Yoncopin staff, Kappa Alpha Order, Intramurals council, and takes ROTC.

With an artificial red worm and a spinning rod, Buddy caught a six pound bass three weeks ago. Urged by his friends, he entered his catch in the Pak-a-Sak contest and waited to hear the results on tv. Finally when no results were announced, he called and found that the contest had been over for a month! So, he's going to have it mounted, so he can back up his fish story.

Last week-end Buddy and some friends went hunting and came back with "eleven black birds!" Some hunter! After the discouraging hunt, they rode down to see the set of the "Horse Soldiers" and, after getting caught in a colored funeral and following all wrong roads possible, much to their disappointment they found an old house and a bridge.

Junior Likes College, Faculty

"Always to laugh with a person, but never at," is the lesson Marjorie Brothers, junior elementary education major, learned last year in American history class. The professor asked a half-awake student if he had ever seen a picture of William Jennings Bryan, and Marjorie chuckled at the student's discomfort only to hear her name called and the same question directed toward her! The tables turned.

At present "my nearest aim is to study hard and pass geology."

A member of Zeta Tau Alpha, Student N. E. A., and a participant in women's intramurals, Marjorie works part-time at Aulds, Horne, and White Investment Corporation.

One of her "worst habits" is her love for good movies. "Gigi" and "The Big Country" are two good ones of the season, but "The Young Lions" is her favorite.

Someday to teach American children in Germany and thereby learn the customs of the country is the aim of this junior personality.

Navy, On Land Or Sea

Francis Kelker, senior personality, recalls the time he caught a ride on a Navy plane coming back from "boot" camp. When they started to land, they found that the hydraulic line had burst, and they had to land on Cross Lake. Some landing!

Francis is a pre-med major and has a pet, a cat he is working on in lab, whose name is "Johnette."

Last year he was co-editor of the Yoncopin and president of the junior class. This year Francis is vice president of O. D. K., president of Kappa Sigma fraternity, a member of Alpha Phi Omega, Newman Club, men's intramurals, and works with the Student Senate on the Student Affairs Committee. Also, for the second year, Francis serves as Chief Justice of the Honor Court.

Francis is in the Army Reserves, and this past summer he attended Fort Sam Houston summer camp in San Antonio, Texas. A trip to Mexico and Indiana also high-lighted his summer after attending summer school. After graduation Francis would like to enter LSU or Tulane medical school.

ON CAMPUS

Sorority members enjoyed the Cencoe Coke Party Saturday afternoon in the Student Center. Windy Nicklaus, president, welcomed the girls and told them about Cencoe and its purposes. Barbara Ann Hyde did a fine job of making nametags for all those girls who are already members of the organization. The nametags figured in a game played by the guests, which Joan Templeton won. Joan, one of the newest pledges, won a little maroon and white dog with CENCOC printed on his floppy ears. A few of the others who enjoyed the gathering were Elizabeth Orman, Nora-Bess Stafford, Patsy Miller, Norma Strother and Mary Wakeman.

Pat Moore is wearing smiles and an engagement ring that is not very old.

Pledge parties are drawing to a close, and they seem to have been enjoyed by all concerned. Alpha Xi Delta's "Beat Generation" skit entertained the Independents last Friday and Sharon Taylor was most "beat" as the senior telling freshman Linda Morris about "men."

Sue Brown starred in the Zeta Tau Alpha version of "Frankie and Johnnie" with assistance from Margetta Spears and John Bird. Jane Hanks as Sheriff Gaines and Boo Maxwell acting the part of Bartender.

A large truck carried the Kappa Sigs to the Chi Omega House Friday night for the "Louisiana Hayride." Carol Reichelt's version of "Doing What Comes Naturally" was most appealing, along with the melodic quartet composed of Pat Burns, Sara Hitchcock, Ginny Emerson and Patsy Stamps. Buddy Graham was congratulated and presented with a birthday present by Margaret and Elizabeth Reeves.

Cecile Plummer isn't getting around much this week on campus . . . seems that former Centenary student and Kappa Alpha Pat McGonagil is keeping her pretty busy. Pat is in town for a short visit.

Another Alpha Chi is now wearing the sapphire blue and emerald green colors of the scholastic fraternity. Brain Abbie Terry was initiated into this society last Sunday.

OFF CAMPUS

Spectators at the LSU game last weekend were Armand and Jim Daigle, Tommy Hickcox, Theo Kleman, Beverly Paul, Ann McLaurin, Mary Beth Bomar and about half of the rest of the campus.

Bev Wingo and Gen Compton enjoyed the weekend at Texas A & M, with Steve Victory and Gene Bennett going down for the SMU-A & M game.

Cathy Cody journeyed to Northwestern this weekend for homecoming activities there.

BACK ON

Congratulations to Buddy Graham and Patsy Stamps; all of their friends are glad to know they are going steady.

Junior Pan-Hellenic recently met and selected as officers Janet McClellan, President; Pat Burns, Vice President; and Carolyn Giles, Secretary. This organization will handle all publicity for the Pan-Hellenic dance, which is scheduled for December 12.

Neuro Surgeon Talks to AED

Alpha Epsilon Delta, national honorary premedical fraternity, sponsored a program last Thursday night which presented to the pre-medical students a neuro surgeon.

Dr. Heinz K. Faludi, neuro surgeon, presented slides and an interesting lecture to members of AED and other premedical students invited to attend. His lecture concerned the work of a neuro surgeon today.

AED presents several programs each month featuring some member of the medical field who presents, often with the use of slides, interesting facts concerning some phase of medical activity.

Immediately following the lecture, a period of discussion was held giving students time to ask questions of Dr. Faludi.

weekend last week with Genie Valentine in Oak Ridge (Louisiana).

Don't forget the dance sponsored by the Chi Omega pledges in the Student Center tomorrow night. And, when you find out what IPTA means, let us know.

Coming Playhouse Production To Cast Nail In Female Lead

Ramona Nail will play the female lead in the Marjorie Lyons Playhouse's coming production of Edmond Rostand's "Cyrano de Bergerac." Playing opposite her in the title role of Cyrano will be Alan Hart, local TV announcer. The remaining major roles will be filled as follows: De Guiche, John Williams; La Bret, Dallas King; and Christian, Al Smith. The part of Ragueneau will be cast at a later date.

Pershing Rifle Team to Pledge Cadets In Ceremony Saturday

Initiation into the Centenary Chapter of the Pershing Rifle Team will take place tomorrow, November 22, for 16 men who have survived a week of hazing. The pledges, known as "bedbugs," had to wear their uniforms Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday. All week long they have been carrying blue wooden rifles and placards with the crest and shield to be signed by every active member of the Pershing Rifles and all ROTC instructors. Definitions, such as a bedbug and leather were memorized, and given at the request of any member.

Other forms of hazing through the week included eating a "square" meal Monday noon by sitting on the first three inches of the chair and cutting the corners with his eating utensils as he raises them to his mouth.

After initiation Saturday afternoon the new members will attend the initiation banquet at which time they will be addressed by Dr. Joe J. Mickle.

Pledges eligible for initiation tomorrow are: Tally Pledger, Tommy Carter, John Green, Ward Jones, and David Forte. Also, Ron Radzikowski, Stayton Oliver, Jimmie Valentine, Billy Thompson, Jesse Morrison, Larry Madden, Jimmie Hamrick, Jon Oliver, Jack Baker, Charles Yarbrough and Dan Herndon.

Alpha Xi Delta To Host Derby

The annual Farm Derby sponsored by the Alpha Xi Delta sorority will begin tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the Moore Student Center. Plans made earlier to begin in the afternoon were changed due to the unusually wet weather, however, all games will be held tonight in the Student Center.

Among the games, a pie eating contest will be given which places members of the faculty against each other in an interesting affair. At the present, Mr. Cates is the reigning champion.

Other games include a corn shucking contest, three legged foot races, and a hog calling contest. Abbey Terry was the winner in the Hog calling contest last year. Prizes will be awarded the winners of each contest. The cafeteria plans to serve a farm menu at lunch.

To conclude the evening, Dr. Sidney Rice will call a square dance, which will be followed by regular ballroom dancing.

Knight To Head Commerce Frat

Delta Tau Omicron, honorary commerce fraternity, held an open house in the Moore Student Center Sunday, November 16, from 4:30 to 5:30. Refreshments were served and an informal acquaintance was made of active members, faculty members, and visiting students.

Officers of the group are Coan Knight, president; Cecil Plummer, vice-president; and Pat Fester-vand, secretary. Faculty members present at the meeting were Dr. and Mrs. Pate, Mrs. Menefree, Mr. Armstrong, and Mr. Waites.

Purpose of the meeting was to introduce the newly elected officers and initiate to the student body, and to incite a higher scholastic achievement among commerce majors. Approximately twenty students were present at this annual affair of Delta Tau Omicron.

The production is now in rehearsal after two and one-half weeks of casting and is scheduled to "hit the boards" of the playhouse early in January. Directed by Joseph B. Gifford, the drama boasts a large cast, including the following Centenary students: Robin Hubert, Mother Marguerite; Jim Daigle, First Cadet and Bellerose; David Calhoun, Second Cadet and Porter; Sammy Kilman, Third Cadet and Cut-Purse; Tommy Hickox, Fourth Cadet and Second Man; David White, Fifth Cadet and a Lackey; Charles Morton, Sixth Cadet and Guardsman; Randy Armour, First Poet and Ligniere; Jerry Fanelli, Second Poet and Jodelet; Joe Pat Keeton, Third Poet and Comedian; Paula Martin, Flower Girl, Actress, and Sister Claire; Jerry Mitchell, Second Cavalier and Muskateer; and Beverly Bledsoe, Beverly Paul, and Gretchen Stivinson as pages.

The plot of the play is, roughly, as follows:

Plot Centers Around Cyrano

Cyrano de Bergerac is a witty, courageous, and dashing young man who leaves little to be desired—except—he has an unbelievably large nose. He has a terrible complex about his nose, in fact, in the first scene of the play he kills a man who made sport of it. This complex proves to be his undoing, for it is for shame of his physical appearance that he hesitates to speak of his great love for his witty and beautiful cousin, Roxanne.

Roxanne falls in love with a handsome young cadet, Christian de Neuville, who, sad to say, has no wit and is unable to "court" Roxanne with flowery words and phrases. Cyrano agrees to help the young man compose love letters to Roxanne and thus, indirectly, wins the fair maiden—for Christian. The young man is killed, however, on the field of battle with all of Cyrano's hopes of telling Roxanne the truth dying with him.

Cyrano Is Killed in Final Act

Finally in the last act, an assassin drops a log of wood on his head and mortally wounds him. Thus seriously wounded, Cyrano makes it to his regular Saturday meeting with Roxanne. While there, hiding his wound, he asks her if he might read Christian's letter. He reads it aloud, not looking at the page and Roxanne discovers that it was actually he who had made love to her. She falls at his feet and tells him she loves him, but it is too late.

Elected to lead the Gent spirit for this year are Cheerleaders Mary Beth Bomar, Jeanne Kelso, Jen Houchin, Wayne Stoddard, Jay Lang, and Jerry Jouette. They will appear at the Centenary-ETBC game on December 2.

Sigler Coached Gents Meet ETBC Dec. 2

By Don Tyler

The last football will hardly be put away or the last touchdown scored when some several thousand fans will file into the Youth Building on the State Fair Grounds next Tuesday night, December 2, to watch basketball take the limelight away from the gridiron.

Geology Students Pledge SGE Frat

Joe Mosher, Joe Hall, and Phillip Dickey are the newest pledges of the geology fraternity on campus, Sigma Gamma Epsilon. The boys are sporting the beards and will keep them for a period of three weeks. Besides this the boys must each have a pledge project.

The fraternity is planning two field trips for December. On December 6 the group will venture to the area around Hot Springs, Arkansas, where they will search for paleozoic rocks. On December 15 they will visit the salt mine in Winnfield. Anyone who has had eight hours of geology is eligible to attend these field trips and can sign up for them in room 117.

Chemistry Group To Hold Initiation

Tonight at 6:00 p. m. Alpha Sigma Chi, honorary chemistry fraternity, will initiate the following people: George Acton, Alwynelle Self, Richard Haynes, Evelyn Varin, Carlton Chambers, Danny Caudle, Tommy Hickcox, Suzanne McCallum, Leigh McClure, Marie Maranto, Ann Montgomery, Gill Snyder, Eleanor Lewis, James Huddleston, James Crosslin, Jonas Voros, Gladden Willis, Pete Boggs, Carl Mayhew, and Steve Victory.

Officers of the group are Sammy Maxey, president; Bryan Sparks, vice president; Margie Dukes, secretary; and John Haynes, treasurer.

To celebrate this momentous occasion the 1958-59 version of the Centenary Gents will host the cagers of East Texas Baptist College from Marshall, Texas, as game-time for the night is 8 p.m.

Tuesday's season opener will be the first public appearance of the Gentlemen under the new head coach Orvis Sigler as the Gents begin their first season in application for admission to the University division of NCAA.

Maroon and White Coach Orvis Sigler said that it's "kinda hard to say" who will start in this opening game with ETBC because he is "not sure." He ventured to say further that Jackie Crawford of Grand Prairie, Texas; Gerald Martello, Natchez, Miss; Cecil Rhodes, Shreveport; Billy Eubanks, Tuscaloosa, Ala.; and Leon Shaw, Duncan, Oklahoma were the probable starting line-ups. Coach Sigler, when asked about ETBC said, "Well, we don't know much about East Texas Baptist but we are also an unknown quantity."

At forwards, 6-2 Gerald Martello, 6-4 Cecil Rhodes, 6-3 Tom Hubble, 6-3 Robert Scott, and 6-5 Jerry Wiggins are all in the running to fill the two open spots, with Martello and Rhodes the likely candidates.

At center post, Jackie Crawford, 6-8; Wayne Dubose, 6-6; Ralph Mason, 6-4; and 6-7 sophomore Andy Teal are neck and neck for the top berth, with all seeing quite a bit of action throughout the year. Crawford is almost a sure-shot for a starter.

Displaying the attire they will wear tonight at the annual Alpha Xi Delta Farm Derby are a few members of the sorority. The games and dance will begin tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the Moore Student Center with the student body invited.

Lose A Minute - And Save A Life!

Wednesday we will begin this year's Thanksgiving season. Each holiday season is darkened by the occurrence of many unnecessary traffic accidents. We have been lucky here at Centenary for there have been few in the recent years; at La. Tech and other schools, however, this is not the case for on several instances a car load of the college's best students have been killed or injured in a traffic accident—to end or mar a young and productive life.

When you leave for home next week you probably will travel in the afternoon, around 4 to 8 p.m., at which time most deaths occur on the highway. Reasons for such accidents are generally excessive speed, not staying in the right of way, under the influence of alcohol, and not obeying traffic signs and markers. One point which most of us do not realize is that 84 per cent of traffic accidents occur in clear or only cloudy weather—probably because in bad weather the driver tends to drive slower and is more careful.

A study by two University of Nebraska professors, in which they clocked cars by radar, found that drivers in the 16-25 age group have the least regard for speed laws. Few college students, considered to be intelligent and practical, seem to realize that drivers reduce accidents 90 per cent by increasing their travel time only 10 per cent.

Two drivers participated in a road test on a 295-mile stretch of highway in Kansas. Their performance figures, under typical driving conditions, are enlightening:

	Top Speed reached (m.p.h.)	Average Speed	No. Cars passed	Elapsed driving time
DRIVER "A"	65	46	126	6 hrs. 25 min.
DRIVER "B"	50	43	62	6 hrs. 50 min.

Driver "A" saved only 25 minutes in nearly 300 miles; he passed twice as many cars (each passing being a potential accident), used 11 per cent more gasoline and 50 per cent more oil. Was it worth it?

With this holiday season, let's all think for a minute, is it really worth the danger involved in reckless and careless driving? Chances of an accident can be lessened simply by adding a few minutes on the road in traveling time, by checking the car for mechanical difficulties, by being on the alert, and remembering that while you may be the best driver in the world, what about the other fellow!

ROTC To Sponsor Annual Ball, Dec. 5

On December 5, the Centenary ROTC Battle Group will hold its annual Military Ball in the Moore Student Center from 9:00 until 12:00 p.m.

The theme of the ball will be built around the presentation of the court and the crowning of the queen. Bill Bryant has announced that the decorations will be centered around the military symbols and colors with the ROTC insignia above the queen's throne.

The queen and her court will be presented through an arch of steel formed by the advanced cadet students. The queen and princess will be chosen from the seven Centenary Battle Group sponsors. The remaining five sponsors will comprise the court. The Centenary ROTC students will elect the queen and princess.

Cecile Plummer is the chairman of the committee in charge of the preparations, and James Durham is co-chairman. Bill Bryant is on the committee in charge of decorations, and Gail Delaney is responsible for the refreshments.

The invitations committee is headed by Wilma Jo Walters. Carey Davis is in charge of finances. Winston Miller is responsible for correspondence, and Jerry Winterrowd and David Herndon are on the band committee.

A number of government and military leaders from the surrounding area will be invited to attend the dance. Also, the college administration and faculty members will receive invitations to the ball.

Student Writers' Deadline Set, Feb. 1

The sixth annual meeting of the College Writers' Society of Louisiana will be held on Saturday, March 28, 1959, here at Centenary. At that time, prizes for student writers will be awarded in five divisions: Familiar Essay, Feature Article, One-act Play, Poetry, and Short-story.

In each division there will be three awards: First prize, $25; Second prize, $10; and third prize, $5. A "sweepstakes" prize of $100 bond will be given for the best contest entry, and a high-point cup will be given the winning school.

This competition is open to all full-time undergraduate students enrolled in Louisiana colleges or universities which belong to the Louisiana College Writers' Society.

Neither the author's name nor his school's name may appear on the manuscript but must be entered along with the title on the official entry blank. The blanks must be signed by the student and the local faculty representative. All manuscripts with accompanying entry blanks must be submitted by the faculty representative to Dr. Jack Teagarden.

"Chapel is a Glorified Study Hall"

The above statement is a consensus of the Centenary student body concerning the required chapel program held every Thursday. There are several reasons for the arrival at such an opinion by the students. They stem from the idea that it is ridiculous to lower a student's grade average and require him to take a course to make up for his deficiency in chapel attendance simply because he doesn't attend the required number of programs, which merely consume his time without being any real benefit to him, religiously or otherwise.

How can a minister accustomed to preaching morals to a congregation of people worried about their salvation possibly say anything on the college level that would interest even a student of average mentality? Certainly there is already enough stress being placed on the worldly vices of today's college generation—drinking, cheating on exams, and parking in cars with young men—that students shouldn't be subjected to hearing it in chapel.

Many chapel speakers cannot be classed with the "non-entertainers" mentioned above. They catch the attention of the students by their continual spouting of jokes. It's a decided fact almost anybody will listen to a joke, even if it's flat. But of how much religious or civic benefit is a joke? How lasting an effect on its hearer does a joke have after its telling?

There has been much comment on the seating arrangement in chapel; that is, the use of the balcony to seat an overflowing crowd. The result is the continuous roar of noise that prevails over each chapel program. People are talking among themselves and getting class assignments. A remark frequently made on the way to chapel is, "Guess I'll go to chapel today. I've cut too many times already, and besides, I need to study."

There is a positive side. Many of the lyceum programs are interesting, and at the same time, of educational value to those present. Occasionally there is even a good speaker. But generally speaking, chapel is not the stimulating program it was created to be. And that is why it has become a "glorified study hall."

Let's Support the Gents

As we return to school following the Thanksgiving holidays, the Gents will begin a new era of basketball here at Centenary. On December 2, the basketball squad will meet East Texas Baptist College as a preliminary to a string of nationally rated university division teams of the NCAA.

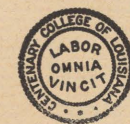

Such an endeavor is not a small one in anyone's books, for such teams as Texas A & M, Loyola, Tulane, Oklahoma City University, and Kentucky Wesleyan will be included on the 1958-59 roster. To meet the demand of such big-time basketball, Coach Orvis Sigler has been drafted from West Point to fill the position formerly held by Harold Mooty.

Coach Sigler should be commended on his interest and desire to see the success of the Gent Club. His earnestness has been felt by all who have come in contact with him. Coach Sigler was a primary factor in the formation of the new frosh co-ed Pep Squad recently organized, and his convictions have affected every members of the ball squad.

Tuesday night, in the varsity-frosh game, the Gents showed that they were determined to have a good ball club this year. The earnestness of each member was evident as he played on the court. The team has worked hard so far and deserves the student body support throughout the year.

To show full support of the student body behind this major undertaking of the ball club, we all should attend the pep rally and game on the following Tuesday night. A meeting with Coach Sigler will be of interest to all and should mean much to spurring the Gents on to a good season.

Three Centenary Cagers who will see action on the Gent squad for the first time this year are Bob Scott, Jackie Crawford, and Billy Eubanks. Scott lettered for the Gents in 1954 and is from Ringgold, La., one of the few native Louisianians on the roster. Crawford was a standout in the varsity-frosh game Tuesday night when he lead the Gent scoring with 20 points. This useful Gentleman, 6'8", hails from Texas, of course. Eubanks, from Alabama, possesses a deadly set shot from the circle, but it is his smooth ball-handling that has really impressed observers.

Thumbnail Sketches

Meet The 1958 - 59 Centenary Cagers

GERALD MARTELLO — This Natchez, Mississippi native is counted on carrying a big portion of the Gents scoring load this season. Possessor of a fine jump shot, Martello appeared in 25 of the Gents 26 games last year. "Tulley" as he is often called, is an aggressive rebounder despite his medium height.

LEON SHAW—The "Go-Man" in Coach Sigler's fast break patterns, "Gabby," as he is known on and off the court, is a real "take charge guy." Possessing exceptional speed, he is a good passer and dribbler, and is at his scoring best on the drive.

CECIL RHODES — Always possessed with great potential, the Gents could have a fine year if "Moses" comes into his own. A fourth year man on the Gents roster, Rhodes has shown flashes of brilliance both at the hoop and on the boards. He also hooks well from off the post, and can mix it up inside when the going gets rough.

BOBBY SCHULMAN — Another veteran scheduled for heavy duty

this year. An excellent ball handler, "Bo" has the speed and know-how to operate either in the backcourt or up front. Bobby has a fine touch from the outside and needs but a split second to get set.

TOM HUBBLE—A first line replacement last year, Tom is expected to battle for a starting berth this season. A strong performer on the boards, his size and determination make it tough for the opposition to push him around. Early workouts seem to indicate that he may have found the scoring range for this year.

ROBERT SCOTT — The oldest man on the Gent roster, returning to finish his education after a stint in the Air Force. Bob lettered in 1954, and now is showing little effect from the layoff, and is considered a good bet to start. He can tip on the offensive boards with the best of them.

LARRY GREENE—Fast, tireless, and aggressive is possibly the best description of this hard-working Gent playmaker. While only a sophomore last year, Larry saw action in 25 of 26 skirmishes, and although a bit too aggressive, he never-the-less is a crowd pleaser.

BILLY EUBANKS—After sitting out last year at Centenary, due to a freshman season at Alabama, this quiet, unassuming young man will in all probability "quarterback" the Gent offense. While watching play, you hardly know he's around until he gets his hands on the ball, but then he takes command. "Weasel" directs traffic with all the poise of a Times Square cop.

JACKIE CRAWFORD—This talented youngster could very easily hold the key to a good or bad year for the 58-59 Gents. Possessing all the tools to become an outstanding performer, it is merely a question of just how quickly he can adapt himself to the more intricate pattern of varsity competition.

RALPH MASON—One of four greenlings to earn promotion to the varsity this year, "Stretch" comes with all the credentials of a future star. Hailing from Selma, Alabama, he won 8 letters in his prep career, including All-State football honors at end. Still suffering from sophomoritis, a degree of certainty, the rugged frontliner could be a pleasant surprise as the season rolls along.

ANDY TEAL—The second tallest man on the squad, up for a try at the varsity after a fine freshman season. The young skyscraper played his high school basketball in Tennessee, gaining three letters. Can do a job on the boards, but must develop confidence in his shooting.

JERRY WIGGINS—Another of the tall crop of freshmen making the jump to a varsity post, "Wigg" is a product of Coach Elton Womack of Hall Summit High, at Hall Summit, Louisiana. A good shot from the key and shows adeptness at sweeping the boards. Still may be a year away, but will gain valuable experience this season.

WAYNE DUBOSE—An increased spark of confidence is all that's needed to make the "Spider" prime varsity material. Swift and agile for all of his 6'6", the Alabama youth put together a brilliant high school record. Has a good eye inside, enjoys mixing it on defense. Wayne lists frog gigging as his favorite hobby.

Activities Stated For 'Gent' Day

Tuesday, December 2, has been set aside for this year's Gentlemen's Holiday. Activities of the day will begin with a compulsory chapel at 9:15 a. m., at which time a pep rally will be had for ushering in the Gent basketball season for 1958. Present at this chapel will be the cheerleaders, pep squad, and the basketball team.

At 8:00 p. m. the Gentlemen will take the court as they will battle the East Texas Baptist College team and begin a season of NCAA university basketball. At this time the cheerleaders will be presented in their new maroon and white uniforms for the first time along with the newly organized frosh co-ed pep squad.

Kulture Korner, the cultural interest program of the Methodist Student Movement, will have as its guest speaker tonight, Dr. Webb Pomeroy.

Dr. Pomeroy, head of the department of religion at Centenary, is an authority on hypnosis and will speak on that subject. The student body is invited to hear Dr. Pomeroy in the Religious Center Friday, November 21, at 7:30 p. m.

Varsity Squad Outlasts Frosh In Preview Tuesday, 57-49

Centenary's 1958-59 Basketball varsity squad, led by a new center, Jackie Crawford, proved that experience pays off Tuesday night as they managed to battle off an aggressive freshman squad and win the game, 57-49.

Approximately 600 students, faculty, and fans witnessed the first showing of the newly organized freshman squad and this year's version of the Gents. Most of the visitors doubtlessly expected the not-too-highly-rated varsity to be embarrassed by the frosh group that Coaches Orvis Sigler and Doug Mooty had assembled. The frosh squad led for two minutes with a meager 3-2 lead, but the big 'uns opened up with an avalanche of baskets to grab a 14-4 lead before their yearling stablemates could collect another two-pointer. The rest of the game the varsity put up a hard struggle to keep ahead of a determined young bunch.

Under the new NCAA University division ruling, no freshmen will be allowed to play on the varsity squad. They must save all their energy until after the freshmen season is over.

Pre-game festivities will feature a basketball game between Byrd and Fair Park high schools. This game will begin at 6:00 o'clock p.m. The Centenary chapter of the Pershing Rifle Team will be present at the 8:00 game and will perform at the half-time ceremonies.

The newly elected Cheerleaders Mary Beth Bomar, Jeanne Kelso, Jen Houchin, Jerry Jouett, Jay Lang, and Wayne Stoddard will perform for the first time this year in their new maroon and white uniforms.

Also, a first for this season will be the appearance of the new frosh co-ed Pep Squad in full uniform. This fifty-strong cheering section is under the direction of their president, Sara Hitchcox.

All students are reminded to pick up their Student Activity Tickets in order that they will not have to pay for admission to games for the season.

Scoring honors for the contest went to Jackie Crawford, without much of a hassle. Houston University transferee, the six-eight varsity pivotman, pitched in 10 of 19 field goal attempts to total 20 points without the benefit of a single free throw. None of his teammates broke into the double figures, however, Cecil Rhodes gave a good showing as he managed to get nine points for the night. Robert Scott, Gerald Martello, and Larry Greene also were a big help as each collected six points to his credit.

The frosh squad was paced by two Louisiana men—little Larry Saucier with 12 points and Jerry Callens with 11. Saucier's ball work reminded many people of the days of Ron Viskoski, flashy Gent guard of 1956. Other stand-outs for the yearlings' squad were Dale Van Bibber, Ford King, and John Vasilopoulous, a "hold-out" transfer from West Point.

EVERYTHING FOR THE COLLEGE MAN

Four people who seemingly were prepared for this week's rain are personalities Ruth Velotta, Bill Bryant, Sondra Brink, and Tom Hadley. (Photograph by Bryant)

Personalities Enjoy Knitting, Music, Art

By Linda Frank

"When I make my first million, I'm going to travel everywhere," says freshman voice major, Ruth Velotta. "Ruthie" recently sang a soprano solo "Hallelujah" by Mozart in the Centenary Rhapsody in View.

This summer Ruth took a Caribbean Cruise and spent "ten wonderful days traveling." Places of interest she visited were Port Antonio, Jamaica, Ciudad Trejillo, San Juan, and St. Thomas.

Treasurer of the Phi Beta pledge class, this freshman is also a member of the Newman club and sings with the Civic Opera Association. Last year Ruth alternated the lead in The Old Maid and The Thief with Martha Dickens.

When Ruth walked in choir practice for the first time, some of the choir members were shocked for they had expected a 28-year-old woman and here she was, "another one of those cute freshman."

'Heavy' dater

With his painting "Retrospection," Bill Bryant, senior art major, won first prize in the 1958 Holiday in Dixie art contest. Bill serves as the student assistant in the Art lab under Mr. Williard Cooper, and is president of the Centenary Art Club.

"Rem," so called by the choir members because of his artistic talents, is interested in music, especially contemporary opera. He was president of the Centenary Choir last year and this year holds the office of treasurer.

Bill picked up the hobby of photography while he was on the choir trip to Japan in 1956. Dr. Joe J. Mickel got him interested in cameras while over in Japan, and now Bill is the photographer for the Conglomerate.

While trying to play Sir Walter Raleigh and carry a girl over a mudhole in Korea, Bill and the girl fell in the mud! (Poor eyesight or a heavy girl!)

After graduate work Bill "might be a psychologist and teach art," or he "might be an artist and teach psychology." He is just not sure about his future occupation.

Knitting Club

President of the Knitting Club of Suite 204 (Hardin Hall), is Sondra Brink, sophomore speech major from Magnolia, Arkansas. "Brink" saw some old maids knitting one day and decided to "join the rank." At the present time she is knitting a "huge, bulky, blue sweater."

"Sam," so dubbed because of her secret ambition, recalls the time she was to attend an important dance, and since all the beauty shops she knew of were all booked up, she called this new shop to have her hair set. Well, about two hours before her appointment, she discovered that the beauty shop was for "Colored Only."

"Brink" is an active member of the Canterbury Club and is interested in ballet in which she took lessons from a fellow student Linda Byrd. (Sophomore from "Belcher," Louisiana.)

KA Duck Hunter

The only Kappa Alpha pledge with an average of "59" on his pledge lessons is Tommy Hadley, junior personality. Tommy says "I've really got to study or I won't get initiated!"

"Every day someone asks me about the white spot in my hair," says this junior when asked about the patch of cotton-colored hair above his forehead.

Tommy is working for a divisional major in psychology, government, and history and after graduation, he plans to attend law school at Texas University or Tulane. His freshman year was spent at Texas A & M.

This past week-end Tommy went duck hunting on Lake Bistineau and while in the middle of the lake, the motor sheared a pin. So, after getting lost, he made his way back to shore having paddled five long miles. When asked if he had any luck, he said, "all I brought back was a cold!"

ON CAMPUS

By Peggy Longino

Memories of Rhapsody . . . a terrific job by the choir, as usual . . . Windene Nicklaus leading the choir on with "Dedication" and later waltzing with Jack Carpenter . . . "Magic Moments" cleverly done by Don Tyler, Margie Dukes, Kay Cooper, Jay Koonce and Fred Schwendimann . . . Abbie Terry and Linda Walters in perfect harmony at two pianos . . . all the other delightful novelties and just flat wood music.

Up to the University of Arkansas last week was Ann Bostick, enjoying the big Homecoming celebration.

David Calhoun, Dave White, Sammy Kilman, Jim Daigle and Tommy Hickcox will be on stage in the current play at the Playhouse. Their unique roles are those of cadets.

New national art fraternity on campus will be Kappa Pi. This is a national honorary with membership for outstanding art students. Bill Bryant, president of the Art Club, says that members will exhibit work both at other schools and on campus.

Dale Rose John, Mary Murphree, Lawrence Waschka, John Butcher and Ginny Emerson were among those present at the Delta Tau Omicron, Commerce Fraternity, tea last Sunday. Member Cecile Plummer served the guests.

The LSU-Tulane game this week-end will set the scene for a visit by Margaret Powell, Mary Lou Gassen, Margaret Reeves and Elizabeth Reeves. Joan Templeton will also be journeying down for the game and also to get a lot of "party" in.

Sulphur will furnish the setting for the wedding of Elizabeth Patterson during the Thanksgiving holidays. Tanne McDade plans to attend Elizabeth as Maid of Honor, and Mary Lou Gassen will serve as Bridesmaid. Houston will be the goal of Windene Nicklaus for the holidays.

Linda Walters received a very Happy Birthday present this week. Charles Bird presented her with a beautiful engagement ring.

Jill Landis presided at the IPTA dance Saturday night as the Chi Omega Owl. Guests were informed that IPTA stood for "It Pays To Advertise" and, sure 'nough, it did. A few enjoying the dance were Leon Bain, Carlos Vallamarin, Anita Thomasson, Helen Gully and Georgina Lechuga.

A few old friends were glad to see Al Dohoney home for the last weekend.

From all reports, the Interdenominational Retreat was a huge success. Sara Del Stevens should be awarded a trophy as best joke teller at the Hayride.

Choir Engages In 'LaBoheme'

The Centenary College Choir engaged in another area of musical production this last week as they sang the choral parts of "LaBoheme." This venture into the opera was made under the auspices of the Shreveport Symphony Association on Tuesday and Wednesday night, the 18th and 19th.

Singing the romantic leads of the production were: Mimi, Ann Hagens; Rodolfo, Hall Lyons; Musetta, Jasmine Egan; and Marcello, Ken Dooley.

Gerald Martello smashes past an ETBC defender to make a driving layup in Tuesday's game which Centenary won by a score of 64-52. Gents in the background are Jackie Crawford, 42, and Tom Hubble, 14.

Jeanne Kelso Chosen Basketball Sweetheart

Jeanne Kelso, Sophomore beauty and cheerleader, was chosen by the members of the basketball squad to be their 1958-1959 "Basketball Sweetheart". The presentation was made in a ceremony held in the Moore Student Center after the Gents made their first win of the season.

MSM Programs Show UN Work

Last night, the Methodist Student Movement presented an award-winning color film dealing with the work of the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund, UNICEF, entitled "Assignment Children." The film starred Danny Kaye as he outlined a trip around the world for the United Nations.

"The UN in Action" was the subject for discussion, and members of the WSCS of the Mangum Memorial Methodist Church served as hostesses at a social hour following the discussion.

The program was a follow-up to another talk given by Dr. Bryant Davidson earlier in connection with the United Nations and a united, peaceful world.

Aufaits to Hold Christmas Party

Monday, December 15, is the date set by Aufait for their Christmas party at the Aufait house on Woodlawn. The party will be held in conjunction with the Centenary Gentry.

In charge of decorations is Evelyn Maples and in charge of the social arrangements are Sandra LaRue and Kelli Mollet. The group is also planning a Sadie Hawkins day and dance for the latter part of December.

Presentation of the queen and her court was the climax of the Gentlemen's Holiday for the year. Chosen as members of Miss Kelso's court were "Boo" Maxwell, escorted by Gerald Martello; Pat Chambliss, escorted by Jerry Wiggins; Frankie Stokes, escorted by Billy Eubanks; and Sue Brown, escorted by Larry Greene.

Miss Kelso was escorted to her throne by Leon Shaw who also made the crowning of the queen. All members of the court were wearing corsages presented to them by the basketball team in honor of their choice.

After the crowning, the queen and her court opened the dancing for the night with Eddie Kozak's band as they danced under spotlights.

Arrangements for the night were under the administration of Margaret and Elizabeth Reeves, Larry McKinstry, and Nancy Dickinson. The queen's throne was placed at the south entrance to the Student Center and was of the Maroon and White color scheme.

Miss Kelso and her court were honored in being the first basketball court to be presented on the Gentleman's Holiday program. Last year's choice of the team was given to two Centenary girls Betty Will Larsch and Lynn Knochs.

Choice of the sweetheart and court was made by the Gent squad and the results kept a secret until their presentation last Tuesday night.

Military Ball Tonight To Name Cadets' Choice As Queen, Court

Tonight the seventh annual Military Ball will be held in the Moore Student Center and will highlight the presentation of this year's queen and her court beginning at 9:00 p.m. The results of the Cadets choice will be kept secret until presentation tonight.

Cadet 1st Lt. Tom Hubble will present the arriving guests to members of the receiving line which will include Lt. Col. and Mrs. Robert Scott, President and Mrs. Joe J. Mickle, Cadet Major James Durham, commanding officer of the Centenary Battle Group, and Miss Cecile Plummer, coed sponsor.

The theme for the ball will be built around the presentation of the court and the crowning of the queen. The queen's throne will be placed on a raised platform, set against a colorful backdrop employing the Army ROTC symbol, a gold torch on a field of red, white and blue. A display of flags will carry out the military motif of the decorations.

Arch of Steel

The queen and members of her court will pass under the traditional arch of steel, formed by the raised sabers of the cadet officers. The aisle down which the royal court will march will be marked off with cords of gold.

The queen and princess will be chosen from the seven Centenary sponsors; the remaining five sponsors will comprise the court. Cadet Major Durham, as commanding officer of the battle group, will present the queen with an arm spray of red roses. The crown will be placed on the queen's head by Col. Scott, professor of Military Science and Tactics at Centenary.

Plummer in Charge

Cecile Plummer is the chairman of the committee in charge of the preparations, and James Durham is co-chairman. Bill Bryant is on the committee in charge of decorations, and Gail Delaney is responsible for the refreshments.

The invitation committee is headed by Wilma Jo Walters. Carey Davis is in charge of finances. Winston Miller is responsible for correspondence, and Jerry Winterrowd and David Herndon are on the band committee.

A number of government and military leaders from the surrounding area will be invited to attend the dance. Also, the college administration and faculty members will receive invitations to the ball.

Pan-Hellenic Sets Flame Dance Date

Friday, December 12, is the date set for the Flame Dance sponsored by Pan-Hellenic. It will be held in the Moore Student Center from 8 o'clock until 11 with music by Eddie Kozak and his band.

Though the dance is not specified formal, semi-formal, or informal, girls are requested to wear any type of red dress. At the dance all sorority pledges will be introduced. Everyone is invited to attend.

Bookstore Collections Await College Reader

By KATHIE MACK

Centenary students have the opportunity to begin their own library while in college. This is made possible by the bookstore in the Moore Student Center, where students may purchase almost any book which they desire or order it if it is not already carried. By ordering through a local jobber or directly to New York City, the bookstore may purchase paperbacks from such companies as Bantam, New American Library, Cardinal, Mentor, Signet, Signet Key, Penguin, Anchor, and Pocket Library.

One of the unusual types of books carried by the store is that put out by Puffin. It is a series put out for children with attractive illustrations, which could be just the thing for that Christmas present for a younger brother or sister.

However, for college students there is a wide variety of books from the classic period to the modern period.

From the Nineteenth Century are "Madame Bovary," "Silas Marner," "A Tale of Two Cities," and Stendahl's "Scarlet and Black."

Scientific books include "Creation of the Universe," "Origin of the Species," Julian Huxley's "Evolution in Action," and "Sex and the Nature of Things."

All those who avail themselves of the resources present will find entertainment, as well as a background for their studies, no matter what their major field is.

Gents, Washington to Duel Tuesday

Kappa Sigma Wins Final Tilt, Become '58 Football Champs

A fired up Kappa Sigma football squad led by Spanky McCoy managed to outlast a determined BSU team to win the Intramural football championship for 1958-59 last Tuesday, November 25, in a game played under full flood-lights.

Approximately 200 persons crowded the sidelines at the ROTC field to watch these rivals decide the championship and witness the first time BSU has lost the football championship in three years.

Early in the game Spanky McCoy passed to Warren West in the end zone for the only touchdown of the game. The conversion try failed and the score remained 6-0 as Kappa Sigma fought off the BSU passing attack.

In first downs, Kappa Sigma led with five to BSU's four. Particular standouts in the game were: Kappa Sigma—Spanky McCoy, Fred Willis, Warren West, Billy Pat Tipton, Roger Williams and Charles Byrd; BSU—Steve Victory, Bobby Bailey, Jess Hoffpauir, Monroe Smith, Paul Hogue, and Craig Duran.

Frosh Squad Loses Opener to ETBC

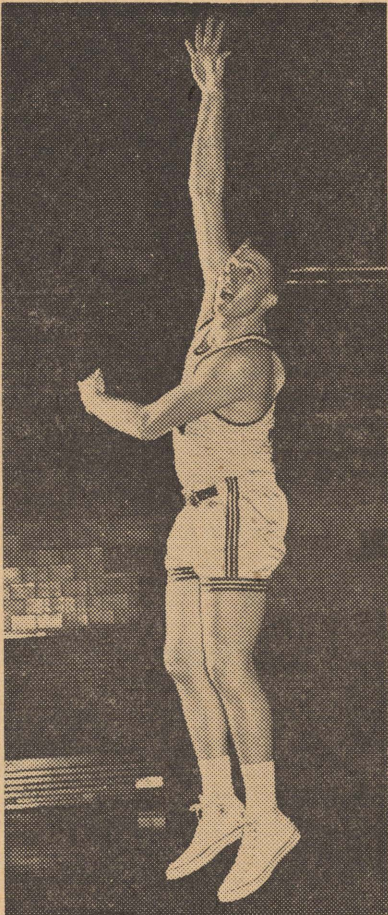

The Gent Frosh squad lost their opener game Monday night in the last five seconds after taking the lead for the first time in the second half. Jerry Blankenship made a driving one-hander that enabled Junior Varsity win the close duel 53-51.

The Gent squad put up a great last half surge as they came from a 31 to 24 halftime score to the lead by a score of 33 to 31. Later, the yearlings, coached by Doug Mooty seemed to have padded their lead to 47-43 at the three minute mark.

The last few minutes were those of trading the lead and ended in the final lay-up by ETBC. Dale Van Bibber was the big gun in the Gents' second half comeback as he led the frosh scoring with 16. Others in the double-figures were Mike Rammings with 12 and Larry Saucier with 11. Also, Jerry Calens last minute shots kept the Gents on top up to the final seconds.

The big gun in scoring for Gents in the opener with ETBC was Tully Martello. Martello not only filled the baskets with 21 points, but also was a standout on the backboards.

Cadets Receive PR Promotions

Changes in the staff and promotions in Company O-6 of the Pershing Rifles were announced this week by Cadet Captain James Durham. The new executive officer is Cadet Second Lieutenant Winston Miller, formerly S-3. Cadet Second Lieutenant Charles Clifford, formerly S-2, is the new S-3. Filling the position of S-2 is Cadet Sergeant First Class Tommy Hickox, the new man on the staff.

Promoted to Cadet Sergeant-First-Class: Cadet Sergeant Tommy Hickox, Shreveport.

To Cadet Sergeant: Cadet Privates Tommy Carter, Ward Jones, and Edward Pledger, Shreveport; and Cadet Private Jack Green of Lottie.

Cadet Private Oliver Stayton of Shreveport was promoted to Cadet Corporal.

Promoted to Cadet Private-First-Class were Cadet Privates Jack Baker, Larry Madden, Jon Oliver, Jimmie Hamric and Jesse Morrison of Shreveport; Cadet Private Ronald Radzikowski, Ringgold; and Cadet Private Charles Yarbrough of Prescott, Arkansas.

Double-Header Next Challenge After First Win 64-52

The Centenary Gentlemen will attempt to begin a winning streak early in the season on Tuesday as they meet Washington University of St. Louis in a double-header which also features a match of LSU-Arkansas.

This night will probably be one of the most well attended of the season for it will match arch-rivals Louisiana Bengals and the razorbacks of Arkansas.

Centenary began the season and won their first game in grand style Tuesday night as they made a valiant second half fight to overcome the East Texas Baptist Tigers by a score of 64-52 before a crowd of 2,873 fans.

Both teams appeared not to be able to find the range in the first half as the score stood at 26-21 at the mid-buzzer. The Gents increased their lead by a flurry of basket work to a 32-23 count soon after play resumed. Then the ETBC Tigers poured it on and managed to tie it up 32-32 with ten minutes still left in the game.

A duel for the lead lasted until Gerald Martello put the Gents on top with a driving layup, 46-43. Bobby Schulman and Martello then teamed up to break the game wide open with some five minutes to go, and the Gents won it hands down as a chant began from the crowd, "We want a holiday."

Martello was the big gun for the Gents spelling the difference as he poured in 21 points on 9 field goals and 3 charities. Jackie Crawford also was high with 18 points as he held the crowd spell-bound several times with his long jump-shots.

SPORTS DOWNBEAT

By DON TYLER

During this week the paper staff got together to select a Conglomerate All-Star team for intramural football and also the selection of the Most Valuable Player award.

The MVP award unsurprisingly went to the workhorse of the Intramural champs, Kappa Sig, Spanky McCoy. McCoy scored over 60 points in intramural games this season and figured in nearly every score of the Kappa Sigmas. Steve Victory, BSU, was the runner-up for consideration.

Further, the staff selected a first and second team for the 1958-59 intramural football season:

- ALL-STAR FOOTBALL TEAM
- First Team:
- Spanky McCoy, Kappa Sigma
 - Steve Victory—BSU
 - Paul Hodge—BSU
 - Howard Collins—Kappa Alpha
 - Roger Williams—Kappa Sigma
 - Billy Pat Tipton—Kappa Sigma
 - Fred Willis—Kappa Sigma
 - Carl Mayhew—Alpha Sigma Chi
 - John Haynes—Alpha Sigma Chi
- Second Team:
- Gene Bennett—MSM
 - Warren West—Kappa Sigma
 - George LeRay—Kappa Sigma
 - Dub Fletcher—MSM
 - David Graham—Cossa's Robbers
 - Austin Sartin—Kappa Sigma
 - Bobby Gouthier—Royal Knights
 - Jess Hoffpauir—BSU

Spanky McCoy, Kappa Sig whiz, led his team to their first football championship in quite a while as he managed to score over 60 points this season and rate Most Valuable Player award.

Discussing past experiences during the Thanksgiving holidays are personalities Jackie Carpenter, Dalna Worley, Mary Wakeman, and Fred Schrendimann.

'Greek' Personalities In Intramurals, Choir

By LINDA FRANK

Fred Schwendimann, sometimes referred to as "Schred Fwendimann," is a freshman pre-ministerial student from Coushatta, Louisiana, who believes he is the only ROTC cadet that has never done the manual of arms. At the beginning of intramural football practice, Fred broke his hand.

Besides participating in intramural activities, Fred finds time to serve as president of the freshman class. He is a Kappa Sigma fraternity pledge, a member of the Centenary choir, MSM, and a Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia pledge.

This summer, Fred attended a Methodist work camp in Dulac, Louisiana, where he spent a week digging ditches "below sea level." His only comment, "It was wet."

After completing preministerial work here, he plans to attend SMU.

His father, who is a minister, was partially responsible for Fred having the ambition to go into preministerial studies.

"I'm just an ordinary guy, because nothing unusual has ever happened to me."

ZTA 'Bug-Killer'

Standing 4' 11½" is Dalna Worley, sophomore personality who serves as president of the Zeta Tau Alpha pledge class. "I'm not big enough to get the volley ball over the net, so I referee," says Dalna, who participates in women's intramurals.

"Cricket," as this petite sophomore was named at a Girl Scout camp where she has counseled for two years, has a Girl Scout troop and "they're all bigger than me!"

Dalna recalls the time she tried to exterminate a mosquito and pointed the nozzle of the Real-Kill bottle in the wrong direction, and she got her ear instead of the mosquito. When she went to the doctor, he told her that he wished she had gotten it in the other ear, because it had only cleaned her ear out, and it was cleaner than the other ear.

A member of the Centenary choir, and treasurer of Phi Beta, "Cricket" plans to major in upper elementary education.

Her name, "Dalna," was a combination of her parents' names, Dale and Edna.

Chi O 'Mountain Dreamer'

Mary Wakeman, senior personality, has an unusual hobby of "target shooting." She is a member of the Caddo Rifle and Pistol Club and won first place in her classification, Marksman, in the Louisiana District a few years ago. (She says that there was a catch to her winning this contest, but you ask her about it.)

After majoring in accounting here, Mary plans to come back to Centenary night class and take languages, "because I don't know anything about them, and they seem so interesting."

She is a participant in women's intramurals, Cencoe, and treasurer of Chi Omega Sorority.

Jack Parr is one of Mary's favorite TV programs, where she enjoys watching Jack Douglas, who is the main script writer. "He has such an interesting face and is so sarcastic."

"My dream is to work in a National Park, and to travel to the mountains in Switzerland." At the present time Mary works part time for John Reed Company.

Kappa Sig Capitalist

Tennis, bridge, jazz, farm markets, carpet baggers and butchers are a few words which sum up a few of the many varied interests of junior English major William Elva Carpenter, better known as Jackie.

For several years Jackie has led the crusade to have beer sold in the Student Center with no success.

Jackie is majoring in English with the intention of entering the selling field. He plans to sell farm lands, (he could be called a future carpet bagger), and at the present time he watches for interesting farm market and farm and acreage reports.

"I guess you could say I like bridge a 'wee might' and I belong to the Westminster Fellowship 'in spirit only'."

Jackie is a member of Phi Mu Alpha, Kappa Sigma Fraternity, the tennis team, and is a general handman in the Centenary choir, and treasurer of the Student Body.

This summer he worked in a meat market and claims he can "cut and wrap a chicken in 13 seconds."

After graduation Jackie wants to attend Wisconsin and get his MA degree in psychology.

He claims membership in several other organizations not mentioned here, loves to play poker and eat raw oysters, and plans to vote in the next presidential election. "I'm a capitalist too."

ON CAMPUS

By Peggy Longino

Oh happy day! Thanksgiving holidays are over and we can get back to the lovely grind of daily classes.

Almost everyone returned to school about five pounds heavier, but Don Tyler and Charles Strong returned with really good colds. Nothing little for these boys.

It was old home week at the Wilkinson's, as T. Tom had a visitor in the person of Judy Cook. Kay Saladin took time off from LSU to pay Gaynelle Morgan a holiday visit.

Texas, Port Arthur to be exact, was the scene where Georgina Lechuga came to call, on Kathy Mack. Beaumont was the meeting place for a Panhellenic tea at which Jill Landis, Carol Reichelt, and Helen Gulley were present.

Janet McClellan hosted Elizabeth Orman in Little Rock and Joyce Price traveled to Marshall to stay with Pat Burns.

Little Rock was also the scene of a visit from Willene Graythene.

Several students plan to journey to Northwestern this weekend to see the Christmas lights turned on in Natchitoches. A few of the students planning to make the trip are Joan Templton, Sarah Tiner, and Sally Herring.

The Fair Park-Byrd game was local spotting place for friends over the holidays. A few of the Centenary scholars who cheered Byrd on were Dave White, David Graham and Jay Lang.

Friends were glad to see Bill Brewster when he paid a visit to the campus and the Kappa Sigma house last week.

Buddy Graham's birthday has finally come and gone. Fred Schwendimann and "The Gang" presented Buddy with a fine personalized hula hoop.

Visiting the Progressive Club for a dance during the holidays were Joe Ben Hayes, George Acton, Jerry Jouett, Sally Herring, Dave White, Noni Miller, Bob Moore and George Hamilton.

Although not a production, Gentlemen's Holiday seemed to be enjoyed by all. Lynda Gayle Fairley and Jackie Ott were much in evidence scurrying around at the Chi Omega House parties and committees too numerous to name did a fine job on the dance.

PR's to Perform In Christmas Meet

The Centenary chapter of the Pershing Rifles will participate in the Natchitoches Christmas Festival in Natchitoches tomorrow. Accompanying them will be their sponsor, Ramona Nail.

After departing by bus tomorrow morning, the unit will march in the 1:00 p. m. parade. After the parade the cadets will witness the lighting of the Christmas lights and the accompanying fireworks display. This is the third year that the unit has marched in the parade.

Last year, the O-6's first full year as a Pershing Rifle company, they were named "Best Company" in the Sixth Regiment with the Sixth Regiment being named "Best Regiment" in national competition.

Christmas Lighting Ceremony Date Set

Christmas festivities will have their beginning on the Centenary campus Monday night at 6:30 p.m. with a lighting service held in front of James dormitory. At this time the Christmas lights will be turned on in a ceremony with sororities, fraternities, students, faculty members, and the Centenary College Choir participating.

During the program the spectators will hold lighted candles, and the choir will present an arrangement of the traditional Christmas music. After the lighting service there will be an open house in Rotary hall.

The service will be televised by KTBS, channel 3. In charge of the television arrangements is Mrs. Nicklaus. Mr. A. C. Voran has charge of the choir and Mary Lon Jones, of the lighting ceremony. All students and faculty are invited to attend.

14 Independent Men Reorganize

The independent men re-organized the Centenary Gentry last Monday, November 24, when fourteen men met for election of officers and mapping out plans for the year. Speaking at the group's formation was Rev. W. V. Sermon, former member of the group and pastor of the Curtis Park Methodist Church.

Officers elected for the year were Charles Souter, president; Larry Elliott, vice-president; Herbert Gant, secretary; and Charles Souter, treasurer. Tommy Bergeron was also appointed project chairman. Other members of the new organization are Bob Moore, Richard Seward, Bill Hudson, Ellis Bankston, Raymond Robertson, Bob Concilio, Wayne Brasseaux, Richard Jarrell, and Sonny Evans.

Hengy Attends Teacher Meet

Zina Hengy represented the student National Education Association of Centenary at the convention of the Student Association of Louisiana Teachers held in Alexandria, November 26. The Association met in conjunction with the regular State Teachers Convention. The purpose of the meeting was to revise the state constitution for the organization.

how'd you catch on so quick? Catch on to the fact that Coca-Cola is the hep drink on campus, I mean. Always drink it, you say? Well—how about dropping over to the dorm and downing a sparkling Coke or two with the boys. The man who's for Coke is the man for us.

Students Selected For Listings In '58 "Who's Who" Publications

Dean of students Charles A. Hickcox has announced the selection of 9 seniors and 3 juniors who will represent Centenary in the 1958-59 publication of "Who's Who Among American College and University Students."

Selection for the honor was given to the following: Cornelia Agurs, Marcella Flynt, Mary Lou Gassen, Buddy Graham, Francis Kelker, Mimi Lingenfelter, Larry McKinstry, Sam Maxey, Cecile Plummer, Abbie Terry, Charles Wilder, and Jerry Woods. The Conglomerate article is the first notice of the selection as there will be no chapel program this year in their honor.

Miss Agurs, a junior from Shreveport, is president of Alpha Xi Delta sorority and the Pan-Hellenic Council, alternate to the Honor Court, treasurer of the Maroon Jackets honorary group, a member of Cencoe and Methodist Student Movement. She won the outstanding freshman chemistry student award and also the Alpha Chi award as the outstanding freshman during her first year at Centenary.

Coed vice-president of the Student Senate, Miss Flynt is a senior from Baton Rouge. She is also associate chief justice of the Honor Court, vice president of Kappa Chi and Sigma Tau Delta, treasurer of Maroon Jackets, and is a state officer of the Methodist Student Movement.

Miss Gassen, a junior from Sulphur, is a member of Maroon Jackets, secretary of the Student Senate, secretary of the Centenary Band, and won the outstanding freshman-sophomore intramural participant award. Also, she is personnel chairman of the Chi Omega sorority, active in Kappa Chi, MSM, and Alpha Sigma Pi. She was voted sophomore class favorite last year.

Graham, a senior from Keithville, is editor of the Conglomerate and secretary of the Kappa Sigma Fraternity. Also, he is president of Omicron Delta Kappa, honorary leadership fraternity; secretary of Alpha Epsilon Delta, premedical honor society; and a member of Alpha Beta Gamma, physics honor society. He was chosen as Treasurer of his junior class and was editor of the 1957 Kappa Sigma newspaper which won first place in the nation among fraternity publications.

Kelker, a senior from Shreveport, is president of the Kappa Sigma fraternity, chief justice of the Honor Court, served as treasurer of the sophomore class and president of the junior class, co-editor of the Yoncopin, and received the outstanding ROTC cadet award during his freshman year. A pre-medical student, he has served on the Student Affairs committee, the discipline committee, the Student Senate, the Inter-fraternity Council, the Intramural Council, and is a member of ODK.

President of the Maroon Jackets, Miss Lingenfelter is a senior from Shreveport. She has served as rituals chairman of the Zeta Tau Alpha sorority, secretary of the Westminster fellowship, and has held offices in Alpha Sigma Pi and Alpha Chi, honorary scholastic organizations. She also won the second-year French Award and received the Shreveport Symphony scholarship for this year.

McKinstry, a senior premedical student from Bastrop, has served as secretary of the Kappa Sigma fraternity, president of Alpha Epsilon Delta premedical honor society, treasurer of the student body last year, and was vice president of both Alpha Sigma Pi and Alpha Sigma Chi chemistry fraternity.

Ramona Nail Named Military Ball Queen

Ramona Nail, sponsor of the Pershing Rifles Company, reigned as queen over the Military Ball held last Friday night in the Moore Student Center. Presented as princess was Kay Cooper, sponsor of headquarters company.

Other members of the court, presented under the traditional arch of steel ceremony, were: Cecile Plummer, sponsor of the battle group; Jane Darnell, sponsor of A company; Gail Delaney, sponsor of B company; Wilma Jo Walters, sponsors of C company; and Margaret Powell, sponsor of the rifle team.

Cadet Lt. Colonel James Durham presented the queen with an arm spray of roses and Lt. Colonel Robert Scott placed the crown on her head. She was escorted by Cadet Second Lt. Winston Miller, executive officers of the Pershing Rifles Company.

Miss Nail's throne was placed against a backdrop formed by the Army ROTC symbol, a gold torch against a field of red, white, and blue. A display of flags also carried out the military motif of the decorations.

Guests were presented by Cadet First Lt. Tom Hubble to members of the receiving line, including Dr. and Mrs. Joe J. Mickle, Lt. Col. and Mrs. Robert Scott, Cadet Major Durham, and Miss Plummer. Music for the evening was provided by W. H. "Skeets" Reid and his band.

BSU Open House Set For Tuesday

The Baptist Student Union will hold its annual Christmas Open House for Centenary students Tuesday, December 16, at 6:30-9:00 p.m., according to George Acton, BSU reporter.

Also, selection has been made of the members of BSU who will represent the organization in this year's Kappa Chi Christmas Pageant. Those chosen are Joy Lambert, Genevieve Compton, Rosemary Watkins, Joe Pat Keeton, Sonny Evans, David Simmons, and Llewellyn Cook.

Mignon Eubanks, freshman, and Ramona Nail, sophomore, are the two girls who will be in run-offs today for the election of "Miss Centenary." Voting will be in the Student Center.

Mignon Eubanks, Ramona Nail In Run-off For "Miss Centenary"

Wednesday's election for this year's "Miss Centenary" title ended with a tie for the coveted position between Mignon Eubanks and Ramona Nail. Run-offs will be held today between 9 and 12 a.m. in the Student Center according to Bobby Holtzclaw and Margie Dukes, co-editors of the Yoncopin.

Aufaits Name New Officers

The members of Aufait, a non-Greek organization for independent women, elected the following officers for the year on Monday, November 17: President, Mary Lou Low, Jennings; Vice-President, Angelina DeFatta, Shreveport; Secretary, Charlene Putch, Shreveport; and Treasurer, Nicky O'Pry, Haughton.

Committee chairmen who were appointed are Maxine Bailey, House chairman, Beckville, Texas; Sandra Johnson, Program chairman, Atlanta, Texas; Kelli Mollet, Dallas, Texas; Sandra La Rue, California, Social chairman; Evelyn Mappls, Project chairman, Bossier City; and Dayle Rose John, Publicity chairman, Shreveport.

Students Attend Research Meet

Four biology majors and Dr. Mary Wartens attended the Louisiana Heart Association's annual experimental meeting in New Orleans last weekend. Those attending were Bob Murray, Fred Willis, Carl Mayhew, and Fuller Bazer.

Highlighting the trip was a visit to the two medical schools at New Orleans. During this visit, the students toured the Tulane and Louisiana State Medical Schools viewing their work in the field of experimentation and basic research.

Purpose of the trip was to stimulate some form of research and to offer a means for financing approved research work of undergraduate students.

Also, elected to be listed as beauties in the yearbook in the Wednesday vote were Mary Beth Bomar, Jeri Cassidy, Kay Cooper, Helen Gulley, Sue Howell, Jeanne Kelso, and Wilma Jo Walters.

Seven of those elected have appeared in the Yoncopin previously as beauties. The other two positions were gained by freshman candidates Mignon Eubanks and Kay Cooper.

Twenty-one girls received nominations for the honor which required a list of twenty-five signatures of students for acceptance. Other candidates were Lynda Beauvais, Beverly Bedsole, Margaret Anne Cowen, Angelina DeFatta, Terry Freeman, Janet Gholson, Tanne McDade, Gay McRee, Boo Maxwell, Judy Parker, Gail Stimpert, and Sharon Victory.

Announcement will be made of the "Miss Centenary" at approximately 1:00 p.m. today in the Student Center. Bobby Holtzclaw has announced that the beauties will appear in the Yoncopin beauty section as in the past.

YONCOPIN NOTICE!

All organizations interested in having their pictures in the Yoncopin must notify Bobby Holtzclaw no later than Wednesday, December 17, 1958. Cost will be one-half page, $15; one page, $30; two pages, $60. No exceptions will be made.

GRAHAM'S GRIEVANCES

Formal announcement was made today in the Conglomerate of those selected to "Who's Who" from Centenary. The primary factors to be used in judging such a person were scholarship, extra-curricular activities, and most important, service to the college and student body.

If this be true, I feel there are at least two people who were overlooked for nomination. From personal experience, I know that no one office or duty takes up more time than that of an editor-ship of the Yoncopin or the Conglomerate. There are two girls who have served as editors of these necessary publications in the past and were not listed in "Who's Who."

The important thing to note is that, not only were they active in publications, but also they are in Maroon Jackets and active in other campus work. Of course, I am speaking of Penny Hawkins and Peggy Longino. I don't mind speaking up for them, for despite the fact that they are engaged in many important campus activities and services, they still have maintained a high scholastic average.

How could they in any respect what-so-ever be overlooked? If you have a good logical answer, please give it to me. Penny has another year for listing, but for Peggy it can be termed simply as "another one of those things which just happen in life."

How futile it must seem to work so hard for so long and receive so little recognition! It is terrible that something such as this must happen to color the presentation of such an honorary award as "Who's Who." I could have said this without mentioning names — but it would still be obvious, so why try to be diplomatic?

* * * *

The first of the year everyone was excited about the new snack bar being installed in the Student Center. Well, because of the students not supporting the counter after 2:00, service has been discontinued in the evenings.

This can be blamed on us the student body, but still I feel that such a nice place should not be given up so easily on the part of the administration. Perhaps a little advertisement would have helped. Another solution might be closing the counter from 2 until 7 and reopening for service during the night classes.

But, the success of such a venture would again depend on student support. Buy your hamburgers in the Center and eat there instead of going off campus. We all want the convenience of having the snack bar open in the evenings. Perhaps we should request that such action as is necessary be taken in order that it be re-opened with a greater emphasis on advertising its service to the night class students.

Also, a name suggested in a faculty meeting by Mr. Dimac appears by many to be a quite logical and clever choice. What could be more eye-catching than to call the snack bar the "Gentleman's Room?" Surely no one would think anything about such a name except that it is original. Also, it is remarkable that the name fits the college and snack bar so well!

Wednesday's beauty elections seemingly were free of much of the heavy cut-throat politikin' which has characterized Centenary elections in the past. One of the main reasons for this was the fact that the pictures of the beauties were displayed where everyone could best make their choice.

Another comment concerning the election might be the discussion so often heard that a 1.0 point average should not be required for the girl to run for beauty. This argument has its good points, however, there is another side to it. To be chosen beauty is an honor which demands a certain degree of respect. The 1.0 point average is to serve as an incentive for making good grades among the co-eds. This ruling is followed in every college and is only right, for running in an election should require that a person scholastically not be on probation.

He won the 1957 national junior leadership award of Kappa Sigma fraternity and the outstanding intramural participant award the previous year. Also, he is a member of Omicron Delta Kappa, BSU, and is president of the Rotary Hall council.

A senior from Shreveport, Maxey is president of Alpha Sigma Chi, honorary chemistry society; vice president of Alpha Epsilon Delta, honorary premedical fraternity; and served on the Honor Court for the last two years. Maxey has lettered three years in baseball for Centenary, was the winner of a talent award in 1956, and is currently treasurer of Omicron Delta Kappa, honorary leadership fraternity.

Vice president of the Zeta Tau Alpha sorority, Cecile Plummer of Lake Charles, is vice president of the senior class, vice president of Delta Tau Omicron, member of the Student Affairs committee, Maroon Jackets, Battalion sponsor in ROTC, and active in Intramurals and Cencoe. She served as princess in the Centenary 50th Anniversary court and as president of Alpha Sigma Pi.

Miss Terry is a member of Chi Omega sorority, Cencoe, Alpha Chi, and Maroon Jackets. She has served as accompanist for the Centenary College Choir, president of Alpha Sigma Pi, treasurer of James Dorm, and a member of the Lyceum committee. She was elected as secretary of the Junior class for this year.

President of the Student Body, Wilder is a senior from Eros. He was president of Methodist Student Movement, Honor Court Alternate, a member of Kappa Chi, and a tenor in the Centenary Choir. Also, he is a member of the Organists' Guild and has served as publicity chairman and historian of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia music fraternity. Wilder was also treasurer of his Junior class.

Woods is president of the Kappa Chi ministerial group, a past officer of the Methodist Student Movement, member of Alpha Sigma Pi and active in Sigma Tau Delta, honorary English fraternity.

The junior and senior students were nominated for "Who's Who" by a joint vote of the faculty and student body. The Student Affairs committee made the final selection on the basis of service, leadership and scholarship.

Student Senate Report

November 20, 1958

The Student Senate meeting was opened in regular order by Charles Wilder, President. Those present were: John Bird, Jacki Carpenter, Jim Daigle, L. W. Fletcher, Marcella Flynt, Connie Cathright, Fred Schwendimann, Sharon Victory, Charles Wilder, Fred Willis, Miss Carlton and Dr. Willingham.

The minutes were read and approved.

John Bird made a report concerning possible over-lapping duties of several committees on campus. A discussion followed.

Miss Carlton made a report of the activities carried on by the Student Affairs Committee so far this year. It has considered petitions for new organizations, helped promote activities in the Student Center and made the final selection for Who's Who.

A motion was made and seconded that the Senate meet with the Student Affairs Committee at its next meeting. The motion carried.

Miss Carlton made a report of a committee meeting held the week of November 10, concerning social standards. It was decided that the Senate assume the responsibility of regulating social standards upon campus.

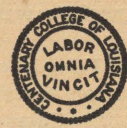

A discussion was held concerning Dr. Mickle's present. Charles Wilder read a letter from the Marlboro Jewelry Company concerning the Senate keys. A motion was made and seconded that the keys be secured conditional to the treasurer's report. The motion was carried.

The meeting was closed in regular order.

Respectfully submitted,
Marcella Flynt, Acting Sec.

GENTS EDGED BY WASHINGTON, 56-54

Swisher-Led Aggies To Be Gents Foe Tomorrow Night

The Centenary Gents will attempt a comeback after Tuesday's defeat to Washington University of St. Louis when they go against the Texas A & M "Aggies" here at the Youth Center Tomorrow night.

The Aggies, led by their captain, Neil Swisher, will present a lively foe for the Sigler-coached crew as they present themselves with a 2 win and no loss record. Texas A. & M. supports wins over Trinity College and Sam Houston University.

The Gents lost their first game of the season last Tuesday night as they were edged 56-54 by highly favored Washington University of St. Louis. Coach Orvis Sigler stated later that he felt the team "did well considering that high scorers Gerald Martello and Jackie Crawford were limited in their play, and also because the team was unable to find the range for their shots."

A disappointing crowd of 3,386 watched the last-minute attempts of the Gents to win the game end in a close, but definite win for the Washington "Bears." Playing for the first time were substitutes, Ralph Mason and Bob Scott, who showed up well in handling the ball.

Billy Eubanks was the only squad-man to get into double figures as he drew 10 points to his credit. Scoring otherwise, was evenly distributed between the members. Cecil Rhodes did well as he netted 9 points, Larry Greene had 7, and Bob Scott had 6. Jackie Crawford, who left the game with a bleeding hand, managed to make 5 points to his credit before the mishap.

Early in the game, Washington dominated play on the excellent sharpshooting of Lou Vesely and Harold Patton, who fired in 16 points apiece from medium-to-long range. Their scoring set up the first half lead of 30-22 which the Gents found impossible to overcome.

Four minutes and 20 seconds elapsed before the Centenary team could collect its first field goal—a long push from the corner by Cecil Rhodes, who was in Martello's forward starting slot. The Gentlemen settled down for the rest of the first half but could pull no closer than six points while collecting a not-so-grand total of only five field goals for the first 20 minutes of play.

The last half the Gents pulled themselves together and under the quarterbacking of Billy Eubanks managed to narrow the once-large lead to 49-47 with two minutes left to play. The second half, the Gents led the scoring with 32 points to their credit while Washington only managed to get 26. Still, the first half lead of eight points was too much to overcome.

Tumbling Team Is Reorganized

Centenary's exhibition tumbling team has recently been reorganized by physical education instructor, Mr. Fred Bedelle, with some new feminine additions. Members of the organization are Bobby Sorenson, Gary Walters, Elwyn Archibald, Keith Simmons, Tally Pledger, Waldo Casanova, Juan Lavine, Beverly Bedsole, Beverly Paul, Betty Lou Rosenbloom, and Pat Chamliiss.

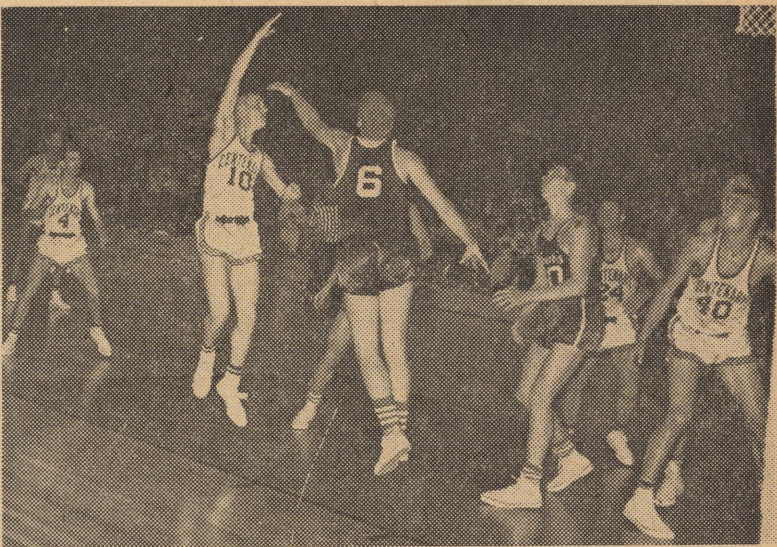

On Tuesday, December 16, the group will attend a clinic at Northwestern. The first exhibition planned is to be at half-time activities at the last home basketball game on February 28 at the Youth Center. Other plans include appearances on television and at local high schools and entrance into state contests.

Women Take Part In Individuals

In women's intramurals, ping pong and shuffleboard singles and doubles have begun with no scheduled time for tournaments except as convenient for those concerned.

Results up to Tuesday night are as follows: in ping pong singles Dalna Worley triumphed over Gail DeLanney, and Judy Hebert over Cathy Cody; in ping pong doubles Robin Hubert and Sandy Whitlock won over Vicki Grigsby and Wilma Jo Walters; and in shuffleboard singles, Kay France won over Janet McClelland, and Sharon Victory over Patty Owen.

Shreveport Gulf South Classic Pairs Teams for Fourth Meet

During the Christmas holidays, the Gents will play hosts to the first tournament under the title of "Gulf South Classic" which will be held in the Youth Center December 29, 30, 31. The tournament is sponsored by Centenary College and the Shreveport Times.

Teams slated for appearance in the Shreveport tournament are Louisiana Tech, Northwestern of Louisiana, Spring Hill, Murray of Kentucky, and William and Mary, Virginia Tech, North Texas State, and host Centenary College.

Virginia Tech's Gobblers will tangle with the Spring Hill Badgers in the first round opener at 2:30 p.m. December 29. Northwestern State Demons take on the Eagles of North Texas State College at 4 p.m. to conclude the afternoon session.

Defending champion Louisiana Tech, led by Jackie Moreland, will begin the first round evening session at 7:30 as they compete against the College of William and Mary Indians, who will be making their local debut. The evening final scrape will put Centenary against the Murray State College Thoroughbreds.

Centenary Coed Helen Gulley made the pairing in a drawing out of the hat at a meeting held to make plans for the giant cage tournament.

SPORTS DOWNBEAT

By DON TYLER

Things were really popping on Tuesday night at the Youth Building when the Ark-La-Tex presented a thrilling double-header attraction for the cage fans of this area. LSU brought highly ranked Arkansas down to earth with a 67-58 win and Washington University squeezed by the Gents 56-54 in the night cap.

A very disappointing crowd in several aspects watched the two encounters. Only about 3,500 persons came to witness the scrimmage that cold night, and had it not been for the Centenary Pep Squad our team would have had the worst backing I've witnessed in my tenure at Centenary College. Last week in talking with Larry Greene, he said something like this: "We all appreciate the support given to us this year by the Pep Squad and student body. It's much different than last year." I'm not sure, but Larry might want to withdraw this statement after Tuesday night. Another reason I would call the crowd a disappointing one is the booing—if you think that's showing spirit, I think you're wrong, unless you are yelling for the team too.

With two of the Gent starters out—one all night, the other most of the game—they did a tremendous job especially with the odds placed against them before game. "Tulley" Martello was sitting on the sidelines watching the action with a mild case of the flu. Jackie Crawford, our Houston University transfer, was out most of the game. Jackie committed four personal fouls in the first half and later in the game tore open his hand when he hit the backboard. Four stitches were needed to close the injury and Jackie will be out for at least a week.

As for the game itself, it was a slow moving, control-ball type of game—a kind of game Centenary isn't used to. Then too, the Washington Bears were hot on the net, with a 44% field goal average versus the 27% average of the Gents. Yet the Gents should be thankful it was only 30-22 at the half. That first half Washington hit 50% of their field goals and 57.1% of the free throws while none of the Gents could find the mark. In other words, for the Gents, the first half was as cold as the weather outside.

In the second half, however, Coach Sigler brought the Gents to life using subs Ralph Mason and Wayne Dubose. It seemed these guys didn't feel it was hopeless and in the final minutes of play, with players in the line-up who had not even played in the ETBC opener, the Gents trimmed the once large lead down to 49-47.

But our Gents just weren't supposed to win. The "Bears" calmed down and began to run the clock out. Here's the idea: with high scorers like Gerald Martello and Jackie Crawford out of business, the Gents did well. They were valiant and they tried, what else can we expect?

Thoughts of the Christmas Holiday's soon to begin seem to fill the minds of personalities Charles Strong, Fran Littrell, Cornelia Agurs, and Joe Mosher. (Photo by Bryant)

Future Holds Attractions For Campus Personalities

By LINDA FRANK

Have you ever wondered if the men that work on telephone poles fall off? Well Charles Strong, who worked for eleven weeks in Morocco, Africa, this summer, will testify that it does happen. He worked at a Sac Base, Ben Guiner, pressurizing 33 miles of telephone cable.

Once while working atop a telephone pole he took a fall and landed on a soap bucket he carried in back of his safety belt. Needless to say he flattened the soap bucket out as he landed in it or on it.

"The heat was bad in Africa as it was usually about 120° or 125°."

The other difficulties Charles encountered while working at the Air Force Base were learning to eat what the Arabs cooked and getting along with "no girls."

Charles is a member of Kappa Chi, MSM, and is treasurer of the newly formed Centenary Gentry.

After majoring in Humanities at Centenary, he plans to do ministerial work at Emory University in Atlanta, Georgia.

Charles doesn't profess to be a TV fan, but he seems to be a frequent visitor in James Dorm where he can usually be found in one of the date rooms or "watching TV?"

Scene Stealer

"It scared my soul!" was the expression Cornelia Agurs used when she described the time she dropped her tray twice in the cafeteria. She dropped it once and then returned to get another plate, when within five minutes she dropped her second tray in the same place.

"Corney" received the outstanding freshman award and now as a junior she is a member of Alpha Chi, Sigma Tau Delta, MSM, Cencoe, treasurer of the Maroon Jackets, president of Panhellenic, and membership chairman of Alpha Xi Delta sorority.

"I'd really like to be a librarian, but I'm majoring in English and if I teach, I plan to teach math." (Confused?)

Often drawn to the fascination, TV, Cornelia enjoys "Steve Allen," "What's My Line," "I've Got a Secret," and "Play-House 90."

'Skin' Diver

"Turning down an offer to play professional baseball with the St. Louis Cardinals" was the most unusual experience of Joe Mosher, senior geology major. "Moses" played baseball in high school and has played four years with the Centenary Gents.

Last year he headed the team with a .409 batting average. Another unusual but embarrassing event occurred when the Gents were playing S L I and "I dropped an easy fly in left field."

A one cylinder 70 cubic foot tank is part of the equipment Joe uses when he indulges in his unique hobby of skin diving. Once while he was skin diving in Narrows Lake near Murphreesboro, Arkansas, he went "too deep and when the water started getting cold, I got scared."

This senior is a member of Sigma Gamma Epsilon, Newman Club, the "C" Club, and participates in intramural activities.

'Kangaroo Queen'

"When I first came to Centenary everyone thought I was an 'East Texas hick' because I didn't wear shoes," says freshman Fran Littrell who had to wear shower shoes since her toe nail had been cut off.

At the present time Fran doesn't have a major, but she says she is in sociology, although she isn't taking any sociology courses, but "I may end up as an English major."

This freshman is a member of M S M, Pep Squad, and plans to play basketball in intramural activities. Also, she was named Queen of the Kangaroo Kourt.

Fran recalls the first time she did her laundry in the basement of James Dorm. She put her clothes in the machine and came back to find that the door had come open and her clothes were strung all over the room.

This summer she took a tour through Louisiana and went to New Orleans and deep sea fishing at Grand Isle. In New Orleans she found the trolley fascinating because "in Texas, we don't have trolleys that have a loud 'clang'."

ON CAMPUS

By Peggy Longino

The Christmas Season on campus got off to a good start Monday night when many students gathered in front of James Dorm for a simple Christmas program. Looking particularly pretty with their candles as Cheesy led the group in Christmas carols were Jean Stephens, Laura Lee Miles, Pat Burns, Sarah Tiner and Brenda Bailey.

After Charles Wilder presented Dr. and Mrs. Mickle with a gift, Charles Souter, Centenary Gentry President, presented Mrs. Mickle with a beautiful corsage and asked Mary Lou Low to pin it on. The program was climaxed by the appearance of Santa Claus, alias Sonny Sharp. Everyone seemed to go away from the assembly with a bit of the Christmas spirit shining out.

Mary Lou Jones did a good job, as usual, in overseeing decorations for James, while Mary Lou Low and Boo Maxwell were seen scurrying around collecting decorations for Hardin.

Rotary was the scene of an open house Monday night. The rooms were decorated beautifully and the comment of the evening seemed to be, "I didn't know boys could do things like that." Guests dropped their ballots in a box and first prize for decorations went to Bobby Holtzclaw and Sammy Kilman, while Larry McKinstry and George LeRay were awarded second. Third place went to Butch Franklin and Roger Williams.

Congratulations to Linda Walter and Charles Byrd, who will be married next Saturday, December 20, at Ingleside Baptist Church.

The Newman club entertained St. Vincent and St. John students at a Christmas party in the Student Center last weekend. Dale Rose Johns and Charlene Putch were in charge of refreshments for the group. Others enjoying this party were Winifred Fair, Paula Martin, Jack Mulkey, and Angelina De-Fatta.

Dancing at the Lake room Saturday night, several Centenary students were entertained at Mister Lynn's Cover Girl Ball. The ball was given for charity and was attended by Winifred Fair, Jack Mulkey, Betty Schmitt, Pat Burns, Bobby Holtzclaw, Francis Kelker and Mignon Harper. Helen Gulley entertained the group with a selection of Broadway hit songs.

Fuller "C. M." Bazer was recently elected new secretary of the Kappa Sigma pledge class, while we find Buddy Elkins now acting as Reporter.

Mary Beth Bomar and Bessie Ruth Risinger entertained at an informal tea at the Chi Omega house Thursday for Linda Walters. Among those invited were Rosemary Watkins, Abbie Terry, Pat Rutherford, Joy Lambert and Ann Bostick.

Attending the American Heart Research Convention at New Orleans this weekend were Fred Willis, Fuller Bazer, Bob Murray and Carl Mayhew. The boys also toured LSU and Tulane Medical Schools, among other interesting spots.

Don't forget the Pan-Hellenic dance tonight. From decorations chairman Judy Parker, it sounds like the decorations will be fabulous.

Running to Be Guest of Florida Symphony

Joseph M. Running, director of the school of music, has left for Tallahassee, Fla., for an appearance as guest artist with the Florida State Symphony Orchestra on Monday, January 12.

Included in the performance will be Beethoven's "Concerto No. 5 in E flat Major," the familiar "Emperor Concerto," which Running will play with the orchestra. He left Shreveport last Monday in order to practice for the concert.

The concert will be presented at 8:15 p. m. in the music auditorium at Florida State University, where Running formerly was a member of the school of music faculty.

Ernst von Dohnanyi, resident composer and pianist at Florida State and for 30 years conductor of the Budapest Philharmonic Orchestra in Hungary, will be the conductor for the symphony. Running has studied under the internationally known musical figure and now is completing his doctoral studies under von Dohnanyi.

The "Emperor Concerto" earned its sobriquet from the fact that it approaches symphonic breadth. At the time of its initial performance in Leipzig in 1811, the critic of the "Allgemeine Musik-Zeitung" termed it "without a doubt one of the most original, imaginative, effective, but most difficult of all existing concertos."

Running was a piano student of the late Madame Olga Samaroof-

ODK to Distribute Directories

Dean Charles A. Hickcox has announced that this year's publication of the Student Directory has arrived from the press and is available for purchase.

Omicron Delta Kappa, national honorary leadership fraternity, has compiled the directory and its members are offering them for sale at fifty cents each.

Purchase may be made from any of the following members: Buddy Graham, Francis Kelker, Larry McKinstry, or Sammy Maxey. Included in the publication is the address, phone number and guidance for members of the faculty, administration, and student body.

Pre-Registration Deadline Today

Today is the final deadline for students wishing to take advantage of the pre-registration policy of the college. Schedule and Office cards may be obtained today from the office of the Dean in the Administration Building.

Dean Leroy Vogel said pre-registration will be accepted from all students next Wednesday and end on the following Tuesday, January 20. Formal registration for the spring semester will take place from 8:30 a. m. to 4 p. m. on Monday, January 26.

Stokowski at the Philadelphia Conservatory of Music. He holds the Bachelor of Music degree from St. Olaf College in Northfield, Minn., and has done advanced work at Stanford University in addition to the Philadelphia conservatory and Florida State. He joined the Centenary faculty last September.

ZTA Publication Features Coeds

Two Centenary coeds are pictured on both the front and back covers of the current issue of "Themis," official publication of the Zeta Tau Alpha national sorority.

Miss Eurylyne Howell, a sophomore student at Centenary at the time she was elected "Miss U. S. A." during the summer, is pictured on the front cover, holding her scepter and standing beside her large trophy. Since then Eurylyne has appeared in appearances throughout the United States and has appeared in several of the "Maverick" programs on television.

Also, an account of her experiences is contained in the magazine. Miss Howell writes vividly of her reactions upon learning that she was the reigning beauty of the United States and of the events leading to her entering the contest in Long Beach, Calif.

Pictured on the rear cover is Miss Martha Jean Turner, now Mrs. Oscar Cloyd, as she appeared when she was elected national sponsor of the military order of the Pershing Rifles during the past school year. A Shreveport coed at the time of her selection, Miss Turner was a Centenary beauty for several years, had reigned as "Miss Centenary" and had served as a Pershing Rifles sponsor on the local campus.

Student Art Display Exhibits 50 Works

Willard Cooper, head of the art department, has announced that an exhibit of student art will open to the public this Sunday, January 11, and will extend until January 25.

About 50 pieces of work will be included in the display, which will be placed in the Moore Student Center. Watercolors and drawings, including brush, pastels and colored pencil drawings, will be among the art works on display, and a few oils also will be hung.

The work was done primarily by first and second year students at Centenary, although some third and fourth year students are represented along with a number of students in night classes. The exhibit consists primarily of work done outside the classroom for the weekly criticism class.

First of Series

Cooper said the exhibit has been planned as the first in a series of student exhibits for the current academic year. Cooper's students and those of Miss Elizabeth Friedenberg are cooperating in planning the exhibits.

Day students whose work will be included in the exhibit are Charles Clute, Julia Galloway, Mary Gayer, Jeanne Kelso, Elizabeth Maxwell, Laura Lee Miles, Harry Rawls, Betty Rosenbloom, Margetta Spears, Jo Sturdivant, Barbara Watson, Anna Clark Whitaker, Marjorie Kahn, Mary Farmer, Joe Pat Keeton, Judy Parker, Joe Sartor, Keith Simmons, Frankie Lachle, Bill Bryant, Jeannette Desadier and Mimi Lingenfelter.

Night school students to be represented are Mattie Brumble, Donald Griffin, Mary Davis, Lee Westmoreland, Stanley Thomas, Dorris Chastain, Otis Finch, Shirley Phillips, America LaFargue, Terry Henshey, and James Stone.

Carlton Will Receive Philosophy Doctorate

Miss Virginia Carlton, head of the mathematics department of Centenary College, has received notice that approval has been given for the work she has done toward the completion of requirements for the Doctor of Philosophy degree at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill.

Dean Leroy Vogel received notice of Miss Carlton's work yesterday from the registrar of Northwestern University. The degree will be conferred in special ceremonies to be held at the University in June.

"An Analysis of the Educational Concepts of Fourteen Outstanding Mathematicians, 1790-1940, Including their Areas of Mental Growth and Development, Creative Thinking and Symbolism and Meaning," was the subject of Miss Carlton's dissertation given in the field of mathematics education.

A Centenary College graduate, Miss Carlton received her Bachelor of Science degree summa cum laude in 1939. She holds the Master of Arts degree from Tulane University and has done additional work at the University of Chicago.

After graduation from Tulane she served as a lecturer in mathematics and mathematics education at Northwestern University for several years before joining the Centenary College faculty in September, 1957.

Miss Carlton has been invited by the Northwestern University officials to spend the summer on the Evanston campus, teaching mathematics in the Natural Science Foundation Institute there. She plans to leave for Evanston at the conclusion of the current academic year at Centenary and will return here in September.

Choir to Begin Tour Jan. 8

The Centenary Choir will begin its annual mid-semester tour of South Louisiana and East Texas Sunday, January 18, according to their director Dr. A. C. Voran.

The 49-voice aggregation will travel by chartered bus and will present about 15 regularly scheduled concerts in addition to a number of briefer programs in various high schools. The group plans to appear in Hammond, Bogalusa, Eunice, DeRidder, New Orleans, Litcher, Baton Rouge, and Lake Charles in Louisiana and Beaumont, Texas, as well as a number of other communities.

Dr. Voran said the choir will take its complete wardrobe, valued in excess of $12,000, on the tour. The choir accompanists, Linda Walters of Shreveport and Abbie Terry of El Dorado, Ark., will accompany the singers on the tour.

Methodist churches and church organizations are sponsoring the majority of the choir concerts, although a number of the programs will be sponsored by other organizations. Both sacred and secular concerts, and programs combining both types of music will be included.

The choir has been making the mid-semester tour each year for the past eight or nine years. This year's tour is slated to be concluded on January 31.

Miss Carlton's teaching experience has included one year at Ouachita Parish High School; nine years at Wesleyan College, Macon, Ga., the last three of which she served as head of the mathematics department; two years at Centenary, 1946-48, when she held the rank of assistant professor; two years at Northwestern State College, Natchitoches as associate professor of mathematics, and two years at Northwestern University. She also spent the summer of 1957 teaching at the University of Alberta, Edmonton, Alberta, Canada.

Dr. Benfield Is Chapel Speaker

Dr. William A. Benfield, Jr., pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Shreveport, was the guest speaker yesterday in the Brown Memorial Chapel program.

Dr. Lee Morgan, associate professor of English and member of the First Presbyterian Church, introduced the speaker. Miss Helena Spangbery was assisting with the program, and special music was under the direction of Dr. A. C. Voran with William C. Teague at the organ.

Miss Ramona Nail was elected shortly before the Christmas holidays to reign as Miss Centenary for the 1959 Yoncopin. The selection was made by the male student body in an election which listed eight other girls as beauties. Those elected were: Mary Beth Bomar, Jeri Cassidy, Kay Cooper, Mignon Eubanks, Helen Gulley, Sue Howell, Jeanne Kelso, and Wilma Jo Walters.

Student Senate Report

December 4, 1958

The Student Senate was called to order by the president, Charles Wilder. Those present were: Charles Wilder, Mary Lou Gassen, Marcella Flynt, and Miss Carlton.

The minutes were read and approved.

A thank you note is to be sent to Alpha Chi for helping with the Gentleman's Holiday dance.

The Student Senate meetings are going to be held every first and third Thursday of each month until the end of school.

The meeting was closed in regular order.

Kelker, Carpenter Given K-Sig Award

Francis Kelker, a senior pre-medical student at Centenary, has been awarded a certificate of merit and a $100 cash prize as one of the winners in the annual leadership award program of the Kappa Sigma Fraternity.

Another student, Jackie Carpenter, Jr., has been awarded a $50 cash prize and a certificate as one of the junior award winners this year. Carpenter is a junior student majoring in psychology. He is a member of the Centenary Band and Choir and also served the college as treasurer of the Student Body and a member of the Student Senate.

Kelker is president of the Centenary chapter of the fraternity, chief justice of the honor court, vice president of Omicron Delta Kappa, men's honorary society, and has served on the Student Senate. He was treasurer of the sophomore class and president of the junior class and has served as co-editor of the Yoncopin, student yearbook.

He also won a publication award last year and was adjudged the outstanding freshman cadet in the Centenary College Army ROTC during his freshman year on campus. His campus memberships have included the Centurion Rifles drill team, now the Pershing Rifles; Newman Club; the Intramural Council and a number of other groups.

Selection of this year's winners at Centenary and at other schools across the country where Kappa Sigma chapters exist was announced by the district grand master for the fraternity Edward B. Baldinger, Jr. Last year's winners of the awards were Jack Webb of Vidor, Texas, and Larry McKinstry of Bastrop.

College Receives Annual Esso Gift

Dr. Joe J. Mickle has announced that Centenary College is again the recipient of a $3,500 gift from the Esso Education Foundation, which has been supporting the college for a number of years. Dr. Mickle received notice of the gift Monday in a telegram from Eugene Holman, chairman of the Board of the Esso Foundation.

Dr. Mickle said the sum is unrestricted and may be used as the college administration sees fit. He added that the $3,500 will be placed in the general operating fund of the college.

The Esso Foundation also presented the college with a $3,500 gift last year and has made a number of prior gifts to the college. The foundation also gave Centenary a $10,000 gift in December, 1956, as a capital grant for the fund then being raised to equip the Science Building on the campus.

Companies affiliated with the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey organized the Esso Education Foundation in 1955 to assist in the support of privately supported colleges and universities throughout the country.

Dr. Mickle expressed the thanks of the college to officials of the company.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"Toward Greater Victories"

The March of Dimes opens its 1959 campaign with the theme that its winning battle over polio will lead "Toward Greater Victories."

In communities all over the country a total of two million volunteers are acquainting the public with the aims of the National Foundation's big new health program. They move into the annual drive with a winning combination whose success over polio evolved from a partnership of laymen and research scientists.

Now, as Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation, says, "This team is ready to apply its unique formula of success to the solution of other perplexing diseases of mankind."

An immediate broad attack has been launched against arthritis and birth defects (congenital malformations), but the National Foundation emphasizes that the polio problem is by no means over. In 1958, for example, about 50,000 polio victims received aid from the National Foundation. This aid will continue.

The 1959 "Greater Victories" drive will also seek funds for a greatly enlarged research program devoted to virus diseases and disorders of the central nervous system in general as well as to polio, arthritis and birth defects. The need to train more medical specialists also is envisioned in the National Foundation's new program.

Yes, the March of Dimes is needed more than ever. With the momentum of one job well done, and with your support, it will move on TOWARD GREATER VICTORIES.

Gents Surprise Predictors, Take Third Place in GSC

A hot Centenary squad turned in three fine performances over the Christmas holidays and finished with a 81-72 win over favored Northwestern State College to grab third place in the Shreveport Gulf South Classic.

Robert Scott, 6' 3" senior letterman, turned in one of the finest performances of any player so far this season as he took scoring honors with 28 points to his credit. Scott turned in a sizzling floor game, hit 18 of 19 foul pitches and amassed the highest score of any Gent so far this season in the rough-and-tumble squabble between the "Pine Cone" rivals.

Scott's brilliance at the foul line enabled him to set a new tourney record for foul conversions.

Gerald Martello gave Scott plenty of help in the scoring department by dropping in 19 markers. Jackie Crawford hit 13 and Wayne Dubose 10 for the Gents.

Centenary won the game at the penalty stripe. The Gentlemen swished the cords 41 times in 50 aims to more than offset NSC's field goal average of six.

The Gents also controlled the boards well, flagging down 56 rebounds to 44 for the Natchitoches team. Crawford and Martello recovered 10 ricochets apiece for the Centenary squad.

Martello got the Gents out in front to stay with six minutes left in the game after the lead had changed hands 11 times. Then the Sigler team protected the advantage the rest of the way with uncanny accuracy from the charity line, making a final score of Centenary 81, Northwestern 72.

Opener Won by Gents

Centenary began the Tourney with a 66-60 win over Murray State as Billy Eubanks exploded with great accuracy and managed to add 20 points to his credit. Leon Shaw also showed up well in the opener as he threw in 6 for 12 shots from the floor and gained a total of 14 points. Scott pitched in 9 and Jackie Crawford, Gent center, managed to add 8 to his credit for the night.

Centenary made a come from behind performance in a thriller after trailing most of the first half. Ralph Mason, with a field goal in the first half gave the Gents 33-32 half-time lead.

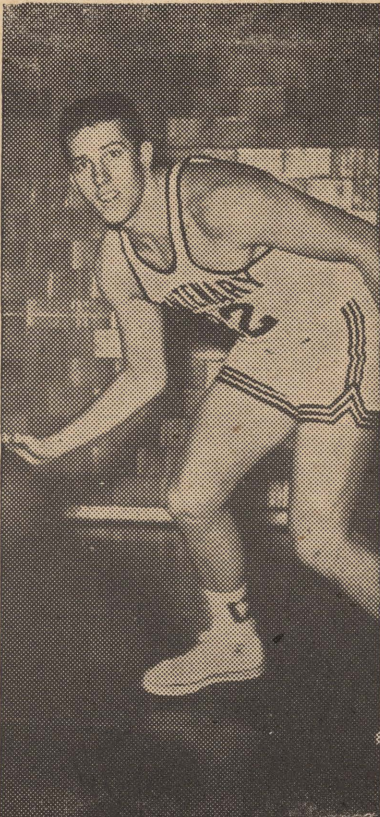

The rivals exchanged the lead nine times in the first half with Centenary staying out in front the entire second period as a result of the exceptional play by Billy Eubanks and Leon Shaw.

Martello Cited

Gerald Martello, leading scorer for the Gents, was selected for the All-Tourney team which pitched five men from five different schools on the squad honor.

Martello gained the honor largely on his consistent accuracy and high-scoring throughout the tournament. His performance in the Virginia Tech-Centenary game was the most outstanding as Martello filled the baskets with over 20 points against the scrappy Virginia team.

Other men selected for the honor were Jack Moreland of Louisiana Tech, Jimmy Leach of Northwestern State, Tom Farrington of William and Mary, and Bob Ayersman of Virginia Tech. Ayersman also was named the most valuable player in the Classic in a poll of sportswriters and sportscasters.

Gerald Martello, leading Gent scorer, was named to the All-Tournament team listed during the Gulf States Classic in a poll of sportswriters and sportscasters. Martello was a consistent scorer in the meet and commanded the boards for the rather short Gentlemen.

All-American Guard Sparks Frosh Win

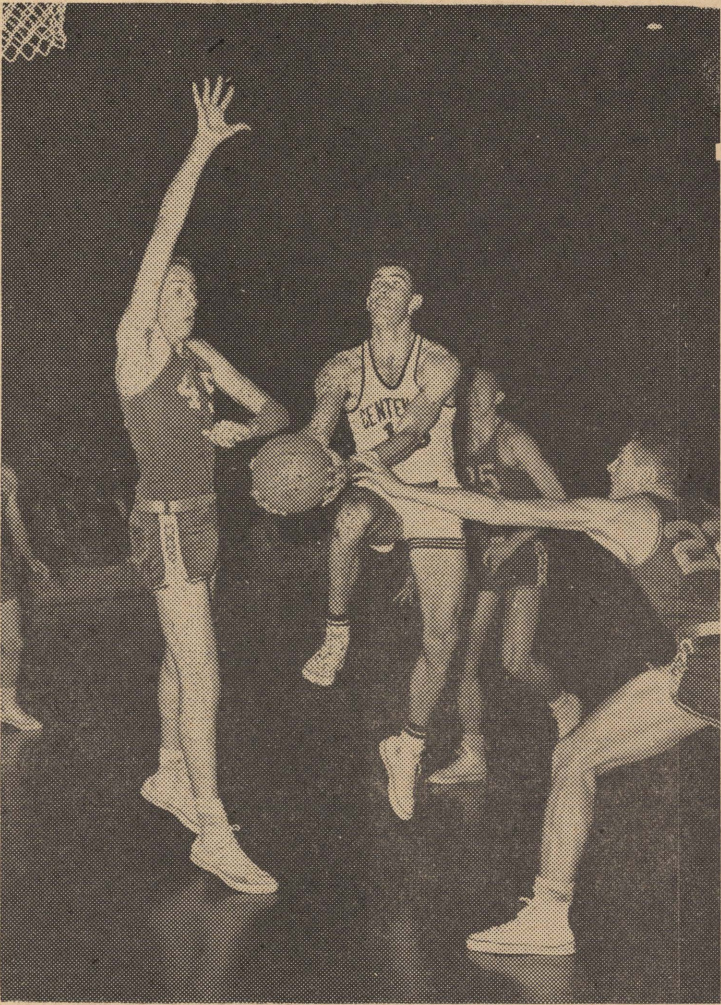

Centenary's highly heralded freshman team brought its season record up to the respectable .500 mark December 20 when they trounced Texarkana Junior College's Bulldogs to bring the total to three straight wins against as many losses.

Jerry Callens, the high school All-American guard from Pleasant Hill, was again the sparks of the Gentlet attack dropping in 26 points on nine field goals and eight of nine free shots. Mike Ramming, the 6'5" center from Missouri, followed with 21 points.

Texarkana made a contest of it before Callens started pulling the Freshman squad out front. It was the rebounding of big Dale Van Bibber and the poor ball handling under their own basket that proved to be the downfall of the Bulldogs midway in the first half.

Drives by Callens and set shots by Ramming propelled the Gents to as much as a ten-point lead in that quarter as the Texarkana defense started to spring holes down the middle.

Other scoring leaders for the Gentlets were Dale Van Bibber with 12, Ford King with 6, and Larry Saucier with 5.

Robert Scott crashes through the Northwestern defense to make a lay-up shot despite the hinderance of a defender's hand. Scott scored a total of 28 points in the game while setting a tourney record for foul conversions. Centenary won the game 81-72 to cop third place in the Gulf States Classic. The holiday wins raised the Gents' average to 4 wins and 6 losses.

SPORTS DOWNBEAT

By DON TYLER

What about the Gents? Well, it's rather hard to say. At times they are terrific and at times they're off so much it's pathetic. But even that is no reason for the poor attendance at basketball games lately. Centenary has the don't-care attitude about as bad as I've ever seen.

In this case, the Centenary basketball schedule during the month of December which included such attractions as Arkansas, LSU, Texas A. & M. and Tulane should have done well for drawing crowds to the game but instead, not as many persons showed up as did when the Gents played East Texas Baptist College in the season opener.

It was almost as if the vast majority of so-called "fans" and Centenary student body decided to band together to show the Centenary authorities that the harder they tried to please them the more sales resistance they'd meet. Why, even the majority of persons who have student passes haven't been showing up at the games.

You can't throw that off entirely as the effect of a losing team either, besides the Gents have been making a fair showing for themselves. It couldn't explain the sorry showing for the big doubleheader back in the first of December when Centenary was still undefeated, nor could it explain why some of the visiting teams with high national ratings couldn't draw more people regardless of who they were playing.

Some people blame the fact that the Gents have no colorful individual like Milt Williams and this may be a factor. Some blamed the cold—others studies. Yet the few who find their way to the games usually don't make the worst grades.

A lot of students seemed to be interested in talking about the team, griping, and reading the daily sports page. But that's only passive interest. They thought it was a great event when Centenary decided to play a major basketball schedule and for outside teams to come in for a neutral-site game, but they didn't think it strongly enough to go to the games. They waited for the next guy, while he waited for someone else.

Does this mean that Joe College doesn't want first-hand thrills of being a spectator, of rooting for his team, for staying behind a team no matter what?

This week's personalities, Carol Winning, Bobby Holtzclaw, Ken Bond, and Carolyn Giles, found the closest thing to snow when they discovered this broken water hydrant during last week's cold spell.

Personalities Desire Houseboat, Traveling

By Linda Frank

Copping the unusual title given by Dr. Mary Warters, Bobby Holtzclaw is the "only student who can sleep in class with his eyes open."

Music, traveling, business and sports are but a few of this versatile senior's interests.

Bobby studied music for nine years and now accompanies Helen Gulley and various dancing schools. One summer he had the pleasure of playing for Louis La Pron, the choreographer for the Perry Como show.

Once Bobby cause great confusion when he failed to show up to accompany a dance recital. The recital was postponed because Bobby, having forgotten could not be reached. Where was he? Oh, in the movie enjoying a good show.

To study in England and see Europe are among this senior's goals. He collects picture postcards which whet his appetite to travel. During the Christmas holidays he traveled through Missouri.

Bobby is a commerce major and plans to do graduate work in management and marketing at SMU.

He is co-editor of the Yoncopin, treasurer of Rotary Hall, and has been treasurer of Kappa Sigma fraternity for the past two years. He also serves on the Lyceum committee.

Bowled Over

"This summer I went to summer school and took eleven hours of biology under the band director," says Carol Winning, junior co-ed from Ashdown, Ark.

Carol plays intramural sports, is a member of Future Teachers of America, Canterbury Club, and is a Chi Omega pledge. She has previously attended LSU and Henderson State Teachers' College in Arkadelphia, Ark.

This junior likes to sew, swim, and "pick at the piano." Right now her main interest is to get her fiancée to go to dental school.

Carol recalls the first (and only) time that she went bowling. She threw herself down the alley with the ball and the colored boy setting up the pins ducked!!

Eligible to vote in the next election, this elementary education major claims to be "one of the few non-Faubus fans in Arkansas."

Having been engaged for two years, it looks as though she will graduate with two triple letter degrees her BSE and her MRS.

House Party!

Ken Bond, sophomore personality build a houseboat "big enough to from Shreveport, plans someday to have a good party." Of course, the boat is still in the drawing-board stages, but Ken and his friends really have some plans.

Although Ken is not particularly fond of hunting, he does like to take off on the week-end "to ease the tension of school work."

"Trackdown" on TV and Joni James and the Crickets on recordings are Ken's choices for entertainment. "Mole" is also fond of levee parties and likes to try to water ski. Ken acquired the rather unusual nick-name of "Mole" while he was in high school.

This member of the Kappa Alpha order is a participant in intramural sports, and a staff sergeant in ROTC.

This summer he worked at Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation and at Centenary he is majoring in accounting "because he likes the field."

Spasmatic Auto

Does your car have spasms? Well Carolyn Giles, freshman Alpha Xi Delta pledge had a time going to the rush parties. Her car had uncontrolled honking spells. One lady thought that Carolyn was trying to get her to pull over. She explained that her car was just about as nervous as she was about going to the rush parties.

Spectator sports are fine, especially basketball and football, but I just don't seem very agile in sports. At the time of the Panhellenic dance, Carolyn stayed home with a black eye she had obtained from a previous gym class.

This past summer this freshman just loafed, and her only excursion outside the city limits was to McDade, 12 miles from Shreveport. She began the summer with the goal to read a great deal, but ended the summer having completed only one book.

Carolyn is majoring in English and plans to teach.

She serves as secretary-treasurer of Junior Panhellenic.

ON CAMPUS

By Peggy Longino

It is almost a crisis when those of us who aren't pinned or engaged become a minority and the people on Cloud No. 9 take over. Windene Nicklaus breezed back to school with a rock on her left hand, while Jann Stanley's diamond is only a shade dimmer than her blissful smile. Cecile Plummer and Pat McGonagil have sealed their engagement with a beautiful ring and both Camille Brocato and Anna Clark Whitaker are smiling over the admiring glances at their rings. A before Christmas present was Emma Lou Stewart's diamond. Congratulations to Jay Koonce, who gave Pat Leigh an engagement ring for Christmas.

Mary Jo Ellington is a little partial to the Kappa Sigmas these days, as she is wearing the fraternity pin of a Sig from Louisiana Tech.

Linda Walters and Charles Byrd took the fatal step over the holidays, as did Jeannine Mobley and James Rhea Love. A Christmas surprise was the announcement of the marriage of Sue Brown and Larry Greene.

Centenary coeds who acted as hostesses at the annual Gulf States Classic Basketball Tournament breakfast during the holidays were Sara Hitchcock, Ginny Emerson, Jane Hanks, Anita Thomasson, Mary Beth Bomar, Vicki Grigsby, Jen Houchin, Evelyn Maples, Jeanne Kelso, Cornelia Agurs, Peggy Longino, Mignon Eubanks, Judy Parker, Winifred Fair and Penny Hawkins.

An Open House at Jack Mulkey's New Years Eve was enjoyed by Buddy Graham, Patsy Stamps, Ramona Nail, Winifred Fair, Francis Kelker and Don Tyler.

One of Paula Martin's good friends received a telescope for Christmas and we hear that Paula spent the rest of the holiday praying for cloudy nights.

Two of the attractive debutantes presented at the annual ball during the holidays were Norma Strother and Anne Hartner. Also present at the event were Leon Bain, Dave White, Jimmy Hughes, Warren West, Pete Boggs, Jerry Jouett, George Acton and Jay Lang.

The Aggie Party at the P & S Hotel had among its guests Bob Shaw, Ramona Nail, Peggy Eaves, Bob Moore, George Acton, John Boucher and Julia Miles.

And Li'l Abner was honored with the presence of Margaret Powell, Gaynelle Morgan, Ed Kennon, Larry McKinstry, Bobby Holtzclaw, Fuller Bazer and Linda Byrd.

The Campus will miss those who are transferring to other colleges spring semester. Among the many are Mary Lou Jones, Newcomb; Dottie Slider, University of California, and Larry Falk, Baylor. Quote of the week: "That's a beautiful ring, Windy. Is it your birthstone?"

Organist Director From France To Conduct Symphony Preview

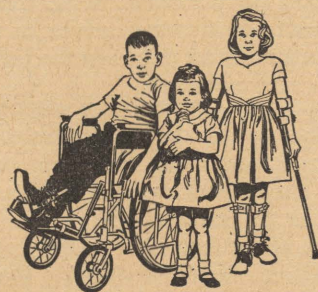

Mr. Edmund Pendleton, organist and choir director of the American Church in Paris and director of the Philharmonic Chorus there, will conduct a Symphony Preview in the Student Center Sunday night at 7:30 p. m. In the preview he will discuss leton, "Psalmus Hungaricus" by Kodaly, Symphony No. 1 in C Major" by Beethoven and "Cantata (I was Glad)" by Pendleton. Choral numbers by the soloists and Centenary Choir will also be presented. The "Cantata" will experience its here will direct his own composition. It was written a year ago to commemorate the one-hundredth anniversary of the American Church in Paris.

The directing of the Shreveport Symphony concert by Pendleton will be the first time that a guest conductor on a pair of concerts here will direct his own compositions.

The preview Sunday is free and students and members of the Symphony Society are invited to attend. The concert will be open to members of the Society and guest tickets may be purchased at the door.

The program will include "Prelude Fanfare and Fugue" by Pend-

Mickle Attends Meeting Series

Dr. Joe J. Mickle, president of the college, left last Monday for Kansas City, Mo., where he will spend about ten days attending a series of educational meetings.

Dr. Mickle will attend sessions of the 45th annual meeting of the Association of American Colleges today through Wednesday at the Muehlebach Hotel. From Thursday through Saturday, he will participate in the annual meeting of the National Association of Methodist Schools and Colleges. He is a member of several committees of both groups and serves as chairman of the nominating committee for the latter organization.

While in Kansas City, Dr. Mickle will also attend the annual session of the General Conference Commission on Christian Higher Education, to be held in conjunction with the meeting of the Methodist college group. He also will attend several meetings of the Council of Protestant Colleges and Universities at the Hotel Phillips in Kansas City.

Dr. Mickle expects to return to Shreveport about January 14.

Larry Greene finds going tough as Tech hoopster scrambles for ball. Looking on are Gents Jackie Crawford, 42, and Leon Shaw. Centenary won the contest 72-69.

Ranked 9th in Nation by Dunkel

Green, Scott Lead Gents To 72-69 Win Over Tech

The Centenary Gents, led by flashy Larry Greene and Robert Scott, surprised everyone but Dick Dunkel and themselves as they pounded out a decisive win over powerful Louisiana Tech, 72-69, during the mid-semester holidays.

Centenary entered the game rated 9th in the nation among small colleges in Dick Dunkel's power index and was given a 1-point margin over the Ruston men in the rival clash held in the Youth Center January 20.

Greene became the center of attraction as he regained his offensive and defensive brilliance during the Loyola game and turned in one of his best performances of the year while accounting for 18 of the Gents' points.

Scott also was a standout as he tied for scoring honors with Greene and 18 points to his credit. A sensation from the floor, Scott hit 6 for 11 attempts and also obtained 6 of 8 at the foul line. Scott also took over the dubious job of guarding All-American Jackie Moreland and managed to hold him to a career low of 5 points and only 1 shot of 6 accurate from the floor.

Gents Outthit Tech

From the floor, the Centenary squad outthit the Rustonites as they poured in 24-for-54 while Tech only managed to right 21-for-59. Throughout the second half the Gents were hampered with four men—Martello, Scott, Eubanks, Shaw—carrying four personal fouls through the remainder of the game. Scott finally joined two Tech men on the bench with five personal fouls and 3 minutes left in the game.

The Gents took over at 33-32 as Scott hit two free pitches with 3:32 left in the half. Then Greene did the same. Crawford hit with a long push shot and it was suddenly 37-32. A short push shot by Scott, and a pair of one-pointers by Moreland ended the half at 43-38 with the Gents on top to stay.

Moreland Fouls Out

To make matters worse for Tech, Moreland went out of the game with more than 13 minutes left on the clock. The loss of Moreland and Tullos with 10:58 remaining, seemingly did not effect the Ruston boys for they managed to trim the lead in the last seconds to 70-69 with push shots by Mercer and Frye. But the Gents wanted this

Lyceum to Feature St. Olaf Choristers

The famed a capella choir of St. Olaf Lutheran College, Northfield, Minn., will be featured in the second Lyceum program for the current year on Thursday, February 12.

The choir, under the direction of Dr. Olaf C. Christianson, has been presented in tours which covered Europe, Scandinavia, and all sections of the United States. Critic reviews of such programs have been highly favorable and tend to show the fame which this choir and its director have achieved.

The group will be introduced at the appearance by Joseph M. Running, director of the Centenary school of music and alumnus of St. Olaf College, where he later taught music. Running sang in the tenor section of the choir while doing undergraduate work at the college and served as assistant director of the choir for two consecutive seasons.

The choir will also present a concert at 8:30 p. m. Wednesday, February 11, in the Brown Memorial Chapel under the auspices of Shreveport's four Lutheran churches. This performance, open to the public without charge, will be an extension of the 7 p. m. Lenten services held at the four co-operating churches.

Students Take Oath As Army Officers

Three Centenary students received their commissions and took the oath of office of Second Lieutenant this week at a special ceremony held by Lt. Colonel Robert S. Scott. Those receiving the commission were Richard D. Lamb, Robert W. Goss, and Robert S. Snead.

Lamb, a graduate in Education with a BA degree, served as Battle Group Commander while enrolled in the ROTC program at Centenary. He was also a member of the Centenary ROTC Rifle Team, the Centurion Rifles which later became the Pershing Rifle Team.

In 1957, Lamb was designated a Distinguished Military Student by President Joe J. Mickle and Colonel Scott. Lamb has been assigned duty at Fort Bliss, Texas, and after completion of instruction in Artillery, will be stationed in Europe.

Graduating with a BS degree in Geology, Goss served as a company commander and a member of the Cadet Battle Group Staff while in ROTC. After completion of graduate training at Louisiana State University, Goss will be assigned to the Signal Corps at Fort Monmouth, New Jersey.

Snead, who served as a company commander while in ROTC, also has been assigned to the Signal Corps at Fort Monmouth, New Jersey. A graduate with the BA degree, Snead will serve six months on active duty.

Music School to Feature Faculty in Recital Series

The Centenary school of music will feature three faculty members during a recital series to be held this year, starting on Feb. 8 and concluding on May 3. The afternoon programs will be presented at 4 p. m. on the following Sundays: Feb. 8, March 8, April 5 and May 3. Each of the recitals will be open to the student body and faculty without charge and will be held in the Brown Memorial Chapel.

Joseph M. Running, director of the school of music, will appear first on the program with a recital on Feb. 8. Running, a pianist, was presented as guest artist on Jan. 12 with the University Symphony at Florida State University, Tallahassee, and made a concerto appearance with the Shreveport Symphony last October. He has appeared as accompanist for Theodore Uppman and Norman Scott of the Metropolitan Opera, and many other nationally known musical figures.

Graduate of St. Olaf

A graduate of St. Olaf and for two Northfield, Minn., he sang with the famed St. Olaf Choir and for two consecutive seasons was its assistant director. He has done graduate work at Stanford University and holds the rank of professor of piano at Centenary, having joined the faculty staff in September, 1958.

Pianist and bassoonist, Rule Beasley will be presented at the March 8 recital. Beasley is an instructor in piano and woodwinds here at Centenary and holds the BA degree in music from SMU and the Master of Music degree from the University of Illinois. Beasley also has studied at the Juilliard School of Music in New York and is at the present a member of the Shreveport Symphony Orchestra. Beasley has presented many recitals throughout the country and is a former member of the Fourth Army Band of San Antonio, Tex.

The April 5 recital will feature Sam Terranova, concert master of the Shreveport Symphony and a member of the school of music faculty. The violinist holds his degree from the conservatorio Cherubini in Florence, Italy. He has attended the U. S. N. School of Music in Washington, D. C., and served as concert master of the American Conservatory Orchestra from 1941 to 1943.

Terranova was a member of the Honolulu Symphony, has spent one year with the Jo Stafford-Paul Weston Orchestra and made five European tours with the Piccola Accademia Musicale, an Italian chamber orchestra. He has been presented in recitals in Hawaii, Europe and in the United States.

Teague Featured

William Chandler Teague, organist, will conclude the series with a recital on May 3. Teague is assistant professor of music, serves as college organist and choirmaster at St. Mark's Episcopal Church. He attended Southern Methodist University in Dallas and holds the Bachelor of Music degree from the Curtis Institute of Music.

Having been presented throughout the United States, Teague is considered one of the nation's top-ranking organists.

Morelock Heads Technology Club

Engineering and Industrial Technology students met before the holidays for the organization of a new society and election of officers according to Bob Shaw, vice president of the group.

The Centenary Technological Society, as the club will be called, will be headed for this semester by Tony Morelock, Shreveport, president; Bob Shaw, Shreveport, vice-president; Martin Mac Roberts, Shreveport, secretary; and Bob Bellar, Plain Dealing, treasurer.

Next meeting of the society will be Tuesday, February 3, at 9:30 a. m. in room 9 of the science building. Purpose of the program will be voting on a newly proposed constitution, and interested students majoring in Engineering or Industrial Technology are invited to attend.

Cuban Students Feel Castro's Revolt Just

By KATHY MACK

When the news of the Cuban revolt hit the headlines of city papers around the world, students' attention was focused on Cuba and the causes of the revolt. Two Cuban students, Waldo Casanova and Juan Levine, were questioned on the revolt, its causes and their own reactions to it. Here are some of their answers to questions posed to them.

Q. Why was there need for a revolt in Cuba?

A. The Batista regime had increased the taxes and were pocketing the extra income. For instance, by setting aside an extremely large amount of money for the building of a bridge, which in reality did not cost that much, officials were able to increase their incomes illegally. Also, when Batista set up his dictatorship, leaders of the people in the representation houses quit because they did not agree with Batista; therefore, his followers filled the houses of law and other places of authority and made possible the frauds.

Q. How did the revolt begin?

A. Fidel Castro tried once to start a rebellion in 1956, but was exiled, along with some of his followers. They congregated in Mexico and soon filtered back into Cuba, where they staged this successful revolution.

Q. How did they make their cause known to the people so as to secure more followers?

A. Followers of Castro sent out letters, made personal contacts to friends who they felt would be interested, and mailed much propaganda, some of which we received in the states. They also held secret meetings. However, all news of Castro was not secret, for when he made his landing, it was broadcasted on the radio and in the newspapers.

Q. Do you think that Castro was right in his attempt and in his success in it?

A. Definitely, we are really on his side, because he gave up everything he had for the revolution, without the desire to set himself up in office or to get money. He was really seeking freedom for the people.

Q. What is your reaction to the killings that are going on now, over which there is so much dispute in the various countries?

A. Most people here in the U.S. think it is not right, but those people are given a fair trial; if they are found guilty, they are killed. During the Batista rule military police tortured people and beat them to death with no reason—men, women, children, twelve and thirteen-year-old boys. Those people are getting what they deserved. They murdered for six years.

Q. What is Castro's aim politically in relation to the United States and Cuba?

A. Well, Castro hopes to remove any chance of another dictatorship to develop within Cuba. As to his feelings toward America, he wishes to be friendly but does not want the United States to interfere with his moves to correct the faults of the Batista regime. Also, you have to remember that the U.S. provided Batista with arms and airplanes earlier in the battle.

BSU Sponsors Emphasis Week

Dr. Joe J. Mickle, president of the college, served as honorary chairman this week for the Evangelistic Emphasis Week meeting which were given January 26-30 by the Baptist Student Union in connection with several other private education institutions.

"For God So Loved The World" served as the theme for the week of meetings which brought former graduates and instructors of the institutions before the groups for the program.

In addition to Centenary college, participating in the Evangelistic Week were Ayers School of Business, Northwestern School of Nursing, and Spencer-Draughon Business College. Bob W. Childress, Shreveport city-wide Baptist Student Director, was the principal worker in having the BSU group sponsor the meetings.

Students and faculty assigned to various committees for the program were: Joy Lambert, Student Chairman; Dr. Webb Pomeroy, Bible Department Chairman; Jim McLean, Methodist Student Director; and Robert W. Childress, Baptist Student Director.

Carole Solomon and Larry Elliott served on the Program Committees. For Publicity, Martha Whitehurst, Mary Lee Matthews, Mary Anne McLendon, and Gloria Thompson served. Head of Seminars were David Simmons, Jack Baker, and Will Ambrose.

Larry McKinstry, George Acton, Bob Schulman, Sarah Tiner, and Glenda Johnson were on Informal Discussions, while Betty McQueen and Judy Meredith were on Hospitality committees. Visitation committees were covered by Lloyd Hawkins, Linnette Davis, Jeanette Crocker, and Deen Thompson.

Special Arrangements were under Richard Herrmann, and Bob Richards directions. In charge of Music were Lanny Bilyeu, Rosemary Watkins, Lora Phipps, Carolyn Cole, Lyssa Grogan, and Anna Clark Whittaker.

Principal speaker for the seminars was Charles W. Junker, a graduate of Vanderbilt University and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary. Other speakers were Rev. R. F. Gates, Rev. Bob Dyal, and Rev. Don B. Harbuck.

game and with two charities by Billy Eubanks the game ended at 72-69.

With Moreland covered, little Bud Frye led Tech's attack with 13 points to his credit while Ray Germany, Joe Daigle, and Jim Tullos all added 11 points each.

For the Gents, along with Greene's and Scott's 18 points were the 15 of Jackie Crawford, who managed also to add nine rebounds to his credit. Gerald Martello finished with 13 points while hitting 5-of-8 from the floor and being hampered the last half with 4 personal fouls.

The win gives the Gents a good chance to obtain their third straight "Pine Cone" title, providing they are able to retain their already-heavy accuracy during Northwestern and Tech games.

Flynt Prepares 'Motive' Article

Marcella Flynt, member of the editorial board of "Motive" magazine published by the national Methodist Student Movement, is working on an article on the subject, "The Response to Society of Today's Creative College Student." She is one of twenty representatives on college campuses across the nation working on the article. The article will appear in the April issue of "Motive" and will consist of a compilation of questions asked of students on the various campuses.

On a previous assignment, a socio-political problem was commented on by students, faculty members, ministers, and student workers. This appeared in the November issue, with Dr. Edward Murray Clark selected as representative of Centenary.

Meeting Planned For Chess Club

A Junior Chess Club is to be organized in the Moore Student Center Friday, January 30, at 6:30 p.m. The organization is spearheaded by Vlada Dimac, who is one of the top ranking chess players in Louisiana. The nucleus of the organization will be formed by Centenary students, but membership is also open to high school students.

Dimac will also give free lessons in chess to non-players who are interested. Those who wish more information about the club or the lessons may contact Mr. Dimac by calling 7-6511 or Mrs. Nichols, 8-2431.

Dimac will be assisted by Mrs. Fannie Nichols, student activities director; Miss Virginia Carlton, head of the mathematics department; and F. H. Delaney, director of the Centenary Development Program.

“Pine Cone” Rivals Meet Tomorrow

GENT TALK

By BUDDY GRAHAM

Undoubtedly, the day awaited by Centenary fans has arrived—the Centenary Gentlemen at full strength and playing headsup ball for two halves. With the Gulf South Classic there began a steady advance in improvement on the Gent squad. Leading this change are two prominent men about the court, Larry Greene and Robert Scott.

For Centenary one thing is certain, they will no longer be discounted by any sportswriter as not having the ability to win any game for the remainder of the season. This is made evident by the rating given currently in Dick Dunkel's power index which listed Centenary as the 9th team among small colleges in the nation. Also Centenary now has an impressive list of wins over such powers as Tennessee Tech, Louisiana Tech, Murray State, and a Senior Bowl Tournament Championship. Such achievements cannot be overlooked!

Something which could not be said of the Gents at the first of the season is that now any number of five or six men are likely to score 15 to 20 points in any game. Earlier, the Gents could count only on Martello and Crawford for the big scores. Among the likely high scorers in any game are Leon Shaw, most valuable player in the Senior Bowl; Billy Eubanks, scored 20 points against Murray State; Robert Scott, scored 28 points against Northwestern State; Larry Greene, high-point man against La. Tech and a standout on defense; Gerald Martello, highest average scoring on the squad; and Jackie Crawford, consistently high scoring and a whiz on the backboards.

With the La. Tech game the Gents showed themselves in excellent form, hitting consistently both halves and playing alert ball. Probably, the score would have been much higher had not there been the big difference at the free-throw line. Here at the charity line the Tech boys managed to shoot an accurate 88 per cent compared to Centenary's 70 per cent.

Something which many people seem to be concluding is that whenever McCarthy & Co. are at the referee posts, you can expect to find the typical 65 fouls to be called that game. Indeed, during the Tech game both were trying to foul the post men out, but with seven players on the teams with 4or 5 fouls and this happening consistently, there seems to be room for some comment.

One thing is certain—tomorrow night when Centenary meets Northwestern, the Gents will enter the game favored and should walk out with another win in the “Pine Cone” race. Jimmy Leach and his colleagues will have plenty in store for them if they hope to take home a win. If the Gents are able to continue in their form shown in the Senior Bowl Classic and against Loyola and Louisiana Tech, they should have no trouble with NSC.

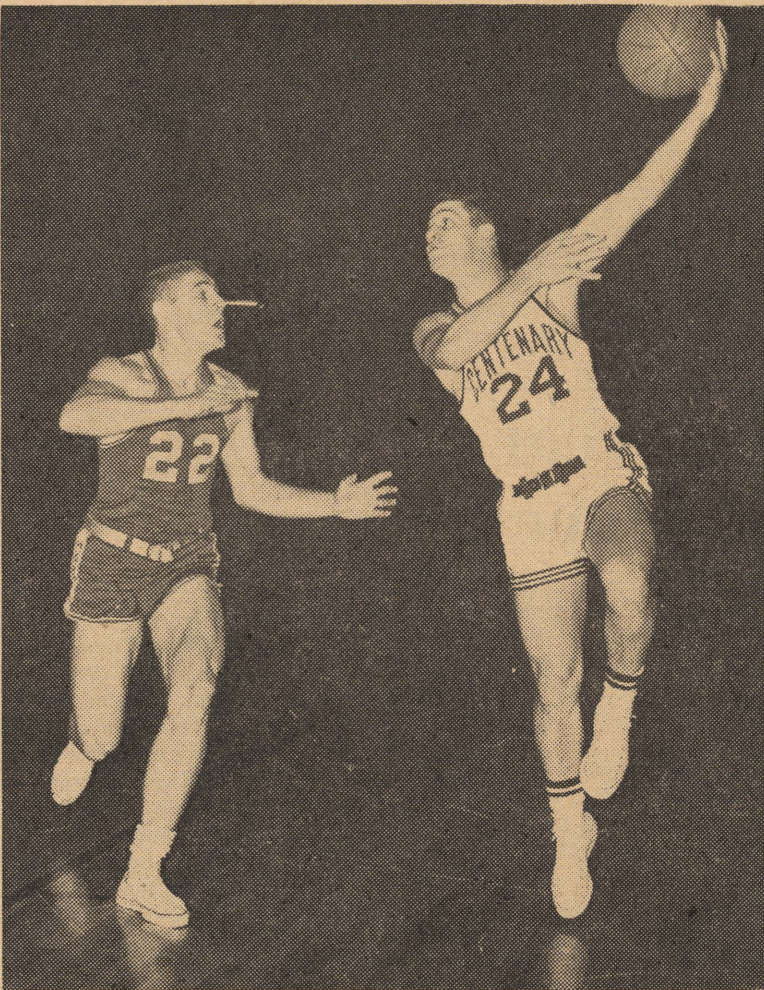

Coach Sigler has done a great job in bringing together a team of men who are for the first time entering into University competition. The Gents record of 7 wins and 8 losses is not one to be sneered at for it contains some losses which could have gone either way. An example of that is the Loyola game played during final week in which the Gents fought back to lose in the final seconds 62-60. Also, it is noteworthy to mention that Centenary has won every game outside of the University division it has played so far and only in the upper division has it suffered a loss. Even now the Gents could end up with a respectable win-loss record if they play the kind of ball they did against Tech for the remainder of the season.

P.S. WE WANT A HOLIDAY!

Recent whiz on the Gent roster is Larry Greene who exploded in the Tech game last week to top scoring for the night with 18 points and presented himself as a brilliant defensive player.

Centenary Smashes to Victory Winning Senior Bowl Tourney

Leon Shaw, Gent guard, paced the Gents to Championship in the Senior Bowl Tournament and received recognition as the tourney's "most valuable player." Throughout the tournament, Shaw's great ball control and dribbling caught the eye of the sportwriters who finally in the vote accorded him the MVP award.

Centenary began the program by routing highly-favored Tennessee Tech with a last-half rally of 51 points. Martello led scoring honors with 22, followed by Shaw and Larry Greene with 19 and 18 points respectively. Bob Scott and Jackie Crawford also were helpful in the early win by tossing in 14 points each. Crawford held the Eagles' big center, Jim Hagan, second-leading scorer in the nation, to 16 points with the help of Shaw and Greene who fell back on Hagan to tie him up on several occasions. Final score: Tech 64, Gents 87.

The Gents broke loose in the second half of the final game and won the championship easily with a win over Spring Hill 71-57. Holding a slim 37-35 half-time lead, the Gents came back to smother Spring Hill's top scorer, Al Irato, with only 10 points for the night. Actually, the Gents were in bad shape until Martello with fine shooting and Jackie Crawford with great rebound work moved the Centenary squad out front by 10 points.

Then Leon Shaw & Co. went into a semi-freeze and put on one of the finest demonstrations of this type of ball-handling seen by a Gent squad. They controlled the ball so thoroughly that Spring Hill was finally forced to resort to purposeful fouls in order to gain possession. The last 12 points for Centenary were all made at the foul line with Shaw contributing seven of them.

Robert Scott, who added 13 points in the Spring Hill win and was a standout on defense, was runnerup to Shaw in the MVP voting. The Ringgold native was listed as a prime factor in holding Hagan to 16 points, and Irato with 10.

The tournament win gave Centenary their first real chance at glory and a championship trophy for the season.

Girls' Murals In Final Week

Women's intramurals move into the semi-final and finals this week and the next in ping-pong and shuffleboard singles and doubles. In ping-pong singles Joan Templeton will meet the winner of the Sally Murphree and Mary Charleville game in the finals. Winners of the Cecile Plummer and Ann Bostick versus Mary Charleville and Sally Murphree, and the Janet Gholson and Mignon Eubanks versus Janet McClelland and Joan Templeton semi-finals will meet in the finals next week.

In shuffleboard singles Phoebe Monroe and Kay France will meet in the finals. In the semi-finals of shuffleboard doubles are Gail Stimpert and Dalna Worley, Janet McClelland and Joan Templeton, Judy Parker and Ann Moreneaux.

Gentlemen Prepare To Destroy NSC In Home Game Stand

After a definite between-semester slowdown, the hustling Centenary Gentlemen will go back to work in earnest Saturday night as they engage always dangerous Northwestern State College. Then, with but a day's rest, play host to the high scoring Florida State University Seminoles on Monday evening, and wind up their three-game home stand against nationally-ranked Oklahoma City University on Friday, February 6th.

To say they have their work cut out for them is the understatement of the year, what with in sensational Hugh Durham the Seminoles have the nation's fifth leading scorer with a 24.2 average in 14 games, not to mention the powerful Chieftains of Oklahoma City knocking off teams of the T.C.U. calibre in a breeze.

One thing is for certain, in Saturday night's tussle with the Demons come what may, nothing in the realm of possibility can equal the whistle tootin' exhibition that figured in their first meeting on New Year's Eve during the Gulf South Classic.

Gents Win In Classic

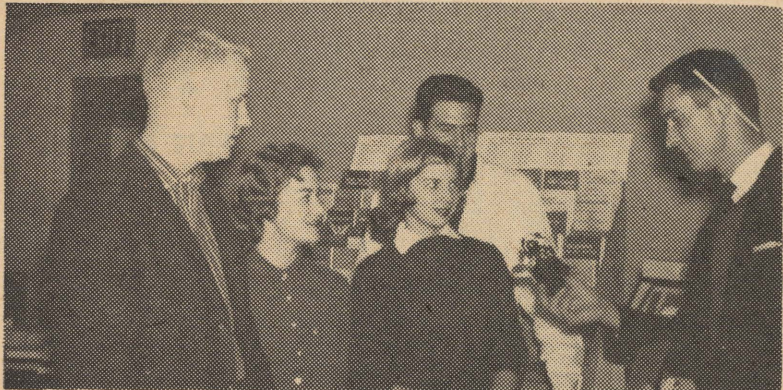

The Gents copped the duke 81-72 for third place honors in the Classic, but only after a combined 82 attempts from the charity strip were good for a total of 61 points. Classic records fell like ten-pins as the Gents made good on 41 of 50 attempts, with Robert Scott serving up 18 of 19, while reserve guard Wayne Dubose hit for 10 out of 12. The Demons while nine field goals to the good, made only 20 of 32 free tosses. Northwestern lost William Stewart and Phillip Haley via the foul route, while teammate Bobby Wicker left early due to unnecessary roughness, plus an elbow to the jaw. Leon Shaw and Bob Scott were invited to leave by the foul rule at the Gents lair, so the rematch could have plenty of fireworks.

Tech Defeats NSC

Since the first meeting, the lads from Natchitoches dropped a second decision to high-flying Louisiana Tech in the three-way Pine Cone Series, while on the other hand, the Siglermen kept their slate clean edging the Bulldogs 72-69 in a spine-tingling battle last week.

The Gents' Most Valuable Senior Bowl star Leon Shaw, will once again be at full speed after missing the Mississippi Southern game due to a twisted ankle sustained in the Tech game.

Personalities Reveal Unusual Experiences

By LINDA FRANK

"Daughter of major loses slip at basketball game!" News flashed across the teletype when Lorita Donaho caught her heel in her red petticoat while yelling at a basketball game. The other yell-leaders got so tickled that they couldn't finish the yell. Needless to say, Lorita finished the yell despite her difficulty.

Lorita is a freshman pre-med student. She plans to do physical therapy work. When asked how she became interested in this field, she told of her friend who is paralyzed from the waist down who influenced her a great deal in her choice.

She nearly drowned when she was two years old. She fell into a deep mud-hole head first from a bridge. Some dive! Despite her early mishap in the water, she enjoys swimming. Johnny Mathis and sound tracks such as "Oklahoma" and "South Pacific" entertain this Bryan, Texas, lass in the musical field.

Lorita is a member of the pep squad, the Chi Omega pledge class, and participates in intramural sports.

When she attended her first class in sociology, there was some disturbance over the pronunciation of her last name. When the professor pronounced it "Donahoe", she said it was "Donawho." After an illustration at the board and much laughter in the class, the instructor said, "I guess the pronunciation all depends on which side of the Mississippi river you were born on!"

Future Gent Ballplayer

"I've never been on ice," says John Vasilopoulos, sophomore transfer student from Marshall, Missouri. (He was referring to ice-skating, of course.) John transferred from West Point. His main interests in sports are in the fields of bowling, tennis, water-skiing and basketball.

John became interested in Centenary through his interest in basketball, but because of the basketball transfer rule, he has not seen any action with the Gents. He plays guard for the Kimball's Business Machine team in the Southern Amateur Athletics Union.

Jerry Mulligan is John's top modern jazz artist, and Chuck Connors as the "Rifleman" is his favorite television artist.

"Cars, racing, and girls" are his main interests, but his dream is to live on the Riviera in Buenos Aires, Argentina.

When asked about his most unusual experience he recalls the time he "got hit in the head by the Hatchet Woman and then shot out of the saddle by a fellow Gent."

John is majoring in math and physical education.

Debut with Politics

"Lady, does 'this' belong to you?"

"I just wanted to run and hide," says Bess Smith, junior education major. Bess says her most embarrassing incident occurred when she was boarding a bus for a weekend trip. Her overnight bag she thought she had fastened securely, but as she got on the bus, it fell open and "everything fell to the ground!" "And then I thought I had gathered up everything, but I didn't!"

Bess is in education and is majoring in English and minoring in social studies. She is a member of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority.

"I'm very un-athletic, and the only thing I like to do athletic is to hike." Bess has taken some art courses here at Centenary and likes to sketch landscapes.

One day she was quite startled when Mayor Gardner and a crew of t.v. men came to take pictures for his campaign program. She was asked to organize the children and set up games for the television cameras. "I was really a mess as the day had been damp, and my hair had fallen, and I had on a pair of pedal pushers!" What a debut!

Set Records at Alabama

"To be a shyster lawyer per excellence and to own a black Jaguar roadster," are two ambitions of Larry Johnson, senior pre-law student. Larry is working toward a divisional major in history, government and commerce. Next fall he plans to enter law school at LSU.

Larry has set several records. He made a brilliant scholastic record as a freshman at the University of Alabama by racking up the total of four quality points for seventeen semester hours of work. He has also "set the perfect record of non-attendance at the basketball games."

This Kappa Alpha works several nights a week at United Gas.

He has an interest in guns and says, "my room looks like the national guard armory!" He likes to hunt anything, "especially something cool and refreshing or a good book." Larry enjoys reading philosophy books. Nietzsche, a German writer and philosopher, is one of his favorite authors.

ON CAMPUS

By Peggy Longino

Congratulations to new Kappa Sigma Officers. Installed Monday night were Warren West, Grand Master; Billy Pat Tip-ton, Grand Procurator; Buddy Graham, Grand Master of Ceremonies; Gene LaCaze, Grand Scribe; Coan Knight, Grand Treasurer and Theo Kleman, Social Chairman.

The Tom Hubbels have a new little Centenary Gent. Dot is home from the hospital with a red-haired eight-pound, three-ounce baby boy. Congratulations.

The Bowlero seems to be the new meeting place for the college crowd. A few of the recent bowling enthusiasts are Nancy White, Austin Sartin, Al Eubanks, Dave Mills, John Williams, Jane Ilgenfritz and Jim Daigle.

The holidays last week were the scene of much coming and going. They found Theo Kleman and Bobby Holtzclaw in Alexandria, while Dick Johns traveled down to New Orleans. Elizabeth and Margaret Reeves played hostesses for a visit from Nancy Dixon and Ginny Emerson while Jeri Cassady invited Nancy Thomas to Lake Charles. Not to be outdone, Lorita Donaho had as a house guest in Bryan, Texas, Sandra Connell.

Patty Owen is still shining her Kappa Alpha pin daily and hearing from a friend at Tech every "once in a while."

Welcome to a few of the transfer students this semester. Among them are Robin Fletcher, from Oklahoma; Nancy McCullough, Converse; Mary Ellen Ghaughn, Fontbonne; Bill Norton, Phillips University, and Linda Rosett, SMU.

Enjoying a small gathering Friday night in honor of the memory of KA founder Robert E. Lee were Zina Hengy, John Byrd, Warren Goss, Dave Mills and the Keith Simmons, Jr. Earlier in the week, John and Warren placed a wreath on Lee's bust on the Courthouse Square in ceremonies commemorating this great man's birthday.

The KA's new housemother is Mrs. D. C. Richardson, who boasts a recom of three KA sons and "scads" more in the family.

Any freshman girls who are interested in becoming a member of the Pep Squad this semester may contact President Sara Hitchcock or Mrs. Nichols in her office in the Student Center.

Happy new leaves!

Clark Presents Article At Meet

Dr. Edward Murray Clark presented an article, originally as a paper, at the 78th annual meeting of Louisiana State Medical Society in Shreveport. The article, entitled "Of Imagination All Compact", is contained in the current issue of the Journal of the Louisiana State Medical Society.

The article notes the similarity in terms used by writers and psychiatrists, and was presented by Dr. Clark in the psychiatric division of the meeting. He expresses the idea that "we are now in the Time of Acceptance" and that "writers of all kinds and qualities are using the concepts, the language, and the symbols of depth psychology as a matter of course." The article was first reviewed in The Shreveport Journal last May.

Labor's Article To Be Published

Earl G. Labor, now on leave of absence from the Centenary faculty to complete requirements for the Ph.D. degree at the University of Wisconsin, is the author of an article appearing in the current issue of the magazine, "The Explicator."

Labor held the rank of instructor in English when he left the college several years ago. He will return to Centenary next fall with the rank of assistant professor of English.

Labor's article is an explication on Faulkner's "The Sound and the Fury" and deals with a specific scene in the novel as insight into the meaning of the entire work.

Gents Cop Tech Tilt Win by 72-70

The Centenary freshmen squad showed the varsity that they too were able to defeat a Louisiana Tech foe as they battled to a close 72-70 win over the Ruston freshmen. Mike Ramming led the scoring attack for the Gentlets with a barrage of shots from the floor while making a success of 10 field goal attempts. Ramming also added 7 charity throws for his best scoring for the season.

Dale Van Bibber did well for himself on the backboards and in the scoring category as he totaled 13 points to his credit. Jerry Callens, usually scoring above 20, was held to a low 13 points as the Tech men spotted him for the night before finally fouling out late in the game. Larry Saucier followed Ramming in scoring honors for the Gent crew as he managed to cop 15 points to his credit.

This win was the second over Tech for the young Gents though much closer than the game played last month in Ruston which the Centenary boys won easily. On this trip, the bullpups talked back loudly and actually led by 36-35 at the half on the fine shooting of Billy Boatner, Jackie Fair and Gerry Cooper.

Centenary Lady and Gentleman, Favorites Nominated In Chapel

Twenty six- students were nominated yesterday in chapel to be candidates in coming class favorite and Centenary Lady and Gentlemen elections. Date for the race has been set for Wednesday, Feb. 25 and necessary run-offs on the following Friday. In charge of polls will be members of the Student Senate and faculty representatives.

School of Music to Sponsor First Faculty Recital Period

The school of music will open Centenary's first faculty recital series Sunday, Feb. 8, with a performance by Joseph M. Running, director of the school. The Sunday program, as well as the three to follow, will be at 4 p. m. in the Brown Memorial Chapel and is open to the public without charge.

The second recital of the series will feature Rule Beasley, bassoonist and pianist on March 8. Sam Terranova, violinist and concertmaster of the Shreveport Symphony, will be presented April 5 and William C. Teague, assistant professor of music at Centenary and organist and choirmaster at St. Mark's Episcopal Church, will conclude the series on May 3 with an organ recital.

Running, who has previously appeared as guest artist with the Shreveport Symphony, was presented as guest pianist on Jan. 12 with the University Symphony of Florida State University in Tallahassee. He has also appeared as accompanist for many nationally known music figures, including Theodor Uppman and Norman Scott of the Metropolitan Opera Company and Reuben Varga, violinist.

A graduate of St. Olaf College in Northfield, Minn., Running was a member of the tenor section of the famed St. Olaf Choir and served as assistant director of that group for two consecutive seasons. Having done graduate work at Stanford University and the Philadelphia Conservatory, he is now completing requirements for his doctorate under Ernst von Dohnanyi at Florida State University.

Wide experience as a teacher, pianist, choral director and organist preceded Running's union with the campus faculty in September, 1958. He formerly served as organist at St. John's Episcopal Church in Tallahassee.

Teaching positions previously held include instructor in music at San Jose College in San Jose, Calif.; assistant organist and lecturer in music at Stanford University, Palo Alto, Calif.; assistant professor of piano at St. Olaf College, and associate professor and head of the piano department at Western Kentucky State College in Bowling Green, Ky.

Currently, as well as holding the rank of professor of piano at Centenary, Running is organist and choirmaster at the Broadmoor Methodist Church and director of the Shreveport Chorale Ensemble here.

Band Features Tympani Soloist

John Raush of Berwyn, Ill., was featured as tympani soloist in a concert presented by the Centenary College Band yesterday during the regular Chapel period. B. P. Causey directed the band and served as master of ceremonies for the program.

Weinberger's "Concerto for Tympani and Brass" was the selection in which Raush was featured. Other numbers included in the concert were "American Overture for Band" by Jenkins; "Elsa's Procession to the Cathedral" from Wagner's "Lohengrin"; "Dude Ranch," a modern selection in three sections, and "First Suite in E Flat" by Holst.

Tech Band to Play for Dance

"The Tunes," a band from Louisiana Tech, will be featured tomorrow night in the Moore Student Center at the annual campus-wide dance, sponsored by the Kappa Sigma Fraternity. Theo Klemann, social chairman for the group, has stated that the dance will begin at 8:00 p. m. and last until 12:00.

The theme for the night, which will be followed in all decorations, will be the "South Pacific Shipwreck Party." All students and faculty are invited to attend and are requested to dress in accordance with the theme. Admission is free and refreshments will be served.

In charge of decorations and arrangements are Theo Klemann, chairman; Joe Ben Hayes, Buddy Graham, and Billy Pat Tipton.

Last year the Kappa Sigs presented the "Cowboy" dance to the campus in what was one of the last formal engagements to be held in the old Centenary Playhouse. The Playhouse was demolished after the new Marjorie Lyons Playhouse was opened.

Chosen to run for Centenary Lady will be Cecile Plummer and T-Tom Wilkinson, while Warren West, Charles Wilder, and John Bird will receive the chance to vie for the Gentleman post.

The freshman class chose as their candidates Sally Clingman, Mignon Eubanks, and Janet Gholson. Also, the men chosen to run were Tim Temple and Lawrence Waschka.

Jim Daigle and Ralph Mason will compete in the sophomore class, while their coed colleagues will be Brenda Bailey and Vicky Grisby.

In the senior class, Ann DeShazo, Gaynelle Morgan, and Emma Lou Stewart have been selected to run. Also, Jerry Cox, David Herndon, and Billy Pat Tipton are the candidates for the other favorite post.

Jackie Carpenter, Dub Fletcher, and David Forte received nominations in the junior class and accompanying them on the ballot will be coed candidates Cornelia Agurs, Bess Smith, and Abbie Terry.

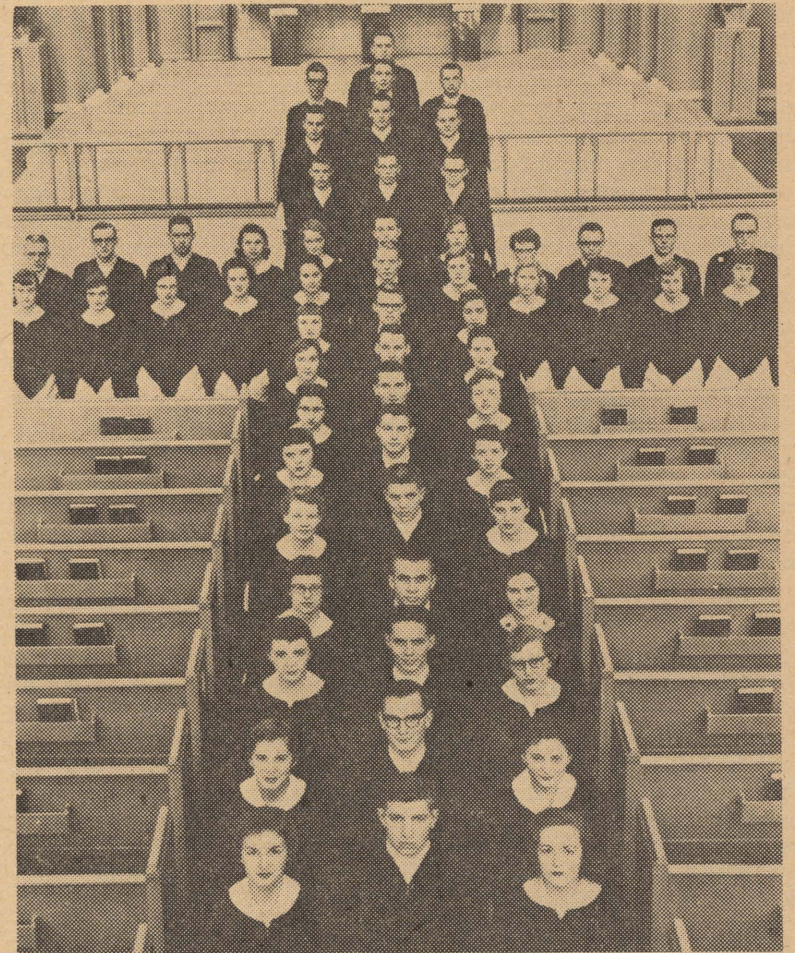

The entire student body is urged to vote in the election in order that those chosen will be the correct choices. Also, Fred Willis, vice president of the Student Body, has announced that voting machines have been applied for and should be present for the election.

Dr. White Reports On Language Meet

Dr. Ralph E. White recently attended the sessions of the Modern Language Association and the American Association of Teachers of Spanish in New York City. He reports a most interesting and profitable experience, stating that "Everywhere is manifest a greatly increased stress on the teaching of modern foreign languages."

Among the featured speakers were Dr. John B. Conant, former president of Harvard and Lawrence F. Derthick, U. S. Commissioner of Education. They both advocate greater concentration in language study. In the session it was recommended that students of greater linguistic aptitude be given a four-year course in one language in high school and that this course be continued in college.

The week of February 15-21 has been designated as National Foreign Language Week in order to point up the emergency in which our country finds itself because of the need for people who speak and understand a modern foreign language. Languages will be pictured as the key which will open the door to universal brotherhood.

Featured in the second Lyceum program of this year will be the famed St. Olaf Lutheran Choir of St. Olaf College, Northfield, Minn. The Choir, which has toured Europe, Scandinavia and all sections of the United States, will present their concert in the Haynes Memorial Gymnasium this coming Thursday morning at 9:00 a. m.

Famed St. Olaf Choir To Appear Thursday

The St. Olaf Choir from St. Olaf College in Northfield, Minn., scheduled to present two concerts here next week, will be directed by Dr. Olaf C. Christiansen, director, composer and arranger.

The present Christiansen director is the second of his family to direct the famed 60-voice choral group. He sang in the choir while a student at the college under the direction of the late F. Melius Christiansen, his father and founder of the now internationally known a capella choir.

After graduation from the college in 1925, the younger Christiansen went to New York to continue his studies. After teaching 12 years at Oberlin Conservatory, he joined the faculty of his alma mater in 1941 and, since that time, has followed his father's precedent.

Because of the College's founding by early Norwegian settlers in the Midwest, the choir has a heavy legacy of Norwegian traditions. During the first ten years of its existence, many of the choir's rehearsals were in a mixture of Norwegian-American tongues.

The choirsters have made tours of Europe, Scandinavia and almost all sections of the United States. Their appearances here will be part of their current tour of 23 Southern cities.

The concert Thursday, Feb. 12, in the Haynes Memorial Gymnasium will be a feature of the current Lyceum Series on campus. Tickets for the public will be available at the door, however, and local residents may attend. Joseph M. Running, chairman of the Centenary College school of music and former tenor with the choir, will serve as master of ceremonies.

The first of the two local concerts will be presented at 8:30 p. m. Wednesday, Feb. 11, in the Brown Memorial Chapel. It will be open to the public without charge and is sponsored in cooperation with Shreveport's four Lutheran churches. This will be a program of appropriate Lenten music and will follow 7 p. m. Ash Wednesday Lenten services at the local churches.

Ford Speaker At Lions Club

Dr. E. L. Ford, head of the department of modern languages, was guest speaker this week at a meeting of the Oaks Grove Lions Club.

Dr. Ford, who spent the summer traveling through Africa, spoke on the Dark Continent and showed colored slides made on the tour. He was introduced by Joe T. Kelly, program chairman.

Graham's Grievances

EXILED AT ROTARY

For the past four years Centenary has seen one of the greatest periods of growth and development in its history. Despite all this expansion, any resident at Rotary Hall will readily agree that someone forgot about rainy weather and sidewalks on the drawing boards. On a wet day the male men about campus should be excused if they are seen wearing their oldest, now out-of-style clothes, for who wants to get nice ones ruined?

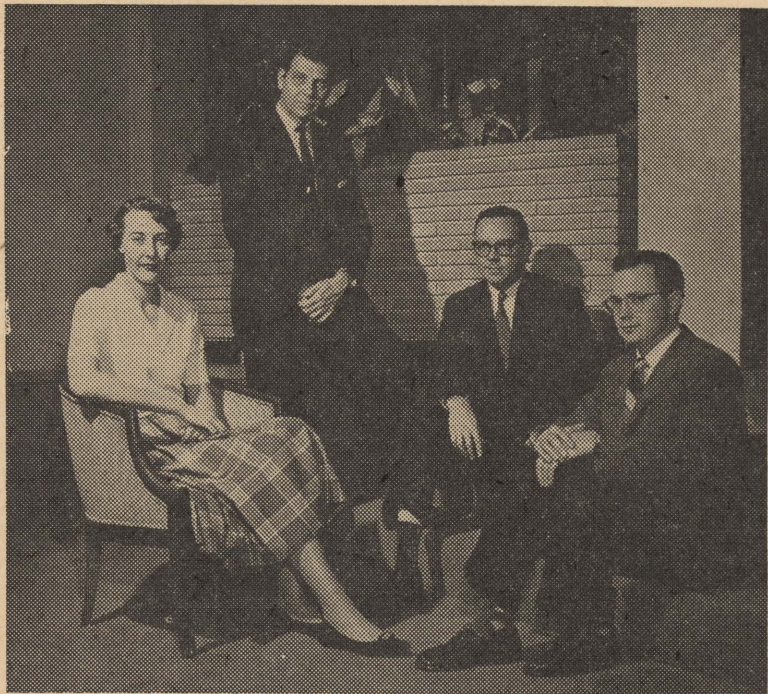

If you doubt this comment on sidewalks, the suggestion might be for you to leave the front door and try to make it to your automobile. It's not too bad sloshing over the sidewalks that are there, being usually an inch or two under water, but what really makes going tough is to try to balance your way across the two planks which have been carefully thrown across the deepest part of the ford. Of course, if you are unlucky, which is generally the case, you probably will step slightly to one side of the board and find an upsurge of water along the leg of your best pants.

Then there is that early morning trip to the cafeteria. "Hike" might be the better term for the meander finds the proletarian heading off at a tangent in order to reach his destination in a fairly dry manner. All this after having to carefully balance himself on a row of two-foot-square cement blocks thrown in a rather not-too-careful manner to replace the gap which remained for some two years between the amphitheatre and the Frost Memorial.

But it is the men in Gym classes who really get the Brownell Tour No. 605. From their abode during a rainy day they must either strike out through the mud and hope for the best—which usually ends in the gym teacher eating you out for having gotten mud on the gym floor—or they may head for the Moore Student Center, dressed in striking apparell, then take the winding course which leads to the back door of the gymnasium. Best yet, though, is to take the more southerly route leading to Kings Highway, then turn left and follow the sidewalk to the gym. Fine, said the freshmen, until for the first, second, and third times a car, truck, or trolley gallantly splashes the residue of some thirty days of rain upon an already cold body.

How many other people remember having tried to make it from the science building to the English building on a rainy day? Ever try to take that shortcut, now worn deep with use, in order to add the minute you need in order to be on time? If not, don't!

Still, there is the positive side to this ever-present problem of the school student and faculty. Not only would there be a great aid to everyone concerned by adding the much-needed sidewalks, but also they would remove the unsightly miles of paths which cut across the campus. The continued use which these paths get expresses the very pressing need for them which exists especially during the long, wet winter months. —B.G.

'Cyrano' Play An Apparent Success

By George Acton

"Cyrano de Bergerac," the new play at the Marjorie Lyons Playhouse, got off to a hectic start this night, and judging by the last rehearsals, Director Joseph Gifford has put together a play with all the qualities that have made the play such a durable favorite. His "Cyrano" is humorous but pathetic, lively but thoughtful.

"Cyrano" is a large work, in style, in cast, and in technical requirements, and those who have a part in it have risen to the demands of Rostand's script.

This is Cyrano's play, and Al Hart puts a wonderful combination of sensitivity and vitality into his portrayal of the man who has the heart and soul, but not the face, of a great lover. When Mr. Hart steps out from behind a disk-jockey's microphone and onto a stage, his voice becomes a thing of beauty and power; in a word, he gives a fine performance.

The character of Roxanne is, as Gifford pointed out, during tryouts, a "female of the species," and Ramona Nail is as well cast in her part as Hart in his. Her voice is clear yet lyrical, especially in the famous balcony scene which is the high point of the play—and the triumph of the Centenary production. Al Smith's standards of the two leads, and John Williams makes a convincingly villainous De Guiche.

Daigle Stands Out

In the casting of the minor parts, Director Gifford has come up with gems—if some slightly unpolished ones. James Daigle attracts attention, as usual, in his three small roles. His lines are clear and crisp to the syllable, and keep up the humor which underlies much of the action. Martha Stapp Simmons gets the maximum humor from her small part in the first act as she interrupts the proceedings with the 18th Centenary version of "Peanuts, Popcorn, and Crackerjacks." Another skillful success is Carrol Armour's rendering of the drunken poet Leniere.

Except for a few technical snags which will be cleared up before the run is well under way, the rehearsals showed "Cyrano" success dramatically. Let's hope it will also be one commercially.

PR's to March At Mardi Gras

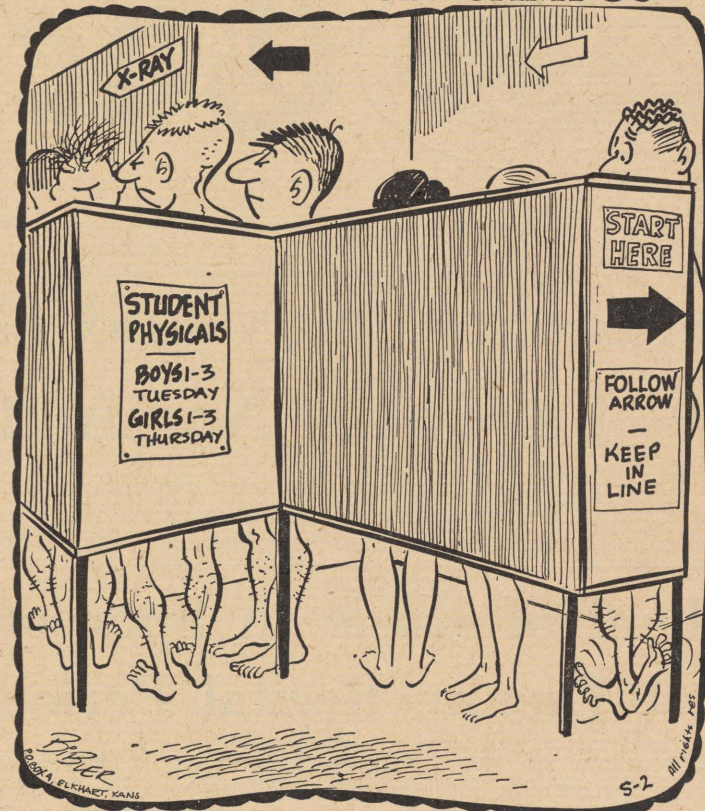

The Centenary chapter of the Pershing Rifle Company left this morning for New Orleans where they will participate in the city's Mardi Gras Festival. Tommy Hickcox, reporter for the chapter, stated that the company will be in the city for two days and nights and will return to Shreveport Sunday night.

Traveling with the company are Cadet Captain James Durham, commander of the platoon; Captain Paul Kay; and Sergeant R. Tanner, instructors in the ROTC unit.

The company will march in the Krewe of Adonis parade Saturday afternoon and in the Krewe of Venus parade Sunday afternoon, after which they will return to Shreveport.

The next trip for the PR's will be to San Antonio, Texas, for the Fiesta de la Flores.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"WE BETTER RUN BACK AND CHECK THAT SCHEDULE."

English Proficiency Test

The English Proficiency Test will be given on Tuesday, Feb. 10, 1959, in Rooms 202 and 203 of the Science Building from 8:00 A. M. till 10:00 A. M.

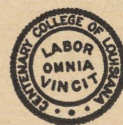

The following people must take the test:

1. All juniors who do not have an average of B or better in freshman English.
2. All seniors who should have taken it last year but did not do so.
3. Second semester sophomores who do not have the required average in freshman English and who wish to take it.
4. Any candidate for a degree at Centenary who may have previously failed the test. NOTE: Any candidate who has taken additional courses or work in English, must take the test a second time and pass it.

The Passing of This Test Is a Requirement for Graduation

Each student should bring to the examination room lined notebook paper, fountain pen, ink, blotter, and a dictionary.

Any inquiries about the examination may be directed to Dr. Lee Morgan of the English Department.

Bob Scott, who led Gent scoring against Northwestern and added 17 points against Florida State, seems to be telling the Seminoles to clear out of his way as he drives through Florida State defense to make a lay-up shot. Centenary won the University Division contest 87-63.

Mickle Proclaims Holiday—

Maturing Gentlemen 'Scalp' Florida State, Northwestern

A maturing Centenary basketball squad pulled themselves above the .500 mark for the first time since the Texas A. & M. game early in the season with two decisive wins this week. Included in the wins was an outstanding performance against Florida State University which saw Centenary win 87-to-63 and another thriller in which the Gents came from behind to outlast Northwestern State College 61-59.

In the first win with Northwestern last Saturday night, Bob Scott bagged 5-of-8 field goal attempts and 6-of-7 tries at the foul line to total 16 points and scoring honors for the Gentlemen. Following Scott was Jackie Crawford who sank 13 and Gerald Martello with 12.

As a result of the win, Dr. Joe J. Mickle, president of the college, proclaimed a holiday in accordance with a promise made earlier in the season. The win itself put Centenary another step closer to the "Pine Cone" title for the year.

Demons led for first half

Northwestern gained a 27-22 half-time advantage largely through the work of two younger members of the Demon squad — Weldon and Skinner. Truitt, the big 6-6 freshman from Mt. Carmel, popped in 12 of those first-half points and Skinner added another 11 to his credit.

Scott set the pace for the Gents early in the second half however, and, with 6 straight points cut the lead to 32-31. A tap in by Martello and the Centenary men were ahead, 32-31.

A barrage of second-half shots by the uncanny Jimmy Leach kept Northwestern in the game and with a tip-in by Weldon it was knotted at 55-55 before Scott added another basket to make it 57-55 in favor of Centenary. Four foul pegs by Leon Shaw and the Gentlemen finished with a close win 61-59.

'Huey' Durham held to 3 points

Monday night the Gents proved once again that Dick Dunkle knows his basketball as they smashed Florida State in their first decisive University Division win.

Hugh Durham, team captain of the FSU Seminoles, carried a 24.2 average into the game when Leon Shaw and the spectators set to work on him. Termed 'Huey' in yells by the crowd, Durham seemingly lost all the smooth ball-handling which had previously characterized the cager and ended his play for the night in a spout of anger directed towards Shaw before leaving with 10 minutes remaining on the clock.

Coach Orvis Sigler undoubtedly placed his confidence in the right man when he chose Shaw for the job of covering Durham for the duel.

Four scorers appeared in the double figures for the Gentlemen—Gerald Martello with 21 points, Bob Scott with 16, Jackie Crawford with 11, and Billy Eubanks with 10. Larry Greene and Shaw, though not so high in scoring, also made themselves known to the audience as they left their imprint in court combat.

Gents romp to second-half lead

After taking a 34-30 lead the first half, the Gentlemen set out early in the third quarter to make that lead larger. Martello led the attack with four accurate baskets in as many minutes of play. Another by Scott and the Gents scrambled to a 56-45 lead midway through the second half.

After Hugh Durham made his only goal for the night, the Gentlemen preceded to "scalp" the Seminoles with a series of fantastic shots all over the floor and thoroughly demolish the already humiliated Florida State men. With 3 minutes to go Coach Sigler filled the line-up with substitutes as the Gents slowly ended the contest an undisputed winner 87-63.

Oklahoma City University Invades Gentland In Youth Center Tonight

Centenary will challenge one of the nation's top major teams tonight as they meet Oklahoma City University in the Youth Center at 8:00 p. m. Included on the night's program will be the first Family Night gathering which is expected to bring forth a large crowd and as a special Family Night attraction, the varsity halftime entertainment will highlight Bossier High School's excellent stage Band and Variety Show.

Not only will it be the first such night in Shreveport college basketball history, but also the Gents' opponent, Oklahoma City University, 12th ranked major college team in the nation, could well be the finest collegiate aggregation ever to appear on the area's hardwoods.

Always one of the nation's top powers, the Chiefs of Coach Abe Lemons are headed for one of their greatest seasons. Possessors of a 15-2 record, the Oklahomans only two reverses have been suffered on the road, one to TCU 66-58, which was avenged last week by 11 points, and the other to Memphis State 66-61.

OCU Winner in Tourney

Winners of the All-College Tournament, the Chieftains' victims include, SMU 74-51, Iowa State 63-56, San Francisco 72-64, Xavier 81-54, Duquesne 75-54, Houston 94-67, and Florida State 103-75 to mention a few.

The OCU attack is spearheaded by two full-blooded Kiowa Indians. 6'4" Fred Yeahquo, a junior from Lawton, Oklahoma, carries a major part of the scoring punch with an exceptional jump shot from the top of the circle, while cousin Bud Sahmaunt, standing a small 5'9", never-the-less is a defensive wizard and top playmaker.

McGraw Hit 33 Points Against Florida

Adding speed and balance to the attack is 6'1" Bud McGraw, whose latest scoring spurge was a 33 point performance against Florida State, and sparkling Fred Moses, a 6'3" sophomore southpaw, who besides being a demon on the boards, has hit the 20 point charmed circle on numerous occasions.

Teaming with Sahmaunt in the backcourt is the fastest man on the Chieftan roster, Troy Hill. An exponent of the wide open, firewagon type of play, the 5'10" speedster is a picture to watch on a drive and averaged 7.3 points per game as a junior last year.

With speed a forte of the vastly improved Gentlemen, the high-ranking invaders could be in for an interesting evening's play. Size will be about even in the starting fives, with Gent Jackie Crawford at 6'8" actually being high man on the totem pole.

Freshmen to Play in Preliminary

Coach Doug Mooty's hustling Freshman crew will tackle a strong Kimball independent squad in the preliminary game starting at 6 p. m. Featuring former Centenary stars Ron Viskoski, Nick Panico, and Gabby Hayes, the Kimball outfit will provide rough opposition for the Gent yearlings.

Plans are being made for the season's largest crowd, with hopes that a Family Night gathering plus the tremendous team attraction might come close to filling the giant 10,500 capacity arena tonight.

SPORTS DOWNBEAT

By DON TYLER

Our "sometimes" unbelievable Centenary Gents are rapidly soaring into the national small-college basketball picture, and justly so, but now they must set their sights on the biggest game of the season. This should be the toughest game for the Gents for they face a quintet billed as the fastest college basketball team in the nation. We say the toughest because of its rating as the thirteenth squad on this week's Associated Press rating.

The Gentlemen basketballers, winner of an 87-63 major upset here last Monday night in a game with Florida State University, will get their next action on Friday night when they host the notorious Oklahoma City University Chieftains.

The tilt also involves winners of two of the nation's leading cage tournaments. Centenary recently won the Senior Bowl at Mobile, Ala., and Oklahoma City was the winner of the annual All-College Tournament at Oklahoma City, where the Chiefs turned back Duquesne, 75-54, on the championship finals.

Monday night the Gents could have beaten anyone. In the second half of the contest the Gents got on the warpath and drove the Seminoles off the Youth Center reservation.

Gerald Martello was the scoring hero for the winning cause, but it seemed that everyone was a hero. No one could do all that much wrong as the Gents were at top form.

On the defensive side the guys had a tremendous night. They held FSU's Hugh Durham—team captain of the Seminoles and ninth-ranked scorer in the nation—to only one field goal and one free shot. Durham had only one point in the first half. That fabulous job is credited to amazing little Leon Shaw.

Even after this startling win over FSU the Gents will have to muster much steam to meet the challenge of OCU. The Chieftains have a record of 15 wins and two defeats while Centenary boasts a 9-8 season total.

MSM Takes First In Volleyball Tilts

MSM edged closer to Kappa Sigma in Sweepstakes standings as they smashed pass Kappa Sigma in two quick opening games to take their first Intramural trophy. Following MSM in second place was Kappa Sigma while Cossa's Robbers and ROTC met last night to decide third place honors.

A host of other teams began the season but dropped out earlier. Among those dropping out were KA, Alpha Sigma Chi, BSU and Blackhawks.

Kappa Sigma still leads in overall standings for Sweepstakes as they have two first place honors in Swimming and Football to their credit as well as a second place in Volleyball. MSM is second with a first place win in Volleyball and a second place in Swimming after taking third place in Football.

Basketball season will begin next week and will include three games each Monday and Tuesday night beginning at 6:00 p. m. and lasting until the season concludes. Eight teams have turned in approved rosters to the Intramural Council and will be included in this year's battle for the Championship trophy.

Among the teams entered are Alpha Sigma Chi, Blackhawks, Cossa's Robbers, Generals, Kappa Alpha, Kappa Sigma, and MSM.

Volleyball Final Standings

MSM	4	0
Cossa's Robbers	2	2

A NEW STUDIO FOR THE COLLEGE SET

No, it's not Chop-sticks, but just Sammy Kilman playing a few of his numbers which will be heard in the play now running at the Marjorie Lyons Playhouse, "Cyrano de Bergerac." Looking on are personalities Mary Ellen Gaughan, Charles Clifford, and Truly Ann Drake. (Photo by Bob Murray)

Personalities List Reading, Music, Acting As Favorites

By Linda Frank

"One of the most unusual things that has ever happened to me was the time that some pranksters set about five alarm clocks in my room to go off at all hours. They seemed to be everywhere!" But's that's one of the plights of a member of the dorm council. Truly Anne Drake, junior personality from Maplewood, Louisiana, is secretary of Hardin Hall. She is also a member of Alpha Chi, Alpha Sigma Pi, MSM, and a member of the former debate fraternity Phi Kappa Delta. She serves as secretary-treasurer of Sigma Tau Delta and is circulation editor of the Conglomerate.

"I enjoy playing tennis, reading contemporary novels, such as those by Thomas Wolfe, and although I'm not musical at all, I enjoy listening to classical and semi-classical music."

Once when Truly Anne was at a church party, the topic of conversation turned to teachers. She at once began to explain to the group why she disliked this particular substitute teacher. "She's ugly, etc." Then she heard a snicker from a boy sitting nearby who explained that it was his mother she was talking about!

A Search for Value

Charles Clifford, senior geology major from Dallas, Texas, has the distinction of being the only guy who has ever been awarded the "rhinestone studded pledge pin!" He pledged Kappa Alpha three semesters at SMU in the fall of 1956. He claims he has been "awarded his Masters degree in K. A. pledge lessons."

Charles likes to play poker, hunt, and bowl. He is also fond of "Mary Kat, Dean Hickcox, and Little Bears."

He is company commander of B Company and 2nd Lt. in the Pershing Rifles, a military honor society.

He is always looking for little investments and often reads the "Wall Street Journal" and watches the stock market. He has just made a deal. On a sales promotion offer, he paid $300 for a set of Americana Encyclopedias, a set of Popular Science books in ten volumes, two volumes of the new dictionary, and one walnut finished book shelf for all the above books. Total value is $1200 retail. And what is he going to do with his fine purchase? A tip to the wise—watch the "For Sale" column in your local newspaper!

A Southern Belle At Heart

Transferring from Fontbonne

College in St. Louis, Missouri, is freshman personality Mary Ellen Gaughan. Mary Ellen hails from Camden, Arkansas, and became interested in Centenary through Nancy Dixon and some relatives who live in Shreveport.

This freshman is especially interested in progressive jazz; her favorite artists being Dave Brubeck and Erroll Garner. She also enjoys golf, tennis, bowling, and reading. "I love to read about the Civil War, and I just love the South." Her friends say her family is a typical Southern family, colonial home and all. "My horse is even named Dixie."

"Things are always happening to me. Once when I got to church early one morning, I discovered that I had two different shoes on!"

Mary Ellen plans to major in commerce.

Posing for Holy Pictures?

"To act" is the ambition of sophomore drama major Sammy Kilman. His aim is to be an actor in a small theater up East, New York preferably.

Sammy is currently sporting an attractive (?) moustache and goatee which he has acquired for the play "Cyrano de Bergerac." He plays the part of a cutpurse and cadet.

Many unusual things have happened to Sammy as a result of his growths. When he returned home, DeRidder, Louisiana, he got many odd glances, as he was thought to be a member of a particular religious group whose main occupation is farming. Their custom is to grow beards when they are first married. Many people stopped him on the street and asked him if he had married a farm girl!

Ten months ago Sammy had a very unusual experience, he was told. It seems he marched along the highway whistling "Colonel Bogey" until he came upon a can that he kicked across the Bossier bridge. What some people will do on a dare!

This sophomore is a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity and plays intramural sports. He also enjoys semi-classical music, football, short novels, and comedies.

ON CAMPUS

By Peggy Longino

Bouquets and many thanks to the Gents for a job well done Saturday night. We all enjoyed sleeping late Monday morning.

A new addition to the Basketball Team this semester is "Red" Walling. Welcome to Centenary, "Red."

Apologies to George Acton and Bill Sanders for omitting them from the list of Kappa Sigma officers last week. George and Bill will serve this semester as Kappa Sigma guards.

A sight to see is Jim Daigle combing his beard for "Cyrano." In addition to the many Centenary students appearing in the play, which opened last night are the forgotten men, or women, as this case is, such as Nancy White and Winifred Fair who contribute by helping backstage.

The Kappa Alphas hosted a coffee at their house Tuesday morning during the free period. Socializing were Tanne McDade, Cornelia Agurs, Linda Frank, Bess Smith, Nora Bess Stafford, Mary Kat McCain, Gail Stimpert, Ken Bond, Mrs. Nichols, Lloyd Blackburn, Vernon Kalmbach, David Jones, Tim Atkins, Lynda Beauvais, Dick Morehead, Bobby Sorenson, Jan Cook, and many more Centenary students. Also, there was Jan Norris, Kappa Alpha transfer from the University of Houston.

Watch for Teen Time on KSLA tomorrow, as it will host guests from Centenary. These guests will be Bobby Holtzclaw, who will entertain with a piano number, Robin Hubert, who will sing, and Beverly Paul, who will present a pantomime.

Donating their time this week to a charity benefit were Winifred Fair and Mignon Eubanks. They modeled in a fashion show presented at the East Ridge Country Club for benefit of the March of Dimes.

Congratulations to new Cencoe members Roberta Jackson and Diane Holloway, Chi Omegas and Alpha Xi Deltas Terry Freeman, Jeanette DeSadier, Pheribe Monroe, and Donna Peral.

Joining the ranks of those who courageously practice teach this semester are Mary Beth Bomar and Betty Snellgrove. Good luck, girls.

Teague's Tour To End Tuesday

William C. Teague, assistant professor of music at Centenary College, will conclude his current concert tour Tuesday, Feb. 10, with a program in the Central Presbyterian Church, New York City.

Mr. Teague began his tour Wednesday, Jan. 28, at the Knowles Chapel at Rollins College, Winter Park, Fla., where he presented a recital on the Aeolian-Skinner organ. This instrument was designed and built especially for the head of the organ department there.

The Memphis chapter of the American Guild of Organists sponsored his second concert which was presented Friday, January 30, at the Idlewild Presbyterian Church in Memphis, Tenn.

Teague, expected to return to Shreveport within the next week, will play on the subscription series at the New York Church.

day to set a new bridge record, or so will people who were in the SUB all day claim.

The choir has been welcomed back from semester tour, after giving sixteen concerts in fourteen days. Judy Hughes seems to be the only scene stealer in the group, with her impromptu performance in Dry Bones, but Don Tyler keeps flinching when he hears the word "Tomcat."

It seems as if Coach Sigler was saving Spanky McCoy for a rainy day.

Kappa Sigs are throwing a "South Pacific Shipwreck" Dance tomorrow night in the SUB. Come at eight and dance to the music of "The Tunes" until twelve.

College Buys New Physics Equipment

Dr. L. G. Raub, head of the physics department, has announced that approximately $1,100 worth of new equipment has been purchased for the physics department from the department's regular budget and unspent funds from a recent Esso Foundation grant.

Dr. Raub stated that the equipment includes six Kundt's tubes for measuring the velocity of sound in metals and/or gases, three resonance apparatus for measuring the velocity of sound in air and six sonometers for measuring wave lengths and frequencies of stretch in string and wires.

Other equipment purchased were six vibrators for producing workable frequencies in general physics laboratories; six sets of equipment for measuring relative humidities; 12 meter sticks, and optical lever equipment, including telescopes and scales, mounted tilting mirror and steel frames for supporting wire.

Also on order but not yet received is equipment designed to measure the stretch of wire by the use of different weights to determine the coefficient of elasticity.

Most of the equipment is new for the department, according to Dr. Raub, although some of the devices have been purchased as replacements for outmoded or worn out devices.

Education Office Awards Fund

The U. S. Office of Education has awarded $1,576 to Centenary College to help establish a new loan fund primarily for future teachers, scientists and linguists. The allocation was part of a $114,125 sum to be given Louisiana colleges and universities under the National Defense Education Act signed into law Sept. 2.

Under the act high school or college students who need money to finance their educations can apply directly to their institutions for a loan.

If accepted, they will receive as much as $1,000 a year, with a maximum of $5,000 during their college careers. The loans must be repaid within a 10-year period, starting two years after graduation.

The federal loan funds are allocated to states according to the number of college students enrolled. Within each state, the money is divided according to the amount requested by each school.

Every nine dollars in federal money must be matched with one dollar by the school.

Raush to Head Band for Spring

Members of the Centenary band have elected John Raush of Berwyn, Ill., a senior student in the school of music, as the person to serve as president of the group for the spring semester. Other students appointed to offices are Jimmy Riley of Shreveport, vice president; and Mary Lou Gassen of Sulphur, secretary-treasurer.

Raush, a member of the band for the past three years, also has been appointed student conductor of the band. A tympanist, Raush has been featured as soloist at the annual spring concert of the band and on various other programs.

A junior music major, Riley is a trombonist and a graduate of Fair Park high school. Since entering Centenary in 1955 Riley has been a member of the band.

Elected as secretary, Gassen is a junior student majoring in education and has been a member of the band for the last three years in the cornet section.

A few of the Centenary students featured in the present Joseph Gifford production "Cyrano de Bergerac" are, left to right, Jim Daigle, Sammy Kilman, Tommy Hickey, David Calhoun, Charles Morton, and Al Smith. Also, standing on the stairway are Dave White and Ray Spruell. The performance will continue at the Marjorie Lyons playhouse the next week or two.

22 Complete Requirements For Baccalaureate Degrees

Requirements for baccalaureate degrees were completed last semester by twenty-two students according to Mrs. Nelle W. Brown, registrar. The number includes 20 students who completed requirements for the degree of Bachelor of Science and two who completed requirements for the degree of Bachelor of Arts.

All will participate in the May commencement ceremonies since the college holds only one graduation service each year. Attendance at the commencement is mandatory for completion of graduation.

Robert Milton Lytton, Decatur, Ga., in the department of humanities, and Jessica Jean Warnlof of Shreveport, who majored in English are the two students who completed requirements for the degree of Bachelor of Arts.

Receives B.S. Degree

Students who have completed requirements for the Bachelor of Science degree, and the fields in which they majored, are as follows: Katherine Joan Phares, Many, Social science; Marion Jann Stanley, New Orleans, education, and Alice Eugenia Valentine, Oak Ridge, education.

The following Shreveport students are also receiving the B.S. degree in May: Richard Braxton Barrett, geology; Diane Lee Bastian, education; Joel Braxton Brown, geology; Nancy Josephine Egle, commerce; William Joseph Fleniken, Jr., social science; Beverly Hill Gardner, education; Van Allen Gardner, physical education; Robert Warren Goss, geology; Jack Alton Gray, physical education, and Sammy Joe Green, geology.

Also, Kenneth Edward Green, geology; Richard Douglas Lamb, education; George Franklin Roberts, Jr., social science; Richard Neal Smith, commerce; Robert Snaylor Snead, education; John Farrell Steinhauer, geology, and Mary Jane Waller, education.

Martin To Speak in Series

Bishop Paul E. Martin, resident bishop of the Arkansas-Louisiana area of the Methodist Church, will deliver the annual Willson Lecture Series at Centenary College this year.

These lectures are presented each year through the generosity of Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Willson of Floydada, Texas, with the purpose of enriching both the spiritual and intellectual lives of Centenary students and the public, in the field of religion or education.

Bishop Martin's lectures, open to the public without charge, will be at 9:30 a.m. daily, Tuesday, March 10, through Thursday, March 12. The Rev. R. Leonard Cooke, vice-president, is general chairman of the arrangements committee.

Sigler Named To Committee

Orvis Sigler, head basketball coach, has been chosen to be one of 28 personnel of committees to select 21 at-large teams for the 1959 College Division Basketball Championship of the National Collegiate Athletic Association. Selection to the honor was announced Tuesday by NCAA Executive Director Walter Byers.

The 28 members of four regional Selection Committees designated as East, Midwest, Midwest and West will select 21 outstanding independents for eight regional tournaments to be played throughout the country March 6-7. The remainder of the 32-team field will be composed of champions of 11 conferences who gain automatic admittance to the tournament.

The 32 teams, selected or qualified from more than 325 College Division institutions of the NCAA, will be panned by regional play for the eight-team national championship finals at Evansville, Indiana, March 11-13. Wheaton won the first NCAA College Division title in 1957 and South Dakota won in 1958.

ROTC Releases New Promotions

Promotions and changes of duty for advanced ROTC cadets were announced on Thursday, Jan. 29, by Cadet Lt. Col. James Durham.

Those promoted were Henry Pye and William Halliburton, Captains; David Forte, First Lieutenant; D. W. Akins, Sidney Gras, Robert Shaw and Merrill Monk, Second Lieutenant; Michael Elser and Mark Covington, First Sergeant; Coan Knight, Platoon Sergeant; and Tommy Hadly, R. S. Durham, James Shammerhorn, David McFarlin and Hoyt Duggan, Master Sergeant.

Keeping their rank but assigned new duties were First Lieutenants Perry Winterrowd and Ralph Akin.

Oak Ridge Scientist To Discuss Radiation

Dr. Mary Ester Gaulden, Biology Scientist at the Oak Ridge National Laboratory, has announced approval of a visit to Centenary on February 24 and 25, according to Dr. Mary Warters, head of the biology department.

While on the campus she will meet in class meetings, hold lectures, and survey the present program followed by Centenary. Group meetings have been scheduled for Wednesday, Feb. 25 at 9:00, 10:00 and 1:00 o'clock. The 9:00 and 10:00 meetings are for biology classes with the 1:00 meeting a special lecture open to all interested students and faculty.

Slides Will Illustrate

Dr. Gaulden will speak on the topic, "Effects of Radiation on Growth as revealed by Observations on Living Cells" and will illustrate her talk with slides. Also, a period will be allowed for individual and group conferences.

The lecture is one of many given throughout the nation as one means for the Oak Ridge Laboratory to meet the needs of the small college and also to instill interest in the undergraduate research program sponsored by the institution. General discussions will be held regarding opportunities for research at Oak Ridge and other institutions and efforts will be made to stimulate and encourage those students who may be interested in research.

Other Colleges Invited

Other colleges within the surrounding area have been informed of the visit and invited to attend in order that a better coverage of the area may be made during the trip. Among the twelve institutions contacted were Northwestern State College, Northeastern of Monroe, Louisiana Tech, Louisiana College, and East Texas Baptist College.

Also, Stephen F. Austin College, Southern State, Texarkana Junior College, Kilgore Junior College, Panola Junior College of Carthage, Texas, and Paris Junior College. Over the past ten years the Oak Ridge National Laboratory and the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies has made a special effort to make available to southern educational institutions some of the opportunities in Oak Ridge. In addition to the traveling lectures, fellowships, symposia, conferences, research participation, and special institutes are some of the programs undertaken.

The Biology Division of the Oak Ridge Laboratory concentrates on research in fundamental biology and biochemistry with emphasis on the cytogenetic effects, and the biochemical, biophysical and pathological-physiological changes produced by radiation. Dr. Gaulden will relate in her talks and discussion much of the research done at the present time in these areas.

AED Receives Six Pre-medics

Six students were initiated last night into Alpha Epsilon Delta, national premedical honor society, according to Gil Snyder, historian for the group. Requirements for acceptance are a scholastic average in science of 1.8 and a 1.8 over-all. Also, character and a definite interest in premedical work is a prime consideration for acceptance.

Those accepted were George Acton, Carlton Chambers, Charles Griffin, Jerry Rosen, Sally Ward, and Gladden Willis. Immediately following the ceremony the group enjoyed a film presentation.

ligious groups and personal interviews with Methodist students planning to enter full-time religious work upon their graduation from Centenary will also occupy Bishop Martin's time while on campus.

The bishop was educated in the public schools of his hometown, Blossom, Tex., and later in Paris, Tex. He earned his AB from Southern Methodist University in Dallas, Tex. For three years he served as principal and superintendent of schools in his home town and then began his work as a minister at the Cedar Hill Methodist Church in Dallas. He served his entire ministry in the North Texas Conference until he was elected to the episcopacy in 1944.

Cedar Hill Church, the Maple Avenue Church in Dallas, the Henrietta Church, The Iowa Park

Church, the Kavanaugh, Greenville Church and the First Church of Wichita Falls are among the pastorates Bishop Martin has served. Upon his election in 1944, he was assigned to the Arkansas-Louisiana area with residency in Little Rock, Ark., and was reassigned to that area for his fourth quadrennium in 1956.

Previous speakers on the Willson Lecture Series have been the following: 1954, Dr. Roy L. Smith, a personal friend of Dr. and Mrs. Willson; 1955, Bishop Fred Pierce Corson, of the Philadelphia area of the Methodist Church; 1956, Dr. Albert Cook Cutler of the Perkins School of Theology, SMU; 1957, Dr. W. A. Smart, Candler School of Theology, Emory University; and 1958, Dr. Umphrey Lee, chancellor of Southern Methodist University.

Graham's Grievances

Is Science Seminar Effective?

To sin by silence when they should protest makes cowards out of men.
—Abraham Lincoln.

Centenary, being a liberal arts college, offers courses which are prepared to bring together in the final academic year much of what the person should have acquired during his college career, and to give that knowledge some practical application after graduation. Science Seminar is such a course and ideally should be one of the most "intellectually inspiring" courses to be offered the science major. However, most students will agree that after taking the course they have acquired very little which can be of value in their career or life.

Undoubtedly, one reason for this lack of enthusiasm in the course is that in the present plan for the course instruction is limited entirely to the students. They are to become "authorities" in the areas given them and also to learn about the whole phase of scientific endeavor (from the dawn of civilization to the future). The scope of this study alone perplexes any thinking person and to expect someone who knows very little of the field to attempt to relate something important is quite optimistic.

Generally, everyone agrees that the person who has the most experience or has spent the most time in a field should be the better teacher in the subject. Here we have students who know only what they have time to read, attempting to discuss a field which they generally know very little about. Often there are geology students speaking on some phase of medicine, biology majors discussing nuclear energy, or those in chemistry relating the newest ideas in forest conservation. Who could even imagine anything intellectually inspiring might develop from such a course and instruction? The students themselves admit that no matter how much time they spend in preparation they could not present it as well or know what is as important as someone familiar with the field.

Solution to the problem is definitely a necessary thing if the course is to offer anything of practical value to students. Perhaps it would require a lot of time on the part of instructors in order to meet with the classes. Yet this seems to be the only real method whereby the course can be made effective.

To memorize a group of facts on a subject is easy for anyone—but have we really succeeded in reaching the point? To prepare a fluent speech that holds the audience spellbound is a challenge for some—but are they the important words we need tomorrow? What real good can it be to learn a few facts about a vast area of life and still not gain the practical, fundamental principles for which it all depends. We forget facts soon anyway!

The present presentation of seminar is a good one in books, but in application very little seems to be gained on the part of the student.
—B. G.

'Cyrano' Success Acclaims Actors

By GEORGE ACTON

Now entering the second week of an apparently successful run, "Cyrano de Bergerac" emerges as a work of solid entertainment and dramatic merit. Director Joseph Gifford has drawn a natural, appealing quality from the Rostand script without sacrificing its delicacy and sensitivity. It is a subtle mixture of realism and romance, of war story and beauty-and-beast fairy tale.

Al Hart's portrayal of Cyrano seems to get better with time, but perhaps it just takes time to realize all the small things which contribute to his performance, the splendid variety of tone and phrasing in the "nose speech", the balance and style of his gestures, the careful timing of his death scene. Yet he remains so spontaneous that his Cyrano is smooth without being slick.

Nail Excellent As Roxane

Ramona Nail ornaments the stage with far more than her beauty. She brings much poise and experience to a role that demands both, and her Roxane is a fit and believable match for Cyrano.

Especially good in a subordinate role is John Williams. He gives a polished, well characterized performance as the cold, arrogant, yet weak De Guiche.

Director Gifford has made a wise decision in using a large number of students, and a wise choice of those to appear. Other Centenary students in the play include Mignon Eubanks, David Calhoun, Jim Daigle, Tommy Hickcox, Sammy Kilman, Jerry Mitchell, Charles Morton, Al Smith, Ray Spruell, and Dave White.

Also, Beverly Bedsole, Martha Simmons, Kieth Simmons, Beverly Paul, Gail Stimpert, Robin Hubert, Paula Martin, Harry Rawls, and Bob Sorenson.

BSU to Sponsor Meetings Monday

The Baptist Student Union will hold its annual "Mid-Winter Advance" meeting this coming Monday, Feb. 16, according to Bob Childress, BSU director. The meeting will include a luncheon at the house on Woodlawn at 12:00 p.m. and also an afternoon talk from 5:30 until 7:30 p.m.

Featured speaker for the day's activities will be Sam Sanford, BSU student director at Louisiana Tech. Sanford will speak at both the noon luncheon and afternoon sessions.

Sanford received his B.S. degree from Louisiana State University and later his Masters in Religious Education from Southwestern Theological Seminary.

A consistent contributing writer for the national BSU magazine, Sanford has held retreats throughout the United States including Alabama, Missouri, Tennessee, Mississippi, and Kentucky.

His major fields of interest and study are Business Administration, Religious Education, Problems of higher education, and counselling.

The entire student body and faculty are invited to attend both the luncheon Monday and afternoon sessions to follow.

Yoncopin Picture Notice

The organizations will please notify Bessie Ruth Risinger at the time the pictures are taken whether they desire a whole or half page in the Yearbook. The cost is $15 for a half or $30 for a whole page.

Each organization will also be expected to turn in a short writeup on its purpose and function at the earliest possible date (by the scheduled time for the pictures).

If there are any organizations who wish to be in the Yearbook and who have not either already had pictures made or are scheduled in this announcement, please notify one of the following people immediately: Bobby Holtzclaw, Margie Dukes, Bessie Ruth Risinger, Mary Beth Bomar, or Helen Gulley.

Gents to Risk 11-8 Record on Road

Centenary Outlasts Top-Ranking OCU For Major Win

Gerald Martello, leading Centenary scorer, paced the Gents to their 10th win of the season and a smash to nationally ranked Oklahoma City University by the score of 72-71. Leading throughout the second half, the Gents were saved by Bob Scott from a final OCU surge as he sank two shots from the foul line in the last 14 seconds of play.

The loss was only the third in 19 games for Coach Abe Lemons' fast-breaking Chieftains, whose brilliance throughout the season gave them definite wins over teams such as TCU, Iowa State, San Francisco, and SMU. OCU was ranked 13th among major colleges in the AP press poll before the game.

Tournament Hopes Boosted

This contest was the 10th win on the part of Centenary and greatly boosted the Gents' hopes of obtaining a berth in the NCAA small college tournament. Also, this was a spectacular win against a major University Division college which will be an aid in fulfilling the Gents' bid to enter the major college class.

The decisive triumph was achieved through superb team effort. "Tulley" Martello led the scoring for the winning Gents as he gained 18 points in the campaign. Scott added 16, Jackie Crawford 14, and Leon Shaw 13 as the Gents routed OCU. Martello was also the leading rebounder with 15, two more than Crawford amassed before he fouled out.

Crawford Sparks, Fouls Out

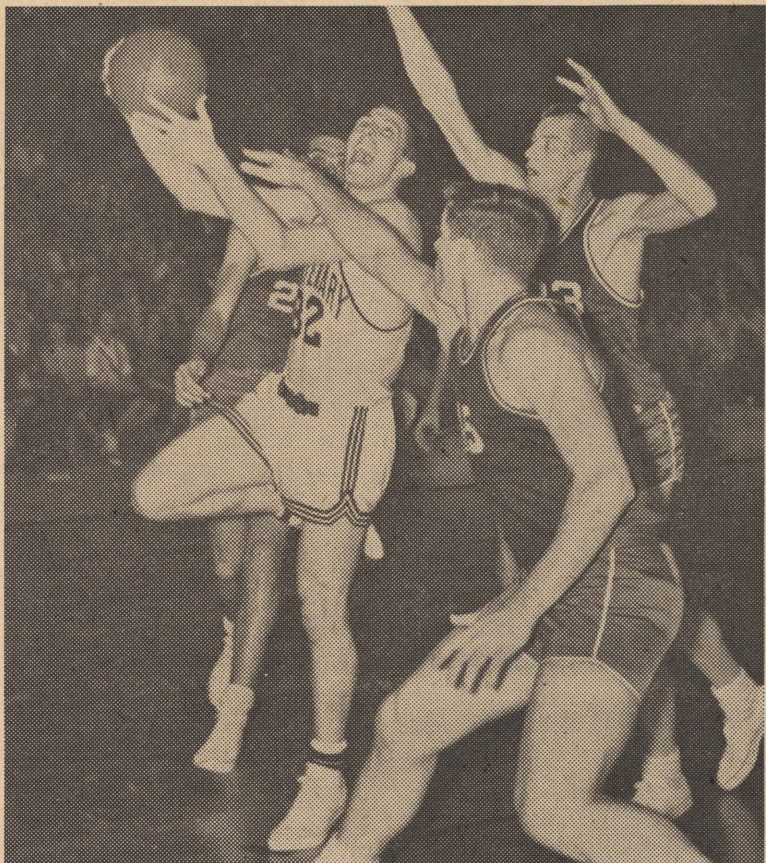

Crawford was sensational in the first half period, grabbing 12 rebounds off the boards and adding 11 points on the scoreboard. But, his greatness was short-lived as three fouls charged to him in the second half quickly fouled him out with 12 minutes remaining on the clock.

Martello started the second half off with a 20-footer and Crawford added a layup placing the Gents back in front, 34-33. Martello sneaks finally added another remarkable giveaway goal to put the Centenary squad out front to stay after the lead had changed hands five times early in the second half.

Walling Takes Over

Crawford and Scott paced the Gents to a quick 8-point lead and when all looked well, on three straight fouls, Crawford left the game for good. Red Walling, newest addition to the squad, replaced Crawford and immediately added the necessary scoring and rebounding power to stay off a determined last minute Oklahoma City drive.

To make matters worse for the Shreveport hoopsters, Scott and Shaw missed two easy lay-ups in the last minutes and with 28 seconds to go McGraw crashed through on a three-point play to make it 70-69. Scott then came through with his pair of charity shots at the foul line to clinch the Gents' win despite a desperate shot by Sahmaunt from 25 feet out. Final score: Centenary 72, Oklahoma City 71.

Gerald Martello appears as a "Giant Killer" as he zips past Kentucky Wesleyan defense to make a layup in Tuesday night's game. Martello scored 23 points in the match as Centenary won 78-71.

SPORTS DOWNBEAT

By DON TYLER

Centenary's "Go-get'um Road-runners" came through with a couple of thrill-a-minute basketball games this past week. To start things off they outlasted Oklahoma City University 72-71 on last Friday night and more recently Tuesday they edged Kentucky Wesleyan 78-71 in double overtime.

Oklahoma City was last week the No. 13 team in the nation among major colleges and is still No. 14 according to the Associated Press Weekly Poll. This is probably (or should be considered) the Gents most outstanding game of the year for it helped tremendously their chances of making the University Division of NCAA.

Tuesday night's victory was their 11th win in 19 games, and even the crowd began to become interested in the court play. By the time the second overtime rolled around one could see a little spark of school spirit floating around through the crowd of about 2,000.

"Tulley" was the big gun for the night with 23 points but it was little Leon Shaw who came through with some great defensive work on "King" Coleman, the spectacular Panther who was averaging 26 points per game. But as has held true before, Coach Sigler's boys, especially Shaw and Bob Scott, curtailed this high-scorer and he came out with about half his average. Similar instances will be remembered when Moreland was held to 5 points and Hugh Durham of Florida State held to 3 points.

Even the tremendous height advantage in favor of the Kentucky Methodists didn't seem to bother the Gents for they fought valiantly with comparatively few personal fouls.

The regulation play ended with the score 61-all (as the Times stated it—"A Crawford layup knotted the count for the umpteenth time . . ."). The Gents froze the ball for 1:58 and "Weasel" barely missed a shot with about 3 seconds left which would have won the game.

The same thing happened in the first overtime when with the score 67-67 and 1:35 to go they froze it once again. This was "Tickling the heck out of me," stated Leon Shaw, "but it didn't do my heart much good." With only a few seconds left Leon, who played a tremendous game, shot—and missed. Bob Scott proved that it was meant for us to win as he, in the second overtime, sparkled like silver and the Gents pulled away as the game ended 78-71.

Gosh, what a game! I hope you are proud of our Gents—you should be. They are tremendously improved since the first of the year and they work together as a team better than ever. Please if you have a chance see the next home game Feb. 26 against Arkansas State. The Gents leave soon on a road trip, why not wish them well and follow them in their games over KENT radio. Show your appreciation for a job well done!

Second Overtime Thriller Slashes Wesleyan By 78-71

A combination of teamwork throughout the Centenary squad carried them into an action-packed double overtime session at the Youth Center Tuesday night as they bagged their 11th win of the season in a 78-71 win over the Kentucky Wesleyan Panthers.

The tense struggle, which saw neither team ahead for more than 5 points during regular play, finally was clinched for the Gentlemen by Bob Scott who bounced back to give the Gents 9 needed points in the second over-time session. However, it was Gerald Martello who again led scoring for the evening with 23 points, 13 in the first half alone.

Scott was second on the scoreboard with 17 points, and Jackie Crawford finished third with 11 points and 11 rebounds to his credit. Crawford and Scott were both equally spectacular in the defensive picture as they fought against a decisively taller Kentucky Wesleyan crew.

Shaw Stops Coleman

Leon Shaw again turned in an excellent job of routing a top visitor scorer as he held "King" Coleman of the Panthers to 13 points—far below his normal 25.8 average per game previously.

Larry Greene was a standout for the first half and finished with 7 points for the Gents. Billy Eubanks and Red Walling also were in good form throughout much of the remainder of the game and netted 8 and 4 points respectively in the contest.

Rebounds Tops For Gents

Centenary also held a narrow 56-53 edge in the rebounding department despite the Panther's tremendous height advantage. Crawford accounted for much of the advantage in this department.

The lead changed hands six times during the first half and the teams were tied on seven occasions. Crawford's famous hook sent the Gents ahead at 26-24 and they managed to pad their margin to five points at the halftime buzzer by a Scott tip-in. At intermission, the Gents and Panthers retired with Centenary ahead, 39-34.

Holland Takes Over

The five-point lead amassed by the Gents soon faltered as the Panthers began to move under the charge of 6-10 Holland who filled the baskets with field goals and manned the backboards with skill.

The visitors took the lead at 50-49 and touched off a rousing exchange in which neither team could gain a safe edge.

But to place a stall on the Panther drive, Holland fouled out with 4:32 remaining on the clock and his team four points ahead. Then the Gents went to work and on a Crawford layup knotted the count for the 14th time at 61-all and the Gents then chose to play for one shot with 1:58 left.

Bill Eubanks barely missed his game-winning effort when the buzzer sounded the end of the 40 minutes of play and the score still tied, 61-61.

Play For One Shot

As the overtime session began, the Gents swapped goals with the Panthers until the score stood 67-67 with 1:35 to go. Again the Gentlemen waited for the one last winning shot, and again they failed as Shaw's desperation hook missed the target.

Scott unleashed a scoring barrage in the second overtime and turned in 9 points on the scoreboard to stall all Wesleyan efforts to cop a win. With a fast-breaking finish by the Gents the score ended 78-71.

Personalities Do Varied Things For Amusement

By LINDA FRANK

"Tall Paul", better known as Paul McMahan is this week's freshman personality. He hails from Paris, Texas, and plans to do pre-ministerial work.

Music seems to be of great interest, as he plays the clarinet, saxophone, ukulele, accordeon, piano, and is learning to play the drum for the Drum and Bugle corps of the Centenary ROTC. Paul is also a member of the Centenary College Choir.

"Anything funny ever happen to me? Yes, I made my grades, and that really is funny!" He plays intramural sports for MSM and is secretary of Kappa Chi.

"I like to dance, swim, play ping pong, golf, and tennis, a new game I took up yesterday."

Paul recalls the time that he and his date were just riding around, and they stopped at the Dairy Queen for some gum. When he got back in the car, he and his date continued to talk "We were just making conversation when one of my friends popped up out of the back seat." (Some surprise!)

Meanest Freshman Yet

When Bonnie Langley, sophomore religious education major, first came to Centenary she was said to have been "the meanest freshman in the dorm because the things she did to upperclassmen shouldn't have been done to dogs." But she says, "I haven't been on a tear in a long time!"

When the interview first began, the interviewer thought this personality was a very serious student. Bonnie said she enjoyed reading "all kinds" of philosophy and psychology books, but that she also liked to play tennis, watch horror movies with fuzzy spiders, and watch good movies such as the recent "I Want To Live."

After completion of her studies at Centenary, she plans to attend Perkins, the graduate Theological School of SMU where she says, "all the preacher kids go!"

In the middle of Hurricane Audrey a few years past, Bonnie climbed on a bus for a little trip in the midst of a mild seventy mile an hour wind. The woman sitting next to her was all upset and kept saying "Why did God do this to us? Why is He punishing us?" After Bonnie had taken all she could of this, she calmly turned to the wailing woman and said, "Lady, God didn't do this to us, the elements did it!" The lady quickly found another seat.

Money Beats Football

Hailing from Moss Bluff, Louisiana (located about five miles outside of Lake Charles), is Brad Mayo, junior business administration major.

This junior has a part-time job coaching an eighth grade basketball team. He seems to be doing a good job as "the team has won eight consecutive games and is still undefeated."

Brad and a friend traveled to Baton Rouge to see LSU play Duke, and they caused some commotion during the game. It seems that the coins with the Centenary basketball schedule had just been given out, and they had fun rolling these down the aisles in the stadium just as an exciting play occurred. People found this very disconcerting as the coins sounded like change, and they went scrambling for the coins and missed the plays. (So that is where all those coins went!)

Late To Honor Court

Emma Lou Stewart, senior from Springhill, Louisiana, is majoring in religious education. When asked what her plans for the future were, she replied, "I'm going to get married, but all my work at Centenary will not be wasted as I'm going to marry a minister."

Emma Lou stays pretty busy around the campus. She is president of Alpha Xi Delta, a member of MSM, Kappa Chi, Student Affairs Committee, and participates in intramural activities (usually making herself useful as an official). Last year she served as president of Hardin Hall, and this year she is senior representative on the Hardin Hall dorm council. For the second year in succession she holds the position of Clerk of Court for the Honor Court.

After her election to the Honor Court, the members met and, among other things, emphasized the importance of attendance at every meeting. The date of the second meeting was set, and Emma Lou suddenly remembered the meeting while she was shopping downtown. It seems that she remembered the meeting just as it was beginning.

ON CAMPUS

By PEGGY LONGINO

Heading to Baton Rouge this weekend will be Linda Frank, Barbara Ann Hyde and Patty Owen. Linda will represent Chi Omega at a district meeting of national Pan-Hellenic, while Barbara and Patsy will represent Zeta Tau Alpha.

New additions to their respective families are in the offing for the near future for Sue and Larry Greene, Martha and Keith Simmons and the John Haynes.

From all reports, the Kappa Sigma shipwreck dance seems to have been quite a touch. Larry McKinstry's magic touch turned the SUB into a far-away South Seas Island. We hear that Theo Klemann helped quite a bit, so maybe Larry's training Theo to take over his constant job after he graduates. Carol Reichelt appeared at the party in a sarong, while Judy Hughes came in most of a hula skirt. Wayne Stoddard and Judy Downs came almost prepared to . . . and Sally Herring and Don Tyler were sailor for the night.

Lynda Gail Fairley smiles sweetly every time the name "Tommy" is mentioned lately. Lynda Gail is a new victim of a very small going steady epidemic and keeps the mail box pretty full.

Congratulations to new Kappa Sigma pledges John Williams, Charles Malloy, Dave White, and Bo Roberson.

Putting some spirit into the ol' campus Tuesday was Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority. Their annual slave sell had as auctioneer Vicki Grigsby, who was auctioned off herself by David Jones at the end of the auction. Dr. Overdyke purchased a ZTA pledge, Glenda Johnson, and we never did find what task he assigned her. The highest bid for a pledge was three and a half dollars which Jimmie Durham very enthusiastically gave for Janet McClelland, but once again the actives came through and in a surprise move, Lynda Beauvais was auctioned off for six dollars.

The Piccadilly was the scene of a Chi Omega gathering Tuesday night when pledges and actives joined for an informal supper. Eating pizza were T. Tom Wilkinson, Patsy Stamps, Sallie Mat Cling- man, Brenda Bailey and Gaynelle Morgan.

The Pep Squad will make their first out of town trek this next week when they take off to La. Tech. Any girl interested in going as an alternate may see Sara Hitchcock or Mrs. Noble.

Don't forget, boys, tomorrow is that annual event, Valentine Day. You might take your favorite girl to the Alpha Xi Delta formal tomorrow night at nine o'clock. The Alpha Xi's will host the student body in the SUB and promise a good dance.

Happy Valentines!

Pep Squad Holds Post-Game Dance

Members of the Pep Squad, basketball team, and the cheerleaders and their dates danced to records in the sub Tuesday night, Feb. 10, after the Gents game with Kentucky Wesleyan. The dance was sponsored by the Pep Squad and is expected to set an annual precedent.

Other activities of the Pep Squad slated for the near future include trips to Ruston and Northwestern for the Gents' next two games. The group will travel to Louisiana Tech next Wednesday, Feb. 18, and the following Tuesday, Feb. 24, they will be at Northwestern State College supporting their team.

The last game of this season will be followed by a dance sponsored by the Squad.

Present reminder of the need for further development on campus is the battered old Centenary Band house. Funds received in the $1,700,000 goal will provide new housing for the band, music building, administration, English, and an enlarged library.

Effects of Radiation Topic of Wed. Talk

"Effects of Radiation on Growth as Revealed by Observation on Living Cells" will be the topic of Dr. Mary Ester Gaulden's talk to be presented before the student body Wednesday, Feb. 25, in the science lecture hall at 1:00 p. m.

Dr. Gaulden, biology scientist at the Oak Ridge National Laboratory, will hold several other lectures in the morning biology classes and plans to illustrate her talk with slides. In addition to the talk, time will be allowed for individual and group conferences and discussion.

To Emphasize Biology

Work done by the Biology Division of the Oak Ridge Laboratory will be emphasized in Dr. Gaulden's talk. Principal areas of research in fundamental biology and biochemistry include emphasis on the cytogenetic effects, and the biochemical, biophysical and pathological-physiological changes produced by radiation.

For the past ten years the Oak Ridge National Laboratory and the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies has made a special effort to make available to southern educational institutions some of the opportunities at Oak Ridge. Purpose of the lecture is to instill interest in the undergraduate research program sponsored by the institution.

Opportunities Shown

Dr. Gaulden will hold general discussions regarding opportunities for research at Oak Ridge and other institutions. Effort will be made to stimulate and encourage those students who may be interested in research.

Students throughout the Ark-La-Tex area have been invited to attend the meeting and everyone interested in science is urged to attend the meeting.

Missionary to Talk During MSM Wed.

Nancy Blake, a Methodist Missionary, will spend two days on the Centenary campus Tuesday and Wednesday, Feb. 24 and 25, after a three-year period of service in North Africa.

Miss Blake will speak before the Methodist Student Movement at 6:30 p. m. Wednesday, and also will spend the preceding day on campus holding group and individual conferences with students interested in missionary work. Rev. Jim McLean, director of religious activities, is in charge of arrangements for Miss Blake's visit.

First Sent to Algeria

She received her first assigned social-evangelistic work in Fort National, Algeria, one of the Methodist rural stations in the mountains, where much of the rebel activity of the past four years took place. She directed group activities for girls and women, visited the villages and taught boys in the station's Sunday School.

Later, she was stationed in the city of Algiers, where her principal work was developing a playground for children, directing the recreational program and planning group activities for youngsters.

Miss Blake's address to the MSM will be given in the MSM rooms of the Religious Center. Everyone is invited to attend and persons interested in holding conferences with Miss Blake during her stay are asked to make prior arrangements through the Rev. Jim McLean.

Centenary Development Fund Drive Sets Goal of $1,700,000

The financial goal for the Centenary College Development Fund Drive Campaign to be launched this spring is $1,700,000. News of the coming drive was issued in a joint statement Saturday, Feb. 14, by Paul M. Brown, chairman of the board of trustees, and Dr. Joe J. Mickle, president of the school.

Favorite, Lady and Gent Elections To Be Wed.

Wednesday, Feb. 25, elections will be held in the Student Center for choosing of those to represent the student body as class favorites and Centenary Lady and Gentlemen. Runoffs will be held on the following Friday, Feb. 27, if needed.

Candidates for the honor of Centenary Lady are Marcella Flynt, Cecile Plummer, and Mary Tom Wilkinson, while Warren West, Charlie Wilder, and John Bird will enter the Gentleman race.

In the senior class, Ann DeShazo, Gaynelle Morgan, and Emma Lou Stewart have been selected to run. Also, Jerry Cox, David Herndon, and Billy Pat Tipton will be candidates for the other favorite post.

Jackie Carpenter, Dub Fletcher, and David Forte received nominations in the junior class and accompanying them on the ballot will be coed candidates Cornelia Agurs, Bess Smith, and Abbie Terry.

The freshman class chose as their candidates Sally Clingman, Mignon Eubanks, and Janet Gholson. Also, the men chosen to run were Tim Temple and Lawrence Waschka.

Jim Daigle and Ralph Mason will compete in the sophomore class, while their coed colleagues will be Brenda Bailey and Bicky Grigsby.

The student body is urged to vote in the election. Fred Willis, vice-president of the student body, has confirmed the fact that voting machines will be present in the voting Wednesday. The Student Senate will be in charge of the polls with faculty representatives.

Pre-Med Society Holds Initiation

Sandra Whitlock, sophomore biology student, was initiated last week into Alpha Epsilon Delta, national premedical honor society. The addition raised the total to fourteen students now active in the organization.

Requirements for admittance are completion of three semesters work at Centenary, an overall scholastic average and science average of 1.8, and excellent character. Plans at the present include meeting with Dr. Mary Gaulden, Oak Ridge scientist, this coming Wednesday.

AAUW Announces Degrees Approved

Dean Leroy Vogel has announced the retroactive approval of a number of Centenary College degrees by the National office of the American Association of University Women, making holders of these degrees eligible for AAUW membership.

The AAUW has approved the Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science degrees in both the division of natural sciences and the division of social sciences. Previously, the association had approved the Bachelor of Arts degree from the division of the humanities and the Bachelor of Music degree in music education, following an inspection visit made by one of the national officers in 1957.

Vogel Explains Approval

Dean Vogel explained that the conferring of the approval means that anyone holding one of the approved degrees from Centenary is eligible for membership in the AAUW, regardless of when the degree was conferred. The Bachelor of Music degree in applied music is the only degree conferred by Centenary which does not make the recipient eligible for membership in the AAUW, the dean said.

The letter of approval came to the dean under signature of Eunice C. Roberts, chairman of the national AAUW committee on higher education.

The funds raised in the campaign will go to the enlargement of educational facilities and services of the college, according to the proposals in Centenary's long-range development program.

Immediate needs for which the money will be used include a library, school of music building, additional dormitory space, a religious activities building, the completion of debt payments brought about by recent construction and also to purchase equipment for the new facilities.

Funds Needed

Because of the rapidly increasing influx of high school graduates into the nation's colleges, the provision of adequate educational facilities has become one of the great challenges facing the country today. Centenary and Shreveport are together facing this same challenge now. It is hoped that the firms and families in this area will continue to give Centenary their wholehearted and unified support by contributing to the fund drive.

This Development Fund campaign is the preliminary step in Centenary's new "10-Year Master Development Plan" that will cover the decade 1959-1969. According to Mr. Brown, this long-range program will be presented to a special citizens' committee for review and approval within the next week.

Completion of Positions

February is the expected completion date for the positions of leadership in the campaign organization and the various campaign committees and divisions will be organized in March. The intensive part of the campaign is scheduled for April and May.

The first comprehensive Development Program began in 1946 and it was at that time the college experienced its most spectacular growth period. Since that time, eight major buildings, worth a total of $4,000,000 have been erected on the campus and the school has been given three garden and fountain memorials.

Students Plan Fair

A Student Fair, sponsored by the Student Senate, has been planned for April 3-9. An alternate date of April 17 has been set in case of rain. Following the theme of "Showboat," the fair requests the participation of each campus organization with a booth or concession, the type of which will be designated later. Proceeds from the Student Fair will be used in the building fund for the new library, music building, religious center, etc. The fair will offer an opportunity for greater spirit and unity among the organizations created by their working together toward a common goal. Students and organizations are asked to inform the Student Senate as to whether or not they wish to participate either alone or with another organization. Any suggestions for a type of booth or activity that will help to make the Student Fair a success will be welcomed.

Dean's Honor Roll Names 14 Students With Straight A's

Fourteen students achieved perfect scholastic records to head the fall semester's honor roll of a total of 68 students.

The honor roll, compiled by Dean LeRoy Vogel, lists the following as having perfect 3.00 averages or straight A's in all subjects: Linda Walters Byrd, Shreveport; Gloria Hope Gaffney, Shreveport; Diane Holloway, Dallas, Tex.; Sarah F. Liberto, Plaquemine; Arthur E. Minnick, Jr., Marshall, Tex.; Gaynelle Morgan, Minden; Sandra Reynolds Peebles, Shreveport; John Richard Raush, Shreveport; John C. Rawls, Jr., Shreveport; Frederick W. Schwendimann III, Coushatta; Carole Ann Solomon, Vicksburg, Miss.; Alice Joan Templeton, Bastrop; Jessica Jean Warnlof, Shreveport; and Donald Edward Wolfe, Shreveport.

Two Near Perfect

Achieving averages of 2.9 were Shreveporters Zina Alexandra Hengy and Bryan Sparks, while grade averages of 2.8 were credited to the following nine students: George S. Acton, Jr., Plain Dealing; Betty J. Crocker, Memphis, Tenn.; Marcella Lee Flynt, Baton Rouge; Gene Holly LaCaze, Leesville; Frances Jo Littrell, Plano, Tex.; Harold R. Brewster, Hoty Nolan Dugan, Mary Ellen Murphree, and James McKay Owen, all of Shreveport.

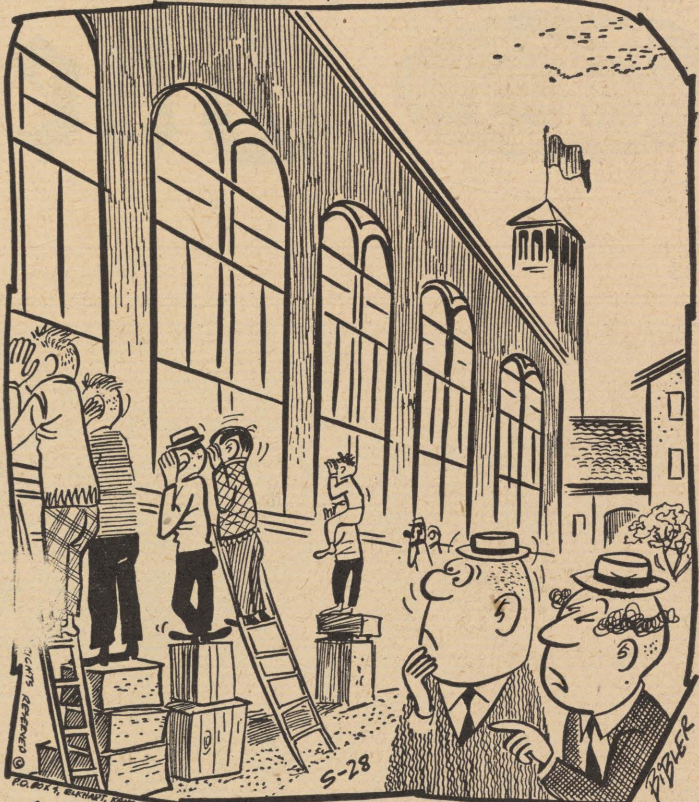

Those students maintaining 2.7 averages were Shreveporters Diane Lee Bastian, Katherine Jones Cochran, James Rex Riley and Sara Pryor Stone; Abbie Terry, El Dorado, Ark.; Roy Beal Thomas, Longview, Tex.; Sally Ree Ward, Bossier City, and Barbara Jean White, Paris, Tex.

Estel Wayne Adcock, Albert B. Cooksey, Jr., Doris Melrose Culbertson of Shreveport; Truly Anne Drake, Maplewood; Penelope Ruth Hawkins, Shreveport; Richard E. Hermann, Gilmer, Tex.; Francis E. Kennon, Jr., Minden; Eileen Jean Laird, Fond du Lac, Wis.; Georgia Edith Lechuga, Durango, Mexico; Peggy Lou Longino, Shreveport; Marguerite Ann McDowell, El Dorado, Ark.; Larry T. McKinstry, Bastrop; Helena Spangberg, Saltsjobaden, Sweden, and Bobbie Dean Spearman, Shreveport, achieved averages of 2.6.

Averages of 2.5 out of a possible 3.00 were achieved by the following: Margaret Cornelia Agurs and John K. Butcher of Shreveport; Kay Margaret Cooper, Sulphur; Carolyn Ann Farley, Thibodaux; Beverly Hill Gardner, Shreveport; Sammy Joe Green, Shreveport; Glenda Gay Johnson, Arp, Tex.; David E. Leimbrook, San Antonio, Tex.; Sally Dean McConnell, Barksdale Air Force Base; Windene Nicklaus, Amarillo, Tex.; Katherine Joan Phares, Many; Margaret Alice Powell, Minden; Joe Donald Sartor, Fulton, Mo.; Robert Sayler Snead, Shreveport; Alice Eugenia Valentine, Oak Ridge; Frances Ruth Velotta, Shreveport; Stephen Thomas Victory, Shreveport; Charles Ray Walker, Shreveport; Charles Lofton Wilder, Eros; Sandra Elaine Whitlock, Shreveport; and Dalna Elaine Worley, Shreveport.

STUDENT SENATE REPORT

FEBRUARY 5, 1959

The Student Senate meeting was called to order by the president, Charles Wilder. Those present were: Leon Bain, John Byrd, Dr. Virginia Carlton, Jackie Carpenter, Mr. Cooper, Jim Daigle, Dub Fletcher, Marcella Flynt, Mary Lou Gassen, Connie Gathright, Jay Koonce, Fred Schwendimann, Shron Victory, Dr. Willingham, and Fred Willis.

The minutes of the preceding meeting were read and approved. Marcella Flynt gave a report on the Student Fair which is being proposed for the first time this year. The Student Fair would correlate with the drive being sponsored by Centenary College for the necessary money for buildings. The committees and their chairmen for the Student Fair are: Grounds, Warren West and Charles Wilder; Publicity, Diane Holloway and Ralph Mason; Booths, Emma Lou Stewart and Dub Fletcher.

It was moved and seconded that the top three girls who were nominated for Centenary Lady be submitted to the student body to vote on. The motion passed.

The possibility of a Bridge Tournament was discussed by Jackie Carpenter. The officials could be supplied by qualified people from the City of Shreveport. It was suggested that the W.R.A. Council be asked if they would sponsor such a tournament.

There being no further business, the meeting was closed in regular order.

Respectfully submitted,
Mary Lou Gassen,
Secretary, Student Senate

House Numbers, Telephone Poles Can Present Trouble

By Linda Frank

Dorm girls—have you ever had the urge to climb out of your window? Then ask Judy Downes, junior education major, how she felt when she climbed out her window early one morning. Judy works at the U. S. Weather Bureau and to get to work on Saturday by 7:00 a. m., she has to get up at 5:30 a. m. Mrs. Lalor Row usually leaves the key in the door for her, but since she was out of town, the lady replacing her had forgotten to leave the key in the usual place, so to get to work on time, Judy jumped out of her first story window. "I was afraid someone would see me from Hardin Hall and think I was a prowler!"

Judy's home is in Rayville, Louisiana. She is a member of Chi Omega sorority and plays intramural sports.

This past summer Judy couniled at Joyzelle camp in the Ozarks where she taught canoeing. "I had never been in a canoe, and neve got in one while I was up there." She had her hands full explaining to her campers the use of a wash bucket.

This coming summer Judy has many plans among which are included taking a trip to New York with her roommate, working at the U. S. Weather bureau, attending Centenary summer school, and serving as maid of honor in her sister's wedding.

English in Bermuda

"I'd rather dance than do anything!" says Joan Templeton, newly-turned junior. She is the only English major that wears Bermuda shorts to class.

Joan recalls the experience she had when she spent the night with Helen Gully. She got the house numbers mixed up and walked in the wrong home. She turned on what she thought was the light switch, and it turned out to be the burglar alarm. To her horror in walked a man "with a gun that had a long barrel, and he told me to 'stick 'em up'." He then told her to open her suitcase and put back all the things that she had taken. "I had some things I did not want him to see, so we had an argument." All the time she was trying to make the man understand she had made a mistake, her date was on the front porch laughing. "Finally my date came in and explained."

Joan plans to attend graduate school at Rice. She is a member of the Zeta Tau Alpha pledge class, Alpha Sigma Pi, and Sigma Tau Delta. She is feature editor of the Conglomerate and participates in intramural sports.

Joan is here at Centenary on a national Methodist scholarship because of her high school grades. Since she has been here at Centenary, she has made only one "B." She plans to graduate in three years.

"Blue Jean Kid"

Fred Fraser is not only the only pledge that lives in the Kappa Alpha house, but he is also the only pledge that has ever had an active sleep at the foot of his bed! But being the only pledge in the house has its drawbacks, for he also has to keep it clean.

Fred's home is Many, Louisiana, and he is known to some as the "Many Boy." He attended Louisiana Tech first semester and dropped out because of illness. This freshman is in pre-law and intends to study to be a criminal lawyer at Tulane.

When asked if he would be the freshman personality, Fred asked in return, "Do I have to shave for the picture? I'm going to a Castro party and I can't shave."

This past summer Fred worked at Hodges Gardens where he spent the summer planting flowers. He enjoys swimming, movies, and watching TV without his shoes!

3 Profs Attend Math Meetings

Attending the 36th annual joint meeting of the Louisiana-Mississippi Section of the Mathematical Association of America and the Louisiana-Mississippi Branch of the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics will be three of the members of the Centenary faculty.

Those attending are Miss Virginia Carlton, head of the mathematics department, A. C. Maddox and Miss Betty McKnight. They will attend sessions today and Saturday at the Buena Vista Hotel in Biloxi, Miss. Host institution for the two-day program will be Delta State College of Cleveland, Miss.

Canterbury Club Selects Officers

Officers for the spring semester have been elected for the Canterbury Club, according to Gary Reaves, president of the group. Those elected were: Gary Reaves, president; Vicky Grigsby, vice-president; Carol Winning, secretary; Bob Murray, Chaplain. Also, selected for a second team were Carlton Chambers who will continue as treasurer, and Beal Thomas as organist.

Also, plans were formulated for guest speakers at each of the Wednesday evening meetings throughout the Lenten season. Vicky Grigsby was chosen chairman of the committee and assistance will be given by Joe Chambers and Jerry Winterrowd.

Speakers for the next weeks are as follows: Feb. 25, the Rev. George Wharton, curate at St. Mark's Episcopal Church, will speak on "The Christian Business Man"; March 4, the Rev. Meade Brown, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, will speak on "Our Anglican Heritage."

Everyone is cordially invited to attend these sessions which begin at 6:30 p. m. each Wednesday, preceded by a short service beginning at 6:00 p. m.

Gents Accept NCAA Invitation, Moreland Romps In Tech Win

Orvis Sigler, head basketball coach, announced Wednesday that Centenary has accepted an invitation to play in the NCAA college division tournament to be played in March.

This will be the third straight year that the Gents have received the honor of entering the tournament. Date for the match has been set for March 6 and 7 for regional championships and finals to follow later.

Following the announcement, the Gentlemen suffered their fourth straight loss on the road and dropped below the .500 mark again. Louisiana Tech fought to win after a previous loss to the Gents by the score of 67-56 in a game played in the Ruston gym.

The Bulldogs thus averaged a 72-69 loss to Centenary in Shreveport earlier in the season. Tech now owns an impressive 18-4 record for the season, while the Gents' record stands at 11-12.

Martello and Moreland Star

Jackie Moreland led the Techmen for the night as he bagged 20 points and a host of rebounds to lead the Tech success. Bud Frye for Tech and Gerald Martello added 19 points each for their squads, while Larry Greene rounded out the big scoring with 17 points to his credit.

Moreland paced all rebounders, grabbing 20 off the boards. Jackie Crawford paced the Gents with 10 grabs.

For the Gents, Larry Greene's dazzling floor play with the bright spot in an otherwise miserable evening. Martello, too, was hot most of the game and led in field goal completions at 9 for 15 attempts.

Tullos Puts Tech Ahead

The Ruston crew went ahead 10-8 on a long 30-footer by Jim Tullos with 14.15 left in the first half and never trailed again. Moreland's hook shot helped Tech dominate the rest of the half despite Martello's baskets which sliced the lead to 28-27 at one point.

In the latter minutes of play, the Tech squad added eight straight points on the scoreboard while the frustrated Gentlemen could only answer with cost traveling violations.

Daigle, Ron Futrell and Tullos sparked the final Bulldog drive which took on a 14-point spread at 50-36 with 10 minutes left in the second half.

Tech Leads at Half

At intermission, the Rustonites were ahead by a comfortable 36-27 margin, and thereafter proceeded to cushion their lead at the expense of Centenary's personal fouls.

Greene's alert ball-hawking led a brief Gent rally which cut the lead to 56-48, but the Centenary squad could come no closer. Bob Scott fouled out with 6:51 to go but his contribution was negligible as far as the Gent offense was concerned.

The Bulldogs were rolling to a 16-point lead with two minutes to go before Martello and Greene went to work and cut the final margin to 11 points and Tech the victor, 67-56.

SPORTS DOWNBEAT

By DON TYLER

How does the pop song go? "Woe is me, I should have stayed in bed!" For the Gents it should go "Woe is me, I wish we had stayed at home!" On the road trip our Gents suffered four straight setbacks at the hands of the Arkansas State, who we were supposed to beat 20 points, Memphis State, Kentucky Wesleyan, and arch-rival Louisiana Tech.

Last Wednesday night those revengeful-minded Bulldogs from Louisiana Poly handed Centenary's stumbling basketekers a more than adequate reversal from Centenary's 72-69 win earlier in the season by treating a tremendously partisan crowd of over 4,000 to a 67-56 downing of the playboys from big Shreveport.

Quite a number of Centenary students journeyed to Ruston for the contest and expected a little more than they saw. The Gents, however, were colder than the weather out-of-doors, except for Tooley who hit 9 of 15 field goals. Coach Crowley of Tech knew what to do—and did it as he guarded Martello with Ray Germany and "Big Jack," as Tech fondly calls their all-around everything, baby-faced Jack Moreland.

Mr. Moreland doesn't have all that much for Centenary anyway—especial two on the team, namely Bob Scott and Gerald Martello. Moreland was anxious to revenge a "beating" given him in the last contest and show Scott he couldn't shove him around. He did both with the able assistance of his Bulldog Buddies. You simply can not stop that hook of Moreland anyway!

The game was the roughest, most disorganized bunch of malarky I've seen in quite a while. Anyone who saw the game will agree. Other than that I have one gripe to the Gents—that is they seemed to completely give up after about 13 minutes were gone in the second half. They lost the spunk and spirit they usually have to end a game, winning or losing.

I hope I haven't sounded "too" down on the basket ball team. I guess I'm still "teed off" about the game last night. The Gents have one more game away before they return to the Youth Center. This is a game at Natchitoches with Northwestern.

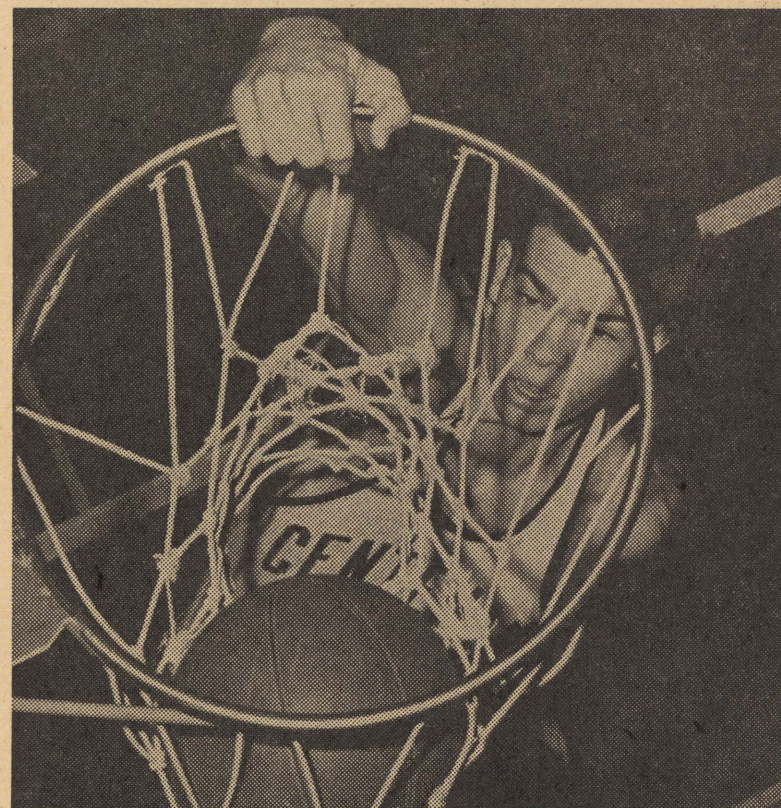

But let's face one thing, Tech was out to win on their own court and with Moreland rebounding and hitting with his hook, nothing could stop the determined Tech crew.

The future may look brighter for Coach Sigler, not only will he draft perhaps the best group of freshmen the school has had in quite a spell, but another transfer, Red Walling, is shaping up to his expected form.

Walling poured in 20 points against Kentucky Wesleyan and was a standout on defense through the night. Red should overcome the tenseness previously seen and develop into an excellent ball handler. If he becomes anything like his earlier smash performances on Texas ball clubs, he should be just the touch Sigler will be looking for next year. Good luck, Red!

Despite the four losses, the season so far has been eventful, on the home court at least. Wins against Oklahoma City University and Louisiana Tech just cannot be overlooked. That's the way the men looked at it from NCAA headquarters anyway, for Centenary now heads for its third straight year in the college division post-season finals in March.

Remember too, that the next home game against Mississippi Southern has been designated "Orvis Sigler Night" and everyone certainly should come out for the occasion. Undoubtedly, Sigler has done a commendable job at the reigns and rightly should be honored this way. See you at the next home game on February 26 with Mississippi Southern.

Big future is ahead for Centenary when Coach Orvis Sigler begins to draft from this year's freshmen squad. One standout who will dominate backboards and the scoring column will be Dale Van Bibber. Van Bibber is one of the most consistent scorers and rebounders on the Frosh team having several games with 28 and 29 points to his credit. The Gentlets now sport a 7-6 average for the season against heavy competition. (Photo by Barham)

This Saturday he plans to go water-skiing at Lake Bistineau. (Let's don't rush the season!)

Fred has earned the title of the "Blue Jean Kid." When he came from Many, his wardrobe consisted mainly of blue jeans, but he found that the standards of his fraternity did not permit him to wear them on campus. (That's a good rule.)

Kappa Sig Pole Kat

Wayne Stoddard, senior social studies major and the only Centenary student that has been here as long as Josephine, has had the "odd experience of being struck in the face by a telephone pole." He was trying out a friend's motor scooter. When he went around the curb, he hit the gas instead of the brakes and "that's when the telephone pole hit me!" As a result, he spent the Christmas and semester holidays in the hospital. (Boys will be boys.)

In answer to the inquiry as to what he planned to do after graduation, Wayne replied, "I'm undecided as to whether I want to be a cowboy or a fireman!"

"I'm a man that thinks for himself and smokes 'o.p.'s," (other people's.)

Besides the cast he sports on his left arm, Wayne claims "passing the English proficiency exam the first time" as another of his major accomplishments.

Wayne is a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity and before his accident, participated in intramural sports. This summer he plans to teach swimming and life-guard like he did this past summer. (That will be some trick keeping that cast dry.)

Cecile Plummer-Warren West Chosen Lady And Gentleman

Warren West

Cecile Plummer and Warren West were chosen yesterday in Centenary Lady and Gentleman-run-off elections to reign as man for the year 1958-59. They will be honored in this year's edition of the Yoncopin year-book publication.

Miss Plummer, of Lake Charles, was vice-president of the senior class, a member of Maroon Jackets and the student affairs committee, Battalion sponsor in ROTC, princess in the 50th Anniversary court and vice-president of Zeta Tau Alpha social sorority.

West, of Shreveport, is president of Kappa Sigma fraternity, has served on the intramural and interfraternity councils, Yoncopin staff, and was elected junior class favorite for 1957-58.

Selected as class favorites for the year were Billy Pat Tipton, Marshall, and Ann DeShazo, Dallas, senior class; Jackie Carpenter, Winnsboro, and Abbey Terry, El Dorado, junior class; Ralph Mason, Selma, Ala., and Vicky Grigsby, Shreveport, sophomore class; Lawrence Waschka, Shreveport, and Sally Clingman, Keithville, freshman class.

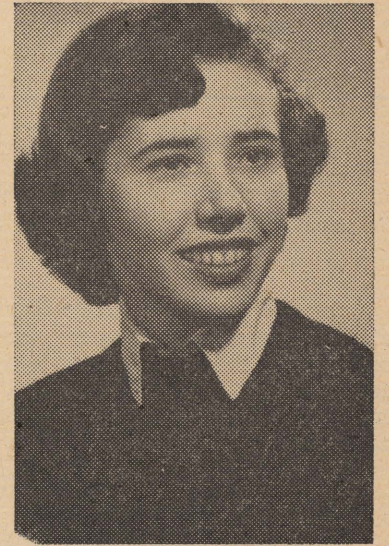

Other nominees eliminated in primary wins Wednesday for the male post were Jerry Cox, Plain Dealing, and David Herndon, Shreveport in the senior class. Emma Lou Stewart, Springhill, ran for the coed position. Gaynelle Morgan, Minden, was defeated in run-off elections on Thursday.

Junior class candidates eliminated yesterday were Dub Fletcher, DeRidder; David Forte, Shreveport; Cornelia Agurs, Shreveport; and Bess Smith, Shreveport.

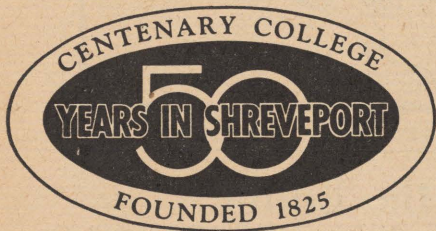

Jim Daigle and Brenda Bailey were sophomore class candidates defeated in Wednesday's vote which placed only two students in opposition. Both are from Shreveport.

In the freshman class, Tim Temple, Leesville, and Janet Gholson, Atlanta, Tex., were both eliminated in the first balloting Wednesday.

Primary voting on Wednesday had some 349 ballots cast using the state's voting machines as applied for by the student senate. Members of the senate were in charge of the polls throughout the two days of balloting.

Second Recital Series To Feature Bassoonist

The second of the faculty recital series will present a program by Rule Beasley, pianist and bassoonist, at 4 p. m. Sunday, March 8. Beasley is piano and woodwinds instructor here and is bassoonist with the Shreveport Symphony Orchestra. Appearing with Beasley Sunday in a duet-sonata for bassoon and piano will be Miss Myrtis Fortenberry, assistant professor of piano at Centenary.

A graduate of Southern Methodist University in Dallas, Beasley holds the degree of Bachelor of Arts in music and the Master of Music degree from the University of Illinois. He has also studied at the Juilliard School of Music in New York City and is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, honorary scholastic society. He joined the Centenary faculty last September.

Has Played Much

Before coming to Centenary, he played bassoon with the University of Illinois Symphony Orchestra and saxophone with the university's concert band. He also held professional positions with campus dance bands and a number of entertainment combos. During his three years in the military service, Beasley was a member of the Fourth Army Band, and did some music arranging for the band's radio shows.

Beasley played saxophone in the SMU Mustang Band for four years and once provided piano accompaniment for Bob Hope. Recitals over many sections of the country and piano accompaniments for outstanding musical figures have kept this organist, arranger and composer busy.

Fortenberry To Be Featured

Miss Fortenberry, who is appearing with him, earned her Bachelor of Music and her master's degree from Louisiana State University. She performed at the 1952 LSU Festival of Contemporary Music and has composed a number of works, including "Sonatina for Two Pianos."

Before joining the Centenary faculty in 1956, Miss Fortenberry served as organist at the University Presbyterian Church in Baton Rouge, as assistant in theory at LSU and as organist at several other Baton Rouge churches. While here, she has appeared as piano accompanist for a number of artists who appeared on the Lyceum Series in recent years.

Open To Public

Sunday's recital, open to the public without charge, will be followed by two more programs at which other members of the faculty of Centenary's school of music will be featured. Sam Terranova, violinist and concertmaster of the Shreveport Symphony will be presented on April 5, and on May 3, William C. Teague, organist for the college and organist and choir-master at St. Mark's Episcopal Church, will be the recitalist. This current faculty recital series, which began on Feb. 8 with a piano recital by Joseph M. Running, pianist and chairman of the school of music, is the first of its kind to be presented on the campus.

ALPHA SIGMA CHI

Chemistry Meeting

Monthly night meeting will be held on March 5, at 7:00 p. m. in room 114 of the Science Bldg. Interested visitors are invited to attend.

Science Fair Plans Begin to Crystallize

The date of the Fifth Annual Regional Science Fair to be held in the Haynes Memorial Gymnasium has been set at March 21. The Centenary Chapter of Louisiana Junior Academy of Sciences in cooperation with Centenary and the Science Education Council sponsor the Science Fair in this area.

Students from grades one through twelve may enter projects in the fair. This year's rules have been sent to schools in Caddo, Bossier and Webster parishes and the final date for the return of entry blanks has been set at March 10.

Carlton Chairman

Dr. Virginia Carlton is serving as chairman of the Research Paper Section. These papers may be submitted by junior and senior high school students. Those students that present high ranking projects or papers will be certified to participate in the State Science Fair. Then the top boy and girl project winners at the state level will be sent to the National Science Fair in Hartford, Conn.

Profs To Help

Serving in science fair activities for 1959 are the following: Dr. Orin P. Wilkins, Coordinator; Dr. Donald W. Emerich, chairman of Judges; Noland Shaw, vice coordinator; Dr. Leo Raub, chairman of the Elementary Division, and Mr. Edmund Parker, co-chairman of the Elementary Division. Faculty members from Caddo, Bossier and Webster Parish elementary and secondary schools will help coordinate activities.

Public Invited

The public is invited to view projects to be displayed in the gym on March 21. These projects will be set up on Friday afternoon and judging will take place that evening. Judges will be furnished by the Science Education Council.

English Profs to Meet In Annual Conference

The department of English and the Caddo Council of Teachers of English will co-sponsor the second conference of Teachers of English Tomorrow, Sat., Feb. 28, with registration beginning at 9:00 in room 114 of the Science Building.

Dr. John R. Willingham, professor of English, will be in charge of the afternoon sessions, and Mrs. Mamie Breazeale, president of the Caddo Council, will preside at the morning program. Visitors will be guests of the college at a 12:30 p.m. luncheon in the campus cafeteria.

Dr. Joe J. Mickle, president of the college, will extend a welcoming address on behalf of the college at the 9:00 morning session. Dr. Willingham will explain the purposes of the conference, central theme of which will be the effective teaching of literature.

Morgan To Begin

"What Can We Expect in Literary Background" will be the topic of the 9:35 a.m. meeting, with Dr. Lee Morgan presenting the college teacher's view. The Rev. William H. Walsh, S.J., and the Rev. Herve T. Racivitch, S. J., both of St. John's High School, will present the secondary teacher's viewpoint.

Profs Attending Health Meetings

Members of the department of physical education are attending the annual meeting of the American Assn. for Health and Physical Education, southern district, which opened Tuesday in Houston, Texas.

Attending the conference are Dr. Sidney W. Rice, head of the department; Fred Beadelle, and Mary Frances Estes. The sessions are being held at the Shamrock Hilton Hotel in Houston and will extend through Friday noon.

on the same subject. "The Teaching of the Literary Types," will be the theme of the 10:45 a.m. meeting to be delivered by Leslie Burris, Centenary professor, and Mrs. Amy Gleason of North Caddo High School discussing, "Reading for Understanding and Interpretation," and Dr. Wilfred Guerin of Centenary speaking on the subject, "The Analysis of the Poem." "The Teaching of the Short Story and the Novel," will be the discussion of Mrs. Ruby Phillips of Plain Dealing High School.

Gifted Student

"Literature for the Gifted Student" will be the afternoon topic of discussion. Mrs. Ruth Winterrowd of Midway Junior High School and Mrs. Cary Clyde Wintle of Byrd will speak on "Enrichment Device in Junior and Senior High School English." Also, the Rev. Father Walsh of St. John's will discuss the honors reading program in senior English, and Dr. E. M. Clark, head of the department of English, will explain the honors course in freshman English at Centenary.

At 2:10 p.m., Mrs. Margaret Bradbury of Hamilton Terrace Junior High School will speak on the subject, "Literary Materials Used at Various Levels." Dr. Willingham will give a summary of the conference to conclude the program for the day.

Invitation to attend the conference have been given to junior and senior high school and college teachers of English throughout Caddo and Bossier Parishes. Last year, the conference was on the study of grammar and composition.

Graham's Grievances

A Need for Social Retrospection

Society is a masked ball, where every one hides his real character, and reveals it by hiding.

—Ralph Waldo Emerson

In the last four years there has been a big change in the attitude among Centenary students. The present condition is one which finds the student body riddled with cliques and groups continually talking about each other. Despite what one group tries to do, the other organizations about campus will be against it.

Perhaps we might well take a lesson from the Centenary of the past—or can we still remember? Do you remember the old MSM hayride which found three trailers taking three or four hundred students out to have fun together? Can you think about the dinners in the battered old cafeteria where Hardin Hall now stands—were we not then a much closer school?

Have we forgotten the times when elections were enjoyable and though often the candidate we were for did not win, everyone was still friends. Remember the Kappa Sigma Cowboy dance which packed the old SUB—even earlier, many people helped with the decorating. Think about the basketball games in the Gym—how many times did we leave so hoarse we could hardly talk?

Remember Jack Webb, Gene Giles, Betty Jo Austin, Delton Pickering, John D. Baker, Bonnie Harrell, Larry Teague, Lee Popejoy, Dean Busboom, Joe Dobie, Margaret Poss, Mary Jane Carter, and Ney Bailey! Think of the closeness of this number of people—all of different organizations and thought. Surely they had many disagreements, yet they did not allow them to completely sever them off into a single closed group. At the present, if a frat man goes to quest or MSM they generally ask, "What's he running for anyway?" We are ALL to blame for this. The separate tables at lunch seem to have developed some definite barriers between groups, yet this should not be so because we all have people with whom we associate with more than others. Despite it all, why can't we be truthful to each other—why smile at someone if you talk about him behind his back? He won't vote for you anyway! Everyone hates hypocrisy and still we can not see it when it is so deep within ourselves.

Where is the answer? Many people feel that it is in the greedy fighting which occurs each election day. How many have heard people in organizations telling you who your friends are—we forget what the past tries so hard to show us, don't we? The triteness of being a class officer or the year's favorite becomes an obsession and we forget even our friends. Individuals are constantly being penalized for the organization which they represent, not for what they stand or all they may have done in the past—just because he is a Kappa Alpha, Kappa Sigma, or a member of MSM and we don't vote for them.

Last year's student body elections as always found campaign speeches cluttered with the phrase, "I will improve campus spirit." Oh Really? Who can forget the signs "Vote Independently"? Does this increase campus spirit or drive further apart the Greeks and Independents—but it was successful just the same and that is all that counted for the moment, wasn't it? We all are responsible for the points which led up to this horrifying incident—yet it is regrettable that nothing is happening now to change the trend.

Why can't we realize that what is important is the person and not what organization he may or may not belong to? One of the most pathetic things on earth is to see or hear someone push a candidate into office simply because he feels that the organization he is a member of needs to be represented—not on personal qualifications.

Social life at Centenary is in sad shape. The most appalling thing is that when social affairs are opened to the school, few people outside that organization will attend. How can we expect to improve relations about campus if we won't give each other a chance and stop looking with suspicion at everything someone does. College must be a place whereby the individual develops socially as well as mentally, and if we do not attempt to learn to live with each other we have missed a great deal in life. This we have today is no good; we must change or wither into something we can never be proud of. We should each accept our responsibility to see that relations do improve on campus and if we do we shall become a better person for it. —B. G.

(For everyone's information, this was written Tuesday night before any election results were known so it was not in any respect written in spite.)

Orvis Sigler, head basketball coach, was honored last night by the Gent fans as they labeled the contest between Centenary and Mississippi Southern "Orvis Sigler Night." Coach Sigler's work greatly aided the Gents in obtaining an NCAA tournament berth in March.

Mitchell Given Frosh Award

Jerry Mitchell, freshman natural science major, was awarded the Freshman Chemistry Achievement Award Monday, February 9. The award is a "Handbook of Chemistry and Physics" given by the Chemical Rubber Publishing Company. Similar awards are given by the company to students in colleges over the nation.

To be eligible for the award the recipient must be a full-time student classed as a freshman and majoring in one of the natural sciences, or in education with expectation of teaching science. The person who makes the highest grade in first semester chemistry is the recipient of the award.

Mitchell is a resident of Shreveport and graduated from Byrd High School in 1958. During his high school years he was president of the Junior Academy of Science, a state organization. At Centenary he is currently a member of the cast of "Cyrano de Bergerac".

George Acton from Plain Dealing received the award last year.

Commerce Club Adds 6 Students

Six students were recently initiated into Delta Tau Omicron, honorary commerce fraternity, according to Coan Knight, president of the group. Those honored were: Tanne McDade, Bobby Avett, David Gay, Mary Murphree, and Penny Hawkins.

Admission requirements for Delta Tau Omicron include completion of 60 hours and an over-all 2.5 average in the major.

At a short business meeting held Tuesday morning, Penny Hawkins was elected secretary-treasurer to replace Pat Festervand who dropped out of school this semester. Other officers of the group are Coan Knight, President; and Cecile Plummer, Vice-president.

WEEKLY CALENDAR

Friday, February 27:

—Chess Club meeting in Moore Student Center at 6:30 p.m.

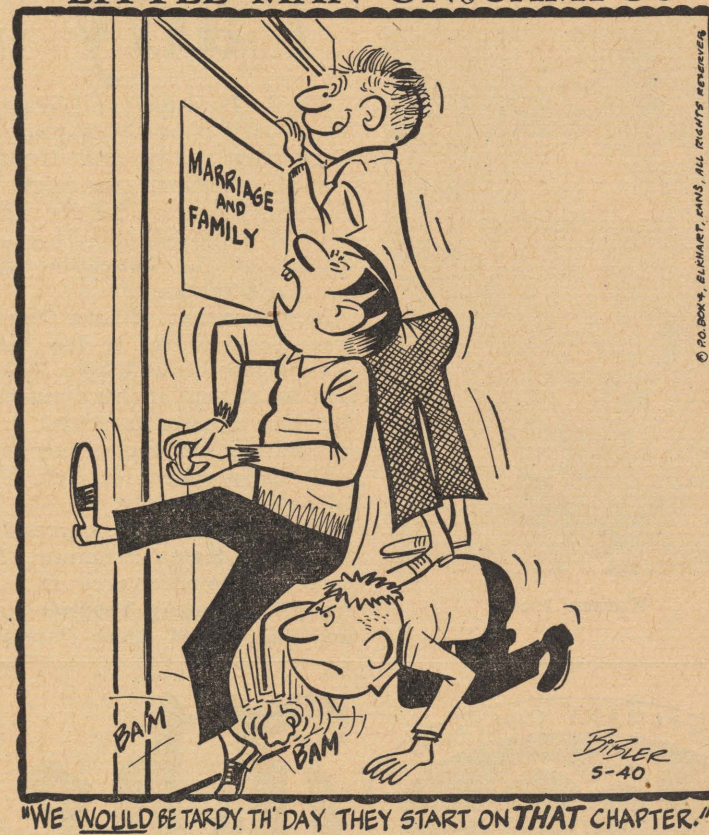

Saturday, February 28:

—English Teachers Meet in room 114 of Science Building.

—Gents meet Arkansas State in the Youth Building at 8:00 p.m. for final game of the season.

—Pep Squad to sponsor a dance in the Moore Student Center immediately following the basketball game. Admission will be 25 cents per person.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

Letters to the Editor

To paraphrase last week's "Sports Downbeat," "Deadbeat" the author should have stayed in bed. His editorial mishmash seemed to sound like the words of a fair weather fan—one who rides the crest of the wave during a winning streak, but elevates himself to new heights of criticism when the Gents come out on the short end of the score.

If the Gents "seemed to completely give up after about 13 minutes were gone in the second half," as the writer intimated, there is only one man who has the right to charge the Gents with such an offense. That man is Coach Sigler, and then in private to the team. No college newspaper Sports Editor deserves the right to speak that way to the team, that through long hours of practice and hard work, represents their school to the best of their ability.

I believe that I speak for a large section of the student body when I say that this editorial was not only in extremely bad taste, but completely uncalled for.

Attention, Male Pupils!!!

Do you wake up in the morning wondering, "Do the female pupils realize that I am an ace number one hot daddy-o? Am I really appreciated in my vocation? Or am I wasting my potential?"

If so, now is the time to act. You can be named Playboy of the Year. Only be quick. You have until Monday night to bribe your friends, or any organization to which you have gracefully assented to join, to submit your name to the "Campus Playboy Contest," sponsored by Zeta Tau Alpha social sorority. Voting will be held in the Sub Tuesday through Friday of next week, and the winner will receive, besides the distinction of his title, a year's free subscription to the magazine of the same name.

Organizations, please submit the name and a caricature of your entry to Marjorie Brothers or Joan Templeton by Monday night.

Gents to Play Final Tilt Tomorrow

Martello Collects 20 Points, NSC Takes Revenge, 86-69

Northwestern State College revenged two previous defeats at the hands of Centenary as they galloped to an 86-69 win over the Gents in Natchitoches Tuesday night.

Jimmy Leach, NSC's leading scorer and dribbling whiz, collected 29 points with 9 field goals and 11 foul shots to lead the scoring for the evening and approached setting a scoring record at Northwestern.

Leach's 561 points scored thus far in the season is just 1 point under the all-time high for one season at Northwestern set by John McConathy in 1950.

NSC Lead at Half

From a half-time lead of 10 points, 37-27, Northwestern came back determined to cushion their lead and that they did, despite a valiant Centenary effort which closed the lead to within six points early in the second half.

Gerald Martello connected with a one-hander with 17 minutes left to play closing the score to 39-33, but Weldon crashed in a three-point play and the Demons were off and running again. As Northwestern could do no wrong, they piled up a definite lead which was as great as 20 points with 10 minutes left to play.

Martello Tops Scoring

Martello was the top Gentlemen scorer for the night as he collected 20 points on the scoreboard on 6 field goals and 8 foul shots. Jackie Crawford followed as the only other Gent to make the double figures, with 12 points to his credit. Other Centenary players scoring well were Leon Shaw, who was injured early in the game, and Bob Scott, both scoring 8 points in the riotous affair.

The loss to Northwestern snapped Centenary's two-year domination of the Pine Cone series as Louisiana Tech emerged champion of the unofficial three-team "loop" with a 3-1 record. The Gents ended their Pine Cone warfare in second place with a 2-2 slate and NSC finished at 1-3.

In the first half, neither team appeared spectacular as it took almost two minutes before Truitt Weldon of the Demons was able to add the first point on the scoreboard.

Slow Half

Unable to penetrate the Gent zone through the first half, NSC fell back to the outside and let Leach and Larry Skinner take potshots at the basket. Those long-range missiles were enough to send the Demons out with a 37-27 half-time spread.

Greene sat out 13 minutes between the first and second halves with an injury, making only a slight appearance in the second half.

SPORTS DOWNBEAT

By DON TYLER

The Gents have lost five games in a row now and it looks as if they'll have a tough time coming out with a .500 average before NCAA tourney time rolls around. Yet, with the way Centenary has been responding on their home court, it should be possible.

Beyond any doubt, Northwestern was out to defeat Centenary on their own home court. Leach was after a record and though he did not quite make it, he did lead the Demons to an accurate hitting nights. Let's say anyway that we can be respectable in our behavior on the home court.

The NSC student body was perhaps the rudest group before which Centenary has had to perform. No one should react this way towards a ball club and the Gents should be commented for the manner in which they played, despite the ill-mannered attitude of the crowd. Even the Pep Squad and Cheerleaders were forced to sit at the very top of the Gym.

Contrary to popular belief, I DO think the Gents have come a long distance this season. I have been, and always will be for the team, winning or losing. I expected a brisk article of the "matter-of-fact" opinion of one student might show the players a little light. Yet many persons disagreed and I appreciate their telling me so. Therefore, if I hurt anyone's feeling in the February 20 edition of the CONGLOMERATE I apologize—I was only doing what I felt was my job as sports editor.

I do not consider this season a losing one at all. Coach Sigler has done a nice job in his first year as coach at our school and I'm sure will develop some of the best teams Centenary has ever had. Remember that this is the first time for Centenary to step up into University division competition and they have performed well. If anyone can help us to get into the University division Sigler will be the man to do it.

Tulane, Texas A & M, and Mississippi State will open the Gents campaign next year in the Gents second year of trials before they will be admitted. Sounds like a tough assignment, doesn't it? But I'm sure with good backing and support the Sigler-boys will come out well rewarded.

Saturday night ends the regular season for the Gents. Why don't we all try to give them the biggest crowd of the year and really back them 100 per cent? Who knows, but if the Gents play as they did against Okla. City University, we might win the small college NCAA tournament!

Personalities Enjoy Cards, Acting, Music

By LINDA FRANK

"Did you go to Central high school?" and "Do you know Minnie Jean Brown?" These two questions met Janet McClelland, freshman from Little Rock, Arkansas, the first day she entered Centenary.

For a girl who says she sleeps in her spare time, Janet keeps pretty busy. She is president of Junior Pan-Hellenic, a member of the Centenary band, vice-president of the Zeta Tau Alpha pledge class, and a member of the Centenary College Choir.

She enjoys water-skiing, listening to any kind of music besides rock 'n roll, swimming, and watching baseball.

She does not claim any titles in playing "crazy eight" with sly upperclassmen or posing on water skis for choir publicity pictures.

But girls, I will bet that she could give us all some good advice on "how to make use of two date rooms at once!"

On The Rim

Have you ever ridden "Fourteen miles on the rim?" Mike Eiser, junior transfer student from Louisiana Tech, recalls the time he was returning to his work on a survey crew in Biloxi, Mississippi, and had four blowouts! After the first three, he got a ride with a truck driver who also had a blowout, then they "rode the rim."

While the interviewer questioned this junior, he calmly sat playing "five card draw." "Music, yes I like music. Semi-classical, I guess. I like to hunt. What? Birds, you know dove, quail, and things like that. I like to play cards, water ski, play golf, and fish."

Once Mike and some of his friends went deep sea fishing and caught 160 pounds of fish in two days. He was really surprised when some of his friends jumped off the boat and went swimming in the middle of the gulf.

This past summer "all I did was water ski and go to Mexico."

Mike says, "Don't anyone ever miss the Oklahoma-Texas game in Dallas. It's the biggest party ever!"

Pig Pen or Runt

Jim Daigle, sophomore dramatics and English major, claims "I'm generally known as 'Pig Pen' or 'Runt' around this campus. When I was a freshman, I didn't dress too neatly, and everyone thinks I'm short, but I'm not—I just always stand in a hole."

After completion of his studies, Jim would like to go into acting. Where? "Anywhere that I can get a break!" This past summer he did summer stock work in Ogunquit, Maine. He has appeared in several of the plays given at Marjorie Lyons Playhouse: The Lark, The Boyfriend, and the recent Cyrano de Bergerac.

"I play all sports. Even though I'm rather mediocre, everyone likes to play with me because I'm so easy to beat, and I'm rather good for laughs." Once while playing golf, he swung at a ball and fell into a lake. (Some swing!)

Jim is a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity, Newman club, and is active in intramural sports.

Once the pledges left Jim in the middle of Cross lake on Buzzard Island. "No one would pick me up because they thought that I was a vagabond or a drunk." After getting rescued from the island, he got a ride as far as Booker T. Washington, and there "I lost all my prejudice when the principal let me use his telephone."

Jim's motto is—Small in stature, Large in mind. (Or is it Large in mouth?)

Chemistry Coed

Bessie Ruth Risinger, senior chemistry major, has the unusual nickname of "Bot." Her friends say when she's not playing bridge or singing in the choir, she goes to class.

When asked how she became interested in the chemistry field she replied, "I just like to see how things work."

"Bot" is a member of Alpha Sigma Chi, works on the Yoncopin staff, and sings first soprano in the Centenary College Choir.

After finishing here at Centenary, Bessie Ruth plans to do graduate work and teach college chemistry, but "from the looks of my last two unknown grades, I don't know!"

During her freshman year, she had quite an experience in her room. She fell on her face and knocked out her two front teeth. (Centenary must have really floored her.) Luckily the school insurance paid for having them replaced.

ON CAMPUS

By PEGGY LONGINO

Ah, Spring! Lynda Gale Fairly faced cold Monday with a smile on her face and a sparkler on her third finger, left hand. Harold Price also presented Linda Fisher with an engagement ring and we find that any professor runs a poor second to the fascination of gazing at that jewel.

T. Tom Wilkinson and Tanne McDade went on a jaunt to Keithville Saturday. This might be the cause of one of those "cause and effect" relationships. The effect? Chi Omega pledges Judy Meredith, Pat Burns, Carol Reichelt, Kay Cooper and Sallie Clingman did a fine job of cleaning the Chi O house Tuesday afternoon.

Last weekend found Mary Beth Bomar in New Orleans visiting in the home of Bonnie and Juan Watkins, former Centenary Lady and Gentleman.

The Sigma Chi House at LSU was the scene of a visit from Leon Bain last weekend. Leon squired two rushees to the University. Anne McLaurin also visited at LSU and brings greetings from Margaret McLaurin, former Centenary student.

KA's Bob Moore and Jerry Kennedy haven't been idle the last few weeks. Bob has pinned Faye Cox and Patsy Miller is now wearing drop letters given her by Jerry Kennedy.

Congratulations to the first pledge class of this year to be initiated. Brand new Kappa Sigma members are Fulder Bazer, Buddy Elkins, Walter Goldstein, Jerry Jouett, Austin Sartin, Rod Yeager, James Darby, Gary Reeves, Spanky McCoy, Butch Franklin, Terrell Rourke, Fred Schwendemann and Tim Temple.

Wearing a new ZTA pledge pin is Betty Jo Towery. This sophomore pledged last week. Congratulations.

From all reports, Kappa Alphas and dates had a rollicking time at the Fidel Castro Party. Among those there were Gail DeLanney, Ralph Mason, Nancy McCullough, Mike Eiser, Kathy Mack, Bud Willis, Pat Burns, Fred Fraser, Lynda Beauvais and David Jones.

Paula Martin and Winifred Fair are both forsaking the campus for the weekend, for the same old diversion—men.

Kappa Chi's hayride at the Westerner Saturday night drew a nice crowd. Besides many who revisited the campus from other schools, a few of those present were Mary Charleville, Marcella Flynt, Carol Ann Solomon, Jerry Woods, Gynelle Morgan, Magoly Ruiz, Diane Holloway, Eugene Bennett and Sara Del Stevens.

The pep rally in the SUB last Tuesday was attended by a very select group—the cheerleaders. It might do the Gents a great deal of good to feel that they have a bit more student support behind them.

We understand that Don Cox has been getting quite a few free meals lately at Murrels. Maybe Don has a close friend from home.

Advice to the lovelorn: Judy, when you are out on the third date with a boy, you do not attract attention by sinking boats.

Blaydes Speaks In AED Chapel

Dr. Mark Blaydes, well-known local obstetrician, was the speaker yesterday at the annual Alpha Epsilon Delta chapel program. Sam Maxey, vice president of the group, introduced Dr. Blaydes, who is secretary of the official board of the First Methodist Church and is active in Methodist organizations.

Larry McKinstry, president of the honorary premedical society, presided, and the invocation was given by John "Buddy" Graham. Other students participating in the program were Gil Snyder, Suzanne McCallum and Eleanor Lewis, all members of the AED chapter. Special music was under the direction of A. C. Voran, with William C. Teague at the organ.

College Plans New Course in Summer

Dr. Ralph E. White, professor of modern languages, has announced that an expanded program of foreign student in Spanish has been planned for the coming summer.

This year Dr. White will offer a course for high school students in addition to the regular transfer class in conversational Spanish which he has taught for several summers at the Institute of Technological and High School Studies in Monterrey, Mexico. The conversational Spanish class will be given August 3 through 25, and the class for high school students will extend from July 15 to August 25.

3 Hours Credit Given

Monterrey Tech will offer credit for the high school class, and the course in conversational Spanish will carry three hours of academic credit from Centenary College. Although high school students may enter the transfer class, college credit will be given only to those who already have been graduated from high school.

During June and early July, Dr. White plans to use a special grant, given him by the humanities division of Centenary, to engage in research and study. Persons interested in the Monterrey program are asked to contact him before June, if possible.

Cooper Speaks To Clubs on Art

Willard Cooper, chairman of the art department, lectured on printmaking before the Shreveport Art Club Monday, Feb. 23, in the art galleries of the Louisiana State Exhibit Museum.

In his program, Mr. Cooper explained the lithographic process, intaglio printing and traditional woodcutmaking and showed some of the tools and materials used in printmaking.

Mr. Cooper served as chairman of the art department of Columbia College in South Carolina for nine years before coming to Centenary last June. He holds a master of fine arts degree from the Escuela Universitaria, de Bellas Artes in Mexico.

He has had one-man art shows in Mexico, at the University of Virginia, in the Columbia Museum of Art in Columbia, S. C., at the Louisiana State Exhibit Museum and here on campus.

Mural Council Plans Activities

The newly-organized Women's Recreation Association and the Men's Intramural Council will sponsor an open house in the Haynes Memorial Gymnasium on March 3 from 7-10 p.m.

There will be a variety of activities highlighted by a student-faculty volleyball game. Exhibitions will be held in fencing, tumbling and pool.

Refreshments will be served and everyone is invited to participate.

Bishop Martin to Address Students In Willson Series

The Centenary student body and faculty will hear the 1958-59 Willson Lecture series next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday when Bishop Paul E. Martin, resident bishop of the Arkansas-Louisiana area of the Methodist Church, will speak in the Brown Memorial Chapel at 9:20 a. m. each morning.

High School Students Will Visit Centenary

Senior High school students will meet at Centenary College for a series of four dinner meetings to be held on succeeding Tuesdays on campus. The first in the series of programs will begin Tuesday, March 10, with the other three meetings slated for March 17, March 24, and March 31. Mrs. Sue Boydston and Miss Nellie Strother, enrollment counselors for the college, are in charge of arrangements.

The March 10 program will be primarily for students interested in careers in mathematics and science. Faculty representatives from the departments of chemistry, biology, geology, industrial technology, mathematics, physics and pre-engineering will meet with the visitors at 5 p. m. in the Moore Student Center to discuss opportunities in these fields. Following the discussion periods, the students will be guests at dinner in the campus cafeteria.

The second session will be for students interested in basketball, business administration secretarial science, physical education and the Reserve Officers Training Corps. Representatives from these departments will conduct the discussion session.

Humanities to be Discussed

On March 24, the humanities and social sciences division will be featured. Students interested in careers in English, French, German, Latin, Spanish, history, psychology, religion and sociology will be guests at this program, and teachers from the departments listed will discuss career opportunities. Faculty representatives from the department of education also will discuss careers in elementary and high school teaching, and students interested in pre-law courses will have an opportunity to meet with a faculty representative from this department of Centenary.

The program on March 31 will

Quest Speakers Set For Week

Speakers have been named for the coming week of quest meeting to be held in the chapel of the Brown Memorial Chapel according to Carole Ann Solomon, reporter.

Those to speak at the 6:15 p. m. meetings are Monday, Lyssa Grogan; Tuesday, Mary Charleville; Wednesday, Marcella Flynt; Thursday, Rev. Jim McLean; and Friday, Eugene Bennett.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend the meetings each evening Monday through Friday.

be devoted to the fine arts, including art, dramatics and speech, music including the band, choir, organ, piano, and symphony programs. Faculty representatives from each of the departments will discuss their programs with the visitors.

Premeds In Last Meet

Each of the sessions will follow the same schedule and will include an informal discussion period, during which students may ask questions concerning the various courses, and dinner in the cafeteria. Students interested in premedical courses will be featured at a later meeting, when a guest speaker also will be present and members of Alpha Epsilon Delta, honorary premedical fraternity, will serve as official host group.

Invitations to the series of meetings have been extended to students from Byrd, Fair Park, St. Vincent's, St. John's, Bossier City High Schools and approximately 14 high schools in the Ark-La-Tex. Purpose of the programs is to acquaint the students with the local campus and its facilities and program.

Alpha Sigma Pi Has Installation

Twenty freshmen and sophomores were initiated into Alpha Sigma Pi, honorary scholastic fraternity, Wednesday, March 4, at the home of Dr. E. M. Clark. All those initiated were on the Dean's Honor Roll with an average of 2.5 or better.

Those initiated were Estel Wayne Adcock, Kay Margaret Cooper, Betty Jeanette Crocker, John Graham, Glenda Gay Johnson, Gene Holly LaCaze, Georgina Edith Lechuga, Sarah Frances Liberto, Frances Jo Littrell, and Sally Dean McConnell.

Also, Sandra Reynolds Peebles, Jerry Rosen, Joe Donald Sartor, Frederick W. Schwendimann, Helena Spanberg, Roy Beale Thomas, Frances Ruth Velotta, Sally Rae Ward, Sandra Elaine Whitlock, and Dalne Elaine Worley.

After being initiated into the group under the direction of George Acton, president, the group was addressed by Dr. Virginia Carlton, head of the mathematics department.

On Tuesday, the bishop will speak on the topic, "The Challenge of Courage." His Wednesday address will be delivered at 9 a. m. in order to avoid a conflict with class room schedules, and this address will be on the subject, "From Sentiment to Life." The concluding address on Thursday will be on the subject, "Everybody Is Somebody."

Assisting in the program will be Centenary students and special music will be under the direction of Dr. A. C. Voran with William C. Teague at the organ.

Plans Organizational Meetings

During his three-day visit on the Centenary campus, Bishop Martin also will meet with Kappa Chi, the ministerial organization, with members of the Methodist Student Movement and with individual students planning full-time careers in religious work upon their graduation from college.

On Wednesday, Bishop Martin will be feted at a reception by members of the Centenary Faculty Club in the faculty lounge of the Moore Student Center. Mrs. Fariebee Self will be in charge of the gathering.

Cooke In Charge

The Rev. R. Leonard Cooke, vice president of the college and former pastor of the Broadmoor Methodist Church, is general chairman of arrangements of the bishop's visit to the local campus.

Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Willson of Floydada, Tex., have made possible the Willson Lectures through their generous contributions. Under the program, Centenary brings to the campus each year an outstanding speaker in the field of religion or education.

The purpose of the series is to enrich both the intellectual and spiritual lives of Centenary students and faculty.

Ford To Speak At Lions Club

Dr. E. L. Ford, professor and head of the department of modern languages, will be the guest speaker at the luncheon meeting of the Lions Club of Belcher today.

Having made an extensive tour of Africa during the past summer, Dr. Ford will speak on the Dark Continent and show colored slides made on the trip. Program chairman for the meeting is the Rev. L. A. Carrington, pastor of the Methodist Church of Benton.

Rule Beasley and Miss Myrtis Fortenberry, of the school of music, will be featured in the second Faculty Recital to be held in the Brown Memorial Chapel this Sunday, March 8, at 4:00 p.m.

Profs, Officials Plan To Attend Conference

Centenary is being represented today and tomorrow by a large delegation at the 21st annual meeting of the Louisiana College Conference at Northeast State College in Monroe.

Dr. E. L. Ford, head of the department of modern languages, and Dr. W. W. Pate, head of the department of commerce and economics and liaison officer, are Centenary's official voting delegates. Dr. Pate is also vice-chairman of the commerce section and will preside at the session for deans and department heads this afternoon.

Other campus professors attending the conference are Dr. Lee

Morgan, resolutions committee; Dean Leroy Vogel, committee on surveys; and Dr. Leo Raub, vice-chairman of the natural science section. Mrs. Margaret McDonald, director of the Centenary News Bureau, is vice-chairman of the section for journalism and public relations, and Mrs. Nelle W. Brown, registrar, is secretary of the section for registrars.

Dr. John R. Willingham will speak on "Objectives and Procedures in High School and College English Programs" at the English teachers' session while Dr. Virginia Carlton will deliver her speech, "In-Service Institute for High School Teachers of Mathematics at Centenary College," before the mathematics meeting.

Others attending the annual meeting are Mrs. Opal Menefee, A. C. Maddox, Dr. Jack Teagarden, Dr. Wilfred Guerin, Leslie E. Burris, Mrs. Burris and Dale Armstrong.

Marshall To Be Contest Judge

Mrs. Helen Ruffin Marshall, assistant professor of voice, will serve as one of the judges for the Southwest Rally Association's annual program at McNeese State College in Lake Charles tomorrow.

The rally includes competitions in music, drama and literary divisions and is sponsored by the high school principals of southwest Louisiana. Mrs. Marshall will assist in judging the musical events for the association.

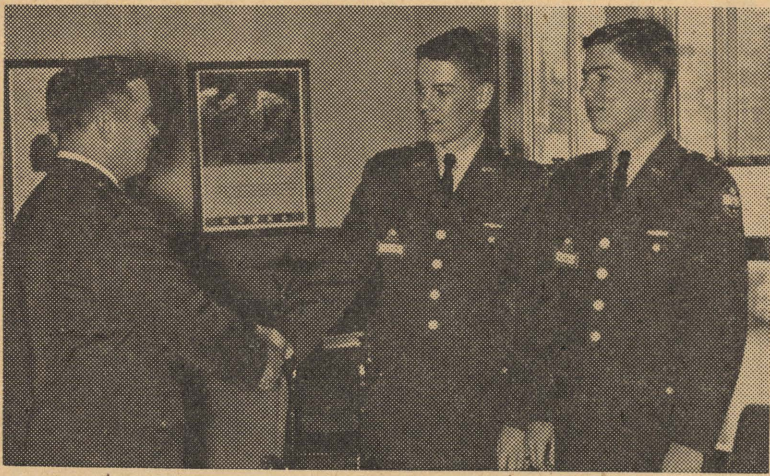

Mrs. Marshall also serves as musical director for the Shreveport Civic Opera Association.

Recital to Feature Bassoonist Beasley

The second in the series of four faculty recital series will be presented at 4 p. m. this Sunday afternoon in the Brown Memorial Chapel. Rule Beasley, bassoonist with the Shreveport Symphony Orchestra and instructor in piano and woodwinds, will be the recitalist. Serving with him as dual recitalist in a selection for both piano and bassoon will be Miss Myrtis Fortenberry, assistant professor of music.

This recital, like the others in the series, is open to the public without charge. The next concert in the series will be presented on April 5 when Sam Terranova, violinist and concertmaster of the Shreveport Symphony, will be featured. A recital by William C. Teague, Centenary organist and organist and choirmaster at St. Mark's Episcopal Church, will conclude the series on May 3.

The recitals in the series are presented by the personnel of the campus School of Music with the purpose of acquainting local residents with the work of the School and its faculty members.

Captain P. J. Kay, Associate PMS&T, congratulates ROTC students Jerry and Perry Winterrowd who were honored Monday with the presentation as Distinguished Military Students for the year. The honor is one of the highest which can be accorded a student in ROTC.

Gerald Martello set new Centenary scoring record with 37 points against Arkansas State on February 28, 1959. His 15 field goals in 17 attempts is also a new field goal percentage record. The old scoring record of 36 was held by Milton Williams, set against Southeast Oklahoma in 1957.

Student Fair Plans Begin to Crystallize

Tentative plans for a student fair, to be held on the campus April 17, have been announced by the Student Senate, sponsors of the event.

The theme of "Showboat" has been selected for the fair, which will be open to the public from 3 to 9 p. m.

Each campus organization has been asked to participate by operating a booth or concession. Prizes will be offered for the most original booth and the one which makes the most money.

Organizations to Help

March 10 is the deadline for turning in affirmations to the letters sent to each organization last week soliciting their participation. The type of booth each group will operate will be determined at a later date.

The planning committee has emphasized the importance of everyone taking part and suggests that smaller groups combine to handle one concession.

Included on the slate of events are a faculty variety show to be held from 7-8, sponsored by Alpha Chi, and a dance which will begin at 9 p. m.

Late Permission Granted

The dance, which will slate a band to perform, will begin at 9 p. m. and last until 1. Girls have been granted late permission for the affair and may stay out of the dormitories until 1 o'clock. Admission for the dance will be $1.00 per couple.

In turning in blanks and suggestions, if organizations have any preference as the type of booth they want to operate, they are asked to put it down. The committee will make selection on the basis of the first turned in.

Maximum amount to be spent on all booths has been set at fifteen dollars and all are asked to stay within this price range. Tickets to booths (which will be called "showbucks") will be 10 cents each.

Suggestions Considered

Bridge and chess tournaments, rides and food concessions are other suggestions being considered by the committee.

Proceeds from the fair will be added to the building fund recently initiated at Centenary. The fund will ultimately result in needed school facilities, including a library, music and religious buildings and additional dormitories.

Any suggestions concerning a type of booth or activity which will add to the success of the fair will be welcomed by the Senate. Such ideas should be addressed to: Student Senate, Box 319, Campus Mail.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"I REFUSE YOUR QUESTION ON TH' GROUNDS MY ANSWER MAY TEND TO INCRIMINATE ME."

"Brotherhood Is Contagious"

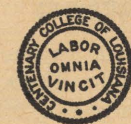

With general talk about campus one might conclude that most of us are willing to try to do our part in improving relations among the varied groups on campus. Within the next few weeks we will have a very excellent chance to prove that we are sincere in this decision.

Tonight in the Student Center will be a backwards party beginning around 9 and lasting until 12. Tomorrow night the Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority will hold their annual formal in the P&S Hotel. With this weekend we could begin an era of understanding and friendliness among each other. An open invitation has been sincerely extended for the student body to attend these affairs and we should oblige. If it is entertainment you want, Buddy Stewart and his band are ranked among the best on the college level and have been received well in the past here.

The Student Senate also is doing its best to bring the student body together in an affair which they have termed the "Student Fair." If we will approach this with the correct attitude, it too will be something which can bring about a better relationship on campus. For once let's try to lose the arch rivalry which is generally evident when we have any competitive undertakings among the students. By realizing the goal which the Student Senate is trying to reach—bringing everyone together for one goal—we might be able to better understand each other and be better friends because of it.

Someone has once said that "Brotherhood is Contagious" and this might very well be our theme today. If we will accept the challenge presented to us today and realize that the only way we can ever understand each other and be real friends is to do things together, we shall finally have made a step in the right direction. This is what the Student Senate is trying to do and we should do our best to see that their attempt is a success.

Spring-like weather effects people in strange ways and this week's personalities seem to prove no different. They are Marcella (which way did he go?) Flynt, Philip (indifference works wonders!) Andrews, Anna Clark (hand on shoulder) Whitaker, and Harold (you said yes?) Price. (Photo by Bryant)

Personalities Troubles Cause Unusual Tales

By LINDA FRANK

Last summer while attending Centenary summer school, Anna Clark Whitaker, freshman from Vivian, Louisiana, woke up one night to find a visitor in her room. After calling her room's mate's name several times, she finally asked, "Who is it?" The answer came, "I'm the night watchman." Still half asleep, she turned over to go back to sleep and suddenly realized, "Why should the night watchman be in my room?" Then she realized there must be some mistake as he ran out of the room in much haste. Then the confusion began!

When asked if she has a hobby, Anna Clark said, "You can hardly have a hobby when you're going to school and planning to get married."

Some of her interests include religion, semi-classical and classical music, and art. "I like to draw still life, scenes, and modern subjects. I've always liked to work with my hands, and besides drawing, I like to arrange flowers and do stuff like that."

Mystery Man

"I'm not real hep on television, except of course, Have Gun Will Travel and Gun Smoke," says sophomore personality from Sulphur, Louisiana, Philip Andrews.

Philip is majoring in math and physics and plans to do his masters work and get his doctor's degree in physics. "Then I would like to do research work in physics."

"I enjoy good movies, good plays, swimming, and music in general, the type KBCL plays."

Philip likes to read humorous literature and the works of the "master of mystery," Edgar Allen Poe.

Among his hobbies, photography ranks high. "I also have a stamp collection, but that's kind of a slumped hobby as I don't find time enough now to keep it up."

Sleeping Beauty

Seen frequently in, around, and about James Dormitory is junior religion major Harold Price. Harold is a good example of the old saying, "In the spring, a young man's fancy turns . . ." as he has recently become engaged to Linda Fisher.

Harold planned to go into the ministry, but then he liked college so much, that he decided he would like to teach in college. At present he hopes to attend graduate school "somewhere up north."

Harold enjoys playing bridge, going swimming and water skiing, watching good movies, reading good books such as by Hemingway, and listening to classical music or music by the Kingstone Trio.

Where is this junior from? "I'm from Logansport. It's barely in Louisiana."

Double Trouble

Marcella Flynt, senior English major, plans to attend Perkins School of Theology in Dallas and get her master's degree in Christian Education after completing her studies here.

Marcella served as vice-president of James Dorm last year and serves as president this year. She is co-ed vice-president of the Student Senate, treasurer of Alpha Chi, vice-president of Sigma Tau Delta, and was elected to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

"I'm a has been," she says. (Not ate chief justice of the Honor hardly.) Last year she was associate Court, president of MSM, vice-president of Kappa Chi, and treasurer of the Maroon Jackets.

When asked about unusual experiences, Marcella says, "I've got double trouble. I see double. I've never seen in third dimension. When I wear a patch, I meet many strange people and often hear 'Mother, what's wrong with that lady?' There are many advantages and disadvantages, but one advantage is that I can see twice as many beautiful things at once."

ON CAMPUS

By PEGGY LONGINO

Jay Lang and Sarah Hitchcock have livened their dates with various diversions, the latest to leave a Black Angus on the tennis courts last Sunday.

Congratulations to new Alpha Xi Delta initiates Judy Hebert, Gay McRee and Nicky O'Pry.

The Zetas were also busy initiating last weekend. New ZTA's are Dalna Worley, Margetta Spears, Elizabeth Ormon, Judy Rhodes, Jane Rhodes, Joan Templeton, Glenda Johnson, Lyssa Grogan, Noni Miller, Sally Herring, Beverly Ann Paul, Ann Morineaux, Janet Gholson, Boo Maxwell and Cathy Cody.

Planning to take off for the sport car races at Mansfield next Sunday are Nancy White, Tommy Hickcox, and John Williams.

Zeta Tau Alpha has again come up with a sensational money raising project. This is the last day to vote for the Campus Playboy of your choice. Just drop a nickel in the jar under the name of your favorite for each vote.

The Riding Club was the scene of a big Kappa Sigma party Friday night. Some of those proclaiming it as one of the best parties of the year were Mary Beth Bomar, Fred Willis, Mary Ann Gaughn, Tim Temple, Nancy Dixon, Fuller Bazer, Buddy Graham, Patsy Stamps and Bill Johnson.

Sue Howell journeyed to New Orleans last weekend to visit a graduate of last year, John Rasmussen, for some unexplainable reason. While there, she stayed with two other former Centenary students, Martha Turner and Oscar Cloyd.

Linda Frank and Judy Downs were the instigators of a impromptu party Monday night in a grill recently bought by Gus. Getting the establishment off to a good start Monday night were Charles Wilder, Ann DeShazo, Dave Herndon, Steve Victory, Bill Sanders, Sara Del Stevens, Jeanne Kelso and Norma Strother. Linda and Judy presented Gus with a "good luck" cake.

The A. B. Summers recently welcomed two little twin girls into the family. Congratulations!

Kappa Alpha's entertained with a coffee Tuesday morning which was attended by many student body members. Among those enjoying the coffee break at free period were Leon Bain, Judy Parker, Buddy Daily, Ann Moreneaux, Ralph Mason, Ginny Emerson, Lawrence Waschka and Ken Hayes.

Three fair Centenary coeds made a beeline for different points in Texas after classes Friday. The weekend found Winifred Fair at Texas A & M, Paula Martin at the University of Texas and Judy Meredith at the SMU Phi Gamma Formal.

Don't forget the Zeta Tau Alpha formal at the P & S Hotel Saturday night. Buddy Stewart's band will entertain from eight to twelve and the entire student body is invited.

We have been asked to advise you to hold on the your Activity Cards even though the basketball games are over.

Good luck to the Gents in the NCAA tournament!

ROTC Riflemen Attend Tourney

Six ROTC cadets traveled to El Paso, Texas, Wednesday to participate in the tenth annual Southwest Rifle tournament. The tournament is being conducted at Texas Western College in El Paso March 5 and 6. Competition in the matches will be between rifle teams representing Army, Navy and Air Force ROTC units from the Fourth, Fifth, and Sixth US Army areas.

Music Festival Held At College

Centenary was the site of the competitive festival of the Shreveport District of the Louisiana Federation of Music Clubs held last Saturday at the school of music.

The National Federation of Music Clubs established its program of Junior Festivals to encourage and promote interest in music among the students through the age of 18. Instead of competing against each other, the student is rated according to his own merits. The festivals are designed not for the exceptionally talented performer, but more important, for the average student who seriously applies himself to music.

Junior Festivals are held annually throughout the United States, with thousands of Junior Club members from practically every state participating.

Martello Breaks College Records

'Orvis Sigler' Night Finds Real Power Of Bobby Shulman

Centenary broke their five-game losing streak last Thursday night by outlasting a well-balanced Mississippi Southern team 80-71. The Gents came back to the home stand, labeled "Orvis Sigler" night, and had to fight back valiantly in the last half to win the contest. Down 12 points at the half, 45-33, and half the starters about to foul out, the local boys put on a brilliant second half comeback by out-scoring Southern 47-26.

The Gentlemen must have decided (during the half-time) that Coach Sigler shouldn't be deprived a perfect evening to climax the "Sigler Night" observance at the Fair Grounds arena, because they carved away the 12-point lead very effectively and melted it to nil with 7:25 to go. After that they put the game on ice.

Shulman Shines

Bobby Shulman, a terrific little senior who, justifiably or not, spent most of his senior year on the bench, started instead of ailing Larry Greene and was the team booster in Centenary's second-half surge. He wound up with 19 points—13 of them after the break and 12 within the final 10 minutes.

But Bobby had to let teammate Bob Scott have scoring honors with 20 points. Martello picked up 14 and Crawford added another 13 to fill out the leaders in that department.

Crawford Fouls Out

Southern's best was the usual, Harold Lea. He threw in 18 points while Roy Danforth got 12, Ken Fortenberry and Wayne Pulliam got 10 each in the losing cause.

Down 45-33 at half-time, the Gent counter-push started as soon as the second half did, and it made marked progress slowly but surely. With the Southern margin 52-44, Jackie Crawford fouled out and things looked rather grim.

Gents Take Lead

Then, Scott, Shulman, and Martello lead the remaining attack and Shulman's long jump shot trimmed the score to 57-56. An exchange of baskets and Martello then put the Gents on top to stay, 60-59.

The Centenary hoopsters were not challenged again. The wind had completely blown out of their sails for the Southern men, and they made mistake after mistake. Shulman continued his startling performance until the Centenary lead reached 12 points. By then, it was all over for Southern as the Gents finished on top 80-71.

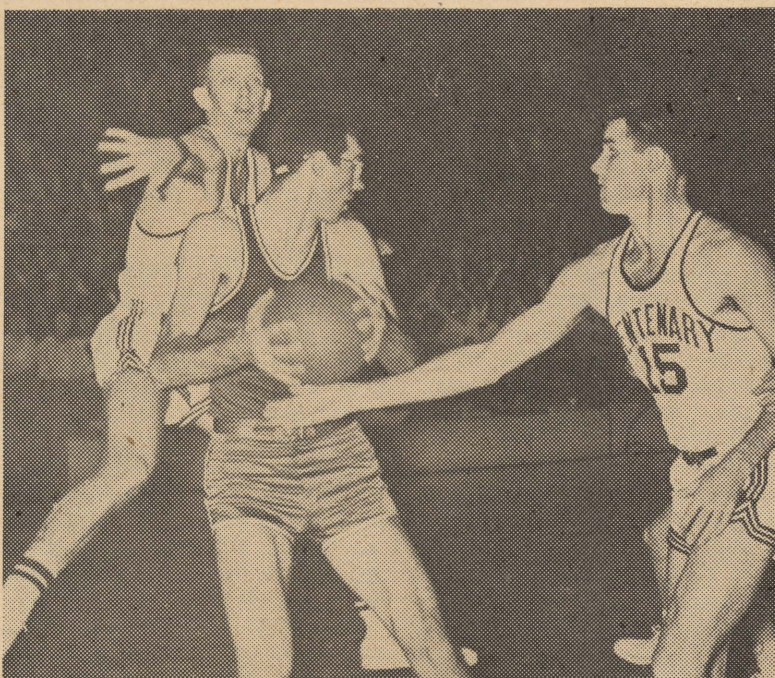

A professor was deep in his work when his wife called: "Harry, baby has swallowed the ink! Whatever shall I do?"

"Write with a pencil," was the dreamy reply.

"Mom, we're going to play that we're elephants at the zoo and we want you to help us."

"But what can I do?"

"You can be the lady who gives the elephants peanuts and candy."

"But it's my ball" seems to be what this Arkansas State hoopster is saying to Leon Shaw and Bob Scott. His talk was of little avail as the Gents romped 77-56.

SPORTS DOWNBEAT

By DON TYLER

Shulman Leads Gent Win

Basketball senior player Bobby Shulman from Dothan, Ala., has credited himself well in the last two games. This has created many wary questions such as: Why hasn't he played more?

I'm sure I don't know the answer but I was surely glad to see Bobby get into the action and do well. From the looks of the Mississippi Southern game the score might have been reversed there at the last without Bobby.

At the first of the year Bobby stated for the Conglomerate: "If the students are behind us, we have the desire to make this a great year," and he showed he has the desire and ability in the last few games. Let's all hope he shows up as well tonight in the tourney against Western Illinois.

Baseball Returns

Baseball is entering the sports air around the country and Centenary is no exception. The baseball team has begun workouts and according to one of the players, "things look encouraging." Only one category looks very doubtful, that is the pitching department. There are four returning pitchers, yet this still leaves the Gent squad a bit lacking in depth where it is needed badly. Probably the team will be one of long ball hitters and a very fast bunch.

Baseball Returns

record which will remain for quite a long while even when the 37 point record is long gone. Good luck to "Tooley" and the Gents in the NCAA tourney. It is understood that the men on the squad have high hopes of going a long way in the meet and with the attitude they had when they left Shreveport, who is to doubt their word?

Tumbling Team Stands Out

The half-time ceremony of the Arkansas State game last Saturday night was a particularly interesting one. Anyone missing this performance may well be disappointed. Centenary's Tumbling Team put on a remarkable demonstration of their skills. The team did themselves proud for they all did a fabulous job.

Special standouts were Tally Pledger and Spanky McCoy. Spanky performed some of the most breath-taking feats our eyes have ever witnessed. Some of the stunts I wouldn't have believed possible.

Beverly Paul did well on her usual comic role. Others on the team are: Coach Fred Beadelle, Nancy White, Linda Sue Brown, Betty Rosenbloom, Keith Simmons, Bob Sorenson and Elwyn Archibald. Congratulations to Coach Beadelle for a job well done in initiating this new sport around the school.

"Tooley" Grabs 37 Points Gents Await NCAA Meet

By DON TYLER

Gerald "Tooley" Martello smashed scoring and percentage records for the Centenary basketball team as he dropped 37 points through the nets on 15-of-17 field goals and 7-of-12 free throws in the Gent's final game of the season with Arkansas State last Saturday night. Martello's feat, which led the Shreveport men past Arkansas State by 77-56, was 1 point higher than the previous record set last year by the magnificent Milt "Chief" Williams.

The tremendous showing, finished the season for the Gentlemen with a 13-13 record and for Martello left him with a 17.4 point per game average. His performance Saturday night, coupled with a consistently high over-all season, put Martello into the unofficial "Hall of Fame" for the Centenary men.

Had "Tooley" been as accurate as his past engagements at the foul line the score undoubtedly would have been larger than it was—but the remarkable 15-for-17 attempts from the floor is just too great to be overlooked. Not only does this performance set a college record, but it also is tops for any game so far held at the Hirsch Youth Center.

Williams Previously Tops

The record that Martello smashed was set last year by Milt "Chief" Williams against Southeastern Oklahoma in December, 1957, when he poured 36 points through the nets.

It was good that "Tooley" was making himself a sort of hero for this game gave the fans something else to think about instead of the game which was rather low calibre basketball. The Gentlemen completely ran away from their outmanned competitors, when looking back it seems hard to realize that they once beat the Shreveport men.

Leon Shaw was the only other Gent to make double figures as he canned 11 points for the night.

John Gatling and Warren Moore were high for Arkansas State tribe with 12 and 11 points respectively. Half time score found the Gents far out front by 35-28 and on 42 points gathered up in the second period they trounced the Arkansas men easily 77-56.

NCAA Tourney Next

Tonight the Gentlemen move into rather familiar territory when they will participate in the Southwest Regionals of the NCAA small college Basketball Tournament to be held in Springfield, Mo.

For the night, the Gents will challenge Western State College (16-7) of Macomb, Ill., while Abilene Christian will be pitted against Southwest Missouri.

This will be third straight year that the Gents have been invited to the tourney. For play-by-play description of the game, listen to radio KENT tonight and Saturday.

Mickle Names Two Men To Administration Posts

Dr. Joe J. Mickle has announced two additions and changes in the campus faculty, including a new dean of students and director of admissions and a new evening division director.

James Howard Allen, dean of Mitchell College in Statesville, N. C., for the past three and one-half years, will replace Charles A. Hickcox as dean of students and admissions director. Dean Hickcox will return to his position as head of the geology department and full-time professor in that field. The expansion of the department has necessitated the change.

Elder In Evening School

Howard Morelock Elder, principal of El Dorado, Ark., high school since 1945, will fill the post of director of the evening division and also that of assistant professor of Latin. Mr. Elder will replace Elwood B. Traylor, who is transferring to Hendrix College in Conway, Ark., where he will become head of the education department and associate professor of education and psychology.

A native of Liberty, Ky., Dr. Allen graduated from Union College in Barbourville, Ky., earned his masters degree from the University of Kentucky, and received his Doctorate in Physical Education at Indiana University in 1955. He has served as director of physical education and field representative for Mitchell College and graduate assistant at Indiana University.

Washington and Lee Grad

Elder, a native of Jonesboro, Ark., graduated from Washington and Lee University and received his masters from the University of Chicago. Other universities where he has done further work include California, Wisconsin, Colorado and Arkansas. He is a member of his hometown Rotary Club, chairman of its international service committee and chairman of its youth service committee. He has been active in other community activities, among which are the Community Chest, Red Cross, Boy Scouts and Community Concert Association. He has served as president of the Arkansas Secondary School Principals organization and an athletic district of that state.

Lyons to Speak On Space Flight

"Looking out from the stars" will be the topic of a speech given by Dr. Ernest Lyons, Jr., professor of chemistry and chairman of the field of mathematics and natural sciences at Principia College, at 8 p. m. Thursday, March 19. There is no admission charge and the talk will be delivered at the Broadmoor Junior high school auditorium.

In his discussion, Dr. Lyons will present some of the new possibilities and problems growing out of our exploration into space and will answer questions involving life in a satellite, the nearness of planetary travel.

Dr. Lyons, a specialist in electrochemistry, holds his BS degree from Massachusetts Institute of Technology, his MS from California Institute of Technology and his PhD in chemistry from the University of Illinois. His lecture Thursday will be of general interest and on the layman's level.

Mural Councils Sponsor Affair

The Womens' Recreation Association and the Mens' Intramural Council jointly sponsored an open house March 3 in the Haynes Gymnasium. The purpose of the gathering was to provide entertainment for the evening and to acquaint the students with the facilities provided by the Physical Education department.

Entertainment consisted of exhibitions by the tumbling team, a faculty-student volleyball game and a fencing presentation. Following this, refreshments were served in the game room and everyone participated in ping-pong and pool games.

New $100,000 Student Center Receives Approval for BSU

Plans got under way this week for a new $100,000 Baptist Student Center to be constructed on the Centenary campus, according to Bob Childress, BSU director. District 6, Louisiana Baptist Convention, adopted a resolution Monday which calls for the purchase of two lots on Woodlawn street across from the college.

According to the resolution, lots will be purchased adjoining the present BSU Center at 2907 Woodlawn. The present Center lot and the two new ones, for which a price of $16,500 has been set by the Board of Trustees at Centenary, will be the site of the new structure.

Construction In Two Years

Chairman of the BSU promotional committee in charge of the building program, Judge R. D. Hendrick, said plans call for groundbreaking for the new center in about two years. The expanded facilities will serve Baptist students attending Centenary, Northwestern School of Nursing, Confederate Memorial Medical Center's X-ray and medical technology school, the Ayers and Spencer-Draughon Business Schools.

In building the structure, 50 per cent of the cost will be provided by the Louisiana Baptist Convention and District 6, which includes more than 70 Baptist churches in Caddo and Bossier parishes, will provide the other half of the funds.

A committee composed of Judge Hendrick, H. C. Abbott and O. L. Jordan has been set aside to make arrangements for the purchase of the property owned by Centenary.

Shaw Prepares to Leave for Studies

Nolan G. Shaw, professor of geology, will attend the Summer Institute in Marine Geology, Oceanography and Ecology at Florida State University in Tallahassee, Fla. The course, sponsored by the National Science Foundation, will last for eight weeks.

Included in the institute, for which Shaw will receive $600, are six weeks of study on the campus and two weeks of field trips. The program begins on June 15 and will conclude on August 7. Thirty-nine other college and university geology teachers have also been selected to attend the summer conference.

Shaw received his BA degree from Baylor University and his MS from Southern Methodist University. In 1955 he joined the Centenary faculty as a geology instructor and has since been promoted to assistant professor.

Following the conclusion of the institute, Shaw will work toward his PhD degree at the Florida university and will return to Centenary in September, 1960, after a year of absence for his continued studies.

Dr. Mary Warters Is Given Oak Ridge Research Grant

Dr. Mary Warters, head of the department of biology, has received an appointment as a Research Participant in the Biology Division of the Oak Ridge National Laboratory for the summer months this year.

While at the Laboratory, Dr. Warters will engage in work related to the field of cytogenetics working with the Drosophila Group which is headed by Dr. D. L. Lindsay. This group is concerned at the present with the processes involved engaged in research at a time when there is a minimum of interference with teaching commitments. Participants are paid a monthly salary equivalent to that received by them during the regular school year at the institution where they are employed.

Graduate of Texas University

Dr. Warters received her A.B. degree from Shorter College, Rome, Georgia; M.A. degree from Ohio State University; and a Ph.D. degree from the University of Texas in Cytogenetics.

Previous research activities include four summers from 1947-1950 as a Research Associate in the Laboratory of Genetics at University of Missouri, made possible by a grant received each summer through the Carnegie Foundation. Also, in 1951 she received a Carnegie Foundation grant to work as a Visiting Scientist at the Roscoe B. Jackson Memorial Laboratory at Bar Harbor, Maine. All of this research was done in the field of cytogenetics in which Drosophila was the experimental material employed.

According to present plans, Dr. Warters will leave on June 10 for the Laboratory and will return to Centenary on September 10.

Martin Speaks To Student Body

Bishop Paul E. Martin, resident bishop of the Arkansas-Louisiana area of the Methodist Church, delivered the 1958-59 Willson Lecture Series during chapel programs Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday.

Also, Bishop Martin held several other meetings with campus groups and individual student discussions among those planning to enter full-time careers in religious work. Among the organizations he spoke before were Kappa Chi, ministerial organization, and Methodist Student Movement.

Assisting in the mid-week services were Centenary students and special music was under the direction of Dr. A. C. Voran with William C. Teague at the organ.

in cellular divisions under normal and genetically altered conditions.

Also, additional research is now being done on the nature of radiation-induced genetic changes and on the relative biological effectiveness of different types of radiations in producing genetic effects. Other groups in the Laboratory are studying cell physiology, immunology, microbiology, enzymology, biochemistry, and biophysics.

Conference Outlined Plans

In March of last year, Dr. Warters attended a special conference called by the Biology Division of Oak Ridge National Laboratory to explore ways the Biology Division could offer their facilities to the small colleges. Centenary was one of ten schools of the South represented at the conference.

Under the Research Participation program, faculty members of colleges and universities spend from three to fifteen months in the Biology Division of the Oak Ridge National Laboratory working on research projects. Participants work on problems of their own selection, alone or in collaboration with members of the Division.

Most appointments are made for the summer months, thereby enabling the participant to be actively

Development Is Important

With the announcement of any long-range plan of an organization or concern to seek funds for further development many varied ideas and thoughts are expressed concerning the venture. Such is the case with the Development Fund Drive which was inaugurated last week for Centenary. Perhaps in discussion we often overlook one important aspect which should be considered.

We as students of Centenary should be quite proud of the president, the administration, and Trustee Board for they are far-sighted individuals who are determined to see Centenary grow. Dr. Mickle should be commended especially for his work in this area.

Perhaps with the beginning of such an expensive program we overlook the importance of it to us both now and in the future. Despite the fact that the majority of the work will be done in years to come after we have graduated, the development will affect us in a very definite manner.

If Centenary continues to progress, our degrees will retain the standard which we expect it to have on graduation—if she dies much of the value of our degree is lost. There are entirely too many small colleges today with a general attitude among their administration which tends to overlook the importance of development—with them the college gradually dwindles.

But this is not true of Centenary for we have a truly alert and demanding group administrating the college. No goal is too great for them and they do expect and will get only the best for Centenary. To this group we should be indebted and proud. We know Centenary will be on the top in the future as it is today.

Yoncopin Goes to Press

The Yoncopin for 1959 went to press last week with a last-minute flurry of picture-taking and lay-out sketching. The editors, Margie Dukes and Bobby Holtzclaw, wish to express their deepest appreciation to all of those who pitched in to help in those last few crucial days before the deadline. A word of special appreciation also goes to those who were kind enough to make time in their busy schedules for those last-minute pictures that were so badly needed.

The theme for the book this year is based on our "50 Years in Shreveport" celebration. The editors have endeavored to make it the finest yearbook yet produced at Centenary by co-ordinating the Centenary of the past with the Centenary of the future. The Taylor Publishing Company of Dallas has estimated delivery of the finished books about the first week in May.

Faculty Members Elected to Offices

Several members of the Centenary faculty were elected to sectional offices in the Louisiana College Conference for the 1959-60 academic year. Election to the office was at the annual convention of the conference held last week at Northwestern State College in Monroe.

Dr. W. W. Pate, head of the Centenary department of commerce and economics, was elected chairman of the commerce section, and Mrs. Opal P. Menefee, assistant professor of commerce, was elected secretary of the section.

Ford Elected

Dr. Sidney W. Rice, head of the physical education department, will serve as chairman of the health and physical education section of the conference. Dr. E. Lee Ford, head of the Centenary department of modern languages, was chosen vice chairman of the modern and classical languages division.

Centenary registrar, Mrs. Nelle W. Brown, was elected vice chairman of the registrars' division and also will serve as program chairman of the section.

A large delegation of faculty members and administrative personnel was sent to the annual convention to represent Centenary at the conference last weekend.

Students Hear Biology Lecture

Students of the biology classes Tuesday heard a lecture by Biologist Dr. John C. Moser on the "Texas Leaf-Cutting Ant." The talk was illustrated with slides and followed by general discussion.

Dr. Moser received his Ph.D. degree from Cornell University and previous B.S. and Master's work at Ohio State University. His degree is in the field of Entomology, the study of insects. While in the Armed Services, he was stationed at the Edgewood Arsenal for work on chemical warfare. At the present he is in Alexandria, La., with the State Southern Forest Experimental Station.

Reynolds Wins "Playboy" Vote

Odie Neal Reynolds was chosen as the Centenary "Playboy of the Year" in a general election which included ten candidates for the honor. Zeta Tau Alpha sorority was the sponsor of the contest which required five cents to receive a ballot for each candidate. In final tabulations Reynolds was far ahead of his nearest challenger.

In receiving the honor, he will receive a year's subscription to the magazine, Playboy, and was introduced at the annual Zeta Tau Alpha sorority spring formal.

Math Is Subject Of Prof.'s Lectures On Mon. and Tues.

Dr. R. E. Johnson, of the Department of Mathematics of Smith College, Northampton, Massachusetts, will be on campus next Monday and Tuesday, March 16 and 17, as one of the visiting lecturers of the Mathematical Association of America.

The choice of Dr. Johnson by the MAA as one of the visiting lecturers for 1958-59, was made because of his unusual abilities for communicating with people interested in the field having varying backgrounds in mathematics. Four lectures have been scheduled for the two days he will be on campus and time has been allowed for individual conferences.

Monday Talk

At 11 a.m. next Monday, Dr. Johnson will speak on "Algebraic Structures" in Room 312, Science Building. This discussion, for students who have had some modern algebra, will involve rings and similar algebraic systems and some simple structure theorems.

"Elementary Calculus, Rigorous or Intuitive Approach?" will be the topic of the Monday afternoon lecture at 4 p.m. in Room 114, Science Building. Though primarily for the science faculty of Centenary and neighboring colleges and high schools, any interested student is welcome to be present.

All Students Invited

Every student is invited to attend Dr. Johnson's delivery, "From High School Algebra to Modern Algebra," at 7 p.m. in Room 113, Science Building Monday night. This talk is described as concerning the role of algebra in mathematics.

The final lecture Tuesday, March 17, will be delivered at 9:30 a.m. in the lecture room of the Science Building and is entitled "Mathematical Problems." This will involve deduction of solutions of some selected mathematical problems and guesses at possible generalizations of these problems. This talk is intended for all college mathematics students.

AED Initiates Three Pre-Meds

Three students were initiated last week into Alpha Epsilon Delta, national premedical honor society, according to Gil Snyder, historian for the group. Those honored were Harold Brewster, Don Wolfe, and Jim Huddleston. Requirements for admission into the group include a 1.8 over-all average and a 1.8 average in science, high character, and a definite interest in a medical career.

Last night the society visited Schumpert Memorial Hospital and was taken on a tour of the building including the Radiology Stations. The visit is one of the many chances the members have to become better acquainted with the medical profession.

Gents Ramble in Win, Then Fade

Gents Lose Battle To Southwest Mo., End Season, 14-14

The Centenary Gentlemen, after a hard-fought early win against Western Illinois, fell victim to Southwest Missouri's Bears last Saturday night 75-62 to be eliminated in the finals of the Southwest Regional tournament of the NCAA College Division meet in Springfield, Mo.

With the win, Southwest Missouri extended their home-floor winning streak to 32 in a row and convinced most of the fans that they are invincible at home. This is the third straight year for the Bears to go to Evansville, Ind., and NCAA finals.

The Gents were charged with 35 personal fouls and four of them—Tooley Martello, Jackie Crawford, Leon Shaw, and Larry Greene—went out by that route. Crawford went to the bench with 14 minutes left in the contest, Martello followed four minutes later, and the other two remained until the final few minutes in the losing cause.

Gents Behind at Half

Centenary managed to stay fairly close until the half, which found Southwest Missouri leading by a 36-27 score, but dropped out of it soon after the second period began.

The Gents were led in scoring by Bobby Shulman and Robert Scott, each with 14 points to his credit. Jackie Crawford followed with 8, Greene had 6, and Martello and Shaw both bucketed 5 points each.

Dale Russell, Bear guard, paced all scorers in the game with 21 points—13 from the foul line—and pivotman Russ Robinson was the next-best with 18.

Bears Scramble to Lead

Just after the half-time buzzer began the second stanza, a flurry of buckets came back to the floor to put the Bears into a 14-point lead at 41-27, and the contest was all but over.

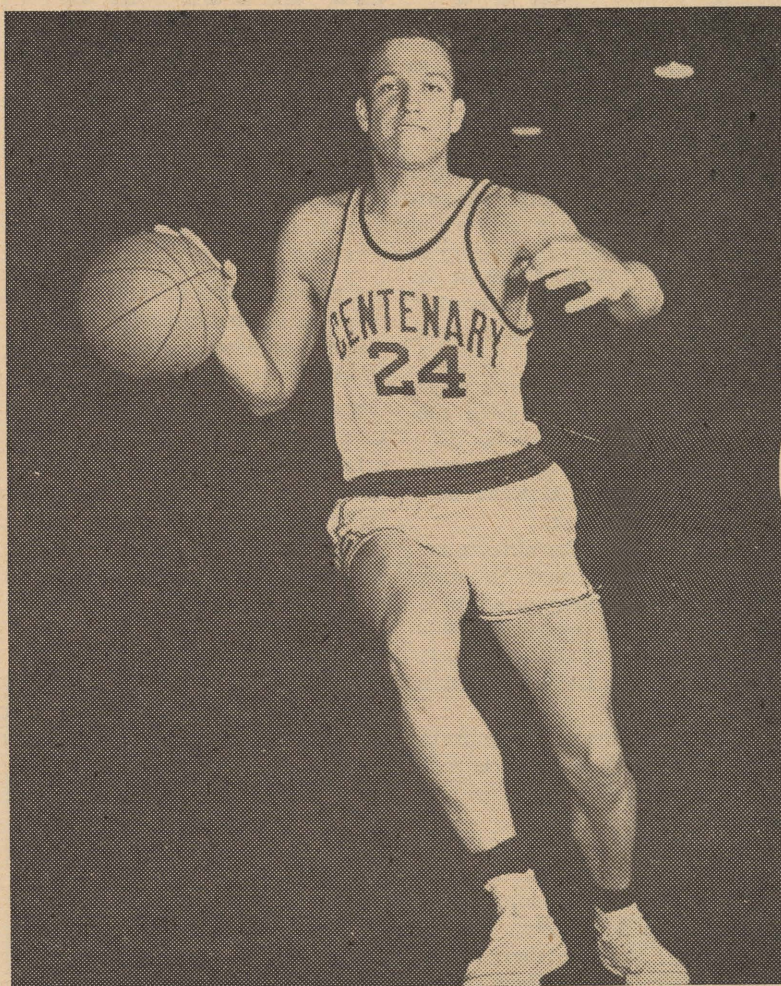

The Centenary cause was ended completely when Crawford and Martello left play via the foul route with 14 minutes left to play. It didn't matter then though, for the Bears had it iced away.

The loss left Centenary's season tally at 14 wins and 14 defeats and was the final game of the season.

Mural Trophy Won by Chi O

The basketball season for Women's Intramurals came to a close last Wednesday night, according to Mary Charleville, publicity chairman for the group. In the final tilt, Chi Omega defeated the Zetas by a score of 39-26 to win first place in the league. The standings are: Chi Omega, first; Independents, second; Alpha Xi Delta, third; and Zeta, fourth.

The next event will be individual sports and is to be followed by softball. Now in progress are paddleball and badminton. Event managers for these sports are Paddleball, Mary Lou Gassen, and Badminton, Mary Lou Low.

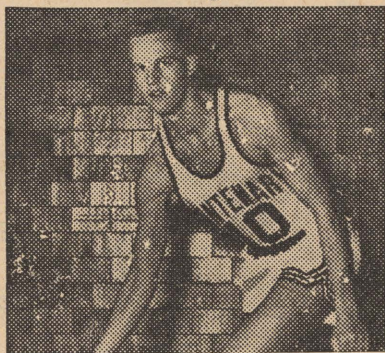

Partly responsible for the good showing the freshman Gent squad has shown this year may be accounted for by Ford King. King has been a consistent scorer and defensive standout throughout the season. He will be a definite likely for Coach Sigler's squads of the future.

Sports Downbeat

By DON TYLER

The Gents showed up very well in "referees paradise" commonly called Springfield, Mo., when they played in the NCAA College Division regionals last weekend. In the first game, last Friday night, the Gentlemen proved themselves fit for recognition by defeating highly-rated Western Illinois. Ahead in the first few minutes of the game by as much as 9 points the Gents went along fine. Then Western found the range and the Centenaryites went cold. After being behind by 13 points, little Bobby Schulman led the comeback trail as the basketekers from Shreveport won.

In the second game, however, it was a much different story. Here is where Springfield got its odd nickname. There were 35 fouls against Centenary while only 11 were called against the host Southwestern Missouri. There made the difference in the entire contest, but again Bobby Schulman came through as a bright gleam. Bobby ended his senior year in as fitting a way as could be. In his last four games he was the spark-plug, the ignition, and the passing gear for the team. Everyone was happy to see him do so well.

Bobby Schulman

Golf Team in Play

The golf team has had two matches so far this season and appear to need some more work on the course. Rod Yeager and Jimmy Hughes were standouts in Monday's match against Stephen F. Austin. Yeager had the best score for the day at 76 while Hughes obtained the best match points for 2½. With time the squad should be well balanced and has the potential to be tops. Others who are out for Centenary are Ed Nielson, John Bird, and John Williams. Best of luck to this spring season sport.

Baseball Schedule Given

The baseball team has announced the 1959 spring schedule which will include some 20 engagements through the months of March, April and May. Opening the season, the Gents will meet McNeese State College on March 20 in a match which always is good for enjoyment. Other games to follow will be with powers such as Southern Methodist University, the University of Arkansas and Loyola. For a change at least, the Gentlemen will not be taking their hardest teams on in the very first of the year as is usually the case in the past.

Official drill began Monday for the entire squad since the basketball members were previously engaged in game practice. Indications seem to be that this should be one of the best teams Centenary has fielded in many a year. Good luck to the team and if possible, everyone come out on March 20 to see the Gentlemen in action at the baseball field.

NCAA Tournament Win First In Seven Attempts

Centenary's Bobby Shulman and Gerald Martello teamed up with their colleagues to smash Western Illinois 84-76 and win their first post-season match in seven attempts since 1953.

The win last Friday, March 8, gave the Gents a bid for the first round opener of the Southwest Regional NCAA College Division Tournament played in Springfield, Missouri.

Rising to prominence late in the season, Shulman became a stand-out on defense and added 17 points in the contest; Martello, always consistent, added another 18 to lead scoring for the Gentlemen that night. Jackie Crawford rounded out the big scoring with 13 points to his credit.

Gents Jump Ahead, Then . . .

The Gentlemen got off to a swift start in the game and grabbed a 10-2 lead that climbed to 21-12 before the highly rated Leathernecks could get their bearings. Then the Western crew went to work, switching to man-to-man defense and under the leadership of Bill McAfoos, who made 18 points in the first half, the Illinois men ran the score to 45-36 before the half-time buzzer sounded.

Things looked very bad for the Gents until Red Walling stepped in to begin a revival of the Centenary spirit and drag the scoring up from an embarrassing 40-25 deficit to the half-time reading.

Shulman Leads Fight

When play resumed in the field house, things were different for the Shreveport men. The Gents put on a defensive clamp that held the Western men to only one measly field goal in more than 10 minutes. McAfoos was also held to only 4 points after romping in the first period. Shulman and his colleagues were at this time on a scoring spree that caught up and passed the Illinois team at 50-49 with only five minutes elapsed in the half.

From then on the Gent's lead mounted gradually despite the fact that Gent Bob Scott fouled out with 10 minutes yet to go on the scoreboard. But to help the cause, the Leathernecks' leading scorer, McAfoos, too fouled out and cinched the Gent win.

Other than Martello, Shulman, and Crawford, big guns for the night were Larry Greene with 9 points, Leon Shaw with 8 and Walling with 7 points. Also, Scott and Eubanks each added 6 points for the night.

Gent Golf Team Loses to SFA

Centenary golfers dropped their second straight game Monday afternoon to Stephen F. Austin college in a game played at Shreveport Country Club.

The best figure turned in for the Gents, losing 14-4, was that of Jim Hughes who snatched a 2½-½ victory over Benny Stubbs in the number one match and a 1½-1½ tie in the number four match between Centenary freshman Rod Yeager and SFA's Travis Sharp. Yeager's 76 was the best Centenary score of the day.

Jim Hughes (C) defeated Benny Stubbs (SFA), 2½-1½.

Ray Brewer (SFA) defeated Ed Nielson (C), 3-0.

SFA won best ball, 3-0.

Bill Cook (SFA) defeated John Bird (C), 3-0.

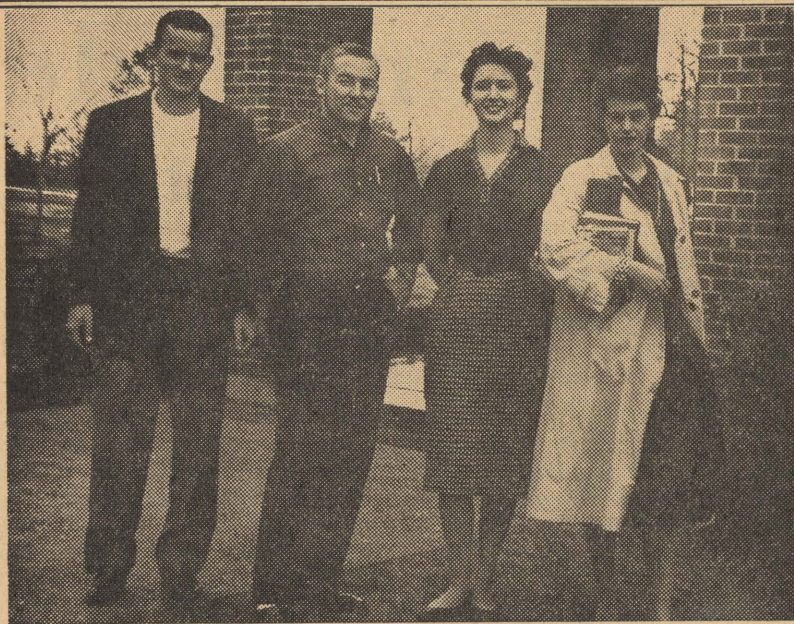

Rod Yeager (C) tied Travis Sharp (SFA), 1½-1½.

SFA won best ball, 3-0. Stubbs (SFA),

Entering Chapel for the Willson Lecture Series are this week's personalities Rod Yeager, Bobby Sorensen, Zina Hengy, and Gloria Gaffney.

Personalities Discuss Sports, TV, Travels

By LINDA FRANK

Rod Yeager, freshman pre-med major, first became interested in medicine when he watched an operation during his freshman year in high school. His tentative plans are set for Tulane.

Rod has recently become an "active" Kappa Sigma member, having served his pledge class as treasurer. He is also active in intramural sports and is a member of the golf team.

This freshman enjoys going water-skiing, playing golf, and playing basketball.

When asked if he enjoyed television, Rod answered, "Gosh yes! I watch Maverick all the time, he's my type guy."

Rod once had this very startling experience. He was playing in a basketball game, but it was the custom for the players to run through a hoop at the start of the game. Rod was the first to run through, but it so happened that there was a girl on the other side. "There were 2,500 fans in the stands, and there we were on the floor, right in the middle of the basketball court. Needless to say, I didn't play too well that game."

Mistaken Identity

After studying a year in Paris at the Sorbonne, Gloria Gaffney, senior French and speech major, plans to complete her studies here at Centenary.

Many exciting things happened to this senior among which she tells of the time she was picked up by mistake for an "autobahn Annie" in Germany and spent two hours in the U. S. headquarters trying to prove her identity as a student.

While in Europe she was able to attend the World's Fair in Brussels where she spent three days living on bread and cheese with no money.

Once she and an Austrian girlfriend hitch-hiked from Paris to Vienna, Austria. "Everyone sounds so shocked and lifts an eyebrow when I tell them that, but all the European students do it and stay in Youth Hostels along the way. But I'm glad to be back in the U. S., hamburgers and all!"

At present she is teaching French at St. John's Grade School and tutors a seven-year-old boy in French. "He's a genius for although he's only seven, he has the reading capacity for an eleven-year-old child."

Aquatic Playboy

Robert Sorensen, better known as Bobby, has always had the secret desire to go to the University of Alaska, "just because I want to."

Bobby is a member of the Kappa Alpha pledge class, the tumbling team, and sports a beard from his recent appearance in Cyrano de Bergerac. "Many people have asked me if I'm from the House of David, and the grandmother of one of my friends calls me 'The Sea Captain'."

Speaking of sailors, this sophomore enjoys sailing, and his sailboat, "Ol' No. 1," is the first snipe ever built. It dates back to 1934. He has entered many races which have been held in Dallas, Fort Worth, Oklahoma City, and Shreveport.

When asked if he had any goal he answered, "You mean something like wanting to be an international playboy?"

Bobby has one distinguishing feature in his beard which he is getting in shape for the Old South Ball—he has a bald spot under his chin!

"Z-Time"

Zina Hengy, junior elementary education and history major, plans to attend graduate school at either SMU or LSU and further her studies in history. Then she says she will probably teach in some college.

"Z Time" (derived from Zale's Time), as Zina is called by some of her friends, is treasurer of Zeta Tau Alpha, a member of Alpha Chi, and vice-president of Student N. E. A.

"I never watch television, and water skiing is the only sport I like, the rest they can have!" Her pet peeve is chapel, and she enjoys dancing and rock 'n roll music. In her spare time, she loves to read historical novels.

Often seen in Strawn's Zina claims to be the "most picked-on girl by Dr. W. D. Overdyke." "Why once when I walked into his office, he said in front of a group of my friends, 'Who are you courting now, Zina?'"

ON CAMPUS

By PEGGY LONGINO

Congratulations to new Kappa Alpha officers. David Jones was elected No. I, Ralph Mason No. II and Bud Willis No. III.

The Kappa Sigmas were visited last meeting by their District Grand Master, who congratulated the Sigs on their scholastic achievements. They received a certificate for leading in fraternity and all-men average for the years 56-57 and 57-58.

Crabbing probably in more ways than one this weekend were the houseguests of Bonnie Langley. Enjoying their sojourn in Sulphur were Sarah Liberto, Marline Stephens and Carol Tyler.

New Zeta Tau Alpha officers announced at the dance Saturday night are Gail Delanney, president; Patty Owen, vice president; Bess Smith, secretary; Zina Hengy, treasurer and Ann DeShazo, pledge trainer.

Camille Brocato was off again to LSU last weekend and reports that the hometown folk are coming along fine.

Congratulations to new Chi Omega initiates of last weekend. Initiated were Winifred Fair, Kay Cooper, Lorita Donaho, Judy Meredith, Ginny Emerson, Ann Hardtner, Carol Ann Winning, Margaret Powell, Margaret Reeves, Sandra Connell, Elizabeth Reeves, Nancy Dixon, Patsy Stamps, Sara Hitchcock, Betty Schmitt, Judy Hughes, Catherine Chesney, Pat Burns, Carol Reichelt, Nancy White and Sallie Clingman. Out of the twenty-one, Ann Hardtner was chosen best pledge and Kay Cooper was awarded the scholarship bracelet. The best pledge scrapbook was submitted by Carol Reichelt.

The sports car races at Mansfield last Sunday were the occasion of a gathering of Centenary students. Among the mob there were Gail Stimpert, Beverly Bedsole, Charles Yarbrough, Al Dohoney, Bobby Holtzclaw, Bo Roberson and Mignon Harper.

Congratulations to new Alpha Xi Delta officers. Girls elected to serve next year are Cornelia Agurs, president; Pheribe Monroe, vice president; Nora Bess Stafford, secretary; Donna Howell, treasurer, and Gay McHardt, membership chairman.

College Faculty Given Changes

Dean Leroy Vogel has announced several changes in the campus administration.

Dr. Jack Teagarden has been promoted to associate professor of the English department. He has been a member of the college faculty for the past three years and has held the rank of assistant professor of English.

Earle G. Labor, instructor in English at Centenary before 1956 will return with the rank of assistant professor in his department. Labor holds his BA and MA degrees from Southern Methodist University.

Vernon Cates, chemistry instructor, and Nolan G. Shaw, assistant professor of geology, have been granted one-year leaves of absence to continue work toward their doctorate degrees. They will study at Louisiana State University and Florida State University, respectively.

Five Top Male Collegiates Tapped in ODK Ceremony

Five junior and senior students were tapped into Omicron Delta Kappa, national leadership and service fraternity, yesterday in a ceremony held in their honor at 9:30 a.m. Nominated to receive the ODK honor were Charles Byrd, Jackie Carpenter, L. W. Fletcher, Charles Wilder and Jerry Winterrowd.

Also honored at the program was Dr. W. W. Pate who has served the campus well for many years in varied campus organizations and with the faculty.

Charles Byrd, a junior from Many, is a member of the Kappa Sigma Fraternity; Alpha Sigma Chi, honorary chemistry society; treasurer of Alpha Epsilon Delta, national premedical honor society; and secretary of Alpha Beta Gamma, physics honor society. In addition, he is a member of the Conglomerate staff, a participant in Intramurals and was selected treasurer of the junior class for this year.

Carpenter, from Winnsboro, is a junior student and a member of the Kappa Sigma Fraternity, the Centenary Choir, and the Centenary Band. He has served as treasurer of the Student Body, a member of the Student Senate, and head of the 50th Anniversary celebration publicity. Also, he was recently selected as the Junior Class Favorite for 1958-59.

A junior from DeRidder, Fletcher is president of the Methodist Student Movement, associate chief justice of the Honor Court, and the Student Senate. Also, he was chosen president of the freshman and junior classes for which he has been a member. He is a vice president of the Centenary Choir, a member of the Centenary Band, and other campus organizations.

Student President

President of the Student Body, Wilder, a senior from Eros, is a member of the Methodist Student Movement, the Honor Court, the Chapel Committee, and president of Kappa Chi, religious organization. He has served on the Student Senate, Rotary Hall council, and is a member of the Centenary Choir. He was elected as treasurer of the junior class and to the "Who's Who" publication for two years.

Winterrowd, a senior from Shreveport, is an officer in the Kappa Sigma fraternity, president of the Canterbury Club and a captain in advanced ROTC. Also, he was a member of the 1957-59 Centenary Debate Team, Alpha Sigma Pi, and was in charge of all organization for the Religious Life Week initiated by the Canterbury Club this year. Further, he received distinction in being selected as a Distinguished Military Student for his work in the advanced ROTC program. Winterrowd's scholastic average has been excellent, with his appearing on the Dean's Honor Roll consistently.

Highest Honor

Election to the honor is considered the highest honor a man may receive while in college. Participating in the ceremony were members Buddy Graham, president; Frances Kelker, vice-president; Sam Maxey, treasurer; and Larry McKinstry. Dean C. A. Hickcox, faculty sponsor for the group, presented the students before the student body to receive the tapping. Leroy Scott, former Centenary student and a member of ODK, gave the morning talk preceeding the tapping.

Regional Science Fair Begins Today in Gym

Final preparations are being made for the Fifth Annual Regional Science Fair which is to be held in the Haynes Memorial Gymnasium today and Saturday. The Centenary chapter of the Louisiana Junior Academy of Sciences in cooperation with Centenary and the Science Educational Council sponsor the Science Fair in this area.

Students from all grades in elementary and high schools have made entries in the contest and are hoping for the big chance to attend the national finals. Projects include work in electronics, radio operation, biology, radiation effects, and mathematics. The variety of exhibits for this year's fair ranges from a model of the human body to a detailed mock-up of an atomic reactor.

Interesting Exhibits

Some of the more interesting exhibits from the Junior High School level include "Mummification," showing how the ancient Egyptians preserved their dead leaders; "Stages of the Human Brain," and the "Story of the Atom."

"This year's fair promises to be one of the best," Mrs. Fitzgerald, head of the fair, said. "After working on the idea for years, it is now beginning to catch on," she commented further.

Categories of exhibits and grade levels are biological and physical science for elementary grades; biological, physical and mathematical sciences for the junior high level; and physical electrical, biological, life, earth, mathematical, and social sciences for the senior high students.

Profs Help

Judges for the fair will be furnished by the Science Education Council. Dr. Donald Emerich, chemistry professor, is chairman of the judges. Other Centenary instructors in charge are Dr. Virginia Carlton, Dr. Orin P. Wilkins, Dr. Leo Raub, Noland Shaw, and Edmund Parker.

The student body is invited to view the projects as they are displayed today and tomorrow in the Gymnasium.

Heads Chosen for Development Drive

Progress began to pick up this week for Centenary's Development Fund Drive with the naming of Charlton H. Lyons, Sr., independent oil man, and Howard R. Crumley, automobile agency owner, as the chairman and co-chairman of the advance gifts division of the drive. R. F. Scott, general chairman of the drive made the announcement earlier in the week.

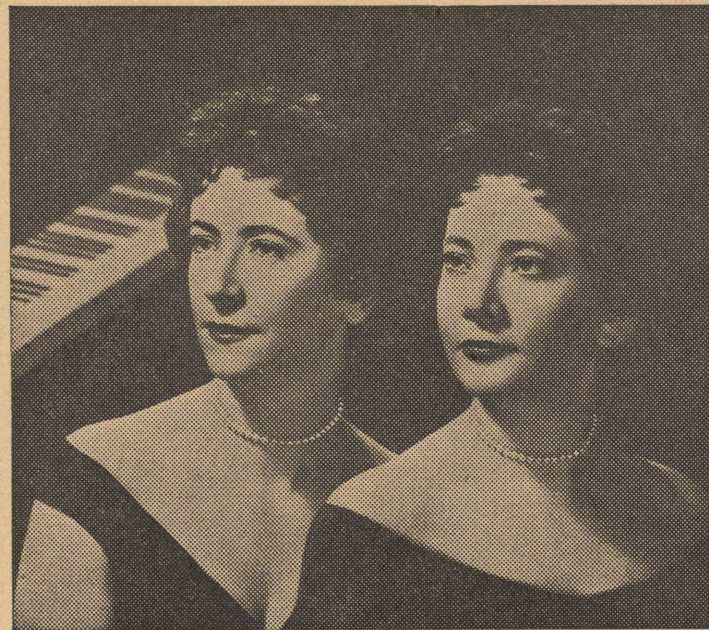

Approximately 200 firms and families will be contacted by the advance gifts division in the forthcoming campaign for $1,700,000 to provide for the "immediate needs" of the college. This is the initial phase in the new 10-year Master Plan for Development for Centenary recently announced and endorsed by a special citizens committee.

Plans Given

The funds for the 1959 campaign are to be used to erect a $640,000 library, a $450,000 school of music, $150,000 in additional dormitories, a $200,000 religious activities building and to retire $260,000 in short-term debt.

Assistants have also been chosen whose purpose it will be to be in charge of a six-man team responsible for visiting prospects on behalf of Centenary's Development Fund Program.

Members of the committee will be given full details regarding the long-range development program, instructions regarding the campaign and an opportunity to select those prospects whom they will visit.

Roman Sisters

Second Lyceum Event Features Roman Sisters

The Roman sisters, Josette and Yvette, will appear as duo-pianists in Haynes Memorial Gymnasium Tuesday at 9:20 a.m. as a feature of the current campus Lyceum Series.

The sisters made their debut in the United States several years ago after their discovery by the cellist, Pierre Fournier. Since that time, they have made country-wide tours, have appeared with the San Francisco Symphony, have presented numerous concert recitals and have appeared in motion pictures, on radio and TV.

Study in Paris

The pianists graduated from the Conservatoire National de Paris and have studied piano with Armande Ferte and Jules Gentil and the theory and history of music with Robert Dussaut.

Playing music written especially for them as well as arrangements of their own, the Romans are particularly interested in new works by both French and American composers.

The girls were both given an early start in their musical careers by their father, a conductor and pianist. Before coming to America as a duo-piano team, both Josette and Yvette were solo concert artists in their own right in France.

Highly Acclaimed

The Roman sisters have won acclaim for their spirited style and technical finesse and have been well received in their concerts. The "New York Times" recently said that "the Roman sisters show remarkable teamwork . . . both are good technicians, their tones match beautifully, and their ensemble is a thing to marvel at." The Los Angeles Examiner declared that "their program had a French accent and came off with verve and champagne-like sparkle."

Joseph M. Running, chairman of the school of music and of the Lyceum committee, will serve as master-of-ceremonies for the concert. Tickets will be available at the door for interested local residents.

Nail Chosen 6th Regiment Sponsor

Miss Ramona Nail, coed, will represent the Sixth Regiment of the Pershing Rifles as honorary colonel according to Cadet Capt. James M. Durham, company commander. This is the second consecutive year that a Centenary coed has been chosen for the honor. The selection of Miss Nail was made from competition among 14 candidates from colleges throughout Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Florida and Puerto Rico. Louisiana State University, Mississippi State College, Loyola University of the South, Tulane, Florida State University, University of Miami, Spring Hill College, Northeast Louisiana College and Statson University were among the institutions participating.

11 to Compete

Honorary sponsors from 11 other Pershing Rifles Regiments throughout the nation will compete with Miss Nail for the position of national honorary sponsor. The rank of honorary Major-General will be given to the winner.

Mrs. Oscar E. Cloyd, the former Miss Martha Turner, represented the Centenary unit as honorary sponsor last year and was selected as both Sixth Regimental honorary sponsor and national honorary sponsor.

Give Yourself a Chance!

Each year a few students are honored by being selected for admission into Omicron Delta Kappa and Maroon Jackets, leadership organizations. When these groups decide on who they will accept into membership they must look over each candidate with extreme care to be sure he or she truly deserves the tapping.

But the most disheartening thing for such a group is to see how many students there are who have the honors and have served Centenary well yet do not have the required scholastic average for admittance. Just as bad is to find someone with excellent grades but who enters little into campus work and life. Such an honor should not be so limited in number yet through a definite responsibility to maintain standards, certain individuals are kept out.

The importance of grades to the student cannot be over-emphasized and how often we hear talks concerning this matter. Yet it seems that it is only when we get down to looking for honors such as this that we really see how important they should be to the student. We all deserve the right to be given a chance to receive membership yet some will deny this chance to themselves simply by not putting forth that little extra effort to obtain a good record.

This especially the freshman should realize—that it is awfully hard to bring a couple of bad semesters up in the junior and senior year and in order to be eligible for any scholastic and service organizations one should have an over-all 2.0 average. This seems difficult to maintain, yet with a determined attitude to succeed in all things almost anyone can enter campus activities and still be scholastically high. This we ought to do for ourselves both now and in the future. Remember you may have the chance some day to be tapped into ODK or Maroon Jackets.—B.G.

Capt. Jack L. Hancock, ROTC Instructor, has been reassigned for duty in Korea which will be effective at the end of March. Hancock joined the Centenary staff in October, 1956, and has served as Assistant PMS & T at the campus ROTC Unit since that time.

Dr. Ford Plans 'Round-the-World Trip in Summer

Dr. E. L. Ford, head of the modern languages department, has accepted the proposal to serve as conductor on a tour which will be an around-the-world trip, including ten days in Russia, during the summer months.

The tour, which will be made under the Overseas Study Program, is done in cooperation with foreign universities and governments. Purpose of the educational tours is to provide low cost travel with the serious purpose of broadening intellectual, cultural and spiritual horizons and cementing friendly relation with the people of all nations.

College Credit Given

The tour is designed for graduates, undergraduates and professional persons. A series of lectures will be given on the tours and college credit will be available to those making the tour and fulfilling certain academic requirements.

The group will leave New York on June 30, travel to Los Angeles on July 1 and be in Honolulu by July 4. Included are stops in Tokyo, Taipeh, Hongkong, Bangkok, Rangoon, Calcutta, Banaras, New Delhi, Kerachi and Beirut. On August 6, Dr. Ford's group will leave Delhi to visit Kabul, Tashkent, Moscow, Leningrad, and Helsinki, returning to rejoin their group on August 16.

Last year, Dr. and Mrs. Ford made an extended tour of Africa and they have since shown their colored slides and movies of the African trip before many local organizations.

April 3 Date Set For BSU Banquet

The South is a land of friendliness and hospitality, and the Centenary Baptist Student Union is striving to capture that spirit for their annual semi-formal spring banquet. With "Dixieland Dreams" as its theme, the banquet is to be held Friday, April 3, 1959, in the Moore Student Center at 7:00 p. m.

The B. S. U. urges all to attend, for the fellowship will be as good as the food and will be in typical Southern tradition. The entertainment will feature Jimmy Davis, former governor of Louisiana.

Mrs. Frank Leavell of Nashville, Tennessee, will install the new officers for the 1959-'60 school session. Ayers School of Business, Centenary College, Northwestern School of Nursing, and the Spencer-Draughon Business College will participate in the service.

Tickets Available

Tickets will be sold for 50c per person or 98c a couple and may be purchased from any B. S. U. member or Vernon Cates, faculty advisor. There will be a nursery open at College Hill Baptist Church. This is for the convenience of married couples with children.

Chairmen for the various committees are as follows: Joy Lambert, decoration; Lloyd Hawkins, tickets; Rosemary Watkins, publicity; Barbaran Hyde, program; and Jack Baker, properties. The chairmen are working hard to make this banquet a high point of this spring season.

Gent Baseball Season Begins Today

Centenary to Meet McNeese In First Double-Header Tilt

By LEON BAIN

For the past two weeks, Coach Doug Mooty has been molding his 16-man team into shape for the coming baseball season which begins today. The Gents will be playing a double header with McNeese State College beginning 1:30 p. m. on the Centenary field. So far, McNeese has won three and lost two which will give them an advantage over the Gents in experience.

From all indications this will be one of the best balanced teams Centenary will field in many a year. The Gents will have four outstanding hitters returning from last year's squad in James Rhea Love, Steve Victory, Monty Montgomery, and Joe Mosher.

Big Hitters

Love, a catcher, has been with the team for the last three years and manned a .289 batting average for the past season. In addition to his excellent clutch plays when needed in the batting box, Love may well be one of the finest catchers to field with any team Centenary meets this season.

A shortstop and three-year letterman, Victory sported a .333 batting average last season and is excellent in the "hot box" position between second and third bases. Previous experience with Byrd High School and 7-Up Bottlers have made him one of the best to wear the Gent suit.

Montgomery, a center field whiz, sported a .375 average last season against tough competition and appears to be developing quite well so far.

Mosher Returns

The big man on last year's batting column, Mosher, will also be returning to add much to the Gent roster. His years of experience and outstanding ability with the bat will make him a very needed person on anyone's team. In addition to these, Richard Jarrell, who played the outfield last season, will be used as a utility outfielder for reserve depth.

The pitching department sports three returning starters and three others for added depth. They are Don Stahl, who has had 2 years experience as a starter, and Ed Monk and Conrad Wolley both having one year experience as starters. A new addition to the starting staff will be Dickie Richards who saw action last season as a reliever. Two freshman newcomers to the staff are Ford King and Cal Kirby. They will add much to give depth in one place where it is greatly needed.

Five Newcomers

There are five newcomers to the team that seem to possess the potential to make this a great season for Centenary. At first base is Ralph Mason who has had much experience at this position from his high school days. Second base will be held down by the ex-Byrd ace, Spanky McCoy, who lettered his freshman year at Northwestern State.

At third will be Billy Eubanks who has shown great ability to fill the keystone position. In left field will be Leon Shaw, who's speed will be a great asset to the team.

Also, David Graham will be roaming the pastures as a utility outfielder to give the team the reserve strength which has been greatly needed.

The probable pictures for the double header this afternoon will be Don Stahl and Dickie Richards. Ed Monk will start against Louisiana Tech at Ruston Saturday.

SPORTS DOWNBEAT

By DON TYLER

Why doesn't Centenary have a track team? It seems to me to be a smart idea to have one, especially with the potential material "running" around campus. Whether you know it or not, Centenary won 5 points in the Shreveport Relays last weekend.

As I looked through the paper last Sunday morning I became interested in the Shreveport Relays held at Byrd High Saturday. As I looked through the results, mainly the college division, I saw Lamar Tech won 1st place. This seemed very logical. As my eyes continued down the column I found other familiar colleges in the track world, McNeese, Northwestern, and Tech. But then I stopped short for the print read "Centenary—5 points." To myself I said—since when does Centenary have a track team? I never heard about it. But we do have a one-man team, Spanky McCoy.

In the relays, Spanky won the broad jump competition by beating the GSC champion Don Troutman of McNeese with a jump of 23' 6½". That's great! Jim Ivy and Dave Styron of Northwestern in Monroe and Bud Laughlin of La. Tech have not jumped more than 22' 5", much less Spanky's leap.

Spanky entered the meet on his own in Centenary's name. He has had no help from coaches, there is none that is known.

I'd be willing to bet that Centenary could have a good track team. It wouldn't cost much to have one and I'm sure that if someone got interested they could find a track team here on campus today. Almost every boy here who went out for basketball or football in high school has run on a high school track team. I'm sure college competition is harder but I'm just as sure with some coaching and help Centenary could build a track team worth representing the school.

If any of you would be interested in a track team at Centenary why not sit down and write me a note stating who you are and why you would like to see the Gents represented in the track world. Drop it in the campus mail addressed to Don Tyler, Conglomerate, Campus. I would appreciate your comments.

BASEBALL DOUBLE-HEADER TODAY

For the best in baseball one simply cannot overlook the team which Centenary will field this year. Experience is found everywhere over the field and speed and hard sluggers will round out the roster. Depth in pitching is prevalent and who is to stop this Gent squad?

Undoubtedly, the Centenary squad will field one of the best teams in many a decade and should finish the season with an excellent record. They play their first game of the season today in a big double-header with McNeese State College beginning at 1:30 p.m. Everyone should show their support of this excellent team and their coach, Doug Mooty, by attending one of the games today and tomorrow at 1:30 with Louisiana Tech. Both games will be played on the baseball field.

Baseball season will begin officially this afternoon as the Gents meet McNeese State College in a double-header beginning at 1:30 p.m. on the Gent baseball field. The game will initiate a 24-game schedule for the year.

Gerald Martello Tops In Final Gent Figures

Gerald Martello, senior forward from Natchez, Miss., was the statistical standout of the 1958-59 Centenary basketball team, according to official final figures released Monday by the Centenary Athletic department.

Not only did Martello pace all Gent scorers with a 17.0 average, he was high for the year in total points, with 458 in 27 games; in field goal percentage, with 174-for-407 and .426 per cent; and in total rebounds, with 245. He also set an all-time scoring record in one game of 37 points in the final regular-season contest against Arkansas State, racking up 15 field goals in 17 attempts.

Eubanks Free-throw

Guard Billy Eubanks, who will return next season as a senior, was Centenary's free throw champion with 49 good tosses in 59 tries—for a .831 percentage. Forward Robert Scott, another senior, placed another new mark in the books when he connected for 18 charity throws in 19 attempts against Northwestern State College.

Jackie Crawford, six-nine sophomore center, was the team's most consistent rebounder as he averaged 9.4 in each of the 25 games in which he appeared. His 18 picked off against Northwestern State represented a one-game high in the specialty.

Shaw Tops PF's

Senior Guard Leon Shaw, who was named Most Valuable Player in the Senior Bowl Tournament, qualified for the less distinction as his 94 personal fouls in 27 games were tops for the Centenary team in that department. Eubanks, with 41 fouls in 28 games, was low man among those who played regularly.

Coach Orvis Sigler's 1958-59 Gentlemen compiled an even break on the season after a slow start by winning 14 and losing 14. In addition to winning the Senior Bowl Tournament, they finished third in their own Gulf South Classic and second in the NCAA College Division Regional Tournament at Springfield, Mo.

Personalities Enjoy Musical Interests

By LINDA FRANK

Angelina DeFatta, freshman music education major with emphasis on piano, once had a bad case of stage fright. I'm always nervous when I play in a recital, and this time I was so busy making myself not be nervous that I went out and played the wrong piece. I didn't even realize what I'd done until it was over."

Angelina has rather strange practice hours. "When I can't practice in the afternoons, I get up at 5:30 a.m. and practice." When asked what her parents thought about these odd hours she replied, "They don't care as long as the neighbors don't!"

Recently Angelina was elected secretary for next year of Phi Beta. She is also a member of the Newman club.

In her free time she enjoys bowling, horse-back riding, playing tennis, and playing the piano, "but when I play the piano, it's not really spare time." Sports car and speed boat races are two events that this freshman rates high on her list of entertainment.

Angelina also works part-time for her uncle and has a great deal of trouble keeping the books balanced. When asked why she didn't get fired, she replied, "He's my uncle and my aunt wouldn't let him!"

Optimist

"What do you like to do in your spare time, Dub?"

"Have a lot of fun."

"Doing what?"

"You name it, it's fun!"

With this optimistic view, Dub Fletcher, junior divisional humanities major plans to complete studies here and then go on to obtain his B.D., and then his M.A. and doctor's degree in psychology.

He is vice-president of the choir, junior class president, member of Student Senate, Omicron Delta Kappa, Kappa Chi, Phi Mu Alpha, and president of MSM. (Whew!)

When asked about his interests, he said he was interested in "Abbie," and when asked about entertainment, he mentioned the Four Freshmen (who are coming to the campus soon)—so Abbie, take a hint.

Dub enjoys all sports and really gets a bang out of beating the drums at basketball games.

The works of Tillich and Goethe are two favorite reading subjects for Dub.

When asked for his summer plans, he said, "If anyone has any suggestions as to what I can do that pays well, please send them to me. I don't have any plans yet."

OPERA CONFLICT

"About all I don in my spare time is go out with Dave," says senior music major Ann DeShazo. Ann is the new pledge trainer for Zeta Tau Alpha next year., secretary of the Maroon Jackets, Cenco member, senior representative to James Dorm council, and last year was vice-president of Phi Beta and also vice-president of the Centenary college choir.

A very reliable source tells that "she's never on time!"

"I love to bowl. We go bowling every Sunday night and the other night I bowled 120."

Ann doesn't particularly like to cook and has the unusual nickname of "Mild Weed" and "Bugger." She enjoys Stan Kenton and loves to play bridge.

She and Dave have one conflict, and that is that he can't stand opera. "But we don't clash, except when I have to be in one!"

Ann recently was chosen senior class favorite.

Mickey Mouse?

"Uncle Sam has invited me to come see him for two years starting in August, so I guess after I finish Centenary I'll be on my way to Indianapolis." The Adjutant General school is in Indianapolis and that's where Dave Herndon, senior personality, will be stationed.

Dave works in the Sample Cut room, "known as the Dirt Room." He is a geology major.

He enjoys semi-classical music especially by such artists as Oscar Levant and Joe Bushkin.

Dave was awarded a trophy by the Kappa Alpha's at a rush banquet saying he was the world's greatest lover. His title is shortened for printing purposes to "M. M."

He is treasurer of Sigma Gamma Epsilon and a member of Kappa Alpha.

Bridge, bowling, pizza, water-skiing, and Maverick are all forms of entertainment that Dave enjoys.

ON CAMPUS

By PEGGY LONGINO

Congratulations to Jimmy Schammerhorn, who popped the question to that pretty Leesville girl. Jimmy looks like he feels quite the lucky guy.

Chi Omegas enthusiastically returning from Firesides, a district Chi Omega meeting, this weekend were Mary Beth Bomar, Paula Martin, Brenda Bailey and Ann McLaurin. Jackson, Mississippi, was the scene of the parley, where the girls absorbed not only Chi Omega lore, but were also indoctrinated on schools in Mississippi and Louisiana.

A great occasion for Windene Nicklaus this week was the buying of her wedding dress in Houston, Texas. Windy says even the "slight" scratch she got on her husband-to-be's cars didn't daunt her enthusiasm.

A few of the Kappa Sigmas and their guests who gathered at Fuller Bazer's Friday night for an informal party were Carol Ann Solomon, Fuller, Jeri Cassidy, Jim Daigle, Sarah Tiner, Bill Sanders, Kay Cooper, Roger Williams, Robin Hubert, Jim Rivers, Nancy Thomas, Lary McKinstry, Diane Holloway and Leon Bain.

Speedsters Jim Daigle and Jeri Cassidy were stopped by policemen Jim Darby and Tommy Hickcox last Saturday night. Daigle seems to be a pretty fast fellow!

Among those attending the wedding of Janice Jeter Saturday night were Jackie Ott, David Graham, Joe Ben Hayes, and Bo Roberson. A former Centenary student, Janice graduated last spring.

From the looks of things, Marcella Flynt's weekend at Arkansas State was even more than she expected. The occasion of her visit was the Military Ball.

Among the seniors who enjoyed the seated tea given by the American Association of University Women last Sunday were Gaynelle Morgan, Roberta Jackson, Eileen Laird, Sara Stevens, Joan Phares and Joan Dailey.

Dr. Overdyke, "Mr. Bunny," has sold his old Ford automobile which has been a permanent campus fixture for the past 24 years. But have no fear, for we understand that the telephone operator has purchased the auto and promises it will remain about campus for another 20 years at least.

Hancock Given ROTC Change

Capt. Jack L. Hancock, ROTC instructor at Centenary, has been reassigned to duty which will send him to duty in Korea the last of March. Hancock holds a B. A. degree from the University of West Virginia and has been a valuable man in the ROTC program.

He joined the Centenary ROTC unit in October, 1956, and has served as Assistant Professor of Military Science and Tactics since that time. According to present plans, his family will not be able to accompany Hancock overseas.

Chiu Presents Paper at Meet

"The Control System in the Chinese Communist Army" is the title of the paper to be presented at the annual convention of the Association for Asian Studies in Washington, D. C., next week by Dr. Sin-Ming Chiu, assistant professor of history.

Lasting from March 23 through 25, the convention will be held at the Sheraton Park Hotel. A panel on Communist China will be presented on the final day of the convention. Members of the panel, along with Dr. Chiu, will be Dr. Franklin Houn of Michigan State, Dr. Theodore Chen of the University of Southern California and Dr. Harold C. Hinton, chairman, of Georgetown University.

A national professional organization of teachers and research workers in Asian affairs, the Association is headed by Dr. John K. Fairbank of Harvard. Dr. Chiu is the only member of the association from Louisiana.

Emerich Takes Research Grant

Dr. Donald W. Emerich, chemistry professor, has been awarded an eleven week summer study grant by the National Science Foundation Summer Research Participation Program for College Teachers. The program, on the campus of the University of Utah, will provide an opportunity to assist in research programs.

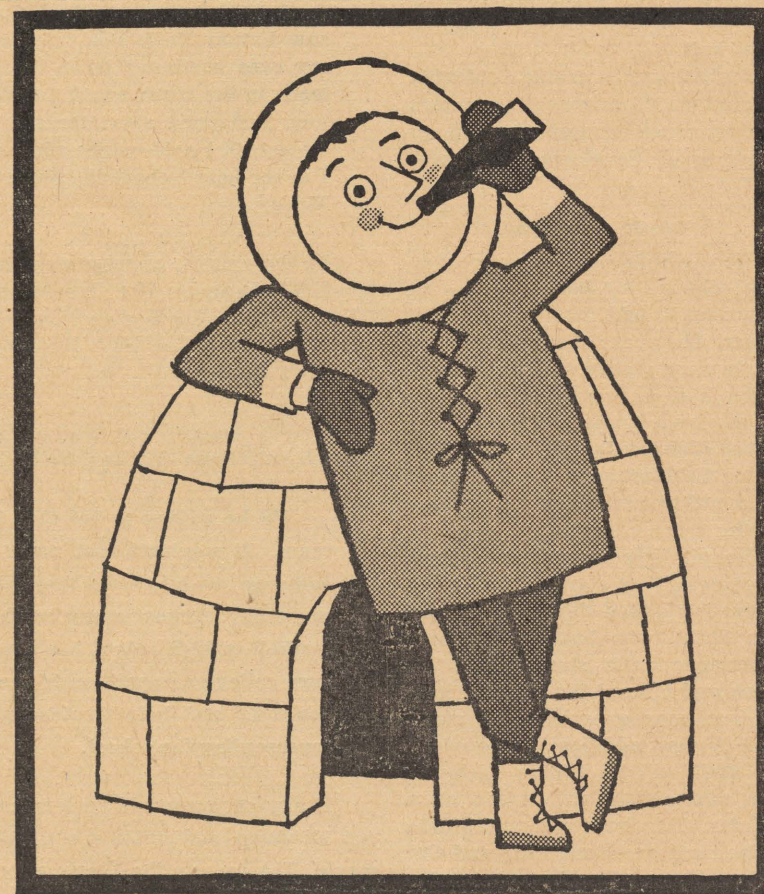

One of ten college professors from throughout the nation chosen for the course, Dr. Emerich will receive $1,485. The program's objectives are to provide meaningful research experience to faculty members from small colleges under well-known scientists at larger institutions and to enable them to do advanced study at institutions with extensive facilities.

Dr. Emerich received his BS degree in chemical engineering from Pennsylvania State University and his Ph.D. in chemistry from Ohio State University. He has taught at Kansas State College and Ohio State. Among the professional organizations to which he belongs is the American Chemical Society. He came to Centenary in 1954.

George Acton, Charles Byrd Given ORINS Research Grant

George Acton

George S. Acton and Charles L. Byrd have been granted appointments to be a part of the student trainee program of the Oak Ridge National Research Laboratory during the coming summer months. Acton will be assigned to the Physics Division and Byrd will be engaged in research in the Biology Division of the Laboratory.

Acton and Byrd were two of ten students chosen throughout the nation to be a part of the student trainee program. Selection for the position was based on scholastic achievement, aptitude, potential, and interest in research.

Purpose of the student trainee program is to provide for college undergraduates, majoring in science, opportunities to develop a better comprehension of research methods and their significance. To accomplish this the students will engage in activities pertaining to research and will be under the guidance of research scientists who are actively engaged in research.

Ten Week Period

Appointment will be for an approximate ten-week period and appointees will be assigned to a division of the Oak Ridge National Laboratory or Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies. The appointment period will begin on or about June 15, 1959.

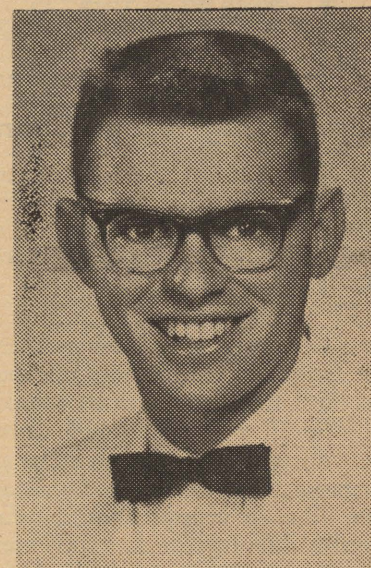

To receive the appointment, the students were first nominated by faculty advisers. Then each nomination was supported by two or more letters of recommendation, a transcript of credits, and a statement by the student outlining his current and long-range plans for a career in science.

Stipend Given

A stipend of $50 per week during the appointment period will be paid by ORINS to each student and also a travel allowance of 4c per mile will be given.

The program is primarily for students from small colleges in the southern region who possess the potential for a successful career in science. This program is administered by the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies in cooperation with the Oak Ridge National Laboratory and under the sponsorship of the United States Atomic Energy Commission.

Student Fair to Offer 22 Concession Booths

Twenty-two booths and concessions will offer those attending the Student Fair on April 17 a wide range of activities in which to demonstrate their skills.

The activities, which will be offered between 3 and 9 p. m.

on the field adjoining the tennis courts, will include a tumbling exhibition, a bridge tournament, throwing and dunking booths, fortune telling and a melodrama.

Two Special Shows

Two special shows which will be offered are an afternoon Senate sponsored talent show and a faculty show to be sponsored by Alpha Chi at 7 p. m. The day's events will be climaxed by a dance from 9 to 1.

Marcella Flynt is chairman of the fair and the steering committee consists of Diane Holloway and Ralph Mason, publicity; Emma Lou Stewart and Dub Fletcher, booth assignments; and Warren West and Charles Wilder, grounds arrangement. Volunteers to make posters to publicize the event are asked to contact Miss Holloway or Mason and anyone knowing of any "hidden talent" on the campus is asked to get in touch with Charles Wilder.

"Showbucks" for Sale

Tickets to the booths, which will be operated by campus student organizations, will be called "showbucks" in keeping with the "Showboat" theme of the fair. They will be sold for ten cents. Prizes will be given for the most original booth and for the one which earns the most money.

Miss Flynt stated that sheet diagrams will be sent to the organizations participating to notify them of the location of their booths. The few remaining groups who have not chosen their type of entry will be notified so that they can meet and choose from a list of concessions compiled by the committee.

Proceeds from the fair, which will be open to the public, will go to Centenary's building fund. However, Miss Flynt stated, "The committee hopes that this school-wide project will not only help to raise money for the building fund, but will also serve as an opportunity for having a lot of fun while working together."

BSU Installation Banquet Tonight

The Baptist Student Union will hold its annual Spring Installation Banquet tonight at 7:00 p.m. in the Moore Student Center with the student body invited to attend. Barbara Ann Hyde, social chairman, estimates that over 100 should be there at the program which will feature Louisiana's ex-governor Jimmie Davis. Tickets are 50 cents each or 98 cents per couple.

Officers to be installed at the supper will be Joy Lambert, president; Barbara Ann Hyde, vice-president; Rosemary Watkins, secretary; Jack Baker, Devotional chairman; and Betty McQueen, Missions chairman. The Rev. Charles McIlveene, pastor of Lakeshore Baptist, will conduct the installation ceremony and name the new advisors for the group who are Miss Nelle Strother, faculty advisor; and Rev. Ernest Mosley, pastoral advisor.

Committee chairmen for the banquet tonight are Joy Lambert, decorations; Lloyd Hawkins, tickets; Rosemary Watkins, publicity; Barbara Ann Hyde, program; and David Simmons, parking. Theme for the affair will be "Dixieland Dreams."

Overdyke Given Hemenway Grant

Dr. W. Darrell Overdyke, history and government professor, has received the Hemenway Grant for the coming summer. Established by the Hemenway Furniture Company three years ago, the grant enables one Centenary faculty member each year to devote his vacation months to pursuits of his own interest at full salary.

Further research on several projects already underway constitute Overdyke's plans for the grant. He plans to continue an involved photographic study of the Colonial and Ante Bellum homes of North Louisiana; to do research for an article on William Gerard Hall, a Shreveport Reconstruction judge, and have it published in one of the historical quarterlies upon its completion; and to write an article on Samuel R. Ralston, a Missouri refugee in Texas during the Civil War. One article by Dr. Overdyke on Ralston has already been published in "The Journal of Southern History."

Centenary Graduate

A native of Kansas, Overdyke earned his AB degree from Centenary in 1928. He holds his MA degree in history from Louisiana State University, where he received a fellowship after his graduation from Centenary, and his PhD in American History from Duke University. A member of the Centenary faculty since 1934, he has written articles which have been published in "The Louisiana Historical Quarterly," "The Eleusis of Chi Omega," "The Journal of Southern History," and other publications.

Dr. John B. Entrikin, head of the chemistry department, was the initial recipient of the Hemenway grant and Bryant Davidson, head of the department of history and government, received it last year.

College Writers Meet Planned for Tomorrow

Dr. Jack Teagarden, associate professor of English, will be general chairman of the annual conference of the College Writers' Society of Louisiana which will be held tomorrow morning from 10 to 12 a. m. The Centenary College Department of English will sponsor the program which will include panel discussions on five categories of writing.

Mrs. Margaret McDonald, director of the Centenary News Bureau, will serve as moderator for the panel on feature articles. Moderators for the other categories of short story, one-act play, personal essay, and poetry will be professors attending the conference from other colleges in the state.

$200 in Prizes

More than $200 in prizes, in addition to a sweepstakes award of a $100 savings bond, will be awarded to students entering the best manuscripts in short story, personal essay, poetry, one-act play, and feature story categories. The Shreveport Times again is offering the sweepstakes award, and prizes in the various divisions are being contributed by various business firms, organizations and individuals.

The program will include morning discussions in the five fields mentioned and students from the 12 participating colleges and universities in the state of Louisiana will participate in the discussions with faculty members serving as moderators.

Evening Banquet

The awards will be presented at an evening banquet, to be held in the college cafeteria. A loving cup will be presented for the first time this year to the schools whose student writers have amassed the largest number of winning manuscripts. The cup will be provided by Dr. Joe J. Mickle, president of Centenary college.

The prize-winning manuscripts will be printed and bound, and the booklets will be on sale at the awards banquet Saturday evening.

Honor Court Convictions

The Honor Court met during the past two weeks. Seven people were acquitted and two were convicted. Those convicted will be given permanent Honor Court F's.

Graham's Grievances

Spring Sing Needs Changes

The Annual Spring Sing, which will again appear on campus at the end of this month, has become a very definite addition to the social activities during the spring semester of the student body. The Alpha Xi Delta sorority is to be commended for their thoughtfulness and consistent effort in making the Spring Sing a great success.

However, there are several changes which seemingly should be made in the present method of administering the program. Several items have been mentioned through the years and consideration of them seems necessary now.

First, there appears to be a definite need of separation of the organizations entering the contest along certain lines. Definitely the all-men groups should be separated from the all-women organizations for the methods and types of music given by the two cannot be compared well. Also, these seems to be little fairness in allowing such a range in group sizes to compete—four people singing together just cannot be compared to a large group of 15 to 20 voices. To be fair to all groups entering there undoubtedly must be some separation along these boundaries. Everyone feels too that this will draw now-hesitant groups into entering the Sing and a better campus participation will result.

Another point to be mentioned is that the method of retiring the trophy seems not to be too effective for it requires that someone win more years than anyone else. If this is to be done it would seem to be more fair to newer groups if the period of counting wins were extended longer so others might have a better chance to win. Also, at the present no one group has won more than once—what happens if another new one wins this year?

Finally, there is as often the criticism of the judging and decision. From the outsider's standpoint, it would seem that there would be far less voice of disapproval heard if members of the music department or some outstanding director in the city were chosen to judge. "Cheesy" Voran should be the automatic choice from this department each year. Undoubtedly, the other members of the faculty would not mind avoiding the responsibility of making the choice.

Respect In Lyceum

If any comment should be made concerning the Lyceum committee's selection of programs, it definitely must be one of utmost approval for they have been excellent. The Mexican Symphony, St. Olaf Choir, and Roman Sisters all offered the best in their respective fields of musical entertainment.

But as always we notice the general unconcern on a certain minority of the study body during the programs—those who are disrespectful to the performers. Again and again we see people reading the newspaper, talking loudly, or leaving early during the performances. This is definitely a reflection on the student body and is noticed by the many visitors who come to the programs.

Just as a matter of etiquette and personal pride we should try not to be so loud during the entertainment and remember that these are the best of their field that are performing for us. Being the very best, they deserve the full attention of the student body. Surely, we can listen for an hour and a half to the very best that can be heard in any field of entertainment. —B. G.

Army to Inspect ROTC Battalion

The annual Formal and General Inspection of the department of Military Science and Tactics will be conducted Monday, April 6. All military organizations of the U.S. Army undergo this inspection.

The inspection, headed by Colonel Paul Bellamy, will be conducted by a team of officers from Headquarters Fourth United States Army in San Antonio, Texas, and will include both the US Army Instruction Group, headed by Lt. Colonel Robert Scott, PMS&T, and the ROTC Cadet Corps.

A formal review on the baseball diamond at 1:00 p.m. will highlight the inspection. The cadet corps will conduct the review and the public is invited to attend.

During the inspection, Colonel Bellamy will confer with President Mickle on matters concerning the campus ROTC program.

Martello, Sigler Receive Honors

Gerald Martello, Centenary basketball star, was named to the first team for the 1958-59 All-Louisiana Small College Basketball team selected by the Louisiana Sports Writers Assn. In addition, head coach Orvis Sigler was chosen Coach-of-the-Year.

Martello was Centenary's top star all year and his fine shooting and rebounding led the Gents to the Southwest Regional NCAA college division tournament at Springfield, Mo. Martello averaged 16.3 points per game and was only a shade behind his 6-8 teammate, Crawford, in rebounding.

In receiving his honor, Sigler was commended for his outstanding leadership in training a rather shallow Gent team and forming it into a winning team after a slow start early in the season.

The Four Freshmen will perform at the annual Chi Omega Spring Formal to be held on April 22. The dance will be in the Haynes Memorial Gymnasium and will be open to all Centenary students. Student Activity Tickets may be used to gain entrance.

Biologists to Leave For Port Aransas

Following the practice of the last several years, the Biology Department of Centenary College will sponsor a spring field trip for the purpose of field biology study. Through the courtesy of Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation a selected group of biology students, accompanied by members of the biology faculty, will be transported by air to the Institute of Marine Science of the University of Texas at Port Aransas. The group will embark at the Shreveport Municipal Airport, Thursday afternoon, April 9.

Program Given

The field program at Port Aransas will begin Thursday evening with a briefing by Dr. Howard T. Odum, Institute Director. The party will spend one day in trawling operations aboard the laboratory craft, Ciencia, which is equipped for marine biological studies. Tide traps and jetties will be worked for specimens and shore based seining operations will be conducted by Dr. McFarland, Institute ichthyologist.

Return Sunday

A side trip to the State Game and Fish Laboratory at Rockport, Tex., is also contemplated. The party will also attend lectures by the staff of the marine institute. The return flight to Shreveport will take place Sunday afternoon, April 12. In the spring of 1958, the biology group visited the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory at Ocean Springs, Mississippi. Prior to that, a field trip was made to Grand Isle off the Louisiana Coast.

Entrikin Attends Chemical Meet

Dr. John B. Entrikin, head of the department of chemistry, will attend the annual meeting of the American Chemical Society in Boston, April 5-10, as a voting representative of the Ark-La-Tex section of the society.

Currently in New York doing public relations work for Centenary as a representative of Dr. Joe J. Mickle, president, Entrikin will attend a number of pre-convention sessions before the beginning of the ACS meet.

'Motive' to Print McLean's Work

A full-page illustration and a cartoon by the Rev. Jim McLean, director of religious activities, will appear in the current issue of "Motive", national Methodist publication.

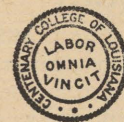

McLean's illustration, which occupies the inside of the rear cover, is entitled "The Prophet", and his cartoon is an ironic commentary on current attitudes toward weapons of war.

Much of the research for an article entitled, "Quo Vadis Intellegens?" was done by Marcella Flynt of Baton Rouge, a Centenary College senior and member of the campus editorial board of "Motive". The article deals with student attitudes on American college and university campuses and mentions Centenary prominently.

Chemistry Prof Added to Staff

Wayne Hanson has been employed as assistant professor of chemistry as of the coming summer session. He will replace Vernon Cates, who will take a leave of absence to complete work on his doctorate at Louisiana State University.

A chemistry major graduate of Centenary, Hanson earned his Masters degree at the University of Houston and has been working toward his doctorate at the University of Arkansas. During his two years in the Army, he completed three outstanding research papers and spent most of that time at Picatinny Arsenal research laboratories in New Jersey. Hanson has been teaching at McNeese State College in Lake Charles for the past two years.

Ballet, Sports, Music Fill Personalities Day

By Linda Frank

Rosemary Watkins, freshman music major is presently taking her Life-Saving and Water Safety Instructor courses here at Centenary. "Ever since I nearly drowned when I was pulled under by an undertow in the Gulf, I've wanted to learn to swim well." Once when she was teaching a swimming class, her glasses fell in the pool and she had to have her students dive for them, "because I really couldn't have seen them."

"Playhouse 90 and the Saturday night westerns are my favorite forms of TV entertainment, but I also like movies and humorous fiction books such as the ones we are reading in English now, Huckleberry Finn."

Rosemary claims Shreveport as her second home. This and the attraction of the Centenary choir drew her to Centenary.

Rosemary serves as secretary of the Baptist Student Union and vice-president of the Pep Squad.

She would like to go to Europe so that she can meet her French pen pal who lives just outside of Paris.

"I would also like to learn to play bridge, as it seems to be the favorite pastime around here."

On the Loose

Although Fred Willis started Centenary with a bang, he seems to have put his energy to work for him. During his freshman year he paid the Dean four visits. The first time he flooded some rooms, then he burned a cross, then he stole a pig and the last time he got caught throwing some eggs at the girls' dorm.

Now this pre-med major is vice-president of the student body, a member of the Student Senate, a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity, and is active in intramural activities. Last year he was chosen sophomore class president and sophomore class favorite.

"I like to hunt, especially deer." This year he shot a seven-point deer and had it mounted. "I also like to nigger fish, when they're biting."

Semi-classical music, sound tracks, and any sport connected with water, such as water-skiing are enjoyed by this junior.

For unusual experiences, Fred recalls the time he and a group of students went to New Orleans for the American Heart Association, and "then Dr. Mary Warters turned us loose! She told us to take advantage of the situation, but to be back in time to leave the next day at noon. We barely made it."

Soft Shoes

Talented and busy are two words that describe Linda Byrd, sophomore co-ed from big "Belcher," Louisiana. In the afternoons, Linda works for the Royal Plan Service. She teaches dancing at Westbrook Studios and also has a class at the East Ridge Country Club where she teaches ballroom dancing to a group of married couples who call themselves the Soft Shoe Dance Club.

This talented sophomore has studied ballet, tap, creative, ballroom and modern jazz on the east and west coasts under such well-known artists as Marge and Gower Champion, Al and Harriet De Rea, and Ernest Carlos.

This summer she plans to go to Europe with a party from Shreveport.

Linda is a member of Chi Omega sorority and enjoys playing almost all intramural sports.

Music by the Four Freshmen and music beaming from KANB and KOKA are among the types she enjoys listening to, but "I like all kinds of music really."

Liberal Education?

"But y'all, I can't swim!" These may have been the cries of G. B. Watson, history and government major, as two of his friends jokingly pushed him out of a boat in the middle of Lake Ouachita. They believed him later, when they had to jump in after him.

After finishing here, G. B. who prefers to leave his name in the initial form, plans to attend graduate school at Boston University, and get both his master's and doctor's degrees in philosophy of religion for teaching in college.

"I love to play bridge and read books by Bertrand Russell, philosophy; Will Durant, history; and Faulkner and Hemingway, novels.

"I like to travel and have a desire to go to Europe, particularly Germany for my general interest. I'm not a good American because I don't have a reason for every-

ON CAMPUS

By PEGGY LONGINO

Nil could easily be the word. With spring coming on, even the campus brains seem to be slowing down considerably and a poll conducted of the Greater Centenary Student Body indicated that the Easter Holidays were spent doing as little of anything as possible.

Judy Meredith and Pat Burns were off to a great start when they took in the horse races at Hot Springs last Thursday. We hope it was fourteen dollars worth of fun for Judy.

Congratulations to Cecil Rhodes, who is now engaged to former Centenary student Margie Bengston. Margie was a Zeta Tau Alpha while attending Centenary.

Sallie Mat Clingman has a special feature at her house especially for those brave souls who venture all the way to Keithville for a date. A sight to see is Sallie pumping gas out of a tank in her back yard when her date announces that he is a little "low."

Chi Omega's hosted an open house yesterday for members of the baseball team. The whole student body was invited. Lemonade was the order of the day and Helen Gully, Jill Landis, Jen Houchin, Frankie Stokes and Mary Lou Gasen entertained with a skit.

Brave soul Ann Hartner did shake off the lethargy long enough to make a trip to Illinois to visit friends.

Mimi Lingenfelter is probably still carrying a pillow everywhere she goes as the result of a day of horseback riding with Howard Collins on Ken Hayes' farm in Keatchie. Linda Byrd says she enjoyed the picnic but didn't really like getting stuck in a briar patch.

New golf pros are emerging slowly but surely. Ready to meet the demand are Rod Yeager, Fuller Bazer, Buddy Graham, Jay Lang, Fred Willis and George Acton. We understand that Springhill was the thing." He and Ed Kennon have tentative plans to go abroad in the future.

G. B. had a very broadening experience recently and says "I furthered my liberal education when I visited the Stork Club."

Gents Meet Southern State Today

Don Stahl Pitches As Gents Destroy Tech Nine by 5-2

Don Stahl, Centenary southpaw, struck out eight men and walked five as he added another win to his record and dropped Louisiana Tech 5-2 in Ruston on March 24. Spanky McCoy and Billy Eubanks led scoring with two runs each and Steve Victory added another in the winning cause. The win was the fourth straight for the Gents and begins a good season with wins over Northeast and McNeese State College.

In the hitting department, Monty Montgomery and Ralph Mason both were tops with two hits each. Jimmy Orton also had two for the Bulldogs. Centenary went ahead 1-0 in the first inning when Spanky McCoy walked, went to second and rode home on Montgomery's two-out double.

Gents Add Three

In the fifth inning, the Gents added three more as Stahl walked, was forced to second by McCoy, who went to second on a wild pitch, and Billy Eubanks strolled. The runners moved up on another wild heave by Methvin, the Tech pitcher, and Steve Victory, singled 'em home. Victory then scampered to third when the ball got through Clyde Thompson in left field and scored on the third wild pitch in the inning.

The fifth run came in the eighth period for the Gents. Eubanks struck out but was safe when the ball got away from Bulldog catcher Richard Bell. He scored all the way from first on a Montgomery single. A double play by McCoy, Victory, and Mason ended the only real threat of the Techmen in the third frame.

Centenary Golf Record at 2-3

The Centenary golf team raised its season record to 2-3 at the Palmetto Country Club Monday afternoon as the Gents trounced Ouachita Baptist College of Arkadelphia, Ark., 17½ to 3½.

Ed Neilson and Jimmy Hughes were Centenary's big club-swingers with a pair of 75s each as the Shreveport crew scored blanks in five of the seven point matches.

Figuring greatly in the Centenary winning cause on the baseball diamond is Steve Victory, shortstop. Victory's consistent hitting was seen in the game Monday with Carroll State in which Steve's single started the scoring for the afternoon in the first inning. Victory will start again this afternoon as the Gents meet Southern State College and bid for their seventh win in eight outings. (Photo by Bryant)

GENT TALK

By BUDDY GRAHAM

Gents Don't "Stahl"

Spring is bursting out everywhere and to be sure in the jive with things has been the Gent baseball squad, who now posts a 6-1 record for the season. The "cinderella" team for Coach Doug Mooty appears to be perhaps the best in years for the Maroon and White. The "King Sport" baseball offers the best on the Centenary diamond and deserves full campus support.

Monty Montgomery has raced to the lead in hitting with several doubles to his credit and a triple here and there. Monty, mentioned little in pre-season gossip, has been the spark-plug for the Gentlemen. The fact that the Gents seem to hit when it counts has put them in the winning column many a time—Tech is a witness to that.

Spanky McCoy, Steve Victory, and Ralph Mason have become a rather common trio for the ever-needed double play patterns which separate the men from the boys. There have been six such performances so far this season. To be able to count on one or two of these a game can ease the pressure off many a game. "Weasel" Eubanks too is developing into a definite asset in the "hot-box" spot on third base.

Don Stahl again is leading the crew in the pitching department with three wins to his credit. His ability to pull out of bad spots cannot be overlooked—such was the case in the ninth inning against Carroll Monday. Stahl is the man everyone will be looking to for the big season lift.

Golf Improves

To start off the season badly, the Gentlemen of the fairway are coming around to take the last two matches and show a 2-3 record so far. Figuring in this climb are prominently John Bird, Jimmy Hughes, and Ed Nielson. All are hitting the best of ball consistently and as an evidence the game Monday with Ouachita Baptist College saw the Gents win 17½ to 3½. Best of luck for the rest of the season, men!

Centenary Rides High As Record Stands 6-1

The Centenary Gents will go after their seventh win in eight outings this afternoon when the Muleriders of Southern State College will invade the Centenary diamond after losing Wednesday to the Gentlemen by the score of 9-1. Already the fired up Kings Highway nine have posted wins against McNeese, Northeastern, Louisiana Tech, and Carroll College, losing only to Northwestern by 6-2 Tuesday.

Leading the Gent batting attack have been Monty Montgomery and more recently taking over the batting honors is Spanky McCoy, new addition at second base. Montgomery also leads in the RBI department due to a series of triples added to his credit.

Gents Win in Magnolia

The Gents took scoring honors in the second, third, fifth, and eighth innings Wednesday as they banged their way to the sixth victory in seven outings and gave Dickie Richards went the afternoon allowing only four hits off the bats of the Southern State men and struck out eight at the plate.

Montgomery had three hits in four trips for the Gentlemen and Spanky McCoy was two-for-five that afternoon. Ralph Mason put a light on things with an inside-the-park homer which brought in three runs.

Scoring began in the second inning when Montgomery singled, Joe Masher walked, and Mason stroked a long blast that got past the center fielder for an inside-the-park home run.

In the third, two more runs were added on walks to James Rhea Love and Steve Victory, a wild pitch and a single by Montgomery. Victory scored later in the fifth behind Montgomery's ever-present triple.

Scoring was wrapped up in the eighth frame with a three-run outburst. Mason and Richards walked, McCoy singled then home and later scored on a fielder's choice to make the final score of the day, 9-1.

Carroll Nine Drop, 6-3

Don Stahl struck out 14 batters Monday afternoon as he pitched the Gents to their fifth straight victory on seven scattered hits. It was the third straight win for the Centenary southpaw who was in complete control all the way except for a momentary lapse in the seventh inning and a bit of misfortune in the ninth.

Scoring got off to a fast start for the Gents when the Carroll pitcher Wolf gave up four quick walks to McCoy, Billy Eubanks, Monty Montgomery, and Joe Masher around a bunt single by Steve Victory and the home club was out in front.

In the third, the story appeared the same, as Wolf was still having trouble. Masher and Leon Shaw were walked and a single by James Rhea Love loaded the sacks. Masher and Shaw both crossed the plate to take the lead to a 5-0.

The count jumped to 6-0 in the fourth as Stahl walked ahead of a McCoy triple and Spanky then galloped in on an error by the Pioneer backstop. From then on it was smooth sailing for the Gentlemen with the exception of a bit of trouble in the seventh and ninth which ran the score up to 6-3 where it ended for the day.

Alpha Epsilon Delta Announces Cancer Month Program Dates

Alpha Epsilon Delta, national premedical honor society, has been asked by the American Cancer Society to sponsor Cancer Month, April, on the Centenary campus. In accordance with this aim, the group has planned a series of programs of an educational nature during the month which are to be open to the student body and faculty.

This coming Tuesday, April 14, at 9:30 a.m. two films will be shown in the Science Auditorium, room 114. They are "The Other City" and "From One Cell." Thursday, April 23, at 7:30 p.m., Mrs. Sarah Correll, Cancer cytologist at the Confederate Memorial Hospital, will talk to AED on cancer cytology. Her talk will be illustrated with projection of slides of cancer cells. The meeting is open and interested students are urged to attend.

"The Traitor Within" and "The Human Cell and the Cytologist" are the presentations to be shown on April 21 at 9:30 a.m. in the Science Lecture Hall. The purpose of these presentations is to acquaint the student body to the present research and aims of the American Cancer Society and point out the need of funds to promote this program.

House Drive Planned

Members of AED have volunteered for a house to house drive in Shreveport for funds to continue cancer research on the evening of Tuesday, April 21. Any other person who wishes to aid in the campaign should contact Larry McKinstry, president of Alpha Epsilon Delta.

To conclude the month of meetings, a special booth "Green Grows the Tree" will be set up in the Moore Student Center April 21 for the students to make their contributions. Mrs. Aaron Selber, a former Centenary student, will aid in manning this booth.

Premed Approval Begun In Schools

Eleven premedical and premedical students have received acceptance for admission in the fall freshman classes at varied medical and dental schools. Admission to other schools will not be announced until early in May.

Larry McKinstry, Sam Maxey, Francis Kelker, Jim Huddleston, Harold Brewster, Charles Glover, Gil Snyder, and Don Wolfe have been granted admission to LSU School of Medicine in New Orleans. Jim Owens plans to attend Baylor Dental School in Dallas and Leon Bain will travel to Georgia and Emory University School of Dentistry.

John "Buddy" Graham will attend the Tulane University School of Medicine in New Orleans. Other students now await replies either from these schools or others and will make final announcements at a later date.

Joseph M. Running, pianist, and Sam Terranova, violinist, will present four sonatas for violin and piano in the third of a series of Faculty Recitals. The program will be held Sunday, April 12, at 4 p.m. in the Brown Memorial Chapel.

AED Premedical Meet Set, Saturday, April 18

Dr. Harold Cummins, Assistant Dean and Head of the Department of Anatomy, Tulane University School of Medicine, and Dr. Frank Houghton, Dean, Loyola University School of Dentistry will speak Saturday, April 18, at a premedical and premedical conference for high school and Centenary students.

The program, which is to begin at 10 a.m., is under the sponsorship of Alpha Epsilon Delta, national premedical honor society, and is the first annual conference of its type to be held at the college.

The program is designed to be effective on both the college and high school level in that separate sessions will be held for the two groups. High schools within a hundred mile radius of the college have been contacted and will send interested students to the meeting.

Schedule Given

At 10 a.m. registration will begin for high school students and at 11:00 Dr. Harold Cummins will speak to High School premedical students in the science lecture hall while Dr. Frank Houghton will talk to the college premedical students in room 203.

After lunch in the college cafeteria, sessions will be given at 1 p.m. to high school premedical students and college premedical students.

Alpha Epsilon Delta hopes to act as liaison between the medical and premedical schools—this is the purpose of the conferences which are being initiated here next week.

Recital Will Feature Violin, Piano Pieces

Sam Terranova, violinist, and Joseph M. Running, pianist, will present four sonatas for violin and piano in the third of a series of four faculty recitals sponsored by the school of music. The program will begin at 4 p.m. in the Brown Memorial Chapel and is open to the public without charge.

Campus violin instructor and concertmaster of the Shreveport Symphony Orchestra, Terranova has been presented as soloist at numerous Symphony concerts in nearby high schools and was featured violinist last January in the Symphony conducted by Edmund Pendleton of Paris, France. Terranova earned his Bachelor of Music degree from the Conservatorio Cherubini in Florence, Italy.

Running, director of the school of music, was recently presented with the University Symphony of Tallahassee, Fla., with Dr. Ernst von Sohnanyi as guest conductor. He, too, has appeared as guest artist with the Shreveport Symphony and the choir.

The Sunday program will include "Sonata in D Major—(Allemanda, Corrente, Sarabanda, Gigue)" by Telemann; "Sonata in A Major, Opus 100—(Allegro Amabile, Andante Tranquillo, Allegretto Grazioso)" by Brahms; "Sonata in A Minor, Opus 23—(Presto, Andante Scherzoso, Quasi Allegretto, Allegro Molto)" by Beethoven; and "Sonata in A Major—(Allegretto Ben Moderato, Allegro, Recitativo-Fantasia, Allegretto Poco Mosso)" by Franck.

The faculty recital series will conclude on May 10 when the final program features William C. Teague, college organist and organist and choirmaster at St. Mark's Episcopal Church.

Jack Carpenter ODK President

Jackie Carpenter was elected Monday afternoon to serve as President of Omicron Delta Kappa, national leadership society, for the coming year 1959-60. Election of officers was held immediately following initiation ceremony for newly tapped members of the Centenary circle of the society.

Other members of the circle who will serve as officers for the coming year will be Dub Fletcher, vice-president; Charles Byrd, treasurer; Jack Teagarden, recording secretary; and Dr. W. W. Pate, faculty advisor.

Banquet Outlines College's Future

Leaders of the "10-Year Master Plan of Development" told some 175 persons at a formal banquet Tuesday night that "If Centenary can advance at the same rate during the next 10 years as it has in the past decade, you will have one of the best liberal arts institutions to be found in the nation."

Dr. Myron Wickle, dean of Southwestern University in Georgetown, Texas, was the guest speaker for the occasion which told the witnesses that the price of academic greatness at Centenary would come to exactly $10,000,000.

Dr. Wickle stated that Centenary president, Dr. Joe J. Mickle was "one of the half-dozen best U. S. college presidents" and that the college board of trustees "cannot be duplicated for devotion and dedication."

Dr. Mickle said the goal of the 1959 "immediate needs" program was $1,700,000 which would finance a library, dormitories, a school of music, a religious activities building, and retirement of debts.

Dr. Mickle further said that the college should have $8,300,000 of additional improvements and endowments by 1969. The endowment fund alone would take $6,000,000, he said, and would finance faculty salary increases, advance study leaves for instructors, scholarships, general operational expenses, and endowed faculty chairs. Additional buildings in the 10-year plan will include a humanities building, an auditorium, dormitories, and a gymnasium expansion. Also, some $100,000 will be set aside for campus beautification.

MOVIE SHOWING NOTICE

"The Strange Case of the Cosmic Rays," Bell Telephone presentation will be shown today at 1:00 p.m. in Science Lecture Hall, room 114. Students invited to attend.

Presentation of a $25 Scholarship was made last week to the Shreveport Opera Guild by Phi Beta, Drama and Music Fraternity. Receiving the scholarship, which will be given to some Centenary student, was Mrs. Hellen Marshall, voice instructor at Centenary. Present also are members Barbara Ann Hyde, President; Dalna Worley, past treasurer; and Mrs. T. O. Sigmund, Providence, advisor of Phi Beta.

Oriental Students Tell How Centenary Looks

By Joan Templeton

A few days ago I had the opportunity to talk with two Centenary students from the Far East. Both boys are entering Centenary for the first time this semester, and are filled with excitement and interest about their studies here. We had a little difficulty conversing, and I soon found my note cards filled with the beautifully delicate Chinese sanscrit, as it often became necessary for one of them to write my questions in Chinese to fully clarify them.

Just Arrived in U. S.

Mitsuo Kitamura, from Kobi, Japan, told me that he has only been in the States since January 18. He chose to come to Centenary to study because of its being recommended by Rev. P. Lee Palmore, the Methodist missionary at Kwan Sei Gakuin University, where he studied for four years. Kit finished his college work and became a high school sociology teacher; however, he explained that his first love is church music, and that he will study here to become a choir director in his native Japan. He has already had some piano study, and was a member of the glee club at the University. He said that he immensely enjoyed singing bass in "Mr. Voran's chorus" and that he likes Centenary and its students very much. He stressed his thankfulness to his teachers, who, he said, have shown him so much kindness and understanding regarding his language difficulty. His study of English was interrupted during the war years and actually he has only had three years of the language. He said that if only the Americans would talk a little more slowly he would have less trouble understanding them.

Chinese Refugee

Lu Kien-teh, or Jimmy Lu, his American name, told me that as far back as he could remember he has always had a desire to come to the United States to study. Leaving what is now Communist-held China as a refugee in 1949, he came, with his family, to Hong Kong, where he lived until September of 1958, when he came to Marshall, Texas, to attend East Texas Baptist College. He has spent the previous fall semester there, Jimmy is a pre-med student and wishes very much to become a doctor some day, although he said that he knows the way will be long, hard, and expensive. He said that he expects to study very hard here at Centenary and expressed his high regard for the knowledge and ability of his professors.

Studies at British School

Jimmy went to a British Catholic high school in Hong Kong and has studied English for six years. He even taught English one year at a private night school in Hong Kong. Speaking with a British accent, he told me that he became interested in Centenary through Dr. Chiu, who introduced him to Dean Vogel. Jimmy said that Centenary's main attraction for him is its pre-med curriculum.

He asked me if it would be permissible for him to express in this article his thanks to Dean Vogel, Dr. Mickle, and Dr. Chiu, for their making it possible for him to attend Centenary. I could not help feeling overwhelmed by Jimmy and Kit's earnest enthusiasm about going to college in the United States. I don't think I've ever encountered anything quite like it. Many of the students have already made friends with Kit and Jimmy, and I'm sure that many others will also want to get acquainted. Both are staying in Rotary Hall.

4 Campus Authors Win Third Position In Writers' Contest

Centenary student writers won a third place position in total honors for Centenary in the annual contests of the College Writers' Society of Louisiana held on campus last Saturday, April 4. Campus writers totaled 17 points and were preceded by Francis T. Nicholls State College with 44 points and McNeese State College in Lake Charles with 22 points.

Local writers include Sarah Burroughs and Mrs. Shirley Pledger with honorable mention going to Cornelia Agurs and Melinda McLeod. Miss Burroughs won second place and $10 in the personal essay division with her essay, "Not to the Victor." Mrs. Pledger received a total of $15 for her two placings. Her short story "Bishop Green Comes to India" and one-act play "Eyes to Read With," won second and third place in their respective divisions. Honorable mention went to Miss Agurs for her short story and to Miss McLeod for her entry in the poetry division.

The principal speaker of the meeting was Prof. Laurence Perrine, associate professor of English at Southern Methodist University, who discussed the topic "Poetry Begins With Words" during the afternoon session and the subject "Why Write?" at the dinner meeting. Panels of students from participating colleges throughout the state discussed essays, short stories, one-act plays, feature articles and poetry under the moderation of faculty members. Dr. Jack Teagarden, associate professor of English, was general chairman of the program, and Dr. E. M. Clark, head of the English department, and other members of the department assisted.

Teague Gives Organ Recital

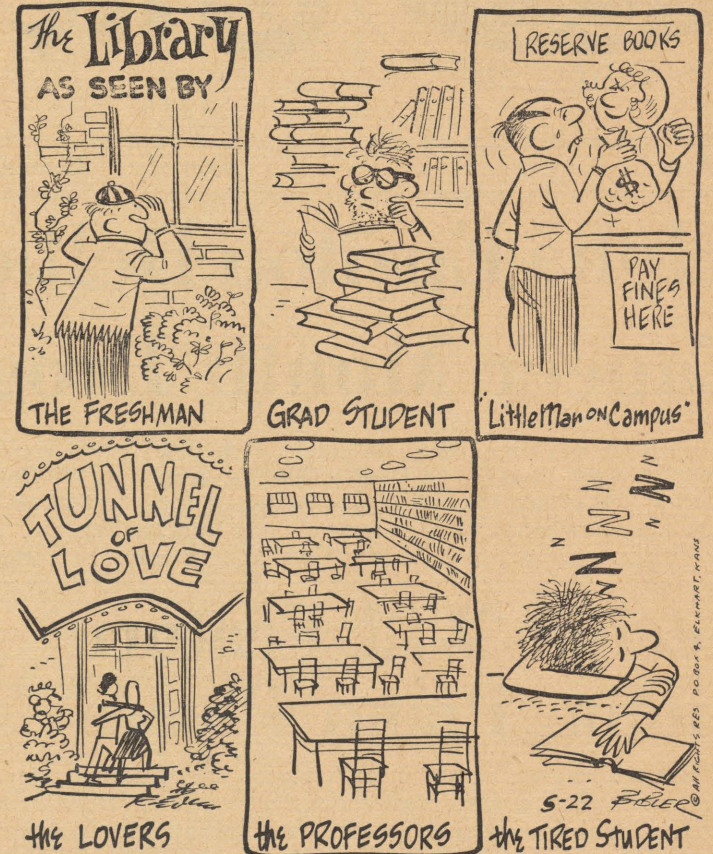

William C. Teague, organist, presented a recital yesterday at the North-Central regional convention of the American Guild of Organists in Lincoln, Neb. Teague is also organist and choirmaster at St. Mark's Episcopal Church. He is remaining in Lincoln to conduct a masters' class in organ work at the University of Nebraska in Lincoln.

A member of the school of music faculty for the past 11 years, the organist received his Bachelor of Music degree from the Curtis Institute of Music in Chicago, Ill. He presented a recital last Tuesday at the 16th annual Festival of Contemporary Music at Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge, one of the oldest and best known events of its kind in the nation, and will be featured in the final faculty recital series program, May 10.

Canterbury Club Plans Meetings

In the coming three weeks the Canterbury Club will hear three priests. Two are from the Episcopal Church and one is from the Roman Catholic Church. On April 15, Father Chambless from St. James' Episcopal Church will speak. Father O'Brien from St. Joseph's Catholic Church will speak on the 22nd of April. The speaker for the 29th of April will be Father Buckner from St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

Student Senate Report

March 5, 1959

The meeting was called to order by the President Charles Wilder. Those present were: Bain, Bird, Carlton, Carpenter, Cooper, Daigle, Gassen, Gathright, Schwendimann, Wilder, Willis.

The minutes were read and approved.

The senate was reminded that Founder's Day is to be May 5, 1959. Leon Bain is in charge of the activities for the day. Any suggestions for participation should be turned in to him.

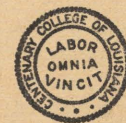

It was decided that we would try to get a band for the Founder's Day Dance.

Marcella Flynt reported that there was good participation for the campus groups in the Student Fair. The wiring poles are to be gotten for the Y.M.C.A. and Southwestern Power and Electric will furnish the electricity.

A discussion was held concerning the possibilities of sending a representative to the Auburn Conference of Student Government. It was decided that it would be an unnecessary expenditure to send a representative.

A new voting list for the Student Senate Election is to be gotten from the office as soon as possible.

The meeting was closed in regular order.

ON CAMPUS

By PEGGY LONGINO

Apologies to Lorita Donaho and Billy Pat Tipton who have been pinned so long that it is no longer news. Belated congratulations.

Already making plans for a trip to Denver this summer is Jim Daigle. He was recently elected to attend the National Conclave of his fraternity, Kappa Sigma.

Taking a junket to the metropolis of Belcher earlier this week were T. Tom Wilkinson and Tanne McDade. The coeds felt that they just "had" to get away from the bustle of campus life.

New MSM officers elected last week are Richard Hermann, President; Genevieve Compton, Vice President; Bev Wingo, Secretary, and Deen Thompson, Treasurer. Congratulations.

Nancy Dixon had as houseguests in Camden, Arkansas, this weekend Ginny Emerson and Judy Meredith. We bet that this was one Monday Nancy was glad to see roll around.

Some of the Kappa Sigmas and their dates enjoying an informal get-together Friday night at their house were George Acton, Jerry Jonett, Dave White, Margaret Reeves, Jay Lang, Sarah Hitchcock, Jim Daigle, Frankie Stokes, Larry McKinstry and Joan Templeton.

Also on the agenda Friday night was the BSU banquet. The Baptists were entertained by former governor Jimmie Davis. Among those listening in were Joy Lambert, Georgina Lechuga, Rosemary Watkins, Jimmie Lu, Barbara Hyde, and Richard Hermann.

The rodeo was the scene of quite a gathering of Centenary students. Among those watching Annie Oakley were Brenda Bailey, Buddy Daily, Ralph Mason, Anne McLaurin, Beverly Paul, Lawrence Waschka, Linda Byrd, Ken Hayes, Roberta Jackson and Jill Landis. The show impressed Jill so that she's been practicing rope tricks out in back of James Dorm.

The coffee for the Basketball Team given by Zeta Tau Alpha at free period Tuesday was enjoyed by a great many. Frattin' around at the coffee were Penny Hawkins, Ann Bostick, Dalna Worley, Jen Houchin, Bill Sanders and Ralph Mason. The party also gave the Zetas a chance to show off their brand new stereo.

Chapman To Be At Student Fair

Tickets are now on sale for the dance which will be held in connection with the Student Fair on April 17, from 9 to 1 a.m. in the Student Center.

Milt Chapman's band will provide the music for the dance, for which dormitory students will have 1 o'clock permissions. Features of the event will be a dancing contest and announcement of the award winning Fair booths.

The price of the tickets is $1 per couple and $1 for stags. They may be obtained from Ralph Mason, Diane Holloway or any Senate member. A special ticket sale will be held in the Student Center at 9:15 Tuesday.

Butch Franklin and Gene LaCaze are in charge of dance decorations and the poster committee consists of Sallie Mat Clingman, Kay Cooper and Carol Reichelt.

This weekend was the time for an outing and we found Margaret Reeves, Fred Willis, Elizabeth Reeves and Fuller Bazer at Lake Bistineau, while Gaynelle Morgan, Gene Bennett and Jackie Ott enjoyed the water skiing on Caney Lake.

Among other parties this weekend, we also hear the one at Bob Shaw's farm rated with the best.

Congratulations to new Kappa Chi officers. Larry Elliott was elected president, along with Jeanette Crocker, Vice President; Janet Gholson, Secretary, and Paul McMahon, Treasurer.

Herrman Named MSM President

Richard Herrman, of Gilmer, Tex., has been elected to serve as president of the Methodist Student Movement for the coming school year 1958-59. Election of officers was made last Thursday night during regular MSM meetings.

Genevieve Compton will serve as vice president, and Bev Wingo was elected secretary for the group. Serving as treasurer will be Deen Thompson and Jeanette Crocker will be editor of the Weekly Bulletin "Good News." Chosen co-chairmen of the program committee were Fred Schwendimann and Jean Stephens.

The officers will assume their positions next fall.

Gents Prepare For SMU Road Trip

Northwestern Bows In Riotous Duel, 21-5

Centenary baseballers will risk an excellent 8-1 record on the road Monday and Tuesday as they travel to Dallas and battle with the Mustangs of Southern Methodist University. They will leave with a sweet taste in their mouth after a 21-5 riot over Northwestern State Tuesday.

In the 7th inning of the affair, the Gentlemen scored 15 runs to demoralize the Demons on nine hits and four walks before the side was retired. Nineteen batters came up in the one inning duel which was characterized by a three-run triple of Billy Eubanks, a three-run inside-the-park homer by Monty Montgomery, and a two-run single by Steve Victory.

Taking his fourth straight victory on the mound with no defeats was Don Stahl for the Centenary nine while NSC sported four pitchers in the contest—three during the long seventh inning.

Seventh Inning

In the 7th things began to pick up as the inning began with a single by Steve Victory, followed by a double off Montgomery's bat to drive Victory in. A series of bobbles in the field, a single by Love down the third-base line, a walk by Mosher, and the score leaped on a wild pitch to 10-4. To make matters worse, Spanky McCoy received a hit in the ribs with a pitched ball to load the bases again.

Eubanks laid down an infield bunt scoring Mason, Victory followed with a two-run single to left field which went for an inside-the-park homer and scored three runs, making the count 16-4.

Count Rises

With the bases empty, again the story was retold, Mosher walked, Love got a single, and Mason walked to load the bases. A base on balls for Stahl and Mosher walked home to score the 11th of the afternoon. McCoy then singled down the third base line to make it 18-4; and Eubanks clobbered his three-

Pershing Rifles Leave for Meet

The Centenary unit of the Pershing Rifles left by bus this morning to participate in the Sixth Regimental Drill Meet at Camp Leroy Johnson in New Orleans. The unit is traveling by bus and will remain in New Orleans until Sunday, Cadet Capt. James M. Durham, the commander of the unit, announced.

The company will participate in five different events against twelve other companies in the regiment. The events include company fancy drill, squad drill, and individual drill. The winner of the drill meet is the company that amasses the greatest number of points awarded for the different events. A trophy will also be awarded to the best all around company during the past year.

Last year Centenary's unit won Best Company and individual advanced competition. The unit will be accompanied by their sponsor, Ramona Nail, who is also the Regimental sponsor, and Sergeants Miller and Monk.

run triple to deep centerfield for a 21-4 margin, and final Gent scoring for the day.

In the first frames of the match, scoring came on Victory's leadoff triple and singles by Montgomery, Jarrall and Love. Victory, flashy Gent shortstop finished the day with 4-for-6 to top the hitting for the day and raise himself to a .325 batting average and second place among the team hitters.

Montgomery Tops

McCoy, who hit 2-for-5, now is hitting .310 and is third for the team sluggers. Montgomery added 3-for-6 Tuesday to raise his average closer to the .500 mark and retain his first place honor among hitters.

For the day, Centenary got 21 runs on 18 hits and 43 at bats. Stahl managed to strike out 10 Demons at the plate while allowing only 1 base on balls. Northwestern made 5 runs on 12 hits and 39 at bats in the losing cause. Final score: Centenary 21, Northwestern, 5.

Woolley's No-Hitter Leaves Gentlemen High In Statistics

Monty Montgomery, Don Stahl, and Conrad Woolley lead in the latest Gent baseball statistics delivered Monday by head coach Doug Mooty. In eight games the Gentlemen have dropped seven opponents, dealing a deathly blow last Friday to Southern State 10-0.

Montgomery leads the Gents in batting with a tremendous .448 average on 13 hits and 29 at bats. To his credit also goes three triples and two doubles which have given him 12 RBI's and tops in that department.

Spanky McCoy follows Monty in batting with a .276 average and is currently leading the Gentlemen in runs scored at 9. Also, McCoy has nine stolen bases to his credit to be tops by far in that area.

Woolley Pitches No-Hitter

Conrad Woolley with a no-hitter last weekend against Southern State College of Magnolia is tops in the Earned Run Average department for the pitching staff. Woolley has not allowed a run off his throws in 13 innings for an 0.00 average. Remarkable might be the word for it as he also allowed only 5 bases on balls while striking out 16 of his opponents.

Southpaw Don Stahl leads the Gents' hurlers with a 3-0 record, Dickie Richards has posted a 2-0 mark, Woolley is 1-0 and Ed Monk 1-1. Stahl's ERA is good at 1.43 and his 30 strikeouts are a high. Entering 25 innings on the mound, Stahl has allowed only 15 hits and 5 runs to cross the home plate.

Gents Over Opponents

In eight games the Gents have cracked a hearty 58 hits off the pitches of their opponents for a team average of .259 as compared to the visitors' comber .147 count. In fielding the Centenary nine are tops with .951 accuracy to the .921 reading of the opponents.

The Gentlemen have been at bat 250 times to gain their average while opponents only made 224 appearances. Runs for the Gents are more than twice the number of the visitors at 46 to 20. Stolen bases too are better for the Centenary team at 17 to 6.

Billy Eubanks, Gents' snappy third baseman, has developed to be one of the top men on the rambling Centenary baseball nine. In Tuesday's game with Northwestern, Eubanks hit 3-for-6 and leveled a Demon pitch into a three-run triple deep into centerfield. Record for the Gents now stands 8-1.

BUZZ BEN KINEL AT 8-0551 TODAY

The nationally famous vocal group, the Four Freshmen, will appear Wednesday, April 22, in the Gym for the Annual Chi Omega Formal. The dance, which is open to the Student Body, will begin at 8 p.m. and also will feature "The Tunes" along with the Four Freshmen. Included in the performance will be many of the well-known favorites which the group has recorded over the years.

Chi-O Dance Hosts The 'Four Freshmen'

The Four Freshmen, nationally-rated vocal group, will perform in the Haynes Memorial Gymnasium, Wednesday night, April 22, at the annual Chi Omega Spring Formal. The dance will last from 8 to 12 p.m. and is open to the student body free of charge.

Beginning their singing career in 1948, the four young men have tried to get a five-voice sound with only four voices. This idea of theirs has grown and been perfected until today they are known throughout the country for their distinctive, original style.

Favorites To Be Heard

Under contract to the Capitol Recording company, they have quite a list of hits to their credit, among which are "Day by Day", "Graduation Day", "Charmaine" and "Julie Is Her Name". Also listed in their succession of hits are numerous albums.

The Four Freshmen have made appearances in picture shows, network TV shows and concerts in colleges and ballrooms throughout the country. One unique feature of their style is the fact they provide their own instrumental accompaniment, thus giving them unlimited versatility in performances.

'Best Vocal Group'

The group has won the "Best Vocal Group" category in the Metronome Magazine poll for the last three years, the Downbeat poll for the last four years and in 1957 they led the field in the Billboard and United Press Disc-Jockey's poll, and Playboy Magazine Jazz poll.

The Four Freshmen are Bob Flanagan—top voice, trombone and bass; Don Barbour—second voice, guitar and featured soloist; Ross Barbour—third voice, drums, trumpet and general master-of-ceremonies; and Ken Albers—bass, trumpet and mello-phone.

Pershing Rifles Fourth at Meet

Centenary College's ROTC drill team, the Pershing Rifles, placed fourth out of ten companies in the Sixth Regimental Drill Meet held at Camp Leroy Johnson in New Orleans on April 11. The drill meet was won by Tulane University's company which won every drill event. Springhill College of Mobile, Alabama, Loyola of the South in New Orleans, and Centenary followed Tulane in the final standings. Springhill College edged out Centenary for the award of Best Company which is awarded on the basis of the whole year's activities. A two hour conference was necessary to arrive at the final decision.

The Best Company competition typified the closeness of the drill meet. A number of events were decided by only a few points. Cadet Captain James Durham, who represented Centenary in the Individual Advanced Competition, lost to the Tulane man by a score of 370 to 368 out of 400 possible points. Other events in which Centenary placed were Individual Basic Competition, in which Cadet First Sergeant Bob Moore placed third, and Company Fancy Drill, in which the company placed fourth.

The PR's will march in three more parades this year. They are: Miss Shreveport Parade on April 18, Miss Bienville Parish Parade on April 28 in Arcadia, La., and in the Holiday in Dixie Parade. Members of the unit will also assist in Shreveport's Cancer Fund Drive.

Accompanying the unit to New Orleans were the company and Sixth Regiment's sponsor Miss Ramona Nail, Sergeants Monk and Copeland, and Mrs. Nichols.

'Tunes' to Perform At 'Holiday' Dance

Centenary College will host the "Holiday In Dixie" Queen and her Honor Court with a noon luncheon and an informal dance Friday, May 1, at 9:00 p.m., in the Moore Student Center.

"The Tunes," a band from Louisiana Tech, will be featured at the dance which will be open to the Centenary student body free of charge. Dr. and Mrs. Joe J. Mickle will meet with the girls at the 12:00 luncheon which will bring 15 final winning contestants to the campus.

Emerich Selected Faculty President

Dr. Donald W. Emerich, associate professor of chemistry, will succeed Mrs. Fariebee Self, assistant professor of mathematics, as president of the Centenary College Faculty Club. He will serve for the forthcoming year.

Elected as vice-president of the group was Dr. Orin P. Wilkins, associate professor of biology, and Dr. S. M. Chiu, assistant professor of history, was chosen secretary and treasurer.

Composed of all members of the campus teaching staff, the organization assists in planning social functions for the college.

Dr. Ford Delivers African Trip Talks

"The Dark Continent" was the subject of Dr. E. L. Ford's speech at the noon luncheon meeting of the Minden Lions Club in Minden Wednesday, April 15.

Dr. Ford was introduced by Robert G. Guchereau, Jr., program chairman. He discussed his impressions of Africa gained on an extended tour of that continent last summer and showed colored slides made on the trip. Dr. Ford is head of the department of modern languages.

Committees Named

In charge of over-all planning for the gathering are Warren West, John Bird, Charles Wilder, Dub Fletcher, and Jim Durham. Decorations will be handled by Larry McKinstry, Bill Bryant, and Mimi Lingenfelter. Publicity chairman is Buddy Graham, while Ken Hayes and Jackie Carpenter are co-chairmen for escorts.

On Saturday, May 2, the Queen and her runner-up will be guests of honor at the annual Kappa Alpha "Old South Ball." Mrs. Nichols, Student Center Director, is coordinator for the week-end of activities.

Lyceum Program Features Soprano

Phyllis Curtin, leading soprano of the New York City Opera for the past four years, was presented yesterday in a concert featured as part of the current Lyceum Series. Miss Curtin was introduced by Joseph M. Running, director of the school of music, and was accompanied by Ryan Edwards.

Wife of a nationally known photographer, Miss Curtin is described as a musical rarity—a first-rate singing actress. A lyric soprano, her versatility ranges from intense dramatics to comedy. She has appeared in the title role in "Madame Butterfly" and the Countess in "The Marriage of Figaro." Appearing with the New York City Opera for the past four years, Miss Curtin has portrayed "Salome," Giulietta and Antonia in "Tales of Hoffman," Cressida in "Troilus and Cressida" and recently the title role in "Susannah."

Considered one of the outstanding recitalists of this era, she has performed with such leading orchestras as those of Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, Los Angeles, Pittsburgh, Washington, St. Louis, and Minneapolis.

Fair Activities Begin At 3:00

Field activities for the Student Fair will begin at 3 p.m. this afternoon and will continue through 9 p.m. tonight at which time Milt Chapman's orchestra will play for the student dance in the Moore Student Center. The dance will last until one o'clock and late permission will be granted all dormitory girls.

The Student Senate will sponsor a talent show at 4 p.m. this afternoon and the Women's Recreational Association will hold a bridge tournament in the Moore Student Center. Alpha Chi will sponsor a faculty show at 7 p.m. tonight.

Working on committees for the preparation of today's fair have been Marcella Flynt, chairman; Diane Holloway and Ralph Mason, publicity; Emma Lou Stewart and Dub Fletcher, booth assignments; and Warren West and Charles Wilder, grounds arrangement.

Organizations Help

Twenty-two concessions and booths have been arranged for the fairway and will require ten cents for the purchase of one "Show-buck" and an entry to one of the booths. These will be located on the field adjoining the tennis courts and will include a tumbling exhibition at 3:30 p.m.

Chi Omega will have wet sponges to be thrown at members of the sorority. Kappa Chi has planned a fortune teller booth, while Kappa Alpha will have a "goose ring." Kappa Sigma will offer a junk heap for the hits of its patronizers, while Alpha Xi Delta will send Dr. Joe J. Mickle and Deans Leroy Vogel and C. A. Hickcox about for shoe shines.

The Zeta Tau Alpha booth will guess the weight of its patronizers, and Phi Beta and Phi Mu Alpha will draw the silhouettes of those who may present their "Show-bucks." MSM tickets will allow one ride on the American Legion Train, while BSU will close the door of the jail on you if your friend purchases one of their tickets.

Dorms Enter Booths

Hardin Hall will offer the ever present fishin' pond, while the James' women will hold an old fashion melodrama. The PR's will have a man on a chair with a pail of water which may fall on his head if hit.

ODK and Maroon Jackets will have bottles with pictures of the faculty to be knocked over. The Junior Pan-Hellenic will have basketballs to be thrown at a ring. Student NEA, Gentry, and Aufait will all offer varied concession booths.

Proceeds from the fair will go to Centenary's building fund and prizes will be given for the most original booth and for the one which earns the most money.

PR's Work Paid Off!

The backbone of any college may well be those organizations which are to represent it throughout the nation thereby underscoring the progress of that college in relation to others. In this respect Centenary may well be proud of the Pershing Rifle Team which has received top ratings in the sixth regiment since its installation last year.

Few of us realize the time and effort which is necessary for the success of any organization such as the PR's. In preparation for the New Orleans meet, in which they placed fourth, the cadets practiced consistently and entirely every morning for four weeks, not mentioning the many hours spent earlier in the year in drill.

Individually too, the group has excelled. James Durham placed second in the Individual Advanced Competition, ranking himself highly in regards to ROTC products across the nation. Bob Moore also placed well with a third in Individual Basic Competition, a mark to well be proud of. And then too, PR sponsors Martha Turner Cloyd and Ramona Nail have excelled both years. Miss Nail recently received the regimental sponsor position and now will compete for the national honors won last year by Mrs. Cloyd.

So, well may Centenary be proud of such representation as she has received from the Pershing Rifles and other active, live organizations. From these others should receive the challenge and prove themselves to the public. With this Centenary will maintain and progress in national prestige. —B. G.

Med-School Deans To Speak Saturday For AED Meeting

Registration will begin at 10 a.m. tomorrow morning for the first annual premedical and predental conference sponsored by Alpha Epsilon Delta, national premedical honor society. The Centenary student body and faculty are invited to attend all meetings.

Dr. Frank Houghton, Dean of Loyola University School of Dentistry, and Dr. Harold Cummins, Assistant Dean of Tulane University School of Medicine, will be the guest speakers for the initiatory meeting.

Dr. Cummins is editor of "The American Journal of Anatomy" and a member of the advisory and editorial board of "Radiology." He has contributed many articles to technical journals and is the author of a book on fingerprinting. Dr. Cummins holds the AB degree from the University of Michigan and the Ph.D. degree from Tulane.

Visiting Surgeon

Dr. Houghton is senior visiting surgeon and chief of the Loyola University unit of Charity Hospital in New Orleans. He holds the D.D.S. degree from the University of Maryland and is a fellow of the American College of Dentistry.

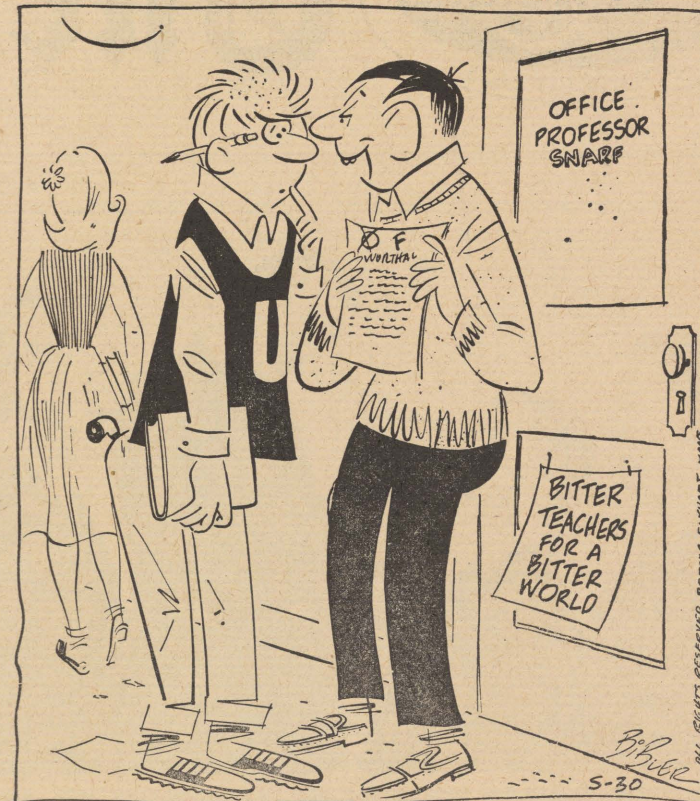

During the morning session, while Dr. Cummins is addressing high school students in the Science Building auditorium, Dr. Houghton will speak to college predental students in room 203 at 11:00.

Maroon Jackets 'Tapping' Thursday

Thursday in Chapel the annual "tapping" ceremony will be held for Junior and Senior coeds eligible for Maroon Jackets, leadership and service group for women. Names of those to be selected for the high honor will be kept secret until then.

Maroon Jackets serve the campus as official hostess on all occasions and also during chapel programs, they issue chapel cards. Nomination to the group is considered the highest honor that may be accorded a coed. Selection is based on scholarship, leadership, character, and service to the college.

Pastime Of Students Shooting Rats, Bridge

By LINDA FRANK

Dan Herndon, freshman Kappa Alpha member, has expressed his aim to join up with "Fidel." At a recent party, Dan posed as a submarine captain in the service of Fidel Castro.

Dan says he doesn't have much free time, as he spends almost all of his time on the tennis courts. He works at the recreation department and claims to be "the official custodian of the tennis courts."

After attending New Mexico Military Institute for two years Dan decided to stay home and attend Centenary.

"Did you like going away to school?"

"Well, I like it now that I'm out."

Among Dan's interests are bridge, poker and Saturday night western movies — "Maverick" preferably. "I also like baseball. The Shreveport Sports, as long as they win and the Milwaukee Braves are his two favorites. "I'll take bets on Milwaukee this year."

This commerce major has the unusual nickname of "Nose." This he acquired when he was at the fraternity house one day "and everyone started kidding me about my nose."

Dancer By Night

Carole Ann Solomon, sophomore personality keeps pretty busy around the campus in her many activities. She is an officer in MSM, assistant pledge trainer of Zeta Tau Alpha, a member of Alpha Sigma Pi, Kappa Chi, chairman of Quest, and a member of James Dorm Council. (Quite a list.)

"I love Bing Crosby, Nat 'King' Cole, and all music that you can go to sleep by."

In her spare time Carole Ann loves to go horseback riding. Once a friend was holding the reins of her horse while she mounted. The friend dropped the reins and the horse took off. "I was about dead before I recovered the reins!"

She was once named the Mississippi State Fishing Queen, and how did she acquire this title? "Well, I caught a 5 ounce bream!"

Once when Carole Ann and a friend were celebrating a special event, she got a demerit for disturbance in the hall. And what was she doing? Well, "we were trying to find someone to visit at 2:30 a.m., and we got caught racing down the hall in dance costumes." (Some celebration!)

Cue-Stick Arms

"What do you like to do?"

"Well," says Bill Sanders, junior pre-dental student, "I like to go out and hunt the ole rats at the city dump. I like to shoot 'em and watch 'em squeal and thrash. There are three kinds of rats. Those that are plain jumpers. Those that are plain squealers, and then there are those that are squealing jumpers."

Right now Bill has an "ace" project up his sleeve. He wants to trade in his "cue stick arms" for a summer pair of 17-inch plastic arms to wear with his alligator shirts from J. C. Penne'.

"I try to hustle all the girls, but I usually end up cloddin' it."

Last year "Ace" was the ping pong champion, but "cruelty joke—I got 'crushed' this year in the first round!"

Some of the things this junior personality enjoys are: tennis, "high pop flies," ping pong, "carry the tray," football, "orange under the arm," throwing rocks, and golf.

The girls at James dorm can usually tell when Bill has been around, as he has a habit of using the "ace" handwriting on any available paper. Bill says, "I could usually 'ace' Dr. J. R. Wiltingham's handwriting on the tests, but I always ended up with an 'L' in the course!"

"Clyd Clodd" is the brain storm of this Kappa Sigma. He signed up Clyde in one of his classes, and the teacher still calls his name on the roll. "O. K."

Out to Lunch

"Out to lunch" is a phrase often used to describe this week's newly turned senior personality, Tanne McDade. In protest she says, "But

ON CAMPUS

By PEGGY LONGINO

Mary Beth Bomar and Sue Howell tell us that they had a great time in Dallas this weekend. Besides taking in the hockey game, they got a look at Jayne Mansfield and her family.

Many thanks to Ben Kinell of Broadmoor for the picture for this column and for the other work he has done for Centenary students.

Congratulations to new Cencoe officers. They are Barbara Hyde, President; Pheribie Monroe, Vice President and Abbie Terry, Secretary.

"Think Pink" were the words Saturday night for a fashion show given for the Cancer fund. Some of the coeds with pink hair modeling in the show were Helen Gulley, Peggy Longino and Winifred Fair. Bobby Holtzclaw also donated his time and talent on the piano.

Although the Pan-Hellenic Retreat was cut short because of rain, there were still a good many sorority members present. Enjoying a rainy Saturday morning were Judy Parker, Penny Hawkins, Marilyn Hendrick, Kay Franz, Carolyn Giles, Jill Landis and Norma Strother. Margaret Reeves took one of the famed "Camp Margaret Mud Beauty Baths" while there.

New Pan-Hellenic officers elected at the retreat are President Gail Delaney; Vice President Jane Ilgenfritz, and Secretary-Treasurer Pheribie Monroe.

You might plan to take in the Miss Shreveport Contest tomorrow night at the Municipal Auditorium. Local campus coeds entered in the contest are Frankie Stokes and Kay Cooper.

Congratulations to two new sets of newlyweds. Pat Chambliss and Jerry Wiggins tied the knot over the weekend, as did Lynda Beauvais and David Jones.

Welcome back to Mr. Bryant

I really do know what's going on!"

Tanne says she got tired of sitting around in the dorm while everyone was madly playing bridge, so "I took a course—How to play bridge in six easy lessons. Now I really do like to play bridge better than anything."

This past summer this senior attended the University of Colorado summer school. She arrived intact, but her clothes didn't get there for three days. (Things weren't easy you know!) "The University of Colorado was quite an experience in itself."

She is a member of Delta Tau Omicron, Chi Omega, and participates in intramural activities. She attended LSU a year and a half before coming to Centenary. Tanne hails from the "thriving metropolis of Belcher, Louisiana."

"Some day I would like to go to Europe and work as a secretary in an embassy or work as a hostess on an ocean liner."

Last year Tanne was the first of the many "eye-blinking" contact lens wearers. Now the "eye-blinking" is gone, but the fad continues.

Right now Tanne is frantically searching for a summer job. If anyone can help her, she says she'd appreciate it.

BSU To Participate In Spring Assembly

The Centenary Baptist Student Union will participate in the Louisiana Baptist Student Spring Assembly to be held April 24-26. The students will co-operate with the leaders of the Louisiana Baptist Convention and the state BSU council in this weekend of fellowship and inspiration. The assembly will be at Dry Creek Encampment, 160 miles south of Shreveport near Deridder, La.

Joy Lambert, president of Centenary Baptist Student Union will be installed as state secretary. Jack Baker will lead the benediction for the Saturday morning session; Jerry Lasiter, Northwestern School of Nursing, will lead the benediction of the Saturday afternoon session. Bob Childress, city-wide director, will lead the seminar for athletic directors.

Everyone is welcome to attend this assembly. Meals, registration, and room will cost approximately $5. Transportation will be provided. For more information contact any BSU member, Bob Childress, or Vernon Cates.

Errors, Base on Balls, Costly to Gent Losses

The Centenary Gentlemen will leave Monday for Fayetteville, Ark., to battle the University of Arkansas "Razorbacks" and attempt to regain a little of the prestige lost this week in battles with SMU in Dallas.

Tuesday the Gentlemen fell victim to the "Mustangs" by the score of 5-2 and accounted for the first loss on the part of Gent ace on the mound Don Stahl. Despite excellent four-hit ball, eight strike outs, and only six walks, the Gents lost the game because of five untimely errors accounting for the winning runs. Only one of the SMU runs was earned.

Ed Monk was the beginning pitcher Monday as the Centenary nine dropped their second game of the season by 6-7 after gathering 11 hits off the SMU pitches. Monk, who had trouble finding the strike zone, walked seven men before Conrad Woolley took over in the sixth frame.

Mustangs Take Lead

Southern Methodist took off to a quick 3-2 lead in the lower half of the first inning when Monk issued four walks and hit one batter while allowing only one hit. The loss was the second one for the season for Monk against one victory.

Big hitters for the Gents were Spanky McCoy, Steve Victory, Monty Montgomery, and Joe Mosher who each collected two hits on batting appearances. Victory scored three of the six Gent runs. McCoy, Billy Eubanks, and Dicky Richards added another each to the scoreboard.

Gents Outhit SMU

On both occasions the Shreveport crew were able to outhit the Mustangs. Monday they collected 11 while SMU only were able to take 5, and Tuesday Stahl allowed only 4 hitters to reach the base. As it all stood, the only trouble with Centenary was too many base-on-balls Monday, and too many errors Tuesday which combined to give the Gents two more losses to their credit.

The Shreveport nine now sports a hearty 8-3 count in team play and will go after another two next week to raise the count to 10-3. The average for the team in batting has risen considerably in the past five games and sports four men above the .300 mark.

After a thoughtful pause, Willie inquired, "Pop, how do you know when you're through?"

'Shafters' Drop K-Sigs, Win Basketball Trophy

Alpha Sigma Chi fought back to win the Basketball Championship game 39-36 in the last minute after trailing Kappa Sigma Fraternity throughout the game. The game, played last week, gave Alpha Sigma Chi first place, Kappa Sigma second, and Methodist Student Movement third place.

Sam Maxey, John Haynes, and Carl Mayhew were the big guns in the winning cause for the "Shafters". For the losers Rod Yeager, Larry McKinstry, Roger Williams, and Jackie Carpenter were tops in scoring.

Alpha Sigma Chi finished the season with the best win-loss record of the season, 7-1. Kappa Sigma follows with 7-2 and M.S.M. rounds out the big leaders at 6-2.

Three Events Yet

Three events are still to be concluded in the next month. They are Badminton, Ping Pong and Softball. Eight teams have entered in the softball race and they include Alpha Sigma Chi, Kappa Sigma, Cossa's Robbers, MSM, Kappa Alpha, Sigma Gamma Epsilon, Royal Knights, and ROTC. Pairing will begin for match play early next week.

At the present, Kappa Sigma leads the race for the sweepstakes trophy with 255 points followed by MSM with 216 and Alpha Sigma Chi with 140. Cossa's Robbers are fourth with 100 and Kappa Alpha fifth with 88.

Advanced ROTC Cadets Promoted

Junior and Sophomore ROTC students began to serve their apprenticeship in new command and staff positions Monday, April 13. Cadet Col. James Durham announced that Cadet Captain Carey L. Davis of Shreveport will serve as Battle Group Commander for the remainder of the school year. Performance of Junior students at summer training camp that will be held at Fort Hood this summer will help determine final positions for next year.

Carpenter Executive Officer

Battle Group Executive officer is William E. Carpenter from Winnsboro, La. Composing the Battle Group staff are the following cadets: S-1 or Adjutant is Coan I. Knight; S-2 or Intelligence Officer is Hoyt "Dug" Duggan; Operations and Training is in the hands of the S-3, David L. Forte, and the S-4 in charge of Supplies is Carson J. Turnage. Charles A. Walker will act as assistant to the Adjutant while Dee W. Akins and Fuller W. Bazer will serve as Assistants to the S-3 and S-4 respectively. David R. Simmons is Battle Group Sergeant Major.

Company Commanders

Assuming command of "A" company is Winston Miller from Marshall, Texas while cadets Robert S. Durham, Bob A. Shaw, and Ralph H. Akin, serve as commanding officers of companies "B", "C", and Headquarters Company respectively.

Executive officers of the companies are cadets Jerry Guinn, Jess M. Covington, Michael W. Eiser and Bobby J. Bellar.

Raised to the position of First Sergeants are Barry Bolack, John W. Green, Ralph A. Mason and William D. Peebles.

Platoon Leaders are Merrill E. Monk, Tommy J. Hadley, James C. Schamerhorn, Bob L. Moore, David L. MacFarlin and George A. Hamilton.

SHREVEPORT, LA.

One of the reasons for the Gent's 8-3 record so far this season is pitcher Conrad Woolley. Woolley, who has the best earned run average for the pitching staff, carried the Gentlemen through a no-hitter early in the season and now has 12 straight no-hit innings to his credit. Monday the Gentlemen will travel to University of Arkansas in Fayetteville to battle the "Razorbacks." (Photo by Bryant)

Maroon Jackets Select Coeds For Membership

Seven sophomore and junior coeds were selected for membership into Maroon Jackets, honorary leadership and service fraternity for women, in a ceremony held yesterday morning at 9:30 a.m. Among those honored were Truly Ann Drake, Linda Frank, Barbara Ann Hyde, Mary Lou Low, Kathy Mack, Carole Ann Solomon, and Dalna Worley.

Mimi Lingenfelter, president of the group, presided over the meeting which featured Dr. Virginia Carlton, head of the mathematical department, as the guest speaker for the morning. Other members on the program were Marcella Flynt, Cornelia Agurs, and Betty McKnight.

5 Campus Beauties In Holiday Contest

Five Centenary students will compete with 47 other candidates for the title of Queen of the "Holiday In Dixie" Contest to be held April 28-May 3. Centenary coeds among the 52 candidates are Ramona Nail, representing the college; Helen Gulley, Marjorie Lyons Playhouse; Judy Lynn Hebert, Alpha Xi Delta; Lyndia Rosett, Zeta Tau Alpha; and Frankie Stokes, Chi Omega.

Activities for the six-day affair will begin with a trip to Hodges Gardens in Many where swimming, boating, water skiing, relaxation, and photographs will fill the first two days of leisure. Bathing suit judging will be done there.

Included in the meeting will be an informal rehearsal-performance with "Miss America" for the guests at the Garden. Eleven other "Queens" will make the trip and parties as visiting "Queens" throughout the tri-state area. Among these will be "Miss Louisiana," "Miss America," and "Miss Dogwood Queen."

Centenary Escorts

On Thursday, April 30 selection will be made of the ten best entrants to perform talent during the actual contest night. Also, that finalists are scheduled to perform and will be followed by the annual "Queen Holiday in Dixie Contest and Dance. Escorts for the dance will be provided by Centenary gentlemen.

Should one of the Centenary Misses win the coveted Queen position, on Friday, May 1, a breakfast will be held at the Downtown Club honoring the Queen, the Princess and the Honor Court. Dr. and Mrs. Joe J. Mickle will honor the Queen and her court with a lunch also that day.

Dance Friday

That night, the Queen and Court will be presented to the Centenary student body at an informal dance held in their honor at the Moore Student Center. The "Tunes," a band from Tech, will perform and Centenary Gentlemen will be escorts for the night.

Other arrangements for the Court and Queen include the Square Dance Festival, several luncheons, breakfast in bed, and finally to be guests of the Kappa Alpha Fraternity Deep South Ball on Saturday, May 2.

Centenary Hosts WRA Weekend

The 14th annual playday of the Louisiana Federation of College Women's Recreation Associations will be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday at Camp Kiwanis, near Alexandria, with Centenary College and Northeast State College of Monroe as host schools.

Attending from Centenary will be Mary Charleville, who is president of the state group, and Pheribie Monroe, secretary. Others from Centenary planning to participate are Sally Clingman, Carol Reichelt, Nicky O'Pry, Mary Lou Low, Kay France, Genevieve Compton, Mary Lou Gassen, Joan Templeton, and Judy Parker.

Accompanying the group will be Miss Mary Estes of the department of physical education and Miss Sandra Simmons, physical education teacher at Linwood Junior High School. Students from all colleges and universities in the state are expected to attend the meet.

Events will include tournaments in volleyball and softball and recreational activities, including swimming, square dancing, ping pong, and badminton. Emphasis will be on participation and fellowship rather than competition.

Cafeteria to Honor Graduating Seniors

Graduating seniors will be honored by a supper in their honor Wednesday, April 29, at 6 p.m. in the college cafeteria, according to Bess Hudgins. The supper will be for all seniors and their guests.

The affair is an annual occasion in the cafeteria for the seniors and will be one of the final get-togethers for the group while in college. Mrs. Hudgins, head of the cafeteria, will be in charge of all arrangements for the gathering.

Secretary of Sigma Tau Delta, English fraternity, Truly Ann Drake is from Maplewood, La. Other honors are membership in Alpha Chi, junior-senior 2.5 scholastic society, and a member of the Conglomerate staff. She is secretary of Hardin Hall Council.

Linda Frank, of Shreveport, is a member of Chi Omega sorority and the Newman club. She has served as vice president of her Junior class, a member of the Conglomerate staff and a participant in intramurals. She is the Pan Hellenic representative for her sorority, Chi Omega.

Barbara Ann Hyde, a member of Zeta Tau Alpha, is a junior from El Dorado, Arkansas. Miss Hyde is a member of the Centenary Choir, the Centenary Band, Centcoe, Alpha Sigma Pi, and Pan-Hellenic. She has served as president of her freshman class. She is active in many campus organizations.

Aufait President

Sophomore representative on the dormitory council, Mary Lou Low, is of Jennings, La., and serves as president of Aufait, independent women's group. She is a member of Student N.E.A. and the Methodist Student Movement. She was recipient of a National Methodist Scholarship last year and serves as Independent representative on the Intramural Council.

Kathy Mack, a sophomore from Port Arthur, Texas is a member of Chi Omega sorority. She has served as vice president of the sophomore class and a member of the Conglomerate staff. She is a member of Alpha Sigma Pi, Alpha Sigma Chi, and the Biology Club.

Zeta Tau Alpha sorority member, Carole Ann Solomon, is a member of both the MSM and Kappa Chi Councils and fellowship teams. She has served on the James Dormitory Council and the Gentlemen's Holiday Committee. Miss Solomon is a member of Alpha Sigma Pi and received an Honor Scholarship for the years 1957-59.

Dalna Worley, of Shreveport, was honored to serve as president of her pledge class, Zeta Tau Alpha sorority. She is a member of the Centenary Choir and treasurer of Phi Beta, music and drama society. She has served as student representative on the Lyceum Committee. Election to the honored Maroon Jackets is considered one of the highest honors which may be received by a coed while in college.

Spring Sing Date Set For Tuesday

Alpha Xi Delta's annual Spring Sing will be held next Tuesday, April 28, at 5:30 p.m. in the Moore Student Center. The student body is invited to attend free of charge.

The Sing will be the final year for competition for the standing trophy which will be retired this year to the entrant

Alpha Xi Banquet Acclaims Founding

The annual Rose Banquet in celebration of Founder's Day was held by the Beta Gamma chapter of Alpha Xi Delta sorority Tuesday night, April 14, at La Sand's Western Hills motel.

The program, with Miss Emma Lou Stewart acting as mistress of ceremonies, was opened with an invocation and toast by Miss Gay McRee. Evening hymns representing the past, present and future were given by Mrs. E. T. Townson, Miss Terry Freeman and Miss Kay France. These were "Well We've Loved Thee in the Past," Sisters Gathered Side by Side," and "Still We'll Love Thee to the Last." Miss Stewart, the retiring president, presented Miss Cornelia Agurs, the new president, with the gavel.

Model Pledge

Miss Nicky O'Pry was named the model pledge for the year and was introduced as an initiate with Miss Judy Hebert and Miss McRee. Miss Sandra Whitlock was introduced as a new pledge, and Mrs. Virginia Snelling as the 1959-60 president of the alumni.

The lives of the 10 founders were given by Miss Victory, Miss Carolyn Giles, Miss Elizabeth Carruth, Miss O'Pry, Miss Nora Bess Stafford, Miss Pheribee Monroe, Miss Agurs, Miss Terry Freeman, Miss Whitlock, Miss Hebert and Miss McRee.

Group singing was under the direction of Miss Terry Freeman.

which has won it for the most times over the past years of the contest.

At the present, Chi Omega, Zeta Tau Alpha, and Methodist Student Movement have each won the contest a year each and will be the only contestants who may be able to win the trophy. MSM won last year on a unique barber shop quartet which sang songs to their best girl friend.

6 Groups Enter

Six teams have entered the contest and will perform Tuesday. They are Zeta Tau Alpha, Chi Omega, Alpha Xi Delta, Kappa Alpha, Kappa Sigma, and Methodist Student Movement.

In addition to the competitive entertainment which will be found Tuesday, Phi Beta and Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia will combine to present a 15-minute skit. They will not compete for the trophy award.

Canterbury Club to Visit Rare Chapel

This Sunday afternoon the Canterbury Club is going to All Saints' Chapel at Stonewall. All Saints' Chapel is a very old and beautiful chapel which was built after the Civil War in 1869. After a service of Choral Evensong the club will have a picnic at the Henry Marshal farm which is located near the chapel.

The group will meet in front of the Religious Building at 4:30 Sunday afternoon. Transportation will be provided for those who need it. All students are invited.

Profs Not Eggheads

The faculty of Centenary disproved the traditional egghead concept last Friday night with the Faculty skit. How many times has the comment been made that all a teacher can do is teach; this was definitely disproved with the diversified talent which was displayed in the show.

One would expect that such a program would be slightly funny but mostly very corny and boring. Actually much originality and some very good talent was displayed in the performance. The show took on an air of subtle humor in that each faculty member was portrayed as he actually is. With the usual eccentricity of college professors this makes for a very amusing show.

The show proved to be one laugh right after another. It became especially humorous when one is familiar with the individual personalities of the faculty members. Students have always imitated and laughed at the quirks in the personalities of the faculty, but this is one of the first times the faculty have ever made fun of themselves before the student body. It takes courage to look at yourself as you really are. It takes even more to allow others to see you as you are —Jerry Winterrowd

Student Body Election Notice

Petitions for nomination to Student Body Officer elections must be turned in to Dean Hickcox's office by next Monday, April 27, at 4 p.m. Also, Monday is the deadline for platforms and pictures to be turned in to the Conglomerate for publication in the Friday, May 1, issue. Each candidate will be responsible for making sure that a suitable picture is presented to the Editor's office before Tuesday, May 2.

'Miss America' To Dine With 9 Coeds

Nine Centenary coeds will attend a banquet given in honor of Miss Mary Beth Mobeley, the reigning Miss America for 1960, at the East Ridge Country Club Monday, April 27.

Miss America will be in Shreveport in order to attend the annual Miss Bienville parade and contest in Bienville that night. She is being brought by the Bienville Chamber of Commerce and after that city's contest will return to Shreveport for the Holiday in Dixie celebration.

Miss America, a Chi Omega from Mississippi, is being joined at the banquet by many of her Shreveport sorority sisters. Centenary coeds attending will be Mary Beth Bomar, president of the campus chapter; Catherine Chesney, Ginny Emerson, Judy Meredith, Norma Strother, Betty Schmitt, Frankie Stokes, a contestant in the recent Miss Shreveport contest; Kay Cooper, second runner-up in the Miss Shreveport contest; and Helen Gully, the previous Miss Shreveport.

Chi Omegas Go To State Celebration

Ten Centenary coeds will attend a state-wide Spring Eleusinian on the Louisiana State University campus tomorrow and Sunday for Chi Omega activities and alumni of Louisiana. This is the first year

Pheribee Monroe Takes WRA Post

Pheribee Monroe, Alpha Xi Delta, was elected president of the Women's Recreation Association for the coming year in an election Tuesday, April 21. Other officers elected to serve with Miss Monroe are Mary Lou Lowe, vice president; Margie Brothers, secretary; Ann Hardtner, treasurer; and Carol Tyler, reporter.

The WRA was established on campus for the first time this semester and will regulate and supervise the women's intramural activities. The officers will all perform the duties synonymous with their positions with the addition that the treasurer will also keep a record of the point system for the determination of the sweepstakes winner.

Others running in the election were Judy Parker, president; Jackie Ott, vice president; and Kay France, treasurer. The coeds were elected in an all-woman vote in which anyone who has participated in at least one intramural game was eligible.

for Louisiana to have the state-wide celebration and it will be attended by sorority sisters from McNeese State College, Louisiana State University, Sophie Newcombe and Centenary.

Kay Cooper Wins Runner-up Position

Miss Kay Cooper, of Sulphur, was judged second runner-up in the Miss Shreveport contest Saturday, April 18. The contest was sponsored by the Lowe-McFarlane Post, Number 14, of the American Legion and the Ladies of the Auxiliary in the Municipal Auditorium. The program was directed by Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gifford with Al Hart serving as Master of Ceremonies and music furnished by Eddie Kozak and his orchestra.

Miss Cooper sang "Wouldn't It Be Lovely?" and "I Could Have Danced All Night" from the musical, "My Fair Lady." Her prizes include a gift certificate from Security Jewelers; a modeling course from John Robert Powers School and a dress from Rivet's. For being one of the five finalists, Miss Cooper also received a bouquet of red roses from Broadmoor Florists.

A freshman at Centenary, Miss Cooper has been elected one of this year's beauties in the annual Yoncopin contest, an ROTC sponsor, and is a member of Alpha Sigma Pi, freshman honor society, the Centenary Choir and Chi Omega sorority.

Centenary was further represented in the contest by Miss Frankie Stokes, who sang "I'm in Love with a Wonderful Guy" as her talent. Miss Helen Gully, the previous Miss Shreveport, opened the contest with her rendition of "I Enjoy Being a Girl." Jerry Jouett danced on the program in several numbers from "Annie Get Your Gun."

McKnight Given Summer Stipend

Miss Betty McKnight, assistant professor of Mathematics, has received a grant to attend the Summer Institute for Collegiate Teachers of Mathematics at Montana State University. The institute will take place from June 9 to August 7 on the campus in Missoula, Mont.

A stipend of $530 will be given Miss McKnight to cover tuition and travel expenses. The National Science Foundation is sponsoring and financing the program. Purpose of the institute is to improve the quality of collegiate undergraduate instruction in mathematics by giving teachers an opportunity to meet outstanding mathematicians and to attend their lectures.

Publications Offer Positions on Staffs

Students desiring a position on the Yearbook or Newspaper staff for the coming year are asked to contact either the editors of the respective publications or Mrs. Margaret MacDonald, news bureau director, within the next two weeks. Announcement of the positions will be made at a later date.

Positions are open for Editorship on either The Conglomerate or The Yoncopin as well as many other staff positions. Applicants for positions on the Conglomerate are advised to help with publication of the last three issues in order to obtain practice before the year is out.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"Hey Dr. Willingham—I hear ya finally gave up trying to keep the lights turned on at the 'Four Freshmen' Dance Wednesday nite."

'59-60 Catalogues List New Changes

Centenary College Catalogues for the coming 1959-60 year are now available to the student body and include several changes, according to Dean Leroy Vogel. Listed in the catalogues are the courses offered for the coming year, recommended curriculum to be followed for a major, and expenses for the term.

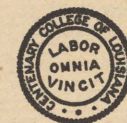

Included in the changes will be a raise in the Girl's dormitory fee to $90.00 per semester and a raise in the Cafeteria meal tickets to $215.00 per semester. Summer Meal tickets will cost $90.00. There is no planned increase in the tuition fee for the term which will stand at $225.00 for 16 semester hours credit.

Dr. Ford to Speak For 'Family Night'

Dr. E. L. Ford, head of the department of Modern Languages, will be guest speaker Monday at the weekly "Family Night" program at the Broadmoor Methodist Church.

Dr. Ford, who made an extended tour of Africa last summer, will speak on the topic, "A Continent in Turmoil," and will show colored slides taken on the trip. The meeting will begin at 6 p.m.

The Rev. George Harbuck, a graduate of Centenary, is pastor of the church. The Rev. R. Leonard Cooke, vice president of Centenary and former pastor of the Broadmoor church, completed arrangements for the program.

Basketball Schedule
Lists 22 Opponents

Gent Record Stands 9-4
After Split At Arkansas

Twenty-two opponets are listed on the 1959-60 schedule of games to be played next year by the Gents as they begin their second year bid for acceptance into the University Division of NCAA basketball.

Listed in the schedule are such teams as Rice, Tulane, De-Pauw University, Arkansas Univer- sity, Florida State, University of Richmond, and Springhill.

Games will begin on December 1 with Texas A & M and will include some of the same teams met this year—Loyola, Oklahoma City, Mis- sissippi Southern, and Hardin Sim- mons.

Pine Cone Rivals
Old rivals of the "Pine Cone" circuit will remain on the schedule despite the advance into Uni- versity Division. These include Northwestern State College and Louisiana Tech. All other teams are in the University bracket and will be a judge of Centenary's chances for acceptance next year.

Included in the listing of games will be the Gulf South Classic which will meet here in Shreveport Dec. 28-30 at the Youth Center. Cen- tenary took a third place in that affair last year.

The Centenary Gents split their two games with the University of Arkansas this week as they won the first 6-0 and lost the second 6-5 in extra innings. Don Stahl, who went all the way in the opener, suffered his second loss Tuesday as he came into the game in the eventh inning with the score tied 4-4.

Two runs in the bottom of the eighth allowed the Razorbacks to edge the Gentlemen

Love Tops

Despite the loss, several men were standouts in the hitting de- partment. James Rhea Love, who has charged steadily up in the past few weeks, got 3-for-3 and added 2 runs for the Gents. Montgomery was 2-for-4 with 1 run and Spanky McCoy was 1-for-3 and gathered 2 runs also. Hitting for the Gents was held to 7 hits accounting for 5 runs.

For Stahl, Monday was the day as he pitched a masterful three- hitter to carry the Gents pass the Razorbacks by the count 6-0. Hail, rainstorm, and 40-degree weather did not hamper this southpaw as he struck out 7 men before the plate, and allowed only 1 walk.

Montgomery Hits

Monty Montgomery smashed the hitting department with 3-for-3. Mc- Coy and Joe Mosher each added another 2 hits and a run apiece. Love, Jarrell, Richards, and Mason also collected 1 hit in the winning cause for a total of 11 hits on 33 at-bats for the team accounting for 6 runs.

Centenary began the scoring early in the first inning with two runs on a McCoy single, a James Rhea Love walk, and a Victory bunt which shoved them down. Then Montgomery singled McCoy across and Love scored on a double steal.

In the ninth four more runs clat- tered across. Montgomery, Mos- her and Jarrell connected with con- secutive singles and Dickie Richard blasted a long triple down the right field line. Mason singled Richard home.

Why did
14,436
sophomores enter advanced
during 1958?

Many more applied. Not all were accepted. In more than 200 U. S. colleges, 14,436 college sophomores met the high standards set. These students were selected to continue officer training in the advanced R.O.T.C. course. Why did each of these young men decide that he would benefit by fulfilling his military obligation as an Army officer? Here are two important reasons. Perhaps they'll help you make your decision.

1...TRADITIONAL RESPONSIBILITIES

As an Army officer, you're in command of men. More men than the number supervised by many civilian executives years older than yourself. To meet your command responsibilities, you employ a great many of the LEADERSHIP principles acquired in advanced R.O.T.C. training. And your executive potential develops while you gather LEADERSHIP experience. The executive ability you gain as an Army officer will be an important advantage in any civilian career. That's why employment directors often prefer men who have served as commissioned officers. These men have already proven their capacity to handle executive responsibility.

2...TRADITIONAL REWARDS

In every organization, greater responsibilities mean greater rewards. The traditional prestige of an Army officer is matched by material advantages. A second lieutenant earns a minimum of $355.88 per month—plus substantial fringe benefits. Think you might want to marry soon after graduation? An officer's salary can make things a great deal easier for a married couple just starting out. What's more, an Army officer is entitled to take his dependents with him, wherever possible. Imagine sharing the fun of travel with your wife—in the United States or foreign countries like France, Germany or Japan.

SOPHOMORES: Are you considering whether to apply for advanced Army R.O.T.C.? Why not discuss your decision with the Professor of Military Science and Tactics at your college? He'll be glad to talk it over with you.

Racketeers Romp
To NSC Victory

Centenary College's tennis team romped to its fifth straight victory of the season Saturday as the Gentlemen defeated Northwestern State College, 6-0, on the Gent courts.

Arnold McHone, Henry Nicholson, Jerry Jouette, and Winston Miller all combined with a win each individually and a pair of doubles to drop the Demons, 6-0.

Meet Summary

Arnold McHone (C) defeated "Boo" Thompson (N) 10-8, 6-0.

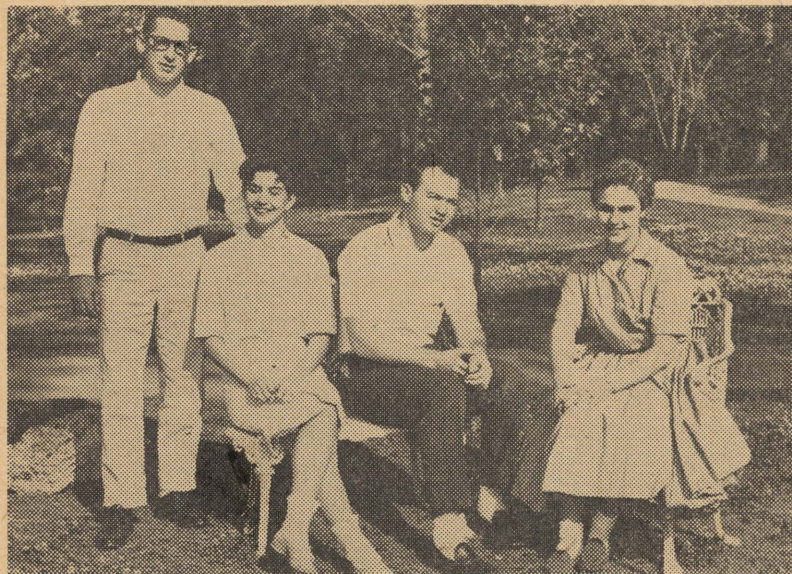

Henry Nicholson (C) defeated Wade Parsons (N) 6-0, 6-4.

Jerry Jouett (C) defeated Charles Bice (N) 6-1, 6-1.

Winston Miller (C) defeated Bill Chamberlin (N) 6-3, 6-1.

Nicholson-Miller (C) defeated Chamberlin-Parsons (N) 6-1, 6-1.

McHone-Jouett (C) defeated Thompson-Bice (N) 6-4, 6-2.

Snakes, Mirages Seem To Preplex Personalities

By Linda Frank

Hailing from De Ridder, Louisiana but wishing to go to Africa is sophomore student George LeRay.

"Hog Jaws," co-called by a few, is majoring in "pre-science." "I'm still undecided as to whether it will be pharmacy, dentistry or medicine."

In his spare time George likes to fool around with bull whips. He gained this interest in a rather strange manner. While attending a camp, some man taught him to use one. "He was trying to take the cap off a 7-Up bottle which I was holding, and he misd."

George has an unusual experience when he went fishing with two of his friends. They got out in the middle of the lake and suddenly discovered that there were two water mocassins in the boat. So what did they do? "We jumped out of the boat and pulled the snakes in the boat behind us!"

This summer this sophomore plans to life-guard at the Shreveport Country Club. He is a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity and plays sports set up by the intramural program.

Once when George and his friends were exposing their talent of making flag poles, the block and tackle fell off the top of the pole and "clipped me on the face. If it had hit me squarely in the face, it would have killed me." (Need we say more?)

Mirage

"Once I got stuck in a desert (Arizona) in an overturned car for eight hours," says Dick Morehead, junior personality. "You see, it was this way—there was this chick—and then there was this Arab going across the road, and—"

Dick says he has "a constant eye out for something tall and cool, or it could be short and cool, or it could be short and hot, or . . ."

Once Dick played the guitar on the Louisiana Hayride. His main interest is music. He plays the guitar and drums, "but there's no money in it."

Pistols, gambling, "greens," and water-skiing are some of his interests.

At the present time Dick is majoring in psychology and says, "I'm going to further to get my masters degree, I'm sure." When asked how he became interested in this field, he answered "Due to counseling my firends over the years . . ."

One semester Dick played around, went to all the islands, surf-boarded, body surfed, and was active in many extra-curricular activities. Where? At the University of Hawaii.

Corvette Girl

"When I first came to school, no one knew my name. All they knew was 'she's the girl with the Corvette,'" says Marilyn Hendrick, freshman Zeta Tau Alpha pledge.

Through an interest cultivated by her mother, Marilyn rides five-gaited show horses in horse shows and has taken several honors in these events.

Swimming, playing bridge, horseback riding, water-skiing, and playing badminton are a few of this freshman's interests.

When asked about her most unusual experiences, Marilyn stated two: "Going with Dick," and "going snow skiing in Sun Valley for the past two years." While at Sun Valley, she not only enjoyed the winter sports, but also met Gary Cooper and Ernest Hemingway.

Tombstone Cleaners

"The Snake Charmer," Judy Meredith caused a near riot in the girls' dorm last week. Judy had been insect hunting and had caught a snake. "I just brought it up to the room to scare a few people. I left him on my desk, and when I came back he was gone!" After many cries of alarm, "I found him in the hall two days later." (Snake in the woodpile.)

Later that week Judy just couldn't understand why someone left a Dennis the Menace comic in her room which read, "But, Mom, where else would you keep a snake but in the bath tub!"

Judy also has the nickname of "Motor Mouth" because she talks so much and so fast, so her friends claim.

Judy is a member of BSU, Chi Omega, and plays intramural sports. She also enjoys tennis, swimming, dog and horse races, water-skiing, and at present is making an attempt to learn to play bridge. But says a close friend, "Judy has no spare time as she's in Dr. R. K. Spears botany class!"

ON CAMPUS

By PEGGY LONGINO

Congratulations to new Women's Recreation Association officers. They are: President, Pheribee Monroe; Vice President, Mary Lou Low; Secretary, Marjorie Brothers; Treasurer, Ann Hartner, and Reporter, Carol Tyler.

Marcella Flynt had a special visitor from Arkansas State last weekend. Even the rain didn't seem to dampen the couple's spirits.

There were several Centenary students who helped to make the Miss Shreveport Contest a great success Saturday night. Contestants Frankie Stokes and Kay Cooper contributed both talent and beauty, and we find Kay named second runner-up to Jerry Williams, new Miss Shreveport. Helen Guley deserves a hand for the wonderful job she's done in her role as Miss Shreveport this year. And what would we have done without prop movers Jim Daigle and Dave Calhoun. John Williams was one of the escorts for the contestants and Jerry Jouett helped entertain in several musical numbers.

Thursday morning dawned a b-a-d day at Centenary. Dreams of The Four Freshmen were still running through the heads of quite a few students. Some of those enjoying the dance were Mary Lou Gassen and Fred Willis, Nancy White and Pete Boggs, Austin Sartin and Tanne McDade, Winifred Fair and Francis Kelker, Margaret Reeves and Leon Bain, and Pat Burns and Roger Williams.

T. Tom Wilkinson has one big long birthday party all week. The Kappa Sigmas surprised their sweetheart T. Tom with a party Monday night. Joining in the surprise were Gaynelle Morgan, Linda Frank, Bo Robertson, Warren West, Larry McKinstry, Frankie Stokes and Wayne Stoddard.

Another surprise birthday party was given last week by Jay Lang, Butch Franklin, Lynda Rosett and Don Tyler for Dollie Miller.

Ruston was the scene of a dance played for by Stan Kenton, last week, which Pat Tucker and Jim Riley attended. Tommy Hickey was headed over Dallas way to spend the weekend as Bob Murray's house guest. We also found Sallie Sentell in Dallas last weekend.

Jack Mulkey and Joan Templeton headed down New Orleans way, with Joan stopping at LSU to attend the Military Ball. Jack went on to a sorority formal at Loyola.

Currently having a good time at the Fiesta in San Antonio is Di-anne Holloway.

PR's Will March In Beauty Parade

On Tuesday, April 28, Centenary College's ROTC drill team will participate in the Miss Bienville Parish Parade in Arcadia, Louisiana. Featured in the parade will be Miss America. The parade is held as part of the Miss Bienville Parish Beauty Contest. This year is the second straight year that the company has represented Centenary in the event. The unit, under the command of Cadet Captain James M. Durham, will feature a number of movements that are rarely used in street parades.

16 Announce Candidancies For Student Body Offices

Sixteen students have announced that they are candidates for Student Body Offices. They will deliver their campaign speeches Tuesday, May 5, at an assembly in the gymnasium. The election will be held Wednesday, May 6, with run-offs on Friday, May 8.

Yoncopin Yearbook Distribution Begins

By Bobby Holtzclaw

The 1959 Yoncopins were published by the Yoncopin Publishing Company in Dallas. The Yoncopin Office, Room 204 continues through next week.

Before you are eligible to receive your Yoncopin, you must have paid your school bill in full for the current semester. The Business Office has presented the staff with a list of those eligible to receive the books and your name must be on the list before your book will be issued. Those who have been at Centenary for only one semester are entitled to a book by paying $2.75 at the Business Office and presenting the receipt at the Yoncopin Office.

Schedule Given

The schedule for issuing is as follows:

Friday, May 1..... 8:30-3:00
Monday, May 4..... 8:30-3:00
Tuesday, May 5..... 8:30-3:00
Wednesday, May 6..... 8:30-3:00

You may get your copy only during these hours.

The editors and staff wish once again to extend their special appreciation to those individuals and groups who unselfishly donated their talents and time to the book, though they had no official capacity on the staff. We wish especially to thank Mr. Carl Wilkinson and Mr. John McCook of the Administration for their invaluable aid in ironing out the financial problems involved in creating the book and to thank received Monday from Taylor Distribution began yesterday in the Student Center, and will the staff of the Symphony House for their hospitality and cooperation.

We hope you enjoy your Yoncopin. We enjoyed preparing it for you and we are proud of the results. As in any publication of this type, there are a few typographical errors. Please overlook these and examine the finer points of the book. We sincerely apologize if there is anything to offend anyone in the material we covered and the manner in which we covered it. We placed every picture in the book that was returned to us by our photographer. If, by some mistake, someone has been overlooked, we are very sorry, but it results from one of two things: either you did not cooperate by having your picture made, or there was some mistake made by the photographer in returning the pictures.

After you have received your book, your comments will be appreciated so we may pass them on in the way of suggestions to next year's editors and staff that they may avoid a few of the mistakes we have made and profit by some of our good points.

WEEKLY CALENDAR

Friday, May 1:

- "Holiday In Dixie" Dance in Student Center at 9:00 p. m. with "The Tunes" from Tech. Free of Charge.
- Baseball game with Centenary and Northeast at baseball field beginning at 1:30 p. m.

Saturday, May 2:

Wednesday, May 6:

- Student Body Election Voting in Moore Student Center at 9:30 a. m. until 2 p. m.
- Run-offs Friday.

Jackie Carpenter, a junior from Winnsboro, and "Dub" Fletcher, a junior from DeRidder, are the candidates for President of the Student Body.

Candidates for the office of Vice-President are Fred Willis, a senior from Coushatta, and Buddy Daily, a sophomore from Shreveport.

Coed Nominees

For Secretary, Penny Hawkins, a junior from Shreveport; Vicki Grigsby, a sophomore from Shreveport; and Connie Gathright, a junior from El Dorado, are the co-eds in the race.

Representatives

Independent Representatives will be chosen from Mary Lou Low, a sophomore from Jennings, and Bessie Ruth Risinger, a junior from Welch. Harold Price will gain the male post automatically with no competition there.

Pictures, platforms, overall grade average and qualifications of the candidates may be found throughout the paper.

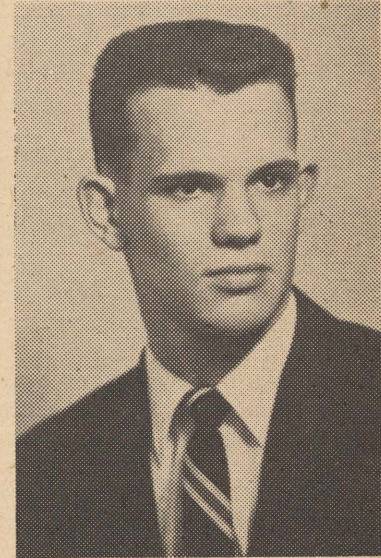

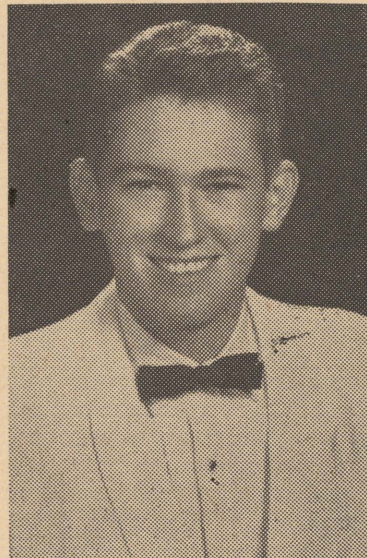

Publicity for the election may be put anywhere on campus except in classrooms and in or on the Moore Student Center. No costumes, loudspeakers or stunts will be allowed on any day other than Founder's Day.

Absentee ballots will be accepted only if cast in the Dean of Students' office in writing before the day of the election.

Bilyeu To Serve As Music Group Head

Canny Bilyeu will serve as president of Eta Upsilon Chapter of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia next year. Other officers elected were Willie Andress, alumni secretary; H. C. Alford, vice-president; Don Tyler, secretary; Fred Schwendimann, treasurer; Beal Thomas, historian; and James Riley, warden. Joseph Running will serve as faculty adviser for the group and William Teague is the official organist.

These officers were elected at a regular meeting, Wednesday, April 22, in which the retiring president, Willie Andress, presided. They will take office at the end of the school year and will maintain these positions through the coming year.

Jackie Carpenter and Dub Fletcher, both junior English Majors, have entered the race for President of the Centenary Student Body for the coming year 1959-60. Along with them some 14 other students gave their bid for Student Senate posts. Election will be held in the Moore Student Center 9:30-2:00 p. m. Wednesday, May 6. Campaign speeches will be given Tuesday, May 5, in the Gymnasium.

Kappa Sigma Places First In Spring Sing

Members of the Kappa Sigma Fraternity sang three songs from the musical hit "South Pacific" to gain first place in the annual Alpha Xi Delta Spring Sing Tuesday evening. Zeta Tau Alpha was runner-up in second place and Chi Omega third. Past winners include Zeta Tau Alpha, Chi Omega, and MSM.

Included in the program for the Kappa Sigs were spot solos from the three songs "Bloody Mary," "My Girl Back Home," and "Nothing But A Dame." Fred Schwendimann, Master-of-Ceremonies for the group, was the featured soloist for the evening as he told of his blue-eyed gal back home. Others featured were Tim Temple, Billy Pat Tipton, Terry Roark, Don Tyler, Buddy Graham, and Bobby Holtzclaw.

Zeta Tau Second

Zeta Tau Alpha sorority took second place honors as they sang a group of songs from the Academy Award winning movie "Gigi." Ann DeShazo was the featured soloist for the ten-minute program which centered around Paris and the young girl in Spring.

"Singing In the Rain," the theme of Chi Omega, gained them the third place honor. Jeanne Kelso was highlighted with her rendition of "Over the Rainbow." Others featured were Jill Landis, Linda Byrd, and Margaret Powell.

Others Participate

Other entrants in the annual affair were Alpha Xi Delta and Kappa Alpha. Alpha Xi sang a group of songs from the musical "Seventeen." The KA's featured Dave Mills and Howard Collins in a duet about the "Green Grass which grew all around." Other songs included were "Going Home" and one of the Kappa Alpha fraternity songs.

Judging for the Spring Sing were Mr. and Mrs. Willard Cooper and Leslie Burris. Another event of the evening was Kay Cooper, Diane Holloway, Don Tyler, and Jay Koonce giving their arrangement of "Chopsticks" at the piano.

Bryant Art Exhibit Includes 40 Works

Billy Joe Bryant, senior art student, is showing a one-man art exhibit in the Moore Student Center through Friday, May 15. The exhibit includes some forty works, among which are one wood carving, two etchings, one block print, about 20 oil paintings and a number of watercolors.

One work of particular interest, an oil painting entitled "Retrospection," won first prize last year at the annual sidewalk art show held in connection with the Holiday in Dixie spring festival. Other specific works included in the exhibit are portraits of the late Don Brown, of a number of Centenary students and of Jean Despujols, Shreveport artist.

Currently studying under Willard Cooper, head of the art department, Bryant previously studied art under local artists and high school instructors, as well as Don Brown, head of Centenary's art department for many years.

NEA Elects Hengy As New President

The National Education Association has elected Zina Hengy, Shreveport, president for the forthcoming school year.

Patricia Owens, Shreveport, was chosen vice-president, and Connie Gathright, El Dorado, Ark., was elected secretary. Tim Temple of Leesville and Beverly Wingo of Wills Point, Tex., were elected treasurer and reporter and publicity chairman, respectively.

Dr. A. J. Middlebooks, acting head of the Education Department, is faculty sponsor of the group.

PR Unit Marches In 'Holiday' Parade

The Pershing Rifles drill team will form the honor guard for the King and Queen of the Holiday in Dixie in the parade in downtown Shreveport tonight. The unit will immediately precede the Queen's float during the course of the parade. This year will be the first year that the Centenary unit has participated in this parade; it marched in the Parade of Schools last year.

This parade will be the last parade of the year for the drill team. On Tuesday, April 28, the Pershing Rifles marched in the Miss Bienville Parish Parade in Arcadia, featuring Miss America. Previous to that parade the unit marched in the State Fair Parade and the Miss Shreveport Parade, in the Natchitoches Christmas Festival, and in two Mardi Gras parades held in New Orleans.

Holiday Success Important

Next Tuesday, May 5, the Annual Founder's Day Celebration will be held on campus and will appear as an all-day celebration of the College's Founding. No classes will be held throughout the day, however, students are requested to attend all activities.

Dean Leroy Vogel has stated that the holiday will be removed from the college calendar next year unless the affair is a definite success. (A definite success means attendance by the majority of the student body.) Only in the case that 400 to 500 students attend the assembly and noon lunch will the celebration be allowed next year.

Most of the interested students will agree that the holiday is a definite addition to campus life, and places a particular emphasis on Student Body elections which is necessary and important. But the removal of Founder's Day will depend on we—the student body—and how well we show our interest.

Activities for the day will include Student Body candidate speeches, a noon-day luncheon on the ground, field activities, and cimaxed with a dance band in the Moore Student Center. Surely, such an engagement should be appreciated on the students' part and approval shown by full attendance!

Remember, too, one of the more important factors in judging your choice for Student Body officers—their speeches—will be given that morning. Again, let us show our honesty to ourselves by choosing wisely our officers. Judge them on their efforts in the past to help the student body; their apparent abilities and qualifications. Make your choice of the one who you feel best deserves and qualifies for a good strong Student Senate next year.

Vice-President Platforms

1. Stimulate more student interest in school dances and other functions.
2. Better relations among student groups, fraternities and sororities.
3. Continued good government.
4. Student fair should be continued and appropriate name designated for it.
5. Bring back Gentlemen's Holiday.

Qualifications: Kappa Alpha, Sophomore Class Treasurer.

Each year candidates submit platforms to be published in this issue of the Conglomerate, platforms filled with detailed and glowing promises which the candidates "pledge" themselves to fulfill. And every year after the elections the promises remain in the Conglomerate files until the next election. All of the candidates for the various offices are more or less qualified or they wouldn't be running.

In the coming year I would like to see a continuation of voting machines in major school elections—as promised last year. Use of them this year has shown that they promote honesty, efficiency, and speed. Then too, new voting lists in the Spring semester would assure each regularly enrolled student his right to vote. Greater emphasis on Gentlemen's Holiday, with possible inclusion of a Name Band Dance, would start the basketball season off right.

These things I can work for, but not promise. All I can promise with assurance is to work as hard and efficiently as possible to carry out my responsibilities as a Student Senate officer with the good of the Whole Student Body in mind.

Carpenter's Platform

Probably the most used phrases you will hear in this campaign will be those about "school spirit" and "participation." This is right and good, because the general problem of "school spirit" is the most important one facing the Student Senate each year.

Considering the number of students, particularly town students who often do not take part in activities on the campus, candidates are right in being concerned about "participation." But is this situation entirely the fault of the students or of the type of activity they are being offered?

"School spirit" cannot be forced on students; you cannot legislate "participation" any more than you can legislate good grades, or morality, or broad-mindedness. The best way to bring any group of people together is to have fun together. This just might help bring about another election-campaign cliché, the so-called "peace and harmony" between different groups.

So, since it seems to be fashionable to take a stand (even an uncontroversial one), I stand solidly for Gentlemen's Holiday, A Big Name Band, the Student Fair—anything that will bring people together in a genuine good time. What could be more uncontroversial?

Overall Grade Average: 1.967

Fletcher's Platform

My name is "Dub" Fletcher. I am a candidate for President of the Student Senate. I can not expect to express the whole of my thought on student government, but I do hope to illustrate to you some of the things which I will seek to achieve if elected to this honor.

One of my primary concerns is with student participation. I have heard a number of people state what a shame it is that no more of the students participate in activities than do, but I have seen no real effort to bring these students into the activities.

Another of my primary concerns is with the effectiveness of our publicity. An activity which has been planned for months may never have been heard of by the student. The Conglomerate has tried to publicize all the events. Additional publicity has been used. A proposed calendar might be added, which would help too. But something more needs to be done.

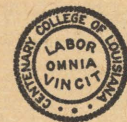

I am also concerned with the relationships of one organization to another. An excellent example is this election itself. Numbers of things are talked over and over talked. Each organization hears glimpses of what the "other half" is doing, but no one really sees the whole picture. No one is able, at any time during the year, to talk over problems which are of vital concern to the organizations themselves and to the effective functioning of a student senate.

I think that a committee needs to be formed, composed of one member from each organization. I think that this committee needs to discuss openly the conflicts, the problems, etc., of all school functions. Then suggestions can be made to overcome these problems. Then every organization can feel a part of the activities and can know what is going on. Then, not only suggestions, but the fulfillment and execution of these plans can be made easier and more efficient.

A successful Student Senate depends largely upon the leadership, enthusiasm, and cooperation of its members. If chosen Secretary of the Senate, I will conscientiously strive not only to perform the duties of Secretary, but also the responsible role of a Senate member.

School spirit on Centenary's campus is of major concern. Suggestions promoting this spirit should be centralized around the new Student Center with such projects as movies each Friday night, pep rallies, sponsored skits, and sock hops.

A well-constructed bulletin board placed outside the Student Center not only would inform students about campus events, but it would also serve as the official school calendar.

We, as the student body, can do something about walking around in the mud all winter. Through the Student Senate, petitions for sidewalks can be directed to the proper channels. With sincere effort, we can get new sidewalks.

Foremost, however, as Secretary I would try to be an integral member of the Senate whose purpose is to make decisions based on the wishes of the students.

Fellow student of Centenary College, first, as you know, it is rather difficult to submit before you a platform without the inevitable promises. I should not attempt to promise you something of which I do not believe myself capable; however, if elected to the post of secretary of the Student Senate, I shall attend all meetings of the Student Senate, compile full and accurate accounts of the proceedings therein, and report these minutes dutifully to the campus newspaper. I also shall write, to the best of my ability, the correspondence which is necessary for the secretary to keep. I shall adhere to the rulings of the Student Senate and shall attempt to encourage my classmates to do the same. I should like to have a leading part in and to encourage a closer comradeship among diverse groups on the campus. I realize that better relationships between Greeks and non-Greeks should be encouraged and promoted, and I should like to be a part of a movement to attain these better relations. If you, the student body, should believe me to be capable of these duties, I shall do my very best to serve you and our college as secretary of the Student Senate.

Overall Grade Average: 1.154

It is my desire if elected to the office of Secretary of the Student Senate to contribute toward making the Senate a generating force which will be capable of developing those much-talked about qualities, "the spirit of cooperation and unity."

I believe that there are several steps which can bring us closer to these goals. The first is the Senate's assumption of the responsibility to encourage greater participation in campus-sponsored projects. The establishment of a permanent school calendar in a frequently passed location would stimulate the interest of the student body and raise participation in social, cultural and sports events and elections.

This spirit of unity can further be achieved by bringing together the interests of all campus organizations. The means to this end are joint-sponsored projects and emphasizing the support of one another's projects.

If elected to the position of Secretary, I will devote all of my interest, time and efforts to the promotion of this spirit and to keeping informed of the wishes of the students so that I may truly represent all of them.

As Co-Ed Vice-President of the Student Senate my goal, of course, would be to perform the duties of the office to the best of my ability. The Co-Ed Vice-President is the official hostess for all student body activities, and she also informs Senate members of meetings. As a Senate member I would want to keep myself well informed on campus affairs and take an active part in Senate projects. As a member of the student body I want to be able to see beyond my personal interests and be genuinely concerned with the good of the school. I cannot offer a "plan" as such to improve things at Centenary; I think that changes for the better on this campus will come when the individual students find a loyalty to the school, and that is something that can neither be given to nor forced on anyone. The best I know to do is to try to develop that loyalty in myself.

The Student Senate has made great progress during this past year. Many of the complaints made against the Senate this time last year do not hold true today. One such complaint made was the manner in which Kangaroo Kourt was held. This year the Kourt did more to unite the student body than it has done in previous years.

Activities of this type are beneficial to the school and to the student. If I am re-elected to membership on the Senate, I shall strive to promote such activities which will have as their by-product school spirit.

The experience of this past year of work on the Senate has influenced my thoughts concerning the usefulness of the Senate. Much work needs to be done by the Senate to let the student body know that it is capable of handling more projects which will include the entire student body. Projects such as the Student Fair, informal dances held each week, talent show, and faculty show which will help the Senate assume this position of leadership should be promoted.

No one should ever promise to promote school spirit, to strengthen the relationships between organizations or to better the cooperation of organizations for all of these depend on the students and on no one person. However, if I am re-elected to the Student Senate, I will endeavor to promote opportunities for school-wide participation which will have as their by-product the better unification of the students.

—Mary Lou Gassen

If I am elected Vice-President of the Student Senate, I shall attempt to put into effect the following points of my platform:

1. I shall devote my energies to further strengthen Student government. I shall aim for more representative government by welcoming suggestions from any member of the student body concerning objectives which he feels the Student Senate should consider.

2. I shall attempt to improve voting participation among the student body.

3. I shall encourage more activities like the Student Fair, which was of interest to the whole student body rather than just a few campus groups.

4. I shall try to encourage school spirit regarding the basketball and baseball games, and I shall try to further student attendance.

I sincerely feel that I would be able to fulfill the above platform which I have devised after hearing fellow students' suggestions on better student government. Because of offices held in other campus organizations, I feel that I am well qualified to assume the duties of this office.

Is Jim Daigle a conservative? No! There has been a spirit of mediocrity at Centenary which is doing nothing but lowering the level of school spirit. Everyone agrees with this, and everyone will agree that something ought to be done in a positive way to rid this campus of this binding, conservative attitude.

I hope that by serving you as your Student Body Treasurer that I will have the opportunity to pledge all my efforts and enthusiasms to the following:

1. Make the Student Fair an annual thing; enlarging it in spirit and size.
2. Bring in a name band as an annual affair for the student body.
3. Have skits and pep rallies on Tuesday mornings to increase school spirit and their backing of the basketball team.
4. To better orientation day by setting up activity booths in the Student Center to allow Freshman to have a better opportunity to become affiliated with some extra-curricular activities, and in this way the town students would also be able to enter more readily into the spirit of Centenary.
5. Encouragement of liberal arts honor fraternities in such fields as philosophy, drama, and history.

These are just a few of the many things I would like to see done. With my one year service on the Senate already, I hope this experience will allow me to serve you in an efficient and positive way.

Although running for Student Senate Treasurer, I can say little about finance for I understand that the Treasurer has very little to do with the money. However, I would like to propose several ideas which I believe are connected with Student Senate work.

Better publicity. Several times this year election days have gone by with many students, especially those from town, never aware of them. A monthly calendar, published by the Student Senate and distributed through the bookstore, would eliminate many publicity problems.

Parking regulations. It would be nice to have some assurance that we can use our cars when we need them. Fines, payable to the Student Senate fund, are in order for those who would rather inconvenience others than walk a few extra steps.

Everyone, a part. A monthly open Student Senate meeting would enable interested students to be a part of student government. By working through campus organizations, as was done with the Student Fair, we could create a new interest in campus activities.

Annual Student Fair. The success of last week's Student Fair, both financially and fun-wise, warrants making it an annual affair.

'Tunes' to Perform At Dance Tonight

"Colonial South" will be the theme of decorations for the presentation dance of the Queen and Court of "Holiday In Dixie" tonight in the Moore Student Center beginning at 9:00 p. m. Open free-of-charge to the Student Body, the dance will feature the popular "Tunes" from Louisiana Tech.

The "Tunes" recently appeared before the Student Body along with the "Four Freshmen" at the Chi Omega Formal. The Holiday In Dixie Organization are financing the affair for the college.

To be presented tonight are the newly-elected Queen and her court and escorts will be drawn from the males of the student body. Fifteen young ladies will comprise the honorary court and will be a narrowed down selection of 51 entrants in the contest.

Elaborate Decorations

Mimi Lingenfelter, Larry McKinstry, and Bill Bryant have been in charge of all decorations and planning. Included in the decorations will be a mansion with columns and a designated area for presentation of the court.

Five Centenary co-eds were included in the original 51 entrants. They are Ramona Nail, representing the college; Helen Gulley, Marjorie Lyons Playhouse; Judy Herbert, Alpha Xi Delta; Lyndia Rosset, Zeta Tau Alpha; and Frankie Stokes, Chi Omega.

Technology Society Plans Supper Meet

The Centenary Technological Society will hold a Spring Banquet tonight at 7:30 p. m. at Kappen's Airport Restaurant, according to Tony Morelock, president of the group. The supper will be for members of the group only.

Dub Fletcher and Buddy Daily recently received top positions for next year's Student Body Offices as they were chosen respectively President and vice president. Run-off elections for other officers will be held today in the Moore Student Center from 8:30 until 2 p.m.

Famed Prof Featured Here At Organ Sun.

William C. Teague, organist and choirmaster at St. Mark's Episcopal Church and assistant professor of the school of music, will conclude the series of four faculty recitals sponsored by the school of music, as guest artist Sunday, May 17, in the Brown Memorial Chapel at 4 p. m.

Having attended Southern Methodist University in Dallas, Teague holds the Bachelor of Music degree from the Curtis Institute of Music. He recently returned from a concert tour of the Eastern seaboard, after presenting a recital at the North-Central regional convention of the American Guild of Organists in Lincoln, Nebraska, on April 13. He was also one of the featured artists this year at the 16th annual Festival of Contemporary Music at Louisiana State University.

Featured Often

At various times, Teague has been presented in recitals in all of the larger cities of the United States, including Minneapolis, New York, Dallas, Chicago, Peoria, Chattanooga, Mobile, Birmingham and many others. Furthermore, he has served as instructor of chanting and vocal techniques at the choir camp for the Episcopal diocese of Louisiana for several summers and at the Sewanee Province Conference on Church Music, held at Monteagle, Tennessee. He served as dean of the Evergreen School of Music at Evergreen, Colorado, in the summer of 1957.

During a tour in 1957, Teague was presented in the cadet chapel of the United States Military Academy at West Point, which contains the largest church organ in the western hemisphere. He was also presented in recital at Temple Emmanuel in New York City, the largest Jewish congregation in the world. He is under the exclusive concert management of the Colbert-LaBerge Concert Managers Agency of New York.

The recital series, concluding with Teague's performance next Sunday, was opened on February 8 with a recital by Joseph M. Running, pianist and chairman of the school of music. Rule Beasley, pianist and bassoonist, and Miss Myrtis Fortenberry, pianist, were presented on March 8, and the April 12 program featured Sam Terranova, violinist and concertmaster of the Shreveport Symphony.

Tuesday Date For Pat Wolery Recital

Patricia Wolery, senior violin student, will give a recital Tuesday, May 12, at 8 p.m. in the Brown Memorial Chapel as a fulfillment of her degree. Mary Snyder will be the accompanist. Included on the program will be arrangements of Bach, Schumann, Kreisler, and Mozart. The public is invited free of charge.

Miss Wolery has been a member of the Shreveport Symphony for four years, soloist with the Centenary Band, Soloist for seven seasons with Santa Cruz Beach Symphonic Band in California, and has traveled seven years with Repertoire Company as violinist, singer, dancer and actress.

Also, Miss Wolery has sung in three operas in Los Angeles, played in the San Jose, California, Symphony Orchestra, and will play in the Honolulu, Hawaii, Symphony, beginning in June. She is currently studying with Sam Terranova.

Runoffs Today

Dub Fletcher Is Selected Student Senate President

Dub Fletcher, a junior from DeRidder, was selected President of the 1959-60 Student Body in an election held Wednesday in the Moore Student Center. Run-offs will be held today for other offices where necessary. Fletcher won the honor unopposed as Jack Carpenter was disqualified for the ballot.

For vice-president of the Student Senate, Buddy Daily of Shreveport, won over Fred Willis of Coushatta who was seeking his third term with the Senate.

Runoffs Today

Mary Lou Gassen and Barbara Ann Hyde will be in the run-off for Coed vice-president election today. Cornelia Agurs, of Shreveport, was the other candidate Wednesday.

For Secretary, Connie Gathright and Vicki Grigsby both will vie for the honor and Senate post having reached the run-offs. Penny Hawkins, of Shreveport, also was in Wednesday's primaries.

Treasurer Vote

Jim Daigle and Ken Hayes reached the runoffs for the treasurer post after elimination of Richard Herrmann earlier Wednesday. Both Daigle and Hayes are from Shreveport.

Today's elections will be held in the Moore Student Center from 8:30 until 2 p. m. using the State's voting machines. Everyone is urged to vote in the final balloting.

Jim McLean Work Appears in 'Motive'

Jim McLean, director of religious activities, has an original cartoon strip published in the current issue of Motive Magazine, official publication of the Methodist Student Movement.

The theme of the issue is "Christianity and the Arts," and McLean's work portrays in a humorous way the typical misunderstanding of the public on the subject of modern art. His work has appeared many times in Motive previously, as well as in other nationally circulated publications.

Alpha Chi Selects Duggan to Be Head

Hoyt Duggan, junior English major, has been selected to serve as President of Alpha Chi, honorary junior-senior scholastic fraternity, for the coming year 1959-60. Election of officers was held at a meeting on April 19, at which time Duggan gave a report of Alpha Chi national convention activities.

Other officers chosen were Abbie Terry, vice president; Truly Anne Drake, secretary; and Cornelia Agurs, treasurer.

CHAPEL NOTICE

General Honors Chapel will be held Thursday, May 14, in the Gymnasium at 9:30 a. m. Compulsory Chapel Program.

Graduation Plans For 136 Seniors Scheduled

A total of 136 students are candidates for baccalaureate degrees at Centenary College this year, according to figures just released by the registrar, Mrs. Nelle W. Brown.

The list includes both students who expect to complete degree requirements in May and those who will complete their work during summer school. Since Centenary holds only one graduation ceremony each year, both groups will participate in the ceremonies in May.

Nelle W. Brown, Registrar

William C. Teague, organist and professor at Centenary, will be featured Sunday, May 17, in the Brown Memorial Chapel for the final Faculty Recital Series Program of the year. The Student Body is invited to attend.

Senior Exercises Set For May 24

The 1959 Commencement exercises for graduating seniors will be held in the Greek Amphitheatre on Sunday, May 24, according to Nelle W. Brown, registrar. All members of the senior class will attend the Senior Chapel, the Baccalaureate Sermon, and the Commencement exercises.

A total of 136 candidates for degrees in bachelor of arts, bachelor of music, and bachelor of science. Diplomas will be presented at the exercises which are scheduled to begin at 8 p. m.

According to Dean Leroy Vogel, Centenary only holds one commencement a year, which necessitates the participation of both spring and summer graduates in the May ceremonies.

Gown Distribution

Distribution of caps and gowns will be made at the office of the registrar May 13, 14 and 15, from 8 to 4:30. The rental fee is $4.25 and receipts from the business office must be presented in the registrar's office before claiming apparel.

Senior chapel will be held in the Brown Memorial Chapel on May 19 at 10:40 o'clock. Seniors are asked to assemble in the Science Building on the first floor dressed in their caps and gowns at 10:15 a. m. Immediately following the chapel program, there will be a senior meeting with Dean Hickcox in charge for graduation ceremony rehearsal.

Dr. and Mrs. Mickle will honor the seniors with an open house from 5 to 6 p. m. on Friday, May 22. It is informal and all graduates are invited to drop by and talk with the President and his wife.

6 Students Enter Sigma Tau Delta

Sigma Tau Delta, national English fraternity, held initiation of new members and election of officers Thursday, April 30, at the home of their faculty advisor, Dr. Edward Murray Clark. New initiates of the group are Rennie Culver, Doug Duggan, Joan Templeton, Merline Stephens, Cornelia Agurs, and Kathy Mack.

New president of the group is Hoyt Duggan, with Truly Ann Drake as vice president, and Kathy Mack as secretary-treasurer.

Letters To The Editor

Student Body,

I feel the necessity to try to explain to you some of the feelings I have about the recent election. I hope that I might be able to help you understand the situation more fully, and through this understanding I hope to strengthen your desire for better student government.

On this campus there is a committee which is called the "Discipline Committee" or the "College Committee on Discipline." This committee is composed of students and faculty members, and its purpose is to try those students who are accused of violating the social standards of this college. It also suggests the penalty which is to be imposed upon guilty persons.

In the recent election, Jack Carpenter was not allowed to run for president of the student body, because he violated the social standards of the college. I AM NOT CONDONING ANY SUCH VIOLATION; I realize decisions must be made. A person of importance and leadership is watched more closely than other individuals, and rightly so, but if we are going to enforce this law in one instance, let us enforce it in every case. There have been other such violations, but, because we, the students, are not strong enough to recognize the seriousness of social standards, we have failed to make persons realize what is expected of them.

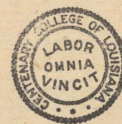

Then too, what about this disciplinary committee? Jack admitted his guilt, and so there was no need for a trial. But the committee was not asked to give a suggestion for the penalty, and as far as I know, the committee did not even meet to consider the case. What about our student government?

I feel that in order for a number of persons to live together there must be certain laws and restrictions placed upon each member, but I also feel that these laws should apply to each member and that discrimination should not be made. Any law which is enforced must be done so with extreme care and decisions should be agreed upon by a number of people. I feel that the whole committee should meet to consider every protest.

I regret that something like this had to occur. However, through it perhaps something can be gained for better student government. Jack admitted that he made a mistake, and he did so with frankness and courage. We all make mistakes, but which one of us has the courage to admit it? Jack has a number of admirable traits, and I, for one, think that a person of such ability and courage should be given a second chance.

I suppose no one will ever know who would have been elected. However, the fact remains that Jack and I both need your help. Centenary, student activities, the Student Senate—we all need your help. I regret that this had to happen, but with the kind of spirit which I have seen these last few days, this Centenary Campus is going to take a turn upward.

Founder's Day, Tuesday, found the Haynes Memorial Gymnasium with a rather new complexion—banners, posters, and even an invasion from Africa and Scotland. Nomination and campaign speeches were given to begin the Holiday of Activities.

Ed Monk, Gent Pitcher, has entered his third year with the Centenary nine and offered a valuable assistance to the Gentlemen. The Gents now sport a 12-6 record as they enter the final two games of the season against Loyola University in New Orleans.

Centenary Nine Wins Two As Season Draws To End

The Centenary Gents ran their season record to 12-6 with a double-header sweep over Northeast State's Indians last Saturday afternoon on the Centenary diamond. The Gents won the first game, 11-7, and got the second, 5-4.

Ex-Gent Graduate Given MVP Nod

Ernesto Landeros, Centenary graduate of 1957, has been recently listed as the Most Valuable Player on the Interstate Basketball League that finished its fourth season recently. Landeros, who played for the Gents, scored 198 points in six games for a 33 points per game average. He had the most field goals in a single game, 18, and the most free shots in a single game, 12.

Also, Landeros made the most points in a single game, 48, the most field goals of the season, 72, and the most free shots, 54. In addition to his MVP award, Landeros also was named to the All-Star team for the Texas league.

STUDENT NOTICE

Student Pledge cards for the Centenary Development Fund Drive may be dropped into a box located in the Moore Student Center until May 15.

Don Stahl, southpaw ace for the pitching staff of the Gents, staggered through to victory in the first game, although his opponents connected for nine hits and five earned runs. Stahl, however, did strike out 13 Indians, walking five.

Ford King, who relieved Gent Starter Dickie Richards, won the second game decision which was won in the seventh inning when two runs crossed the home plate for the Centenary nine.

Montgomery Hits

Leading hitter for the afternoon was Centerfielder Monty Montgomery who connected for four hits in six trips to the plate, including a 400-foot home run, and driving in six runs. Montgomery cracked four straight hits in the opener, Billy Eubanks had three hits for the Gentlemen, and Jackie Crawford, Stahl, and Richards two apiece.

The Gents scored in every inning except the sixth to take the first game. Stahl weathered Indian outbursts of three and two runs in the fifth and sixth frames to gather the win. Montgomery drove in four runs in the first game, Crawford two, and Eubanks two.

Indians Start Fast

Richards was bombed for four runs in the first three innings of the second billing and a couple of double plays saved the Centenary righthander from further trouble. Reeves, Northeast pitcher, allowed three runs in the first two frames and blanked the Gentlemen until the seventh.

Richard, who went to right field when King came in on relief, singled to open the seventh inning for the Centenary nine. Spanky McCoy sacrificed Richard to second and James Rhea Love walked. Then Steve Victory walked to load the bases. A blast to center field by Montgomery was dropped and Richard scored. Mosher squeezed in Love with the winning run.

Centenary is now in New Orleans where they will meet Loyola University for two games and the season finale.

Cat Skeletons, Biscuits Outline Students' Study

By LINDA FRANK

"Necturus," as Carlton Chambers was dubbed by his fellow comparative anatomy students, is a sophomore pre-med student. Now Carlton spends most of his time studying for his "bi-weekly sweat box" class in embryology.

Carlton lives in a rather unique atmosphere. "When people come into our room they are attracted by a skeleton of 'Blackie,' a cat I mounted last year, and a shrine to Hotei, the Chinese god of happiness. It's just a novelty, I'm not really devoted to him."

Carlton is a biology major and plans to attend med-school. He is treasurer of the Canterbury Club, treasurer of Gamma Beta Gamma, a member of Alpha Sigma Chi and secretary of Alpha Epsilon Delta.

"I like classical music and progressive jazz by such artists as Brubeck, Kenton and Julie London."

"Julie London?"

"Well, if Julie London's not progressive, I don't know who is! She's in the same category."

Bug Catcher

Kathy Mack, newly-turned junior, was recently announced in chapel as new Maroon Jacket. When Kathy looked up in the balcony, the surprise of seeing her parents made her cry. Someone overheard one of the basketball players say, "Well, I'd cry too if I had to go to chapel 'every' Thursday!"

Kathy is a pre-med and English major. Last semester she was "Good News" editor for MSM. She is a member of Gamma Beta Gamma, Sigma Tau Delta, secretary-treasurer of Alpha Sigma Pi, vice-president of the sophomore class, a member of the Conglomerate staff, and plays intramural sports. She is also a committee chairman for her sorority, Chi Omega.

In her spare time she enjoys reading books by Freud, T. S. Eliot, Conrad Aiken, and Carson McCullers. She also works in the afternoons in the science library.

Kathy has been helping a friend by helping him collect insects. Once, while listening to a lecture given by Dr. Guerin at the Newman club, she saw a bug, and without realizing where she was, proceeded to catch him. (Confusion.)

Biscuit Maker

Jean Stephens, freshman personality, says, "Sara Del Stevens and

I spend most of our time trying to talk ourselves out of going to the grill to get something to eat."

This freshman lass is a member of M. S. M., State MYF leader, Kappa Chi and plays intramural sports, "At least I made a feeble attempt to play basketball." Next year she will serve as Quest co-chairman.

"I like to cook, read and listen to records. Biscuits are the only things I learned to cook in my home economics class, and I haven't progressed much since. I never learned to sew, just cook biscuits." Historical novels and Stan Kenton occupy her time in reading and listening to records.

Jean has a serious goal and that is "to be as sweet as Sara Del Stevens."

When asked about any unusual experience, she recalled the time that she and her date were at the grill getting a snack, and when it came time to pay, much to her date's embarrassment, he discovered he was short of cash. "I had left my purse at the dorm, but luckily we found a friend."

Chiropractor?

Gene Bennett, better known around the campus as "Punchy," says, "Nothing unusual has happened to me 'cause nothing is unusual when it's happened twice."

When asked how he got his nickname, he replied, "Duh, I don't know."

Last weekend "Punchy" was supposed to have escorted Marcella Flynt to the Four Freshmen dance, but "she stood me up for Mrs. Lalor Row. Mrs. Row beat me out!"

He says he likes to do almost anything, "swim, go home, ride horses, yawn, sneeze, go to Maw Wamack's, water-ski, play tennis, play badminton, but I don't ever watch TV." Punchy's pet peeve is Gary Walters.

He is working towards a major in the science division. "I'm going to try to go to med-school. Maybe I'll be a chiropractor for women only. No, not really, but it's a good idea isn't it?"

ON CAMPUS

By KATHY MACK

We're awfully proud of that wonderful girl, Ramona Nail, for being crowned Miss Holiday in Dixie. How wonderful that she is from our own Centenary campus! Honors to Helen Gulley for being runner-up also. We can't help but beam when we see you two.

Our own Centenary gentlemen were the escorts for the evening, with Ken Hayes heading it all. James Durham, Francis Kelker, Jay Lang, Jimmy Potter, Theo Klemann, Warren West, Fuller Bazer, Fred Willis and Jimmy Franklin were among those doing the honors.

Founders' Day was a big success of about 330 students, judging from those present to hear the speeches. Zeta Tau Alpha safari hunters marched in to the drum beat of Joan Templeton, but tiger Dalna Worley stole the show as she captured Mary Charleville in a butterfly net. Bagpipes, a lamb and a goat, and Joe College and his girl were the contributions of the Chi Omega Scottish highlanders. The rest of the day the Alpha Sigma Chi, Kappa Alpha, Kappa Sigma, Sigma Gamma Epsilon, Chi Omega, and Alpha Xi Delta softball teams played, and Bob Shaw, Roger Williams, and Steve Victory were seen at the archery tournament.

Saturday's Kappa Alpha secession was a big success with a lawn party in the afternoon and the dance with the "High-notes" that night at the Elks' Club. Lovely Gail Stimpert was named KA rose, with Ken Bond beaming proudly in the background. Harold Collins and Mimi Lingenfelter, Faye Cox and Bob Moore, Kelli Mollet and Dan Herndon, Pete Boggs and Mary McGee, Linda Byrd and Ken Hayes, Buddy Daily and Brenda Bailey, and Marc Covington and Kay Cooper were only a few among those present.

At the James Dormitory party Judy Hughes stole the show with her imitation of Joan Templeton and her classic remark: "Yaw'll, it was just vile!" Likewise did Carol Tyler do Jill Landis, and Marcella Flynt was bubble-gum-blowing, paper reading Sara Burroughs.

Bye the bye, heading the dormitory councils next year will be Mary Lou Low in Hardin and Margie Dukes in James.

Last weekend Billy Pat Tipton and Lorita Donahue visited Bryan, Texas, and Joan Templeton, Bastrop. This weekend will see Genevieve Compton venturing down Texas A. & M.'s way.

New Maroon Jackets tried out their new uniforms at a banquet for Shreveport women held in the Student Center, Tuesday. Ramona Nail and Cecile Plummer were ravishing in the full-skirted organza dresses that they modeled during the style show. Cecile couldn't keep from smiling, what with her wedding to Pat McGonagill just around the corner, May 16, to be exact.

Don't forget the annual Kappa Sigma Black and White Formal to be held at the Progressive Men's Club on Cross Lake. The Tommy Ridgley band will perform and announcement will be made of the Kappa Sigma Sweetheart and officers for the coming year. Student Body is invited to attend!

Band Concert Set At Friday, May 15

The Centenary Band will hold its annual outdoor "pops" concert next Friday in the Greek Amphitheatre at 8 p. m. The Student Body is invited to attend.

The event will feature a trumpet trio composed of Allen Sherman, Clyde McArty and B. P. Causey, director of the band. John Raush of Berwyn, Ill., who has served as president of the band, will take over Causey's baton to conduct the number. The trio will play Agostini's "The Three Trumpeters."

Director Causey, who presented a series of six outdoor summer concerts each year for the past two years, holds the B.A. degree from Northwestern State College in Natchitoches and the Master of Music degree from Northwestern University in Evanston, Ill.

Robert French to Deliver Commencement Address

The Senior commencement address will be given this year by Dr. Robert W. French, director of the Port of New Orleans and active Methodist lay leader, in the Greek Amphitheater. Time for the program has been set at 8 p.m. Sunday, May 24, and will be open to the public.

Joe J. Mickle, president of the college, assisted by Dean Leory Vogel, will confer degrees and honors, and members of the class of 1959 will be inducted into the Centenary Alumni Assn. by its president, Dr. Charles Knight. Dr. E. M. Clark, head of the English department, will give the invocation, and the benediction will be by Vice President R. Leonard Cooke.

Member of Trustee Board

Dr. French, a member of the Carrollton Methodist Church of New Orleans, is a member of the board of trustees of Centenary College and the board of management of Flint-Goodridge Hospital, a Methodist hospital for Negroes in New Orleans. He also is a member of the board of Dillard University. Also, he has been a church school teacher, member of church choirs, and has served on the church boards of Methodist Churches where he had his letters. In the fall of 1956, he headed a drive which raised $300,000 for new churches in the New Orleans area.

Honor Graduate

A magna cum laude graduate of the University of Michigan, he also holds the MA and PhD degrees from that institution. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Pi Gamma Mu, Beta Gamma Sigma, Omicron Delta Kappa, and other honorary groups and is nationally known as an economist, educator, administrator and authority on foreign trade.

He was associated with Tulane University for seven years, first as dean of the school of business administration and later as Vice President of development. Prior to that time, he headed the bureaus of business research for the University of Texas and Louisiana State University and taught courses in foreign trade at both schools as professor of business administration and economics.

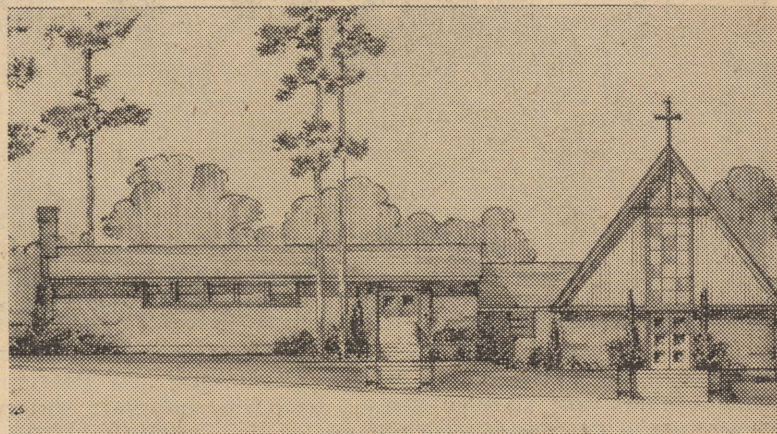

Served With Government

Dr. French has served the federal government on special assignments dealing with the wartime control of foreign funds and has been a consultant to industry on tax and federal regulation problems. From 1950 to 1954, he was chairman of the committee of the southwest economy, appointed by the President's Council of Economic Advisors. He has served as an economist with the U. S. Treasury Department, has been a member of various study committees appointed by the state governments of Louisiana and Texas and has prepared more than 40 articles for professional journals and encyclopedias.

In 1950, Dr. French organized the Public Affairs Research Council of Louisiana, Inc., a non-partisan, non-political governmental research and information agency for the state of Louisiana. He served as its director for four years and, during his tenure, the agency was cited nationally as one of the three best of 37 such organizations.

STUDENT NOTICE

Student Pledge Cards for the Centenary Development Fund Drive may be turned in during the next two weeks in the Moore Student Center. A box is available for that purpose.

Plans were announced Monday by a committee of Shreveport men for the erection of an Episcopal Student Center on the Centenary campus within the next year. Plans for the structure call for a chapel, an assembly room, and a recreation room, with kitchen facilities and rest rooms. Dr. John Willingham is faculty sponsor for the Canterbury Club here.

Activities of Students Awarded in Chapel

Numerous awards were received by students who have made outstanding contributions to the college during the past school year. The presentation was under direction of Dean of students C. A. Hickcox and held during chapel program yesterday.

Run-Offs Name 4 Student Officers

Barbara Ann Hyde, of El Dorado, was elected coed Vice President to the Student Senate for the coming year in run-off election held last Friday. Miss Hyde won the Student Body office over Mary Lou Gassen who was seeking her second term with the Senate.

Connie Gathright defeated Vickie Grigsby in the run-off for secretary and will gain her second term with the Senate, while Ken Hayes will serve as treasurer of the Student Body. Hayes defeated Jim Daigle, of Shreveport, in run-off elections Friday as Daigle was seeking his second year on the Senate.

Mary Lou Low will serve as Independent Representative to the Student Senate along with Harold Price. Miss Low defeated Bessie Ruth Risinger for the post, while Price was unopposed for the office.

Serving with these elected will be their president, Dub Fletcher; and vice president, Buddy Daily.

SNEA to Honor Seniors Next Friday

Members of the National Education Association of Centenary will honor the seniors of this group with a tea in the home of Dr. A. J. Middlebrooks on Friday, May 22, 1959, at seven o'clock.

Dr. A. J. Middlebrooks, head of Education Department, is sponsor of the group.

Presented with Student Senate keys were Charles Wilder, Fred Willis, Marcella Flynt, Mary Lou Bain, Connie Gathright, Jim Daigle, Steve Victory, John Bird, Dub Fletcher, Jay Koonce, and Fred Schwendimann.

Francis Kelker, Dub Fletcher, Emma Lou Stewart, Abbie Terry, Sam Maxey, Cornelia Agurs, and Jerry Woods received recognition for participation on the Honor Court.

Publication Awards

Publication awards for outstanding work throughout the year went to Linda Frank and Patsy Stamps for the Conglomerate, and Coan Knight and Bessie Ruth Risinger for the Yoncopin.

Warren West and Cecile Plummer received recognition as this year's Centenary Gentlemen and Lady selections.

Alpha Epsilon Delta award for the outstanding new initiate during the year went to George Acton, sophomore premedical student. Larry McKinstry, president, made the award.

Martin David John MacRoberts was given the freshman mathematics achievement award for the year for his outstanding work in the mathematical department.

Scholarship Awards

National Methodist Scholarship awards were given to Alice Joan Templeton, Anita Merline Stephens, Fred W. Schwendimann, Edith M. Elliott, and Mary Lou Low.

Missionary to Talk At Baccalaureate

Dr. Jesse Rodman Wilson, former secretary of the International Missionary Council, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon at Centenary College's 134th commencement ceremonies. The service will be held at 11 a.m. Sunday, May 24, in the Brown Memorial Chapel and will be open to the public.

President Joe J. Mickle will introduce the speaker, Vice President R. Leonard Coke will lead the prayer, and Dean Leroy Vogel will give the Scriptural reading. The benediction will be given by Dr. W. F. Pledger, professor of Bible and sociology. Miss Zollene Bennett will be organist.

Dr. Wilson is a graduate of the University of Texas, Austin, where he was elected to Phi Beta Kappa. He later studied at Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, at Columbia University and at Yale Divinity School, where he received the B.D. degree. In 1937, Berkeley Baptist Divinity School conferred on him the degree of Doctor of Divinity.

Served As Missionary

Former state student secretary of the Texas State YMCA, Dr. Wilson, travelled for one year for the Student Volunteer Movement among American Colleges. He was a missionary to Japan for the American Baptist Foreign Mission Society from 1921 to 1926. He has served as associate general secretary and later as general secretary of the Student Volunteer Movement of the U. S. and Canada, as associate secretary of the American Baptist Foreign Mission Society and later as home secretary. He resigned this post in 1955 to become one of the secretaries of the International Missionary Council.

He is the author of numerous books, among them "Men and Women of Far Horizons," "Forward through the Ages," "The Church Serves the World," "I Am a Christian" and "American Baptists Overseas." He and his wife, Louise Perkins Wilson, now make their home in Wells, Texas.

'Last Fling' of BSU To Begin Saturday

The "Last Fling" Outing of the Baptist Student Union is to be this Saturday from 1:30 p.m. to 7 p.m. on Cross Lake. Reports from Rosemary Watkins, Secretary of the BSU are that the Centenary Ladies and Gents will get together with the nurses of Northwestern School of Nursing for an afternoon of fellowship and inspiration. Transportation is to leave the Baptist Student Center for Ford Park Baptist Church at 1:30.

Fishing, horseshoes, volleyball and just resting for exams will hold forth until 4:15 when Dr. W. H. Thweatt, Pastor of College Hill Baptist Church will speak on "Wake Up and Live." Supper will consist of Charcoal Frankfurters and the trimmings ending up with home made cake. Reservations are being placed with Bob Childress, Baptist Student Director at phone 8-7314 or the student center.

Agurs to Be Head of Maroon Jackets

Cornelia Agurs, of Shreveport, has been selected as President of the 1959-60 chapter of Maroon Jackets, honorary leadership and service group. Election of Officers was held April 23 following a banquet in the group's honor.

Other officers are Peggy Hawkins, vice president; Truly Anne Drake, secretary; and Barbara Ann Hyde, treasurer. Maroon Jackets is an honorary group with membership selection on the basis of character, leadership, and service to the college.

Newly chosen members of the Honor Court for the coming year are seated Mary Lou Gassen, Penny Hawkins, Abbey Terry, Ann McLaurin, Cornelia Agurs, and standing Richard Herrmann and Steve Victory. Victory will be Chief Justice for the year.

Letters To The Editor

To the Centenary Student Body:

I wish to take this opportunity to thank you for giving me the privilege of serving as your secretary of the Student Senate this past year. It has truly been an experience that I will never forget and for which I will always be grateful.

May I wish the new Student Senate success in all that they endeavor to do. I trust that they will feel free to call on me for any help during the year.

I also wish to express my sincere thanks to the Chi Omega Sorority for backing me in both the Senate election last year and the election this year. Their trust and confidence in my abilities has been one of the greatest honors I have ever received.

Again, may I thank the Student Body for their support.
—Mary Lou Gassen

A Tribute To Deserving

In this, the final issue of the Conglomerate for many graduating seniors, I wish to offer tribute to a few of the deserving. As, in every course of human endeavor, there is always that existant few who "get the job done," it is for this group that my praise is directed.

Naturally, I first want to mention the leaders, for they are the "recognized" of the few. Thanks to those student governing officers who saw fit to conduct their job and direct their influence for the good of the entire student body, rather than for minority groups. The editors of the Conglomerate and Yoncopin and their few diligent workers are very definitely in need of praise. Members of the honor organizations of Maroon Jackets and Omicron Delta Kappa are to be praised for their consistent service to the campus, as are members of the Honor Court.

Though every campus has its leaders, its editors and its honor-receiving groups, I wish now to congratulate part of the remaining graduates of the student body. I commend those who were man enough to stand up for the honest, the qualified, the deserving and who were not lowered by thoughts of revenge. I commend those members of extra-curricular activities who, without selfish motive, honestly participated in campus events. I commend all graduates who did not attempt to lower the true significance and standards of a college campus by stooping to concealed, ulterior motivations roused from jealousy and revenge.

I mention these people, not only because they are especially deserving of merit, but so that their good qualities might be remembered by some few students, who, in their turn, will try to serve their school and fellow students in an honest, meritorious way.

Gents Drop to Loyola, Baseball Record Is 12-8

The Centenary Gentlemen ended their baseball season last weekend with two defeats at the hands of the Loyola University "Wolfpack" 13-11, and 3-0. Season record for the Gents is still an excellent 12-8 standing.

Kappa Sigma Takes Sweepstake Trophy

Fred Beadelle, director of Men's Intramurals, has announced that the Kappa Sigma Fraternity has won first place and the Sweepstakes Championship for the sixth straight year finishing with first places in football and swimming, second in volleyball and basketball, and a second in Pong Pong doubles.

Centenary Golfers Eliminate NESC

Centenary golfers defeated Northeast State 12½-5½ at the East Ridge Country Club last week for their sixth win of the season against four defeats. The Gent's Ed Nielson was low scorer for the day with a one-over-par 72 while Jim Hughes of Centenary and Sonny Harper of Northeast followed with 74s.

The Summary:

John Bird (C) tied Larry Tilley (NE), 1½-1½.

Curt McClure (C) tied Bill King (NE), 1½-1½.

Bird-McClure (C) defeated Tilley-King (NE) 2½-½.

Jim Hughes (C) tied Sonny Harper (NE) 1½-1½.

Ed Nielson (C) defeated Ralph Norman (NE), 2½-½.

Hughes-Nielson (C) defeated Harper-Norman (NE), 3-0.

MSM polled the second largest number of points in the race for the Sweepstakes trophy as they took a first in Volleyball and badminton doubles. Alpha Sigma Chi was third with a first in Basketball and a finalist in softball.

Beadelle stated further, that eight sports were entered this year by a total of 153 participating men students. Included in the program were swimming, football, volleyball, basketball, badminton, table tennis, archery, and softball.

Strong Participation

There were a total of 11 teams entered in football for a new high in that sport, and volleyball, basketball, and softball each held 8 teams in competition. Swimming was the low with only 2 entering teams.

Steve Victory took first place in badminton singles, while Dub Fletcher and Paul McMahan teamed up together to take the doubles.

In Ping Pong, Don Callens was the star and winner, while Bob Shaw was first in Archery. Softball at the present is in its final play-offs with Alpha Sigma Chi, The Royal Knights, and ROTC all in competition.

The Gents actually out-hit the Wolfpack in the last game as they tallied 6 hits to the Loyola nine's only 3. However, they were well scattered through the nine frames by Loyola righthander Bobby Delpidio.

Ford King, Centenary starter, managed to retire the Wolfpacks first batter in the lower half of the first inning and then walked three straight men to load the bases. Southpaw Don Stahl came in on relief for Centenary only to give up a two-run double to Bill Schronacker.

Third Run

The third run came for the New Orleans club in the seventh when Jerry Brady walked, was sacrificed to second and scored on Joe Mosher's boot of a single to left field by Powell.

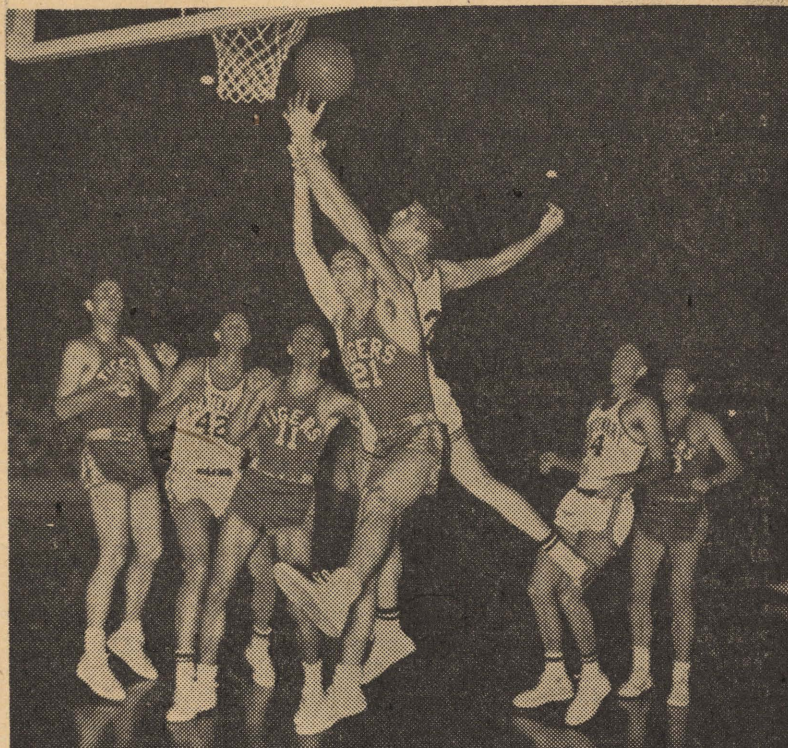

Three double plays by the Wolfpack helped pitcher Delpidio greatly in his winning cause. Two of them originated from the outfield. The Gents left four runners stranded.

Stahl Pitches Well

Schronacker's first-inning double was the game's only extra base hit as Stahl limited the host club to only two other singles through the final 7½ frames.

For the Gentlemen, Spanky McCoy, Steve Victory, Monty Montgomery, Richard Jarrell, Jackie Crawford, and Don Stahl all connected with a single accounting for the six hits of the Centenary squad. Don Stahl managed to strike-out 10 men while on the mound, limited them to three hits, however, still lost the match.

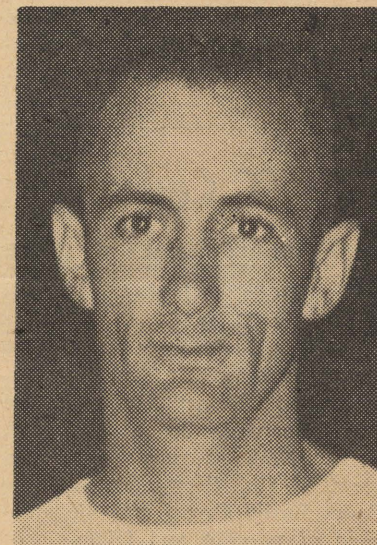

The Conglomerate Salutes The Centenary Gentlemen

THE BASKETBALL TEAM for their excellent teamwork which lead them to a post-season berth in the NCAA Tournament and a season average of 13-13.

WRA Championship Won By Chi Omega

Chi Omega Sorority took first place honors and the Intramural Sweepstakes Trophy for the third straight year, according to Gaynelle Morgan, president of the Women's Recreational Association. Zeta Tau Alpha was runner-up in second place, and Alpha Xi Delta gained third place honors.

To achieve the Sweepstakes championship, Chi Omega took first place in all three team sports and four of eight individual sports. They were tops in Volleyball, Basketball, Softball, Paddleball singles and doubles, and badminton singles and doubles.

Mary Murphree took first place in Ping Pong singles, while Kay France was first in Shuffleboard singles. Mary Murphree and Mary Charleville took first place in Ping Pong doubles, while Judy Parker and Ann Moreneaux were tops in Shuffleboard doubles.

Mary Lou Gassen was first in Paddleball singles, while Gaynelle Morgan and Diane Holloway were tops in Paddleball doubles. Linda Frank took top honors in badminton singles as the badminton doubles were won by Jane Ilgenfritz and Linda Frank.

Senior Recital For Two Coeds Given

Abbie Terry and Linda Walters Byrd, music students from the studio of Joseph M. Running, were featured at a junior recital Tuesday in the Brown Memorial Chapel. The program was presented in partial fulfillment of requirements for the baccalaureate degree in music. Both are majors in piano at the Centenary School of Music.

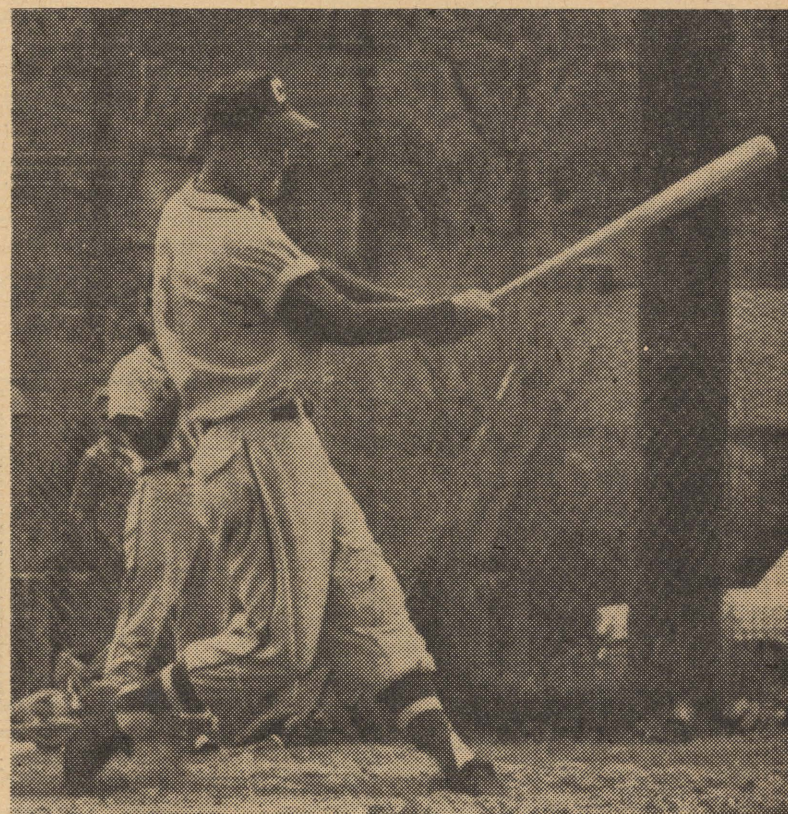

Included in the program were arrangements by Mozart, Kabalevsky, Milhaud, Prokofieff, and Liszt. The two were featured individually and together during the performance.

Construction Planned For Episcopal Center

Plans for the erection of an Episcopal Student Center on the Centenary College campus were revealed by Jack Grigsby, Shreveport oil man and chairman of an interparochial committee of local Episcopal churches.

Arrangements have already been concluded with Centenary for purchase of a lot on the southeast corner of Woodlawn and East Washington, directly opposite the Marjorie Lyons Playhouse. Grigsby said that the purchase had been approved by the Right Reverend Girault M. Jones, bishop of Louisiana, who expressed his deep gratification at the prospect of having a diocesan institution in Shreveport.

Plans Given

Tentative plans for the building, prepared by Annan and Gilmer, Shreveport architects, call for a chapel, an assembly and recreation room, with kitchen facilities and rest rooms. The interparochial committee is preparing to conduct a financial drive immediately among the six parishes and missions of Shreveport and Bossier City to raise funds for construction of all except the chapel. Cost of this portion is estimated at thirty five thousand dollars.

Dr. John Willingham, faculty sponsor of the Canterbury Club, the Episcopal student organization, said that until the chapel is added students can use the assembly room for their regular weekly services as well as for organizational activities.

Club Outlined

The Canterbury Club has about sixty five members this year. Regular social and business meetings

Yes, it's been demonstrated time and time again, that for real refreshment it's Coke every time! Add up that cold crisp taste, that lively lift and you really have a drink worth going after. So whenever the crowd has a multiple thirst, make the high sign of good taste... pass around the Coca-Cola! Quod Erat Demonstrandum!
